* Policies contain guaranteed graded premium reductions. If the full premium is paid throughout the life of the contract, certain options are available.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $50,000.

International Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in St. Louis, Mo., as follows: To (the beneficiary) Mary Doe, wife of the insured, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. (The insured) John Doe, of St. Louis, county of St. Louis, State of Missouri.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

STATE OF MISSOURI.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 15, 1909.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTIONS.—This policy is issued on the guaranteed graded premium reduction, triple option, non-participating plan, and in the use of the coupons the insured may select one of the three following options:

OPTION 1.—The insured may use the amount designated in the coupons hereto attached for the reduction of his premium payments from year to year.

OPTION 2.—The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that after paying premiums in full for fifteen years and surrendering this policy and all attached coupons to the company, a policy paid-up for life for the same amount as the one surrendered will be issued to the insured.

OPTION 3.—The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that this policy shall mature as an endowment after paying the premiums in full for twenty-four years; and on surrender of this policy and all attached coupons on the first anniversary of this policy after such payments are completed, the face amount hereof will be paid in cash to the insured. In case the insured should elect to make this policy fully paid-up, and die while this policy is in force, but before it is fully paid-up either as a life or endowment policy, as above provided, all of the unused coupons bearing date prior to said death, will be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect to make this a paid-up life or endowment policy, as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, pay premiums in full, the unused due coupons shall be payable on presentation at any time, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum for each full year after dates thereof.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS POLICY.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three (3) of the accompanying table.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from default in payment and on surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy paid-up for life for the amount specified in column two (2) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

SURRENDER FOR CASH.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request therefor within six months from such default in payment and on surrender of this policy, the company will pay in cash the net value of either the paid-up or extended insurance hereunder which is the amount specified in column one (1) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

LOANS.—On or after the beginning of any policy year after two (2) years from date hereof, and on demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may borrow on the sole security of this policy an amount not to exceed that specified in column one (1) of the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is made. This policy shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement and the premium on this policy and interest on the loan at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum shall be paid or deducted from the loan in full to the anniversary of the insurance next succeeding the date when the loan shall be made. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid. Unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy and then not until one month (not less than thirty days) after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, failure to pay any loan or interest hereon shall not avoid this policy, but in the event of such default, when the premium becomes due and is not paid an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, less the indebtedness, shall automatically continue from the date of default as term insurance for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value over the indebtedness will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums; or, in lieu of such term insurance, the company will upon written request of the insured and surrender of this policy within one month (not less than 30 days from date of default) either pay said excess in cash, or issue a paid-up policy for the amount which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums.

RESERVE BASIS.—This policy is issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum, and for the first year is one year term insurance. The values used for cash surrenders, loans, extended term and paid-up insurance, shown on accompanying table, are the reserves indicated by said tables of mortality and interest less a surrender charge which in no case exceeds two and one-half per cent ($2\frac{1}{2}\%$) of the amount insured under this policy.

ANNUITY OPTION.—At the end of twenty years, if this policy be in full force and there shall be no indebtedness to the company, upon its surrender an annuity bond will be issued guaranteeing an annual income of four hundred forty dollars to the insured during his natural life, the first payment to be made on the fifteenth day of September, 1929.

The term insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans.

This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue and incontestable after one year.

EXCESS INTEREST DIVIDEND ON PAID-UP POLICY.—After this policy becomes fully paid-up for its face amount or an amount in excess thereof, the company will, upon surrender of this policy, issue a paid-up policy for the life of the insured, therein agreeing that each year thereafter during the continuance of the policy in force, the company shall ascertain and pay in cash to the insured the full interest earnings for the year upon the initial reserve on such policy, less three and one-half per cent required to maintain the reserve together with one-half of one per cent chargeable for investment expenses.

SAMPLE PREMIUM REDUCTION COUPON.—On or at any time after September 15, 1910, International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned,) fifty-seven and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office.

The graded reductions are as follows: $57.40, $60.70, $64.10, $67.50, $70.90, $74.30, $77.70, $81.10, $84.50, $85.50, $86.50, $87.50, $88.50, $89.50, $90.50, $91.50, $92.50, $93.50 and $94.50.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFITS.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured such premiums as become payable during the continuance of disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the cash loans and the values of this policy, in the schedule as given herein, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums will cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date following such recovery. If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In any such case the cash loans and the values of this policy in the schedule of values hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which this policy will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

REINSTATEMENT OF POLICY.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate this policy at any time, if not previously surrendered for its cash value, upon written application by the insured to the Company at its Home Office with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the Company and the payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time if no default had been made, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum computed from the premium due date, and payment or reinstatement, with interest at like rate, of any indebtedness existing at the time of default.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are indorsed upon the policy, or attached thereto at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

MODIFICATIONS.—No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premium, nor can this policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company signed by the president or one of the vice-presidents, and the secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing indorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

SUICIDE.—In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement of the insured shall void this policy unless contained in the application, a copy of which is attached hereto.

PLAN OF PAYMENTS.—The plan of premium payment can be changed so that premiums may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, on any anniversary of this policy by application in writing to the home office of the company; the rate when so changed shall be on basis of company's published rate for plan desired. The coupon in any event shall be available only with the payment which completes the annual premium.

PREMIUMS.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application herefor, which application is made a part hereof, the payment of three hundred eighty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars in advance on the delivery of this policy for term insurance for one year from date hereof, and the further payment of a like amount, either at the home office of the company, at St. Louis, Mo., or upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the fifteenth day of September in every year hereafter during the life of the insured until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, the International Life Insurance Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its president and secretary, at the home office of the company, at St. Louis, Mo., this fifteenth day of September, 1909.

THE PROCEEDS OF THIS POLICY MAY BE PLACED IN TRUST TO SECURE A GUARANTEED ANNUAL INCOME.—The proceeds of this policy, if in excess of $1000, may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant, if the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) to pay to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (4) to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant. If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary cannot assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest, unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is endorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. No trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is revoked and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of the insurance, payment shall be made as directed in this policy. If the annuitant shall die before receiving all of the payments of life or limited income, the remainder thereof shall be made thereafter to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant; or if the proceeds are subject to annual interest only such proceeds or any part thereof remaining with the company shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant. The first payment of life or limited income shall be as follows: Upon acceptance of satisfactory proof of death of the insured, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or upon the creation of the trust where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or where the trust is created by the beneficiary. The first payment of interest shall be made one year from the date of the acceptance of proofs of death, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or one year from the date of the creation of the trust, where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or the trust is created by the beneficiary.

Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING—DISABILITY BENEFIT

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $303.70. AGE, 35.

Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company, Louisville, Ky., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company as follows: To Mary Doe, beneficiary by irrevocable designation, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. John Doe of Louisville, county of Jefferson, State of Kentucky.

PREMIUMS.—This contract of insurance is issued in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part hereof, and of the annual premium of three hundred three and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, and a like sum on the first day of January of every year.

The company will accept payment of premiums or instalments thereof at other times than as stated above, as follows: $157.92 annually on each first day of January and July, or $80.48 annually on each first day of January, April, July and October; provided such change is made on any anniversary of the date of this policy, upon written notice theretofore received.

Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium, or instalment thereof, shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. If any note or obligation given for any premium or any part thereof shall not be paid when due, the policy shall be and become null and void, except as herein provided.

All premiums or instalments thereof are payable in advance at the home office of the company, but may be paid on or before date due to a collector or agent of the company authorized to collect premiums and producing and delivering a receipt signed by the president or secretary of the company and countersigned by the collector or agent to whom payment is made.

The insurance hereunder is based upon an annual premium payable in advance. One month (not less than thirty days) of grace during which time this policy shall be continued in force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums or instalments thereof after the first, subject to an interest charge of six per cent per annum. If death occurs within the days of grace or during the period covered by any instalment, if the premium is payable in instalments, any unpaid premium or instalment thereof for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

This insurance for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the premium therefor, this insurance shall be continued as a whole life policy by the payment of future premiums as herein provided.

The benefits, agreements and provisions, written and printed on the following pages or endorsed hereon, are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its duly authorized officers, at Louisville, Ky., this first day of January, 1916.

BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND CONDITIONS.

THE COMPANY WILL PAY PREMIUMS AS FOLLOWS.—First: In case of disability of the insured as provided herein below. Second: Upon written request of the insured, before the expiration of one month (not less than thirty days) from the due date of any premium on this policy, the premium then due and premiums thereafter falling due, and not paid when or before due, will, until such request be revoked, be charged as a policy loan, with annual interest at six per cent in advance, so long as there is a cash value, as hereinafter set forth, sufficient to pay an annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium: the balance, if any, of such cash value to be applied to the purchase of extended insurance as hereinafter provided. At any time while the policy is thus in force, except during the period of extended insurance, payment of premiums may be resumed without medical examination and the accumulated debits, if not repaid, may be continued as a loan against the policy, with interest as aforesaid.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium and before the anniversary of this policy nearest to the birthday at which he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the insured shall furnish to the company satisfactory evidence that he has become totally disabled and will be permanently, continuously and wholly disabled for life in consequence of bodily injury or disease, and thereby prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company, by an endorsement hereon, will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter fall due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy and the available loan and surrender values of the policy as set out in the table therein shall increase in the same manner as if such premiums were paid by the insured. Should the company assume the payment of premiums as herein provided, the insured shall furnish proof of continued disability, if called for, as each succeeding premium falls due, and within the "grace" period provided in this policy, and failure to submit such proof shall render this policy null and void except as herein provided, unless within said "grace" period the insured shall pay the premium then due; after which he shall continue to pay recurring premiums subject to the right again to make proof of disability as hereinbefore provided. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. After the insured has attained the age of sixty years, further premiums, if any, payable by the insured, shall be reduced by the amount of the extra premium charged for this benefit.

CASH LOANS.—The company, after the end of the second year, will lend to the insured upon the sole security of this policy, at six per cent interest per annum, payable in advance, to the next premium paying anniversary of the policy, and annually in advance thereafter, the amount of loan set out in the table below, deducting therefrom all other indebtedness to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year to the next anniversary of the policy. The company may, at its option, defer a cash loan for a period not exceeding ninety days after application therefor has been received. Failure to pay any such loan or interest shall not render the policy void unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value of the policy hereinafter specified, and until one month after notice thereof shall have been mailed by the company to the last address of record of the insured and of any assignee of record under the policy.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—Upon any default in payment of premium, this policy may be surrendered to the company prior to the expiration of the period of grace. Thereupon (1) provided there is no indebtedness to the company, the insured may, upon written request (a) after the end of the first year, have the insurance extended for the full amount of the policy, without the right to loans or surrender values; or, (b) after the end of the second year, procure paid-up insurance payable at the death of the insured; or, (c) after the end of the third year, receive the cash value of the policy. The periods for which the insurance shall be extended and the amounts of paid-up insurance are set out in the table of loan and surrender values, and the cash value at the end of any year is the same as the loan value at the end of the preceding year.

(2) If there be any indebtedness to the company, provided the policy shall have been in force for three full years, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the amount which would otherwise be available as a cash value, and the insured may, upon written request, have the remainder applied (a) to extend the insurance without the right to loans or surrender values, for the full amount of the policy, less the indebtedness; or, (b) to procure a reduced amount of paid-up insurance payable at the death of the insured; or (c) receive such remainder as a cash value.

The company may, at its option, defer the payment of any cash value for a period not exceeding ninety days after application therefor has been received.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—If the premium on this policy be paid in instalments, allowance will be made in computing benefits for that portion of the premium paid over and above the number of years indicated in the table.

The loan and surrender values under this policy shall be based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half (3½) per cent interest per annum, and the net value thereof is the entire reserve, less not more than two and one-half (2½) per cent of the amount insured by the policy. After the twentieth year the table of loan and surrender values will be extended on request.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If the insured shall fail to pay any premium or any indebtedness hereunder when due, or within the period of grace, if any, and shall not have exercised any of the foregoing options, the company, subject to the other conditions of the policy, shall grant the extended insurance hereinbefore provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless the cash value has been paid, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated at any time upon written application by the insured on forms furnished by the company. If application for such reinstatement be made within one year from date of default in the payment of any premium or interest, there shall be paid to the company all arrears of premium and interest, with interest thereon at six per cent interest per annum to date of reinstatement, and any loan that existed at date of default shall either be repaid in cash or continued as an indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy. If application for reinstatement be made after one year from date of such default, the amount to be paid shall equal what would have been the reserve under the policy at the last preceding anniversary thereof if the premiums had been duly paid, plus the annual premium then due and interest on these sums at six per cent interest per annum to date of reinstatement, deducting, however, the reserve under the unexpired term of extended insurance, if any, or paid-up insurance then existing, at date of reinstatement.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, when, after one year from its date, the second annual premium has been fully paid in cash.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Subject to the following conditions, the company will grant loan insurance to cover any indebtedness to the company under this policy, such loan insurance, upon due proof of the death of the insured, to be applied to the cancellation of any such indebtedness. Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be required. No loan insurance shall take effect until the company shall have approved a written application from the insured on the company's forms, nor until the insured shall have received from the company a certificate thereof. Premiums charged for loan insurance, as set out in the following table, shall be computed at the insured's attained age (nearest birthday) at the time when such loan insurance is made or renewed. For periods of less than one year the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of one year's premium for each month or fraction of a month. Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period beyond the next anniversary date of the policy, but may be renewed from year to year, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of the premium at the attained age; but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after age sixty, nearest birthday. Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness, that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness shall be canceled without action upon the company's part, and the insured shall thereupon be entitled to a return of the unearned premium.

PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS OF INSURANCE.—Upon any anniversary of this policy, while it is in full force, there being no default in payment of premiums, the insured, then being less than sixty years of age may, without medical re-examination, surrender this policy in exchange for a policy of like amount, upon any form now issued and then being issued by the company, but without disability benefits, provided the premium rate therefor is higher than the premium rate for this policy. The new policy shall bear the same date as this policy, and the premium shall be based upon the age of the insured at the date hereof. Such exchange shall be effective upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the reserve upon this policy and the reserve required for the new policy.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In case of self-destruction within two years from the date of this policy, whether sane or insane, the sum payable hereunder shall be one-tenth the principal sum of the policy.

OCCUPATION.—This policy is free from restriction as to any occupation except military or naval service in time of war; provided, however, a permit for such service may be procured from the company upon the payment of an extra premium therefor, in which event the policy shall remain in force for its full amount. Otherwise, if death occur during such service, or in consequence of such service, the sum payable hereunder shall be one-tenth the principal sum named in the policy.

AUTHORITY.—Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any other person. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures, or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to waive or make conditional the payment of any premium or part thereof.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the sum payable hereunder shall be such amount as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be valid unless made in duplicate on forms furnished by the company, and both copies be sent with the policy to the home office of the company for endorsement, one to be retained by the company and the other to be attached to and returned with the policy. The company shall assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, whether of the insured, the beneficiary or any assignee, shall be deducted from the proceeds of this policy in any settlement thereunder.

TRUST FUND.—The proceeds of this policy may be paid in instalments as provided on the back hereof; or may, by special agreement, be placed in trust with the company to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, interest on such proceeds at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, such proceeds to be paid to the beneficiary at the termination of the trust or to the estate of the beneficiary in the event of death prior to such termination.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force and subject to the company's rules governing the designation of beneficiaries, designate a new beneficiary with or without the right of revocation. Every change must be made by written notice to the company at its home office accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only upon endorsement on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—Without the consent of the beneficiary the insured may at any time, by special agreement with the company, or in accordance with the terms of the policy, surrender this policy for cancellation or have the insurance thereunder terminated, or assign the policy or accept loans thereon, and at his option, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred by its terms upon the insured.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy, and the application therefor, a copy of which was attached to this policy when delivered, contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it be contained in the application therefor.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

The insured, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, may elect, by written request upon the company's forms, that the proceeds of the policy shall be paid in a specified number of annual or monthly instalments (any instalments remaining unpaid at the death of the beneficiary to be paid to the estate of the beneficiary), or in annual or monthly instalments to continue throughout the lifetime of the beneficiary. In the event the proceeds are directed to be paid in continuous instalments, and the beneficiary should die before the payment of instalments for twenty years, then the company shall continue payments to the estate of the beneficiary until instalments for twenty years in all have been paid.

These options shall not be available if there be more than one beneficiary, nor if the amount payable hereunder be less than $1000.

If the insured shall have elected that the proceeds of this policy be paid in instalments, the beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given the beneficiary by the insured in written notice to the company, and is endorsed on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

The tables are based on annual instalments for each $1000 payable hereunder; and the monthly instalments are one-twelfth of the annual instalments.

Continuous instalments payable through life of beneficiary. Twenty instalments guaranteed:

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I agree to be examined by the company's medical examiner and that I will answer fully all questions asked me in such examination. I agree that the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved and the policy issued and delivered and the premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company during my lifetime while I am in good health, and that any delivery of the policy to an agent or other person or mailing same to me shall not be regarded as delivery to me until the policy has actually been received by me and the full first premium paid in cash. No statement made by the person soliciting this application shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing and presented to the executive officers with this application.

PART II.—As a further consideration for the issuance of this insurance, I agree that the statements, answers and agreements stated herein, and the statements, answers and agreements made to the company's agents, all of which shall be a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, are true; otherwise this insurance shall be void. For myself and all other persons who shall have an interest herein, I agree, that the policy shall be construed as a contract made and to be performed in the Commonwealth of Kentucky; that engaging in handling electric wires or dynamos, making or using explosives, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, coupling or switching cars, employment on any steam or sailing vessel, or railroad train or engine, except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor, within one year from the date of the policy, without the written consent of the company, shall work a forfeiture of all rights under the policy issued hereon; that self-destruction, sane or insane, or death in consequence of violation of a law, within one year from the date of the policy, are risks not assumed by the company in the contract. That this application, and any policy issued in consideration thereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and that no suit shall be brought against said company under this contract after a lapse of six years from the time when the right of action accrues. That the company may furnish blank proofs of death to my beneficiary or representative without incurring any liability or waiving any of its rights, in any way, by so doing.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $50,000.

Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350.70. AGE, 35.

Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, N. C., does hereby insure John Washington Doe, hereinafter called the insured, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable at its home office in the city of Greensboro, N. C., unto Mary Elizabeth Doe (wife), immediately upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured within one year from the date hereof, or thereafter while this policy is in force. In event of the prior death of the beneficiary the benefits hereunder will be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—Upon receipt of due proof of the total and permanent blindness or deafness of the insured, or of the loss of both hands at or above the wrist; or of the loss of both feet at or above the ankle; or of the loss of one limb and one eye; or of the loss of one hand at or above the wrist and of one foot at or above the ankle; or that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries, loss of reason, or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, after one full annual payment shall have been made and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, provided that such total and permanent disability shall occur before the insured attains the age of sixty years, the company by endorsement in writing on this contract will at the option of the insured, either, (a) agree to pay for the insured the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this contract and the values in the table of values on the second page hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured or (b) the company will grant an endowment for the face value of the policy under which no premiums will be required, payable in ten equal annual instalments, the first instalment to be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof of any such disability or incapacity. If the insured should not live to draw the total number of instalments, the remainder will be continued to the beneficiary, or commuted and paid in one sum.

If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums or instalments shall cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the premium due date following such recovery, any premiums already having been paid by the company not being charged as a lien thereon; but any instalments paid hereunder shall be counted a lien on this policy.

Proof of total and permanent disability of the insured will be required on forms prescribed by the company, and any medical adviser of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any alleged disability.

This contract is free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death in connection with the payment of the above insurance in case of death, no permit or extra premium being required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

STIPULATIONS AND AGREEMENTS.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the first year and annually thereafter this policy while in force will be credited with a dividend as apportioned by the directors of the company from the surplus. and when so apportioned the dividend may be used, (1) in the reduction of the next annual premium; or (2) in the purchase of paid-up additions to the face of this policy. Dividends will be due and payable only upon payment of the next succeeding annual premium.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.—Instead of using the dividends annually as provided above, the insured may elect to leave the dividends with the company to be used as follows:

TO PAY UP ALL PREMIUMS.—Whenever at the end of any policy year the dividends together with the reserve equal the single premium at the attained age of the insured, this policy may become a fully paid-up participating policy, but the insured may continue the payment of premiums to the end of the premium paying period to increase the dividends or to mature this policy as an endowment. If the insured elect a paid-up participating policy, paid up by the application of dividends, or at the end of the premium paying period, the dividends will be paid annually thereafter in cash, unless left to mature this policy as an endowment.

TO MATURE THIS POLICY AS AN ENDOWMENT.—Whenever the dividends together with the reserve equal the face of this policy, it shall mature as an endowment and be payable at once to the insured. In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, all dividends which have been left with the company under either of the foregoing options will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the sum insured.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—This policy is non-forfeitable as follows: After three full years from the date hereof, if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insured shall, within sixty days from the date of the non-payment of any premium after the third, be entitled to a surrender value—in cash, paid-up non-participating insurance, or extended insurance—as set forth in the table below. For the protection of the interests of all policyholders the company reserves the right to defer payment of the cash value for not more than ninety days after written application is made therefor. If paid-up non-participating insurance is selected, the policy will have a yearly increasing surrender value. If extended insurance is selected, the policy will have a decreasing surrender value, expiring with the extension term. Values for years after those given in table below will be furnished upon application.

Any indebtedness existing against this policy at the time of any settlement thereof shall be deducted from the cash surrender value of the policy, and the other values shall be diminished proportionately.

It is guaranteed that no surrender charge exceeding two and one-half per cent of the face amount of this policy has been deducted from the reserve in computing surrender or loan values. The reserve under this contract is based on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured, or after the insured's death, the beneficiary, by written notice to the company at its home office, may elect to have the total sum payable under this policy, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By payment of equal annual instalments at the beginning of each year, for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total sum; or, (2) by payment of equal annual instalments, at the beginning of each year for twenty years certain and as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total sum.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing and is endorsed on this contract by the home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

The insured may subsequently change or revoke his selection under these instalment provisions by written notice to the company; such change or revocation to take effect upon receipt of such written notice at the home office of the company in Greensboro, N. C., and the endorsement of the same upon this policy, by the company.

LOANS.—After three full years from the date hereof, if premiums on this policy have been fully paid, the company will lend hereon at six per cent per annum—subject to its loan agreements then in use—the sum named in the table on second page. Any subsequent loan shall not exceed the amount in said table indicated for the year it is applied for, less the amount of any prior loan with interest. For the protection of the interests of all policyholders the company reserves the right to defer payment of the cash value for not more than ninety days after written application is made therefor. If paid-up non-participating insurance is selected, the policy will have a yearly increasing surrender value. If extended insurance is selected, the policy will have a decreasing surrender value, expiring with the extension term. Values for years after those given in table below will be furnished upon application.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If the insured does not elect one of the guaranteed surrender values on second page, the company will charge the unpaid premium against the loan value hereon, as a loan, continuing the policy in full force the same as if the premium had been paid by the insured in cash. Such premium loans shall be continued as long as the loan value on the policy, less indebtedness, will meet the premiums as they fall due, with interest at six per cent added. When the loan value less all prior loans and accrued interest is insufficient to pay a full annual premium it shall be used to continue the policy in full force for that portion of the year that the remaining loan value bears to the full annual premium payable under this contract, at the expiration of which time this policy shall automatically terminate. At any time while the policy is in force the insured may pay up all loans with interest, or continue such loans as a lien against this policy, and resume the payment of premiums without medical examination.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of thirty days will be allowed; subject to an interest charge of six per cent.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from date, if premiums have been duly paid, this policy shall be incontestable for any cause.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In case of self-destruction committed, whether sane or insane within one year from the date hereof, the extent of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ADMISSION OF AGE.—The company will admit age upon satisfactory proof; otherwise, if the age is not truly stated in application, the benefits hereunder will be what the premiums actually paid would have purchased at the true age.

RE-INSTALLMENT.—Should this policy cease and determine for non-payment of any premium, it may be re-instated at any time by the payment of the defaulted premiums with six per cent interest, and by furnishing the company with satisfactory evidence of insurability.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall take effect unless made in writing in duplicate, the original attached to this policy, and the duplicate filed in the home office of the company. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy be not assigned, the insured may at any time and from time to time change the beneficiary hereunder. Such change to take effect upon the written endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company.

NOTICE.—Only the president, vice-president, or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated, shall have the power to make, modify, or alter this contract, to bind the company by making any promise, or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy; and, if done by them, shall be binding only when in writing, duly signed and attached hereto. The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

PREMIUMS.—The insurance provided for by this policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance, but after the first year the annual premium may be paid by instalments as follows: Semi-annually in advance, $182.40, or quarterly in advance, $92.90. The payment of any such instalment shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than until the next instalment is due. This policy does not take effect until the first annual premium shall have been actually paid and the policy delivered during the lifetime and good health of the insured. Subsequent premiums are payable to the company at its home office, but may be paid to an authorized agent in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by the agent. In any settlement under this policy the remainder of the then current year's premium, if any, together with all indebtedness will be first deducted. In case of default in the payment of any premium or note given for any premium or portion thereof, this policy shall cease and determine, and the payments received hereon shall become the property of the company, except as specified on the second page hereof.

The insurance hereunder is granted in consideration of the application for this policy, which is a part hereof and copy attached hereto, and of the premium of three hundred fifty and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, to be paid on delivery hereof.

This policy will be renewed and extended as a limited payment life contract on the same terms and for the same amount, in the further consideration of the payment of a like sum, to be paid one year from date, and every year thereafter while the policy is in force until twenty such premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, after which no further premiums will be required.

In witness whereof, the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary, at its home office in the city of Greensboro, N. C., on this the first day of August, 1913.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

(1) I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any contract which may be issued upon this application, that every statement and representation herein above contained is material and true. (2) Any policy issued under this application shall be governed by the laws of the State of North Carolina. (3) Any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profits, or principles or methods which may be adopted at any time by the company for such distribution or apportionment, and its distribution of the amount to any policy which may be issued under this application shall be conclusive upon the insured under said policy and upon all parties having or claiming any interest thereunder. (4) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received and approved, the policy issued and delivered and the premium has been actually paid to and accepted by the company, or its authorized agent, during my lifetime and while I am in good health.

John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DISABILITY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348.70. AGE, 35.

In consideration of the representations in the application herefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, and made a part hereof, and of the premium of three hundred and forty-eight and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars to be paid on delivery of this policy and of the payment of a like premium on or before the first day of October in each succeeding year until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Hancock of Boston, Mass., in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

If the insured shall die during the continuance of this policy the company will pay the sum insured, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby and less any unpaid balance of premium for the uncompleted policy year, upon due proof of death and the surrender of the policy, at the company's home office in Boston, subject to the conditions and provisions hereinafter recited, to his wife, Dorothy Q. Hancock if living, or to such other beneficiary as may be finally substituted under the conditions hereof, or if no such beneficiary be then living, then to the executors or administrators of the insured.

POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim hereunder unless it is contained in a written application herefor and unless a copy of such application is endorsed on or attached to this policy when issued.

WHEN IN EFFECT.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium or regular instalment, as herein provided, shall be actually paid during the lifetime of the insured.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right has been reserved in the application herefor, the insured may change the beneficiary from time to time, subject to the rights of any assignee, by written request upon the blanks of the company filed at its home office, but such change shall take effect only upon endorsement hereon.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereunder are payable in advance, annually or in regular equivalent semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the company's published rates, at the home office of the company, or to a duly authorized agent presenting the official receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated on such receipt. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or instalment becomes payable.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in force, will be granted for the payment of premiums or regular instalments thereof, after the first. If the death of the insured occur during the days of grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ADVANCE PREMIUMS.—Any premiums paid one year or more prior to the date when due will be discounted at the rate of three per cent per annum, and at the death of the insured any such premiums paid for a period beyond the then current policy year will be returned, discounted at the same rate of interest.

ANNUAL PARTICIPATION IN DIVISIBLE SURPLUS.—At the end of each policy year so long as this policy shall remain in force, there shall be distributed hereon the proportion of the divisible surplus contributed by this policy, but such distribution at the end of the first year shall be contingent upon payment of the next succeeding premium.

DISTRIBUTION OPTIONS.—Such surplus distributions may be (a) taken in cash, (b) applied in abatement or premium payments, (c) left on deposit with the company to accumulate with interest at the rate of not less than three per cent per annum, payable with the policy or withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder, or (d) applied to purchase participating paid-up additions payable with the policy, which may be surrendered at any time for their cash value. Election of options may be made annually by the holder by writing filed with the company, and any option so elected shall remain in effect until a new option shall be duly substituted. If no such election is in effect on any anniversary, the distribution for that anniversary shall be held on deposit, as provided in option (c), and if any premium remains unpaid at the expiration of the grace period the company will apply the deposit to the payment of the premium in default, if said deposit be sufficient for that purpose, otherwise to the payment of such smaller regular instalment as the deposit may be sufficient to pay in full, and any such application of such deposit shall be a discharge to the company for the amount so applied. Surplus apportioned to this policy while it is running as extended insurance shall not be available to maintain the policy in force beyond the extension term.

APPLICATION OF SURPLUS DISTRIBUTIONS TO SHORTEN TERM OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS OR MATURE POLICY.—Whenever the surplus accumulations under this policy, or the reserve under any outstanding paid-up additions hereunder, or both, together with the policy reserve, shall equal the reserve on the same basis for a fully paid-up policy of the same kind and amount at the then attained age of the insured, the company will, upon written request of the insured and upon due release, endorse the policy, subject to any indebtedness, as paid up in full with participation; or when the aggregate amount of said reserves and accumulations shall equal the face amount of this policy, the company will on request pay the policy as an endowment, less any existing indebtedness hereunder, upon due surrender.

LOANS.—At any time, while the policy is in force, after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company (unless the policy is running as extended insurance) will loan, upon proper assignment, and upon the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value at the end of the then current policy year, of the policy and of any outstanding dividend additions, less any outstanding indebtedness and interest on the total amount loaned to the next policy anniversary, and less any unpaid balance of premiums for the current policy year. Any interest in default will be added to the principal of the loan.

PREMIUM LOANS.—Such loans when made to pay premiums only, may be effected upon the sole signature of the insured except that if the policy be assigned, the signature of the assignee will be required. Upon written request by the insured and any assignee upon the company's prescribed forms, provision may be made by endorsement hereon for automatic application of the premium loan provision to the payment of future premiums.

REPAYMENT OF LOANS.—The whole or any part of a loan may be repaid at any time. Failure to repay the loan or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy while the indebtedness is less than the cash surrender value. When the indebtedness equals such value, the policy shall become void thirty-one days after notice has been mailed to the insured and any assignee.

CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.—At any time while this policy is in full force it may be exchanged without medical re-examination, upon due release, for a policy of not greater amount upon any plan having a higher premium rate, except a continuous monthly instalment or joint life or corporation plan, which the company issues at the date hereof, but without the right to disability benefits. The new policy shall bear the date of this policy, premiums shall be at the rate in use for the age at said date for the form chosen, and the cost to change shall be the difference between the premiums under the new policy and the premiums paid under this policy (exclusive of the special premiums paid for disability benefits) for the same period and the same amount of insurance, with interest compounded annually at the rate of six per cent per annum, and with proper adjustment of differences between the amounts of surplus distributions under the two forms of policies.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after default in payment of premium (unless the cash surrender value shall have been paid, or the extension term expired, if the policy shall have been so carried), this policy may be reinstated, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and approved at its home office, and upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment hereof shall be binding on the company until filed at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

LIMITATIONS.—The liability of the company hereunder during the first policy year shall be limited to the premium paid hereon if the insured shall die by suicide, while sane or insane, during said year; or if he shall die during said year as the result of military or naval service in time of war or as the result of making or undertaking an aerial flight, without a permit for such service or flight from the company, signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After this policy shall have been in force for one full year from the date of issue it shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premium, but in case the age has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be that which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age at the rate in use at the date hereof. No suit shall be maintained under this policy unless commenced within six years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

ALTERATION AND ENDORSEMENT.—No modification or alteration hereof or endorsement hereon will be valid unless made by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary, and no other person is authorized on behalf of the company, to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive forfeiture. Agents are not authorized to modify or waive any of the terms and conditions of this policy nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, then in case of default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment continued after the days of grace.

OPTION A.—Without action on the part of the holder, the policy will be continued for its value in participating paid-up life insurance (without disability benefits) which will have a yearly increasing surrender value; or

OPTION B.—If the holder so elect, the policy will be terminated and the surrender value paid in cash; or

OPTION C.—Upon written request by the holder filed at the home office of the company within ninety days from the due date of the premium in default, the policy will be continued at its face amount, including any outstanding additions and less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, for its value in participating extended term insurance (without loan privilege or disability benefits) dating from said due date. Such insurance will have a decreasing surrender value expiring with the extension term.

Upon due request of the holder filed at the home office of the company while no premium is in default under this policy, extended term insurance may be made the automatic non-forfeiture option by endorsement hereon. The surrender value due under any option will be paid upon proper surrender of the policy with the written assent of the person to whom it is made payable. Said surrender value at date of default in payment of premium will be the full reserve on the policy and any outstanding additions, less a sum having a maximum at the end of the third year not in excess of six-tenths of one per cent of the face amount of the policy, and thereafter decreasing, and less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

The legal reserve under this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The paid-up and extended insurances under Options A and C are such as will be purchased by the surrender value as herein defined, applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured upon the mortality and interest basis adopted for the reserve computation hereunder.

TABLE OF NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.—The values as herein stated are for full paid policy years, and will be increased by outstanding additions and by payment of instalments of premiums beyond the full paid policy year, but will be decreased by any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—In lieu of payment in one sum, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, and with the right to change, or the beneficiary after the insured's death if no election has been made by the insured, may, subject to the terms and conditions which follow, elect, by written notice to the company, to have the net proceeds of this policy, or any part thereof, not less than $1000, paid as provided in any of the following options. The mode of payment elected by the insured shall not be varied by the payee, but if payment is being made under an election by the beneficiary, such beneficiary may, except as to Option 2, revoke the election and receive the unpaid amounts in one sum; but if the stipulated instalments under Option 1 or Option 3 remaining unpaid at any time are commuted and paid in one sum they shall be discounted at the rate of three per cent per annum. Any portion of the net sum due hereunder which may be payable to an assignee, shall be paid in one sum, and the remainder, if not less than $1000, shall be paid according to the terms of the option elected. The amounts of the several instalment and annuity payments for each $1000 of the net sum so payable are shown in the table of instalments and annuities herein, and under Options 2 and 3 the amounts of such payments will be based on the attained age of the beneficiary at the date of death of the insured. The first instalment under Options 1, 2 and 3 will be payable upon due proof of death of the insured. If an instalment option becomes effective this policy will be exchanged by the company for a supplementary contract which shall provide for settlement according to the option elected, and shall further provide that there will be allowed upon the funds held for the payment of the stipulated instalments under Option 1 and under Option 3 remaining unpaid from year to year such share of interest earned in excess of three per cent per annum as the company may from year to year determine.

OPTION 1.—Payment by a stipulated number, either 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments.

OPTION 2.—Payment by an annuity during the life of the beneficiary.

OPTION 3.—Payment by a stipulated number, either 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments and by an annuity for as many years thereafter as the beneficiary shall live.

OPTION 4.—The net sum due under this policy, or any part thereof not less than $1000, may be left on deposit and the company will pay interest thereon annually at such rate not less than three per cent as may from year to year be determined by the company, the first payment to be made one year after the death of the insured. The amount of said deposit may be withdrawn on any interest date if so provided when the option is elected, but if not so withdrawn, then upon the death of the person last entitled to receive interest payments under the terms hereof, the company will pay the amount of said deposit together with any accrued interest for the then current year, in such manner as may be directed when the option is elected.

NOMINATION OF PROVISIONAL PAYEE.—The insured, with the right to change, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, name a provisional payee to receive in accordance with the terms of the option elected, any stipulated payments remaining unpaid under Option 1 or Option 3, or interest payments under Option 4, upon due proof of the death of the beneficiary after such beneficiary has become entitled to payments. The privilege of nomination of a provisional payee shall not apply under Option 2, nor shall the beneficiary have the right to name a provisional payee under any option. If there be no provisional payee living at the death of the beneficiary after becoming entitled to payment under Option 1 or Option 3, or if a provisional payee shall die after becoming entitled to such payment, any stipulated payments under said Options 1 or 3 then remaining unpaid shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of the one so entitled. If there be no named beneficiary or provisional payee entitled to receive payment under this policy at the death of the insured the net sum payable hereunder will be paid in one sum. Annual payments of $100 and over, under the terms of any option or under the disability provision herein, may be taken in equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual payment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly; or $8.45 paid monthly.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT PROVISION.

1. PAYMENT BY INSTALMENTS.—After one full year's premium shall have been paid upon this policy, then if at any time, while no premium is in default, the company shall receive due proof that the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty years, has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease sustained or contracted after the date hereof, and that thereby he will be wholly, continuously and permanently prevented from the pursuit of any form of mental or manual labor for compensation, gain or profit whatsoever, and has been so disabled for not less than sixty days, the company will waive, after the then current policy year, payment of further premiums during the continuance of the disability, and, at the end of one year from the date on which said disability is proved, provided the disability then exists, will pay to the insured, with the written consent of the assignee, if any, one tenth of the face amount of this policy, and one tenth annually thereafter during the continuance of the disability, until the said face amount, less any indebtedness, shall have been paid in full, or until the maturity of the policy when any unpaid remainder of the sum insured, less any indebtedness, will be paid as provided in the policy. In case there are any accumulations or policy additions from surplus distributions then outstanding they shall be payable with the final payment. The sum insured shall be reduced by each annual instalment so paid and the cash surrender and loan values from year to year will be those shown by the table of non-forfeiture values in the policy, reduced proportionately to the reduced insurance, less any existing indebtedness. Whenever the existing indebtedness shall exceed the cash surrender value of the reduced insurance, the succeeding instalment shall be reduced by the amount of such excess, and the indebtedness correspondingly reduced. Whenever the instalments paid and credited together with the indebtedness, shall equal the face amount of the policy and of any accumulations or additions from surplus distributions, the liability of the company shall cease. The policy must be forwarded to the home office for endorsement of the payment of each disability instalment.

2. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS AFTER AGE 60.—If the company, while no premium is in default, shall receive due proof that the insured after attaining the age of sixty years has become disabled as aforesaid and has been so disabled for not less than sixty days the policy will be maintained in force, without payment of further premiums during the continuance of the disability, for a decreasing sum, which shall be the face amount of the policy less the premiums waived, and less any existing indebtedness. The amount of the premium waived yearly will decrease in proportion to the decreasing sum insured, and the cash surrender and loan values from year to year will be those shown by the table of non-forfeiture values in the policy, reduced proportionately to the reduced insurance less any existing indebtedness.

3. RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—The company shall have the right to require at any time, but not oftener than once a year, due proof of the continuance of the disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof when required to do so, or shall so far recover as to be able to perform work of any kind for compensation, gain or profit, no further premiums will be waived, and no further disability instalments will be paid. In such case the insurance will be the face of the policy less the instalments paid (Sec. 1) or the premiums waived after age sixty (Sec. 2) as the case may be, and the non-forfeiture values, as well as the premiums payable, will be in proportion to the reduced insurance.

4. DISABILITY PREMIUM.—The disability benefits set forth in this provision are granted in consideration of the statements and representations in the application for this policy and of a special yearly premium of five dollars and twenty cents payable in addition to and as a part of the regular premium of the policy during its premium paying period, or until the insured reaches the age of sixty years. The special premium may be discontinued at any policy anniversary upon request by the insured, and the presentation of the policy to the company for cancellation of the disability benefit provision.

5. RECOGNIZED DISABILITIES.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the following will be recognized as disability within the meaning of this provision, namely, the total and irrecoverable loss of the use of both eyes or of both hands or of both feet, by removal or disease; or such loss of the use of one hand and one foot.

In witness whereof, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, executed and delivered this contract and caused the same to be duly countersigned at Boston, Mass., on this first day of October, A. D. 1914.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART A.—I hereby declare that I have never made an application to insure my life to any company or agent upon which a policy has not been issued in the exact form and amount originally applied for, and that there is none now pending, unless so stated above; and further, I declare that all the statements herein made are complete and true and that they are correctly recorded.

PART B.—I certify that the statements and answers which I have made in this application as a basis for the contract of insurance are complete, true, and correctly recorded, and I agree that any policy which may be issued hereon shall take effect only in case it shall be delivered and the first premium or instalment thereof actually paid during my lifetime and that such delivery and payment shall constitute the acceptance of the policy and of all its conditions. I further agree that if I shall die during the first policy year as the result of military or naval service in time of war, or as the result of making or undertaking an aerial flight without a permit for such service or flight from the company, or shall die by my own hand or act whether at that time sane or insane, the company shall be liable during the said first policy year only for the amount of the premium paid on the policy.

*Adopted October 1, 1909.

Maximum amount written on one life, $25,000; carried, $15,000.

Kansas City Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $393.20. AGE, 35.

Kansas City Life Insurance Company, Kansas City, Mo., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at the home office of the company, in Kansas City, Mo., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, during the continuance of this policy.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy, after having been in force one year, and subject to the payment of the second annual premium, shall participate in the annual distribution of surplus made by the company and the dividend so apportioned will include the amount of the divisible surplus accruing hereon, and shall each year, on the premium date hereof, (1) be paid in cash, or at the option of the insured, (2) be applied in reduction of premium, or (3) be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, withdrawable in cash by the insured, on any anniversary of the policy or payable at death, or upon surrender of the policy.

CONTINUOUS DIVIDENDS.—Upon this policy becoming fully paid-up for the face amount thereof, it will continue as a participating annual dividend policy.

STATE OF MISSOURI—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

1. This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium hereon has been paid and this policy delivered to the applicant within thirty days from the date hereof, or unless the applicant is in good health at the time of its delivery.

2. The first year's premium only may be paid to the agent. All subsequent premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company without notice. However, they may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due, but only in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by such agent. Upon failure to pay a premium on or before the date when due, or upon failure to pay any premium note when due, this policy will become null and void without any action or notice by the company, and all rights shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided.

3. Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon, is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Notice of premiums coming due is sent to the insured as a matter of accommodation, but the company assumes no responsibility for the failure to send or the miscarriage or non-delivery of any notice.

4. Any indebtedness to the company including loans and interest accumulations and any balance of the then current policy year's premium remaining unpaid will be deducted in any settlement under this policy.

5. The lapse of five years from the date the cause of action shall accrue shall be an absolute bar to any action or suit brought upon this policy. Death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue hereof shall limit the amount payable by the company to the total premium paid by the insured.

6. This policy is issued with the understanding that with the consent of the company the insured may assign same or change the beneficiary to any person authorized by law, by filing with the company a written request therefor. Such change will take effect upon its acceptance by the company and the endorsement of the same upon this policy by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary. The claims of any assignee when the assignment has been thus made shall be subject to proof of interest and the company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

7. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement made by the insured shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim hereunder unless the same is contained in the application therefor.

8. No agent has power on behalf of the company to modify this contract, to extend the time of payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture, to bind the company by making any promise or any representation, or to deliver any policy contrary to the provisions of section one (1) hereof. These powers can be exercised only by the president vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary of the company and will not be delegated.

9. The insured may without the consent of the beneficiary receive any benefit hereunder and exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured in or by this policy.

10. In case of default in the payment of any premium hereunder or of any premium note when due, the company will reinstate the policy, if not previously surrendered, at any time upon written request by the insured to the company at its home office, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all premium arrears and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness existing at the date of default, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

11. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, (without interest charge) during which the insurance will remain in full force will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

NON-FORFEITURE AND LOAN FEATURES.—After payment of premiums for three or more full years the following options shall become effective:

1. EXTENDED INSURANCE—AUTOMATIC.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid when due, without action upon the part of the insured the company will extend and continue in force, from such due date, the full amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance for the term of years and months as provided in the accompanying table or,

2. PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid when due, upon request of the insured within sixty days of such default, the company will endorse the policy as fully paid-up non-participating insurance for the reduced amount as provided in the accompanying table or,

3. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Any time within sixty days after default in payment of any premium the company will, upon request, with a full and valid surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder, pay a cash surrender value in accordance with the accompanying table, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy.

4. LOAN PRIVILEGES—PREMIUM LOAN.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid when due the insured shall have the right, upon application to the company, to have charged against the cash value of this policy an annual premium loan with interest at six per cent per annum so long as the loan value of the policy shall be sufficient to cover such premium charge in addition to any existing indebtedness and accrued interest. If the loan value or the balance thereof shall not be sufficient to pay the entire premium due, then it shall be used, if sufficient, to pay the premium for a shorter period, but not less than one entire quarterly premium. And if not sufficient to pay a quarterly premium, the policy shall cease to be in force and any residue of the surrender value of said policy shall be paid in cash on surrender of the same. The accumulation of such premium loan with accrued interest thereon shall be a first lien on the policy but may be paid at any time in whole or in part.

5. CASH LOANS.—If this policy be not then extended as term insurance, the company will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at the rate of six per cent interest per annum, subject to the laws of the state in which the insured resides at time of issuance of this policy, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the insured, less than the amount stated in the accompanying table of loan and surrender values, in accordance with the number of years for which premiums have been fully paid. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and interest in advance. If said loan is not paid when due, interest in advance shall be payable to the end of the current policy year and thereafter shall be payable annually in advance. Any interest so payable and not paid shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. In the event of failure to pay any loan on this policy no forfeiture of same shall occur until the loan and interest thereon is equal to the loan value, nor until one month after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness as aforesaid shall equal said loan value and after giving such notice shall render the policy void.

TABLE OF VALUES.

This table will apply if this policy be free from indebtedness, but any existing indebtedness may be paid in cash and the table will then apply; or if not so paid, the loan and cash values will be reduced by the indebtedness and the amount of paid-up or the term of extended insurance will be reduced in the ratio of the indebtedness to the reserve on this policy. If default occurs after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid, the values will be proportionately adjusted. Any existing dividend or dividends or paid-up additions to the credit of this policy will increase these guarantees.

ADDITIONAL DIVIDEND OPTIONS.

1. PAID-UP INSTALMENT OPTION.—It is hereby agreed, that if the insured hereunder continues this policy in force by the payment of the premiums hereon, for eleven years and leaves with the company all apportioned annual dividends to the credit of this policy, that in consideration and release to the company of said apportioned annual dividends and the surrender of this policy to the home office at the expiration of eleven years from date hereof, the company will in exchange therefor and in lieu thereof issue a full paid-up non-participating life policy for $10,000 dollars, said paid-up life policy to be payable at death in twenty equal annual instalments, or

2. LIMITED PAYMENT OPTION.—It is further agreed that if the insured hereunder continues this policy in force by the payment of the premiums hereon, and will allow all apportioned annual dividends to remain with the company to the credit of this policy; that in consideration of said apportioned annual dividends, the company hereby guarantees this policy to be fully paid up for life at the end of fifteen years from date hereof for its full face value, payable at death in one sum.

3. ENDOWMENT OPTION.—It is further agreed that if the insured shall continue to pay the premiums in the amount as written in this policy for twenty-three years, and allow all apportioned annual dividends to remain with the company to the credit of this policy; that in consideration of said apportioned annual dividends and payment of premiums for twenty-three years, the company hereby guarantees this policy will be an endowment at the end of twenty-three years from date hereof, and the full face value of ten thousand dollars, will be payable to John Doe on the twenty-fifth day of October, 1938.

If the insured selects either of the foregoing additional dividend options and has paid three or more full annual premiums, the following table of values is applicable, if all dividends are left to the credit of this policy, upon the same terms, conditions and restrictions as apply to the table of values on opposite page hereof.

For years after the twentieth the values will be extended upon the same basis and such values will be furnished upon request.

This policy is issued in consideration of the stipulations, agreements and representations made in the application for this policy, a copy of which application is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and said policy and application constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred ninety-three dollars and twenty cents for one year's term insurance from date hereof. This policy will be continued upon the further payment of a like amount on or before the first day of January each year thereafter until premiums shall have been paid for twenty years, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel, time or place of death. No extra premium will be required from the insured for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue.

The insured, at any time while this policy is in force may, by giving written notice to the company at its home office, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the mode of payment of the policy as within provided to payment in equal annual instalments, or a life annuity, as specified below, such change to take effect upon its endorsement on the policy by the company.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby warranted that the above are my own full and true answers to the foregoing questions, and that the same, together with my answers to the examining physician, are the only statements made to the Kansas City Life Insurance Company, which, together with this stipulation constitutes my application to said company for insurance, and should my application be approved, and a policy of insurance be issued, such policy and application shall be and constitute the contract between the parties hereto. The answers to all the above questions, and to the several questions propounded by the examining physician, are full, complete and true, and no omission, concealment or mental reservation has been made of any facts or circumstances relating to my past or present habits, health, physical condition or family history. I agree that death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue shall limit the amount payable by the company to the total premium paid and no more. I hereby warrant that I am not intemperate in the use of intoxicating liquors or narcotics of any kind. I agree that in any distribution of surplus or profits the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount belonging to any policy which may be issued by the company, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy. That it is expressly agreed to and understood upon my part that this contract is to be null and void and of no binding force whatever, unless my application is received and accepted at the home office of the company and approved by the medical director and the policy of insurance is delivered to me or my beneficiary during my lifetime and while in good health. And I further agree that any money, note or other thing of value given to this company or its agent taking this application on account of the first premium charge on the policy applied for, in whole or in part, shall be held by this company as a deposit merely and not as payment, until such time as this application shall be accepted or rejected; if same be accepted, such money, note or other thing of value shall be applied on such first premium charge; if rejected, same shall be returned to me, my heirs, administrators or assigns. I hereby certify that I have carefully read (or heard read) the foregoing application together with my statements therein made, and hereby warrant the truthfulness of the same. If not true, then any policy issued hereon shall be void. It is understood that any provision herein contrary to the laws of the state in which the policy is applied for and issued shall be null and void.

La Fayette Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.70. AGE, 35.

The LaFayette Life Insurance Company, LaFayette, Ind., hereby insures the life of John Doe, hereinafter called the insured, and will pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at its home office in the city of LaFayette, Ind., upon the death of the insured while this policy is in force, to his wife, Mary Doe, or to such beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, if living, if not then to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums or for violation of the conditions of this policy relating to naval and military service in time of war; and it shall be non-forfeitable after two years' premiums shall have been paid.

This contract is executed in consideration of the application therefor and the payment of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars in advance and the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of November in each and every year until premiums for twenty years, including the first, have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

The privileges, conditions and agreements, written and printed on the following pages hereof form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the LaFayette Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at the home office in the city of LaFayette, Ind., this first day of November, 1909.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE. INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This is to certify, that the LaFayette Life Insurance Company is incorporated and conducts its business under the Legal Reserve Compulsory Deposit Law of 1899, and in accordance therewith is required to maintain, and does maintain, on deposit with this department securities equal to the amount of the net cash value of all its policies as ascertained by valuation made by this department, December 31st, each year.

PREMIUMS PAYABLE.—All premiums on this policy shall be payable in advance, either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary.

DAYS OF GRACE.—After one year's premium has been paid on this policy a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed for the payment of every subsequent premium, upon payment of interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, during which period the insurance shall remain in full force.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company as apportioned by the board of directors of the company, and beginning at the end of the second policy year the company will determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus so ascertained accruing on this policy; and at the end of each subsequent year such determination and accounting, at the option of the policyholder, shall be had. The owner of this policy shall have the right to have the current dividends arising from such participation paid in cash, or may elect that they shall be applied to the payment of premiums, if any remain unpaid, or applied to the purchase of paid up additional insurance. If the owner of the policy shall not elect any of the dividend options provided herein, the apportioned dividends shall be held to the credit of the policy and be payable in cash at the maturity of the policy or be withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of its date. Any such dividends held to the credit of the policy shall be increased annually at the rate of interest earned by the company. In event of the death of the insured all dividends held to the credit of the policy shall be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the insurance hereunder.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company, at any time, while this policy is in force, will loan on the execution of a proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than the amount stated in the table of values and options to be loaned at the end of the current policy year, plus the value of the reserve on any dividend additions to the policy; and the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest on the loan at the rate of six per cent. per annum shall be paid in advance to the end of the current policy year. Provided, that the company may defer such loan for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy unless such total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address. In ascertaining the indebtedness due upon policy loans the interest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of such loans and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the note or loan agreement.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—In event of the default of premium payment after premiums have been paid for two full years the insured shall be entitled to the extended insurance shown in the table of values and options for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums shall have been paid, and this policy shall automatically continue for said length of time from the due date of the unpaid premium, as non-participating, term insurance for its full amount, without payment of further premiums and without the right to loans or surrender options; provided, that any existing indebtedness to the company, on account of or secured by this policy, including any unpaid note given for premium, shall be deducted from the net value of the extended insurance as shown in said table, and the insured shall be entitled to extended insurance for such length of time only as the excess of said net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at the net single premium rate by the American Experience Table of Mortality, and three and one-half per cent interest. Or, in event of the default of premium payment after premiums have been paid for three full years, the company will, upon the written request of the insured and the legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from date of default, exchange this policy for (a) its cash value, which shall be at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance, and which is shown in the table of values and options, less any indebtedness to the company, or (b) a paid-up non-participating life policy for the amount of insurance shown in the table of values and options for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums shall have been paid; provided, that any indebtedness to the company shall reduce the amount of such insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such insurance.

The reserve on this policy shall be computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and all cash and loan values and the net values of paid-up and extended insurance shown in the above table are such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured; and the values for subsequent years not shown in the table shall be the whole of said reserve. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is free from any restriction as to residence and travel, but the insured shall give prompt notice to the company of any permanent change of residence or post office address.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this policy be not assigned, the insured may change the beneficiary hereunder at any time while the policy is in force, by filing with the company a written request therefor, duly acknowledged and accompanied by the policy. Any change of beneficiary shall take effect only upon the endorsement of same upon the policy by the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—It is agreed that this policy may be assigned upon the written approval of the company, but the company will not assume any responsibility or guarantee the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should there have been default in premium payment, the policy may be reinstated at any time thereafter upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums and any indebtedness, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

OPTIONS AT THE END OF THE PREMIUM-PAYING PERIOD.—If the insured be living and this policy is in full force by the payment of all premiums thereon, at the end of the twentieth policy year the insured shall be entitled to any one of the following options: (1) Surrender this policy, properly receipted, and withdraw its entire cash value and any dividends; or (2) continue this policy and any paid-up additions thereto, as a paid-up participating life policy, with any dividends held to the credit of the policy, such dividends being withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of the date of the policy; or (3) withdraw any dividends and the value of any paid-up additions in cash, and continue this policy as a paid-up participating life policy; or (4) convert the entire cash value and any dividends into a paid-up participating life policy, subject to medical examination and the company's approval of the risk for any increase in the amount of insurance; or (5) convert the entire cash value and any dividends into a life annuity; if none of these options be selected within three months settlement shall be made as provided in Option 2.

DIVIDENDS, CASH AND LOAN VALUES AFTER MATURITY.—Any, paid-up participating life policy issued under the foregoing options shall share annually in the surplus of the company, and may be surrendered for its cash value on any anniversary of its date, or the company will loan on such dates an amount not exceeding its reserve value, in accordance with the rules for loans and surrenders elsewhere herein provided.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy, together with the application therefor, which application is made a part hereof and a copy of which is attached hereto, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and only the president or secretary shall have the power on behalf of the company to modify it. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

Failure to pay any renewal premium when due shall render this policy null and void, except as otherwise provided in the policy, without action on the part of the company. Notice of each and every premium payment due or to become due hereon is given, acknowledged and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further notice required by any statute is expressly waived.

Death within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction while sane or insane, or in consequence of violation of law, or of engaging in blasting, mining, aeronautic ascensions, the production, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or of handling electric wires or electrical machinery, or switching or coupling cars, or death at any time in consequence of service in an army or navy in time of war, without first having obtained the written permission of this company therefor, is a risk not insured under this policy, and in event of the death of the insured from any such cause during such time the liability of the company hereunder shall be limited to the reserve on this policy at the time of such death.

The insured is hereby notified that, by virtue of this policy, while the same remains in force, he is a member of the La Fayette Life Insurance Company and entitled to vote at its annual meetings, which are holden at the home office in the city of La Fayette, Ind., on the second Tuesday of January in each year at 10 o'clock a. m.

SETTLEMENT.—If this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, notice thereof shall be given the company at its home office. Upon receipt of such notice the company will forward blanks with instructions for making proof. Settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant, and no suit shall be brought to enforce the payment of any claim under this policy until and unless due proofs shall have been filed in strict accordance with this provision, nor unless commenced within three years from the time when the right of action accrues. Any indebtedness due the company on account of or secured by this policy, and any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the current policy year shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder. If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Settlements will be by payment in one sum, or in instalments as follows:

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The company will at any time, upon the written request of the insured, or of the beneficiary after the death of the insured, provided this policy be not assigned, make all or any portion of the insurance hereunder payable in equal annual instalments as provided in any one of the following options; but no such change shall take effect until it is endorsed upon this policy by the company.

OPTION A.—In ten annual instalments of $116.18 each, amounting to $1,161.80 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or

OPTION B.—In fifteen annual instalments of $83.90 each, amounting to $1,258.50 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or

OPTION C.—In twenty annual instalments of $67.98 each, amounting to $1,359.60 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or OPTION D.—In annual instalments for twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall live; the amount of each instalment to be determined by the following table, based upon the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured.

The first instalment shall be paid at the death of the insured and the subsequent instalments annually thereafter. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted by the beneficiary; and in event of the death of the beneficiary after the death of the insured any unpaid instalments shall revert to the administrators, executors, or assigns of the beneficiary. When the last instalment shall have been paid, this policy shall be deemed satisfied in full and shall be surrendered to the company. The payment of all benefits hereunder shall be subject to the same conditions and proofs as are required by this policy for the payment of the original insurance hereunder.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART 1.—I hereby agree to complete this application within 30 days by taking a medical examination, which is hereby made a part of this application, and to accept the policy herein applied for, but the company shall incur no liability until this application has been approved by it at its home office, the policy delivered during my good health and the first annual premium thereon shall have been paid by me; provided, that if the first annual premium be paid at the time of making this application the insurance shall be in force from the date of the approval of this application by the company at the home office. In consideration of the premises I hereby constitute and appoint the secretary of said company my true and lawful attorney to vote for me in my absence, as instructed by the board of directors of said company, at all meetings of the policyholders of said company.

PART II.—I hereby declare that my above answers and statements are full, complete and true and correctly recorded, and are offered to the company as a basis of and consideration for a contract of insurance.

Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.60. AGE, 35.

The Life Insurance Company of Virginia in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, to Mary Doe, wife, if living at the death of the insured, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, (subject to the right of the insured, if reserved in said application, to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries as provided on the second page hereof) immediately upon acceptance at its home office of satisfactory proofs of the death of John Doe of Richmond, in the county of Henrico and State of Virginia herein designated the insured, during the continuance of this policy, subject, however, to the following conditions and the provisions, guarantees and benefits stated on the following pages hereof, which latter are hereby referred to and made a part of this contract.

The annual premium of two hundred ninety-seven dollars and sixty cents shall be paid in advance on the delivery of this policy, and a like amount shall be paid to the company at its home office, in the city of Richmond, Va., on the twenty-ninth day of January, 1917, and annually thereafter during the continuance of this contract, until premiums for twenty full years shall have been duly paid to said company.

In witness whereof, the said Life Insurance Company of Virginia has by its president or one of its vice-presidents, and by its secretary or assistant secretary or actuary, executed this contract at Richmond, Va., this twenty-ninth day of January, 1916.

PROVISIONS, GUARANTEES AND BENEFITS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid, nor unless on the date of said payment the insured is alive and in sound health, and when this contract is completed by its delivery and by the payment of the first premium, it shall be construed as having been in force from the date of its execution as stated on the first page hereof. Each premium is due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, in the city of Richmond; but, at the pleasure of the company, will be accepted elsewhere when duly paid in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the local agent designated therein. That part of the policy-year's premium, if any, which is not yet due and is unpaid at the maturity of this contract, and any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and shall become lapsed as of the date to which premiums have been paid, and all premiums paid shall be forfeited to the company except as herein provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, during which time the policy will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of any premium, except the first.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse for the non-payment of premium and shall not be surrendered for its cash surrender value, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums with interest, at the rate of six per cent per annum, together with the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with accumulated interest.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, the insured may at any time, while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office change the beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy, subject to any previous assignment; such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on this policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease.

SPECIAL BENEFIT.—If, during the premium-paying period of this policy, the death of the insured shall result from violent external injuries not caused by the insured, whether sane or insane, and not from disease, internal trouble or weakness, the inhalation of a gas, or the taking or absorbing of a poison, or from war or riot, payment of premiums having been continued until said death, the company will pay, in addition to the amount insured hereunder, a sum equal to fifty per cent of the total premiums received by the company under this policy, provided said death shall take place within five days after the occurrence of the cause of the death, and proof of such death, satisfactory to the company, shall be presented at the home office of the company within one month after said death. Should such proof not be presented within said period, the company shall be absolved from any liability under this special benefit provision.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but, if the amount payable be not less than $1000, it may, at the option of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed by the insured in writing, filed with the company at its home office, be made payable in instalments under one of the following options: 1st. In equal annual instalments in any number from two to twenty-five, in accordance with the following table:

INSTALMENTS—FROM TWO TO TWENTY-FIVE.

2nd. In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, and one year after the payment of the last instalment the further payment of a single sum equal in amount to the sum of the instalments, in accordance with the following table, for each $1,000 of the sum insured under this policy.

Ten instalments of $63.69 and the further sum of $636.90. Fifteen instalments of $47.28 and the further sum of $709.20. Twenty instalments of $39.37 and the further sum of $787.40.

3rd. To the beneficiary, if such beneficiary be one natural person, in equal annual instalments to continue for twenty years and so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live, in accordance with the following table:

The amount of such instalments shall be based upon the amount insured under this policy, and the first instalment shall be payable at the same time that the original amount would have been payable under this policy, and subsequent instalments shall be payable on the succeeding anniversaries thereafter. Unless otherwise directed by the insured in writing, the commuted value of any unpaid instalments will be calculated by the company at any time at the rate of three and one-half per cent compound interest and will be paid to the owner or owners of the policy upon surrender and proper release of same. If the beneficiary shall die before twenty instalments be paid, the remaining instalments, if any, will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

NOTE.—At the request of the beneficiary, unless otherwise instructed in writing by the insured, the company will make the instalments in semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments instead of annual, as above provided. Figures for such payments will be furnished upon request.

ENTIRE CONTRACT CONTAINED IN THIS POLICY.—This policy (together with the copy of the application attached hereto) contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used as a defense to a claim thereunder, unless it be contained in the application for the policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate on forms furnished by the company and both sent to its home office. One copy will be returned with the company's acknowledgment endorsed thereon, which shall be the only admissible evidence of compliance therewith. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and any claim thereunder shall be subject to proof of interest.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—Agents are authorized to receive and forward applications for insurance, but only the president, a vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary or actuary, has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of the said officers.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will advance to the insured as a loan on this policy upon proper assignment and on the sole security hereof, an amount not exceeding the loan value of this policy at the end of the then current policy year, as shown in the table of loans and surrender values below. From such loan value will be deducted interest to the end of said policy year, together with any unpaid portion of the premium for said year and any existing indebtedness on account of this policy. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum. The company reserves the right to defer the granting of a loan on this policy, for a period not exceeding ninety days from the date on which the application for such loan is received at its home office, unless such loan is to be applied to the payment of a premium, or the payment of interest on a previous loan on this policy. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall equal or exceed the cash surrender value at the time of said failure, nor until one month (not less than thirty days) after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy shall lapse for the non-payment of any premium, after premiums and all notes given for the same have been paid for at least three full years of insurance and there is no indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, the company will grant one of the following options:

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—The company, without any action on the part of the insured, will carry the face amount of this policy as non-participating extended insurance, from the date to which premiums have been paid for the term shown in the extended insurance column in the table of surrender values, opposite the number of full years for which premiums have been paid; or,

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—The company, on written request by the insured, with surrender of this policy within three months from the date of lapse, will issue in lieu hereof a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount shown in the paid-up policy column in said table, opposite the number of full years for which premiums have been paid, such paid-up life policy to be paid in the same manner as the amount under this policy would have become payable had it been continued in force; or,

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy is legally surrendered to the company within three months from the date of lapse, the company will, on written request by the insured and upon surrender of this policy, give in lieu of extended insurance or a paid-up life policy a cash value as fixed in said table. The company reserves the right to defer the payment of a cash surrender value on this policy, for a period not exceeding ninety days from the date the application for cash surrender value is received at its home office.

In case there is any indebtedness on account of this policy, the insurance payable under the extended insurance option shall be the face amount of this policy, less the amount of such indebtedness, and the term for which such insurance shall be extended shall be for such time as the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount according to the table of net single premiums for term insurance, computed by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest; the insurance payable under the paid-up life policy shall be reduced in the same proportion as such indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value.

If a cash surrender value is chosen, the said indebtedness, if any, shall be deducted from the cash value that might otherwise be claimable, and the balance, if any, paid in cash.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, and at the end of the fifteenth year and thereafter are equal to the full reserve according to the foregoing standard. In the twentieth year this table will be extended upon request and the values for the years not covered by the above table will be equal to the full reserve.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare for myself the applicant, and all parties interested, or who may become interested, in any policy which may be issued under this application, that I am of temperate habits and that all the statements and answers to the above questions, as well as those made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are full, complete and true, whether written by my hand or not; and,

I hereby agree for myself and all parties interested, or who may become interested in said policy, as follows: (1) That all the statements and representations made above and those made or to be made to the medical examiner shall form the basis and become a part of any contract of insurance that may be issued under this application. (2) That the liability of the company under said policy will be limited to the amount of premiums paid under said policy if I die by my own hand or act, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of said policy. (3) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it shall have been received and approved at the home office of the said company, the policy issued, and delivered to me during my lifetime and good health and the first premium paid and accepted by the company or its authorized agent. (4) That any contract that may be issued under this application shall be construed as made at Richmond, Va., and in accordance with the laws of the State of Virginia. (5) That I, as the insured, hereby reserve the right, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to receive any benefits, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by the policy applied for, if one be issued.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Lincoln National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DISABILITY BENEFITS—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS. (MATURING AS ENDOWMENT AT AGE 85.)

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $363.10. AGE, 35.

The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company of Fort Wayne Ind., agrees to pay at its home office ten thousand dollars, and in addition thereto any existing dividend accumulations upon receipt at the said office of due proofs of the interest of the claimant and of the death of Abraham Lincoln, hereinafter called the insured, to Nancy Hanks Lincoln, his mother, beneficiary, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, deducting therefrom any indebtedness on or secured by this policy and any unpaid premium for the then current policy year. Or the company will pay the said sum to the insured, if living, at the end of the policy year nearest to age eighty-five.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment of three hundred sixty-three and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and the annual payment of a like sum to the said company on or before the first day of every July thereafter until premiums for twenty full years from the date hereof shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

ANNUAL PARTICIPATION IN PROFITS.—During the continuance of this policy by the payment of premium or as a fully paid-up policy, it shall be credited with its full share of surplus as apportioned by the board of directors at the end of two years from the date hereof and annually thereafter.

The benefits of the guaranteed loan and non-forfeiture provisions and the automatic premium loan privilege, together with the other benefits, privileges and provisions set forth in the following pages of this policy, are made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed this first day of July, 1915.

GUARANTEED AUTOMATIC LOAN AND NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.

ONE MONTH OF GRACE.—One month of grace (not less than thirty days) without interest charge shall be allowed in the payment of any premium after the first, during which time this policy shall remain in force.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—This policy shall not lapse or become forfeited by reason of the non-payment of the premium within the month of grace allowed herein, provided the cash surrender value of the policy and of any dividend addition thereon less any indebtedness on or secured by this policy is equal to or greater than the premium then due and unpaid. In such event the company will treat the premium then due as paid, and the amount of such premium (with interest as hereinafter provided) shall become a first lien upon the policy in the company's favor in priority to the claims of any assignee or of any other person. If the net available cash surrender value be less than the premium that is due, the company will continue this insurance in force until such value is exhausted (that is, for a period which bears the same ratio to the full premium period then ensuing as such net value bears to the premium then due) and if prior to the expiration of such reduced period the last due premium be not paid in full, all liability of the company on this policy shall thereupon terminate subject to notice as hereinafter provided. While this policy is thus sustained in force the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical examination and the accumulated loans may be paid off or allowed to stand as a lien against the policy. These automatic premium loans shall bear interest at six per cent per annum from the dates the respective premiums loaned become due and shall be compounded yearly on the thirty-first day of December in each year, if unpaid. The automatic premium loan privilege is granted at the request of the insured in his application for this insurance, or upon a written request made subsequently, but may be revoked at any time upon written notice to the company at its home office.

POLICY LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid upon this policy, if no premium payment is in default, the company will lend on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof a sum not exceeding the cash value stated in the table less any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year; provided interest at six per cent per annum on the whole amount of the loan is paid in advance to the end of the current policy year. Interest at the same rate will be due and payable annually in advance thereafter, and if not so paid will be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest. Failure to pay any such loan or interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the full amount available hereunder and in no event until thirty days after notice thereof shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value stated in the table, which is not less than the sum otherwise available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance, will be paid to the insured upon due surrender of this policy to the company at any time within one month after default in payment of premium. The company shall have the right in a time of general depression and in order to conserve the interests of all its policyholders to defer payment of the cash value, or the making of the loan (unless for the purpose of paying renewal premiums on policies in this company) for a period not exceeding six months.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If the insured has not made a request for the automatic premium loan privilege, or has made such request and revoked it in writing duly acknowledged by the company, and if there be any default in the payment of premium after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, in such event the insurance hereunder shall from the due date of such premium automatically continue as term insurance for the period stipulated in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—A paid-up endowment policy payable at the same time and upon the same conditions as this policy for the amount stated in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values will be issued upon due surrender of this policy to the company within one month after default in payment of premium.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—Dividend accumulations, paid-up additions or the payment of any portion of a year's premium over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated will increase the values shown in this table. Any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy will be deducted from the cash value of this policy and will reduce proportionately the amount of paid-up insurance and the extended insurance shall be for the face value of the policy less the indebtedness and for such period as the net cash value of the option less the indebtedness will purchase. If the sum applicable to the purchase of extended insurance shall be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the policy year nearest to age eighty-five, the excess shall be used to purchase in the same manner a paid-up pure endowment payable to the insured, if living, at the end of the policy year nearest to age eighty-five.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one half per cent interest, and the values shown in this table are equivalent to the full reserve on the policy less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year; and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana. Cash and loan values for years subsequent to the twentieth will be the full reserve computed upon the above basis.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, may be (1) taken annually in cash or applied toward reduction of the premium for the then current policy year; or, (2) used to purchase non-forfeitable, participating, paid-up additions to the policy; or, (3) allowed to accumulate at the rate of three and one-half per cent compound interest for any number of years during the continuance of the policy. If no other selection is made within one month from the due date of premium payment this option shall automatically apply. Accumulated dividends are non-forfeitable, are withdrawable in cash at any time, are payable in addition to the face of the policy in case of death of the insured, and increase the value of the policy over the amounts stated in the above table. (4) Used to shorten the premium-paying period as follows: Whenever at the expiration of any policy year the accumulated dividends, together with the cash value of the policy, equal or exceed the net single premium for this insurance at the attained age of the insured, this policy may be exchanged for a fully paid-up policy with dividends payable annually thereafter.

THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS IS WAIVED IF INSURED IS TOTALLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED AND THE INSURED HAS THE OPTION OF HAVING THE INSURANCE IMMEDIATELY PAYABLE IN INSTALMENTS.

At any time after one full year's premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured before attaining his sixtieth birthday, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, then

FIRST.—The company will, by an endorsement on this policy, agree to pay for the insured, subject to the conditions herein recited, the subsequent premiums, if any, as they shall become due, during the period of such total and permanent disability. Any premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the guaranteed values set out in the tables herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured.

SECOND.—The company will also, upon written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and assignee, if any, by an endorsement on this policy, agree to pay, subject to the conditions herein recited, in lieu of all other values, benefits or privileges herein provided, and in full settlement of this policy, one-twentieth of the sum insured plus dividend additions, if any, immediately, and a like amount annually thereafter until twenty of such instalments in all shall have been paid. Any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy will reduce the amount of said annual instalments in the same proportion that said indebtedness bears to three-fourths of the sum insured, plus dividend additions, if any. Should the insured die before the twenty annual instalments shall have been paid, the face amount of this policy, plus dividend additions, if any, less the sum of the instalments paid and less any indebtedness on or secured by the policy outstanding at the time of the payment of the first instalment with interest at six per cent per annum from that time will be paid to the beneficiary upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured.

Provided always that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall as often as required by the company furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability. If the insured fails to furnish such proof, or if he shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, then all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid as originally provided in the policy; and if the second option shall have been availed of, the company's obligation to pay any further instalments shall immediately cease, and the original policy shall be restored for its face amount, plus dividend additions, if any, less the sum of the instalments paid. Any indebtedness on or secured by the policy outstanding at the time of the payment of the first instalment shall be restored together with interest at six per cent per annum from that time, and the guaranteed values in the table attached hereto shall be reduced proportionately by the amount of the annual instalments paid and the original indebtedness, if any, with interest.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning hereof.

PLANS OF SETTLEMENT.—At the end of twenty years from the date of this policy, or within one month thereafter, the insured may elect to continue or surrender this policy under one of the following options: (Option 1) Continue this policy as a fully paid-up participating policy for its full amount, no further premium payments being required, and in addition thereto draw in cash any existing dividend accumulations. (Option 2) Draw entire cash value, consisting of guaranteed cash value as fixed in the above table, together with any existing dividend accumulations. (Option 3) Convert entire cash value into a life annuity at the company's published rates at that time. (Option 4) Convert entire cash value into a paid-up participating endowment policy, maturing at the end of the policy year nearest to age eighty-five, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company for any excess in paid-up insurance over the amount of the original policy.

NOTE.—If the insured fails to exercise his option to select one of the settlements provided and to notify the company thereof in writing within the time specified, it is agreed that Option No. 1 shall automatically apply.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

PREMIUM PAYMENT.—Premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Fort Wayne, Ind., but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for the company's receipt therefor signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by the agent as evidence of such payment. The mode of premium payment may be changed, on any anniversary of this policy, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly or vice versa at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof, but the payment of any premium shall not continue this policy in force longer than the time for which the premium payment is made, except as otherwise provided herein.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse it may be reinstated at any time upon the insured furnishing evidence of incurability satisfactory to the company and paying all premium arrears with not to exceed six per cent interest per annum.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and is made a part of the policy, constitute the entire contract; and, in the absence of fraud, the statements made in the application shall be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—While this policy is in force, and provided it is not then assigned, the insured may, with the consent of the company, change the beneficiary by filing at its home office a written request duly acknowledged, on the form provided by it, accompanied by this policy for endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If there be more than one beneficiary the interest of any deceased beneficiary shall pass to the survivor or survivors unless otherwise directed by the insured and endorsed by the company on this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding on the company until it be filed with the company at its home office. The company, by receiving or filing any assignment, does not assume any responsibility as to the validity or sufficiency thereof. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

MODIFICATIONS.—No person except the president, a vice-president, the secretary or assistant secretary has power to change, modify or waive the provisions of this contract and then only in writing. The company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made by or to any agent or person other than as above.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of issue hereof is a risk not assumed by the company under this policy.

This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to occupation, residence or travel and shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

TRUST BOND AND INSTALMENT SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—At maturity of this policy as an endowment or a death claim, all or any part of the proceeds not less than $1000 may be exchanged for one of the company's three and one-half per cent interest-bearing trust bonds. A death claim under this policy is payable in one sum as specified on the first page, but the insured during his lifetime, with the privilege of revocation, or, if the insured shall not have otherwise expressly directed, the beneficiary after the death of the insured, shall have the right to elect, in lieu of payment in one sum, any one of the following options of settlements provided, however, that the amount payable in one sum is not less than $1000, and provided that request for such change in the mode of payment has been properly made in writing to the company and this policy returned to its home office for appropriate endorsement. The first instalment will be payable immediately or approval of the claim under this policy as hereinbefore provided. Subsequent instalments will be paid annually or monthly thereafter until all the instalments shall have been paid. Should the beneficiary die before having received the full number of instalments selected under the first or second option, the commuted value of the unpaid instalments shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. The second option cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy.

FIRST OPTION.—The payment of equal annual or monthly instalments for the number of years or months selected by the insured or the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued on this application, as follows: (1) That any statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall not be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented in this application to the officers of the company, at the home office. (2) That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect unless the premium is paid and the policy delivered to me during my lifetime and good health; provided, however, that if the premium is paid in advance to an authorized agent of the company and the conditional receipt attached hereto is given by such agent, the liability of the company shall be as stated in such conditional receipt. (3) That, unless otherwise requested by me hereon, any policy issued hereon shall, at the pleasure of the company, relate back to and take effect as of the date of this application, or not more than three days prior thereto. (4) That I may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive, exercise and enjoy every benefit, right and privilege conferred upon me by such policy. (5) That this application, which I agree to complete promptly by submitting to a medical examination by an authorized examiner for the company, and my policy issued in consideration thereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto; and that no suit shall be brought against said company under said contract after a lapse of six years from the time when the cause of such action accrues.

PART II.—I hereby declare, on behalf of myself and any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, that each of the above answers is full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am in good health and am a proper subject for life insurance. I hereby agree that the above questions and answers shall form Part II of my pending application for life insurance, and also of any subsequent application by me for insurance in this company unless I then undergo another medical examination which by its terms is made a part of such application and of subsequent applications. I hereby expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information thereby acquired by him.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Louisiana State Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300.50.

AGE, 35.

Louisiana State Life Insurance Company, Shreveport, La., promises to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, herein called the beneficiary, at its office in Shreveport, La., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the interest of the claimant and of the death, during the continuance of this policy of John Doe, of Shreveport, parish of Caddo, State of Louisiana, (herein called the insured), less any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to the company.

PREMIUMS ON THIS POLICY WILL BE PAID BY THE COMPANY IF THE INSURED BECOMES PERMANENTLY DISABLED.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured, the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, the premiums so paid shall not constitute a lien on this policy, and the cash, loan and other values of this policy as named in the schedule below, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. (See option stated in section 5 on the next page.)

TABLE OF VALUES AND OPTIONS.

The following table shows the loan values under this policy, also the options that will be available upon default in premium payments:

* Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated.

This policy is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and the reserve computed upon that basis.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following page are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, Louisiana State Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its authorized officers, at its office in the city of Shreveport, the fifteenth day of January, A.D., 1912.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium.

2. SUICIDE.—If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of his own criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premium paid on this policy.

3. PREMIUMS.—All premiums on this policy are payable annually in advance, but may, after the first year, be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, either at the home office of the company, or to an agent of the company, upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary, and duly countersigned by such agent. Any unpaid part of the premium, or premiums, for the current policy year in which death occurs will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. If any premium obligation given therefor shall not be paid when due, this policy shall thereupon cease except as herein provided.

4. GRACE.—One month's grace is allowed for the payment of every premium after the first without interest charge, during which month this insurance shall continue in force, provided, that should the death of the insured occur during this period, premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

5. TOTAL DISABILITY.—In the event of total and permanent disability, as set forth on the first page of this policy, the insured may elect, in lieu of the provision entitled "premiums on this policy will be paid by the company if the insured becomes permanently disabled," to receive, one year from the receipt of satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, one-twentieth of the face of this policy in cash, and the further payment of a like amount upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty annual instalments in all shall have been paid. Should the insured die during the period mentioned, the remainder of the instalments shall be payable in like manner to the beneficiary named herein. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums, or the remainder of the annual instalments of the face value of this policy, shall cease, and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums on the first premium due date following such recovery.

6. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time upon application of the insured accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all arrears due, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

7. PRIVILEGE TO CHANGE TO OTHER FORM OF POLICY.—This policy may be exchanged without medical re-examination for a policy payable in like manner as this policy, and for the same amount, upon any plan then issued by the company, and having a higher rate of premium. Such change shall become effective upon payment of the sum equal to the difference paid on the premium of this policy and what would have been required at the higher rate, with compound interest at five per cent per annum on the difference between the two premium rates, computed from the due date of each premium payment to the date when the change is made.

8. LOANS.—After the payment of two full annual premiums hereon, the company will at any time advance upon the sole security of this policy, at a rate of interest not greater than five per cent per annum, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the "table of values and options" herein set forth, to be loaned at the end of the current policy year, deducting therefrom any balance of the annual premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid, and interest in advance to the next premium due date, and all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Failure to repay any such advance, or interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal, or exceed, its loan value.

NOTE.—The loan value of this policy equals its cash surrender value as hereinafter defined.

9. NON-FORFEITURE PRIVILEGES.—If this policy should lapse on account of default in the premium payments, after premiums shall have been paid for two full years, the insured may, within one month from the date of such default, elect either of the following options, the respective values and extensions thereof being set forth in the table on the first page hereof, according to the number of full annual premiums paid. The cash values shown herein are at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance, provided: That in any settlement hereunder, any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall first be deducted from the net value of the option selected, and the balance paid in cash or applied as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest to purchase paid-up or extended insurance. (a) Surrender this policy for a cash payment which is at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance. (b) Surrender this policy for a paid-up policy payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy. (c) Extend this policy as paid-up term insurance for the full amount of this policy, to cease absolutely after the number of years and months set forth in the table. If no election be made by the insured within one month of the date of default, this option shall automatically apply.

10. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change, and the written consent of the company thereto, are endorsed upon the policy at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

11. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

12. OTHER CONDITIONS.—(1) If the age of the insured be understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age. (2) This policy is free of conditions as to residence, travel or occupation. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace. (3) Values for later years than are shown in "table of values and options" will be furnished upon request.

13. POLICY ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties and only the president, vice-president or secretary has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this policy of insurance, or to extend or change the time for paying the premiums. The company shall not be bound by any promise or representations heretofore or hereafter made by any person other than the above. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

14. This contract is made for the term of one year in consideration of payment of the first premium of three hundred and ⁵⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and may thereafter be renewed and continued as a limited payment life policy upon payment of a like sum upon the fifteenth day of January in every year during the continuance of this contract, or until premiums for twenty years in all have been paid.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I represent that all of the foregoing and following statements and answers are true, full and complete as contained in this application, whether written by my own hand or not, and are offered to Louisiana State Life Insurance Company as a consideration for and as a basis of the contract with said company under any policy that may be issued upon this application. That no statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application other than those written and contained herein shall have any binding force or in any way affect the rights of the company. That the policy which may be issued hereon is to be construed under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Louisiana.

I have verified each of the foregoing answers made in the application and to the medical examiner, and adopt them as my own, whether written by me or not, and represent that they are full, complete and true answers to the questions against which they are written. And I agree that their truth shall be a condition precedent to any binding contract issued upon the faith of the said answers.

I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or may hereafter attend or examine me from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

Manhattan Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DOUBLE INDEMNITY—DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, 1st YEAR, $334.30;
SUBSEQUENT YEAR, $322.50. AGE, 35.

The Manhattan Life Insurance Company of New York hereby insures the life of Richard Roe, the insured of New York, county of New York, State of New York, and agrees to pay at its home office in the city of New York, ten thousand dollars to Mary Roe, his wife, the beneficiary, (with right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary), upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, provided this policy is then in full force and effect and is then surrendered and properly released.

This policy is issued in consideration of the payment, in advance, of the annual premium of three hundred, thirty-four and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars on the first day of February during the first year of this policy, and of the further payment of three hundred twenty-two and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars upon each first day of February thereafter during the continuance of this policy until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, but after one full annual premium has been paid, the company, by endorsement on this policy, will waive payment of premiums under the conditions stated on the third page entitled "waiver of premiums."

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

DIVIDENDS MAY BE APPLIED TO MATURE POLICY.—Whenever the reserve on this policy and the reserve on any outstanding dividend additions, together with any dividend accumulations, shall equal the face amount of this policy, the company upon surrender of this policy, accompanied by a satisfactory release, will pay the face value of this policy less any outstanding indebtedness.

DIVIDENDS MAY BE APPLIED TO MAKE POLICY FULLY PAID-UP.—Whenever the reserve on this policy and the reserve on any outstanding dividend additions, together with any dividend accumulations, shall be equal to the net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at three and one-half per cent, for an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, the company upon written request will make an endorsement on this policy showing it has become fully paid-up, subject to any outstanding indebtedness as a lien.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company or to any agent or agency cashier of the company on or before date due upon delivery of a receipt signed by an executive officer (president, a vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary) of the company and countersigned by said agent or agency cashier. The mode of premium payments may be changed, by the insured giving written notice to the company at its home office not less than forty-five days prior to any anniversary of this policy, from annual payments to semi-annual, or quarterly, or vice versa at the premium rates and on the conditions in force at the date hereof. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the period of grace, the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—Upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy, if it has not been surrendered, may be reinstated at any time after default, upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum together with the reinstatement or payment of any indebtedness and the payment of the loan interest thereon.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—The proportion of the surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually and not otherwise. Such dividend, at the option of the insured, shall each year on the anniversary of the policy, be either (1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy.

Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividend shall be applied to purchase paid-up additions to the policy. Such paid-up additions may be surrendered for cash at any time, and the cash value thereof shall not be less than the original cash dividends.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time while this policy is in force, will loan to the insured (or assignee if any) on the delivery of this policy and proper assignment by the insured (or assignee if any) and on the sole security thereof, with interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, a sum which with accrued interest to the end of the current policy year will not exceed the cash surrender value at the end of such policy year, including the cash surrender value of the dividend additions, if any. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. The granting of such loan may be deferred for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor, unless the loan is for the purpose of paying premiums due the company. Any interest if not paid when due shall be added to the principal and shall bear interest at the same rate, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within limits of the cash surrender value. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any. The loan with accrued interest may be repaid at any time.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the insured (or assignee if any), within three months after default in the payment of any premium, may elect—

CASH VALUE.—(A) To surrender this policy for its cash value upon proper release signed by the insured (or assignee if any). Such cash value shall be equal to the net reserve thereon at date of default and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table, select and ultimate method, and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge in no case exceeding one and one-half (1½) per cent of the amount of the insurance and decreasing annually until the fourteenth year, after which the surrender charge shall not exceed one-tenth of one per cent of the amount of the insurance, and less any indebtedness to the company on the policy. The payment of the cash value may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days after the receipt of the application therefor. The cash value shall be at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of paid-up life insurance or paid-up term insurance; or,

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—(B) To have the policy continued in force from date of default, as paid-up life insurance, without future participation in surplus. The amount of such paid-up life insurance shall be such as the net cash value under (A) will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum; or,

PAID-UP TERM INSURANCE.—(C) To have the policy continued in force from date of default as paid-up term insurance without future participation in surplus and without the right to loans. The amount of such paid-up term insurance shall be equal to the face of the policy, plus any outstanding dividend additions and less any indebtedness due the company under this policy. The term for which such paid-up term insurance will be continued shall be such as the net reserve on this policy at the time of default and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table, select and ultimate method, and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge in no case exceeding one and one-half (1½) per cent of the amount of the insurance and decreasing annually until the fourteenth year, after which the surrender charge shall not exceed one-tenth of one per cent of the amount of the insurance, and less any indebtedness to the company on this policy, will purchase as a net single premium, at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Mortality Table, and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. If the insured (or assignee if any) shall not, within three months from date of default in the payment of any premium, elect one of the foregoing three options as provided in (A), (B) or (C), the insurance will be continued as provided in Option (C).

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The figures in this table are on the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy and that there are no outstanding dividend additions.

Values for later years will be furnished upon request.

The loan values provided for in this table for the end of policy years can be obtained (less interest) during such policy years, and as set forth in the above clause entitled "cash loans."

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy including the application, a copy of which is attached, constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after two years from its date of issue, except for the non-payment of premiums.

STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured, shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of the application is attached to this policy as a part thereof when issued.

SUICIDE.—If the insured shall within two years from date of issue die by his own act, either sane or insane, this policy shall be null and void, but in such case the company will return the premiums actually received.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CASH VALUE OF PAID-UP LIFE OR PAID-UP TERM INSURANCE.—If this policy shall lapse and shall be endorsed as paid-up life insurance or paid-up term insurance it may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at time of such surrender.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Any portion of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be considered as indebtedness.

RESIDENCE, TRAVEL, ETC.—This policy contains no conditions as to residence, travel, occupation, or military or naval service.

RIGHT OF INSURED.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

AGENTS.—Agents are not authorized to modify this policy, or to extend the time for paying a premium, or in the event of lapse to reinstate this policy.

POLICY YEARS.—The policy years and all provisions for loan and surrender values shall be computed from the date of this policy.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—If there is no assignment of this policy, the insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, paid either in cash or in one of the optional modes of settlement described on the fourth page hereof, which modes of settlement are a part of this policy.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—The company by endorsement hereon will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, during the disability described below, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit. Any premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under this policy, and the values provided for in the sections entitled "loans" and "non-forfeiture benefits" and the "table of loan and surrender values" shall be the same as if such premiums had been paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work for compensation or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This provision will be cancelled on any anniversary of this policy by the insured filing previous written requests at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, in which event the premiums hereon will be thereafter reduced thirty cents for each one thousand dollars ($1000) insured hereunder.

In witness whereof, The Manhattan Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be executed as of the first day of February, 1916.

TRAVEL ACCIDENT CONTRACT

Providing indemnity for loss of life by accidental means as herein limited and provided.

The Manhattan Life Insurance Company hereby insures Richard Roe (the insured), whose place of residence is stated in copy of the application for this contract, and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Roe, the beneficiary, should the insured, while this contract is in force, suffer the loss of life directly, independently and exclusively of all other causes from bodily injuries effected solely through accidental means—suicide while sane or insane is not covered—if such injuries are sustained while a passenger in or on a public conveyance (including the platform, steps or running board thereof) provided by a common carrier for passenger service.

Loss of life shall mean death resulting from such injuries within ninety days from the date of the accident.

This contract is issued in consideration of the payment in advance of the annual premium of ten dollars and of the payment of a like sum upon each first day of February hereafter during the continuance of this contract.

This contract shall not go into effect until same is delivered to the insured, together with the first premium receipt signed by an officer and countersigned by a duly authorized agent of the company.

STANDARD PROVISIONS.

1. This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation.

2. No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the company and such approval be endorsed hereon.

3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the company or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained.

4. Written notice of injury on which claim may be based must be given to the company within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury. In event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the company.

5. Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the company at its home office in the city of New York, or to any authorized agent of the company, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed to be notice to the company. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

6. The company upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the company at its said office within ninety days after the date of the loss for which claim is made.

8. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

9. All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid immediately after receipt of due proof.

11. Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

12. If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the company as less hazardous than that stated in the policy the company, upon written request of the insured and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium.

13. Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy, or to change of beneficiary, or to any other changes in the policy.

14. No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy.

15. If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the State in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law.

16. The company may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address, as shown by the records of the company, together with cash or the company's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto.

18. Upon the payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

It is agreed that if the company exercises its right and cancels this policy as provided for in standard provision No. 16, such cancellation shall be without prejudice to the life insurance policy with which this policy is issued.

In witness whereof, The Manhattan Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be executed as of the first day of February, 1916.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—If there is no assignment of this policy, the insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest at the rate declared yearly on such funds (which rate shall never be less than three per cent per annum), payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected. Unless otherwise specified by the insured or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee or payees may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments, for the computed value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (3) except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000; written, $25,000.

Marquette Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $386. AGE, 35.

Marquette Life Insurance Company of Springfield, Ill., hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Christopher Columbus, the insured, to Felipa Columbus, wife, subject to the terms, conditions and provisions and for the consideration hereinafter stated:

GUARANTEED OPTIONS.—If the insured is living on the first day of January, 1934, and if all premiums have been duly paid, the insured may then surrender this policy in accordance with any one of the following options: (1) Receive the cash value of the policy, amounting to $8100. (2) Receive a cash payment amounting to $2440; and in addition receive a paid-up life policy (non-participating) for the amount of $10,000. (3) Receive a paid-up life policy (non-participating) for the amount of $14,300. (4) Receive a life annuity bond, providing annual payments of $619.50. (5) Receive a paid-up life policy (non-participating) for the amount of $7150. And in addition, receive a life annuity bond, providing annual payments of $309.70.

If the insured does not surrender this policy in accordance with one of the above options within sixty days after the date above mentioned, the company will continue the insurance as though option (2) had been selected, and pay the cash therein provided on application.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred eighty-six dollars, being the premium to provide the legal reserve and term insurance for one year from January 1st, 1914, to January 1st, 1915, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the annual renewal premium of three hundred eighty-six dollars on or before the first day of January in every year until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in the city of Springfield, Ill., or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for a receipt separate from the policy, and signed by the president or secretary of the company and countersigned by such collector. Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent and the policy delivered to and accepted by the insured while he is in good health. If any premium is not paid when due, or if any note or part thereof or interest thereon given in payment of a premium or part thereof is not paid when due, this policy shall lapse and shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (without interest charge) will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums, during which month this policy will remain in force. If death occur within the period of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, in event of default in the payment of any subsequent premium, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of said policy within one month from the due date of the unpaid premium, the company will pay a cash value therefor. Such cash value shall be the reserve at date of default computed according to the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality preliminary term method prescribed by the laws of Illinois in whole number of dollars for each $1000 of insurance under this policy, less any indebtedness to the company against this policy and less a surrender charge of not exceeding one per cent of the amount of insurance from the second to the fourteenth year inclusive, after which period no surrender charge will be deducted. Or, in lieu of such cash value, upon satisfactory request the company will issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for such amount, not greater than the principal sum insured, as said cash value will purchase when used as a net single premium by the above described table.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, if any subsequent premium is not paid before the expiration of the month of grace herein allowed, or the policy shall not have been surrendered during such month of grace, this policy without any action of the insured will be automatically extended, dating from the due date of the unpaid premium, by applying the cash value as above provided as a net single premium by the above described table to purchase non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured but without loan or surrender values.

PURE ENDOWMENT.—The company will grant a pure endowment in addition to the paid-up life policy or extended insurance above provided, as follows: If the cash value of this policy, as above provided, shall be in excess of the net single premium by the above described table, for a paid-up life policy equal to the principal sum insured, such excess shall, in the calculation of the paid-up life policy and extended insurance above provided, be applied at net single premium rates by the same table to purchase a pure endowment payable to the insured, if living, at the end of twenty years from the issue of this policy.

POLICY LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums shall have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement, and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner, less than the cash value at the end of said year; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of said current policy year's premium shall be paid out of said advance. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per cent per annum payable in advance, at the beginning of each policy year and this interest if not paid annually shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—The values in the following table are computed in accordance with the provisions on the second page hereof and upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the first column headed "end of year." If there be any indebtedness to the company on the policy the values will be decreased as hereinbefore provided. In case of default in the payment of semi-annual, or quarterly premiums falling due at intervening dates the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired.

* Cash value end of year.  Loan value during year.

Cash and loan values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of any insurance thereafter under this policy. Figures will be furnished on request to the home office of the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse and shall not be surrendered to the company the company will reinstate it at any time provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from its date, this policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums or for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of the president or secretary and the payment of the extra premium then in use by the company for such service. In case of the death of the insured by self destruction sane or insane, within two years from the date of issue of this policy, a sum equal to one-tenth of the principal sum insured, and no more, shall be paid.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power on behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

3. Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company, the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for any assignment.

4. This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company.

5. This policy is payable at the home office of the company, Springfield, Ill. Before any amount shall be paid or any option of settlement exercised hereunder, proof of the interest of the claimant must be furnished and any indebtedness to the company including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year must be settled.

6. This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in such application.

7. This policy is issued with the express understanding, that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege, conferred upon him by this policy.

In witness whereof, the Marquette Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, executed this policy at Springfield, Ill., this first day of January, 1914.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as below stated.

The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.

Annual instalments limited to the number stated below. Any number from 2 to 25 may be selected by the insured.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum.

No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT.

The insured, in case of total and permanent disability, may select one of the following options:

OPTION 1.—One twentieth of the amount payable under this policy will be paid in cash to the insured immediately upon satisfactory proof of such disability, and a like amount upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty annual payments shall have been made; or,

OPTION 2.—The company will pay all premiums thereafter becoming due on this contract; and in such event, the cash, loan and other values shall increase in the same manner, as if the premiums were paid by the insured.

The agreement as to options one and two, is subject to the following conditions: The insured must become totally and permanently disabled while this policy is in full force and effect after one full annual premium has been paid, and prior to default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment thereof and before the insured attains the age of sixty years, and the disability must be such that there is neither then, nor at any time thereafter, any work, occupation, or profession that the insured can ever sufficiently do, or follow, to earn, or obtain any wages, compensation, or profit, and immediately after the happening of such disability full particulars thereof must be given to the company, in writing, at its home office, and prior to any liability on the part of the company under either of said options satisfactory proofs of such disability must be given to the company at its home office, upon blanks furnished by the company, and the policy must be produced to the company, at its home office, and the agreement to pay the instalments of the face of the policy or the premiums, must be endorsed by the company thereon in writing. If, however, the insured should so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the obligation on the part of the company to pay the remainder of the instalments or the premiums shall immediately cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums beginning with the first premium becoming due after the date of such recovery. Proofs similar to those required in the first instance must be furnished of such continuous disability prior to the payment of each instalment or premium by the company, if demanded. The payment of twenty instalments is in lieu of the payment of the face of this policy at the death of the insured, and should the insured die before all instalments have been paid, the remaining instalments will be paid immediately, in one sum, to the beneficiary herein named, provided that the holder of the policy accepting the option of instalment payments shall not be required to pay any premium after the permanent disability arises and such option is accepted. If the insured should become disabled as hereinbefore described, after attaining the age of sixty years, said insured may have the benefit of Option 2, subject to the terms and conditions herein governing the same, with the modification that instead of being paid by the company, the premium will be allowed to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness against the policy. The company will consider the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrist, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot as a total disability, within the meaning of this provision.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I warrant for and on behalf of myself and any person or persons who may have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, that I have given and verified each of the foregoing answers, and also all answers given to medical examiner and signed by me as part of "applicant's certificate," and adopted them as my own whether written by me or not, that they are true and material and are offered to the said life insurance company as a consideration of any policy that may be issued thereon. I further agree and warrant for myself and for any person having or claiming an interest in any policy issued on this application as follows: 1. That the said company shall not be liable under this application until it has issued a policy thereon which has been delivered to and accepted by me while in good health. 2. That in case of any failure on my part to comply with the agreements and warranties herein contained and all of the stipulations and conditions of any policy that may be issued thereon, such policy shall be ipso facto null and void, and all payments made thereon shall be forfeited to the said company, except as otherwise provided therein. 3. That in case of my death by self destruction, sane or insane, within two years from the date of this policy, a sum equal to one-tenth of the principal sum insured, and no more, shall be paid. 4. That in consideration of the issuance of the policy hereon and the acceptance by me of the same, this application and the policy so issued shall be construed together as one entire contract.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $364.50. AGE, 35.

The Maryland Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, in consideration of the application heretofore and the statements and agreements therein, which application (a copy of which is attached hereto) is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the sum of three hundred sixty-four dollars and fifty cents, duly paid on the delivery of this policy, and on condition of the payment to it of an annual premium of three hundred sixty-four dollars and fifty cents, on or before the thirtieth day of February in every year during the continuance of this contract, or until twenty full years' payments shall have been made, the last premium to be paid on or before February 30, 1931, hereby promises on receipt at its home office in Baltimore, Md., of due proof of the death, during the continuance of this contract, of Welland Strong, herein called the insured, of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland, and on surrender of this policy duly receipted and released, to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at said office, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid premium or portion of premium for the then current policy year, to his wife, Pretty Strong, for her sole use if she be then living, and if she be not living then to the said Welland Strong, his executors, administrators or assigns, with the right to said insured of revocation of beneficiary as hereinafter provided.

This contract is subject to the provisions and benefits on the second, third and fourth pages of this policy.

In witness whereof the said Maryland Life Insurance Company of Baltimore has caused this contract to be executed and delivered at Baltimore, Md., this thirtieth day of February, 1912.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

CONTRACT.—This policy, and the application therefor, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement of the insured shall avoid, or be used in defense to, a claim under this policy, unless contained in the application therefor. In case of violation of any of the conditions upon which this policy is issued and accepted by the insured, or if any premium, or any note, expressed to be payable to the company, given for a premium, be not paid when due, the policy shall be void, and all premiums shall be forfeited to the company except as herein provided.

MODIFICATION.—No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this contract; to extend the time for payment of a premium; or to bind the company by making any promise, or by receiving any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy. This contract cannot be modified, nor any forfeiture thereof waived, except by written agreement signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, the auditor, or the actuary.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums shall be paid in cash on or before date due at the company's home office in Baltimore, but payment to an agent of the company will be accepted elsewhere in exchange for company's receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, the auditor, or the actuary, and countersigned by said agent. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have actually been paid during the continued good health of the insured. The insurance under this policy is based on annual premiums payable in advance, but payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the premium rates therefor now in use by the company. Change from one mode of payment to another may be made at the end of any policy year upon written request signed by the insured alone, if policy has not been assigned. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium, or instalment thereof, shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium, or instalment, becomes payable.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS' GRACE.—The time when a premium becomes due is the day herein stipulated therefor, but after the first year thirty-one days of grace without interest will be allowed for the payment of premiums, the policy being meanwhile kept in force. If death occurs during the grace period, any unpaid premium, or portion of premium for the then current policy year, will be deducted in settlement of the policy.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is free from any restrictions as to residence and travel.

SUICIDE, OCCUPATION, WAR SERVICE.—If within one year from date hereof, this policy being in force, the insured shall die by his own hand or act, sane or insane, the policy shall be void, but the company will pay the amount of the reserve. After one year from date this policy is free from any restrictions as to occupation as set forth in the application, except that if during the continuance of this policy the insured shall engage in any military or naval service in time of war without the written consent of the company the policy shall be void and no claim exist thereunder in the event of the insured's death save to the extent of the reserve on the policy increased by the reserve on any dividend additions and by any dividend accumulations.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from the date of issue this policy shall be incontestable, except for the non-payment of premiums or for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent of the company in writing. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium actually paid would have purchased of the same kind of insurance at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company will not notice any assignment of this policy until the original, or a duplicate thereof, be filed in the home office in Baltimore. Due proof of interest on the part of the assignee must be submitted with the proofs of death. This company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and all assignments shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company on account of, or secured by, this policy.

POLICY SETTLEMENT.—Any and every sum due under this policy shall be payable only at the company's home office, Baltimore, Md., and from any sum payable hereunder there shall be deducted any indebtedness to the company on this policy or secured thereby.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation is reserved under this policy, the insured, if of full age, may at any time, and from time to time, during the policy's continuance, subject to any previous assignment, change the beneficiary hereunder without the consent of said beneficiary, or substitute the insured's personal representatives or assigns, by filing a written request on the company's form at the home office, accompanied by the policy, the change to be inoperative, however, until endorsed on policy by the company during the insured's lifetime. The insured may declare the designation of any beneficiary irrevocable. The right to change beneficiary is reserved to the insured, and cannot be assigned. If any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation dies before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided in or endorsed by company on this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time, before this policy, if continuously maintained, would have become fully paid up, it may be revived after default in payment of any premium, unless the cash value has been paid or the extended term insurance period expired, provided evidence satisfactory to the company that the insured is safely insurable be furnished, and all overdue premiums with interest at six per cent per annum be paid, and all indebtedness to company at time of default on account of or secured by this policy, with interest at same rate, which indebtedness and interest and arrears of premium and interest shall, at option of the owner, be paid in cash or, to the extent allowed by the loan value at date of reinstatement, remain as a lien against the policy.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.—While this policy becomes fully paid-up upon payment, in accordance with its conditions, of the whole number of premiums stipulated for in said policy, yet if desired the payment of premiums can be continued for one or more full years after the insurance becomes paid-up, and the policy by such continuation be converted into an endowment. By each additional full year's premium paid the maturity of the endowment will be hastened, and, upon application, a table will be furnished to the insured or owner of this policy showing the date of its maturity as an endowment after the payment of one full year's additional premium, and how much this date will be accelerated by the payment of every full year's premium thereafter. If payment of premiums is thus continued the policy will continue to participate in dividends as before, and the guaranteed loan and cash values will be increased.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in surplus, and its distributive share of surplus as determined and apportioned by the company will be allotted on the thirtieth day of February, 1913, and annually thereafter, provided the policy is in full force, and not as extended term insurance. The first and second annual allotments of surplus, or dividends, are each conditioned upon the payment of the premium for the next succeeding policy year then due. Each annual dividend when credited may, at the option of the insured stated in writing to the company's home office, be:

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—(1) Applied in reduction of premium, or (2) drawn in cash, or (3) used to purchase additional paid-up life insurance, payable in the same manner as this policy, or (4) used to purchase additional insurance on the paid-up endowment plan, maturing at age sixty-five, and payable at maturity to insured, but otherwise payable in the same manner as this policy, or (5) left with the company to accumulate at not less than three and one quarter per cent interest annually. Accumulations to be payable at maturity of policy but withdrawable on demand, but no allowance will be made for interest for a fractional part of a year. The insured may elect one of the aforesaid options not later than thirty-one days after any dividend becomes payable, and any option so elected shall remain in effect until superseded by another, but if no election is in effect then said dividend will be held by the company under option (5).

DIVIDENDS APPLIED TO MAKE POLICY PAID UP OR MATURE AS AN ENDOWMENT.—Whenever at the end of any policy year the total accumulations (5) increased by the reserve on dividend additions, if any, and increased also by the reserve on this policy, shall be equal to the net single premium, American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one quarter per cent interest, on a whole life insurance at the attained age of the insured for an amount equal to the face of this policy, the company will, on execution and delivery of satisfactory form of release and presentation of policy at its home office, make an endorsement thereon showing it has become fully paid-up, subject to any existing indebtedness. Or whenever at the end of any policy year the total accumulations (5) increased by the reserve on dividend additions, if any, and increased also by the reserve on this policy, shall equal the face of said policy, then, on satisfactory release and surrender of said policy and additions, if any, at its home office, the company will pay the face of the policy as a matured endowment, less any existing indebtedness

Or at the end of any policy year the existing accumulations (5) may, upon satisfactory written request to company, be applied to purchase pure endowments at company's rates for the same at the attained age of the insured, and subject to the company's regulations, for the purpose either of diminishing the number of future annual premiums required on the policy before it becomes fully paid up, or to mature the policy as an endowment some time in the future. If either of these two methods be once adopted, however, subsequent accumulations cannot be applied to the other, or vice versa. The right to any dividends paid during the lifetime of the insured shall, unless otherwise expressly provided herein, vest in the insured, but any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

PREMIUMS PAID BY DIVIDENDS.—If any premium on this policy (either annual, semi-annual or quarterly) be not paid at the expiration of the days of grace, the company will keep said policy in force by applying any dividend accumulations towards the payment of premium, provided such accumulations are sufficient to pay at least one quarterly premium, and any such application of accumulations shall be a discharge to the company for the sum so applied. No portion of any remaining accumulations less than one quarterly premium will be applied to continue the policy in force.

LOAN PROVISIONS.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force, and not as extended term insurance, the company, upon delivery of policy to its home office satisfactorily assigned to it as security, will lend thereon such an amount as when added to any existing indebtedness will make the total indebtedness with interest at six per cent to the end of current policy year not greater than the cash surrender value at the end of said year. But any unpaid portion of premium for said policy year shall be paid out of said loan. The obligation for the loan and assignment of the policy shall be on company's forms, and at option of company the loan may be deferred not exceeding sixty days after application, unless said loan is to be applied solely to pay a current premium hereon. Interest on loans is to be payable semi-annually at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, but if a loan be made at any other time than the end of a policy year the first instalment of interest will fall due at the end of the current policy year and semi-annually thereafter. If any interest on a loan is not paid when due, the policy being still in force, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to re-pay any loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless and until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash surrender value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the person to whom the loan was made and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon a satisfactory written request therefor from the insured or the owner received at the home office of the company before default in the payment of premium, and thereafter until a written revocation of such request is duly filed with the company at its home office, the amount of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid, or interest on any premium loan not paid in cash when due, less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further action of the insured or owner, be lent by the company in payment of such premium and such interest, if any, and be charged as an indebtedness, subject to interest and the other conditions governing loans described in the above loan provision, provided the net loan value as described in said provision, then available, after deducting all indebtedness including accrued interest, is sufficient to pay the premium and interest, if any, then due. And provided further that any funds arising from dividends left to accumulate at interest with the company shall first be utilized for the payment of such premium.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, the owner, within sixty days (including the grace period) succeeding the failure to pay any subsequent premium when due, may elect in writing in accordance with the following table any one of the four settlements specified below, the policy being duly released and surrendered to the company at its home office.

1. CASH.—Cash value increased by reserve on any dividend additions but less any indebtedness to the company.

2. EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—Paid-up term insurance, non-participating, for the full amount insured by this policy without the right to loans, or cash value, dating from the day to which premiums have been duly paid and continuing for the term indicated in table. Provided, however, if there be any indebtedness the amount of paid-up term insurance shall be the face of this policy less said indebtedness, and the term for which said paid-up insurance shall run shall be changed to that period in whole months for which the cash value less the indebtedness will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one quarter per cent interest at the age attained by the insured at the date of default. Similarly if there are any dividend additions the amount thereof will be added to the amount of paid-up term insurance, the term being changed by adding the reserve on such additions to the cash value applied at single premium term rates as above indicated.

3. PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Paid-up life insurance, non-participating, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for an amount stated in the following table, unless there is any indebtedness, in which event the amount of said paid-up life insurance will be diminished in the same proportion that the amount of the indebtedness bears to the reserve (American experience, three and one-half per cent) on the paid-up life insurance stated in the table. If there are any dividend additions to this policy on the life plan the paid-up insurance will be increased by the amount of such additions. If any on the endowment plan a separate paid-up endowment contract will be issued for the amount of such additions, unless the amount is less than fifty dollars, in which case the amount of the paid-up life insurance will be increased by the paid-up life insurance that the reserve on the said additions will purchase at the age attained by the insured at the time of default, applied as a single premium according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and three and one half per cent interest.

4. PAID-UP ENDOWMENT AT SIXTY-FIVE.—Provided the attained age of the insured at the time of default is not over sixty, paid-up endowment insurance, non-participating, maturing at age sixty-five, for an amount stated in the following table, unless there is any indebtedness, in which event the amount of said paid-up endowment insurance will be diminished in the same proportion that the amount of the indebtedness bears to the reserve (American experience, three and one half per cent) on the paid-up endowment insurance stated in the table. If there are any dividend additions to this policy on the endowment plan, the paid-up endowment insurance will be increased by the amount of such additions. If any on the life plan the reserve on such additions will be applied as a single premium, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, at the age attained by the insured at the time of default, to purchase additional paid-up endowment insurance maturing at sixty-five. The paid-up insurance granted under either settlement (3) or (4) will have a cash surrender value which at the time said paid-up insurance is granted will be equal to the cash value of this policy at the time of default, and said cash surrender value will increase with every additional completed year of the continuation of said paid-up insurance. If no election is made by owner within time specified the insurance will be extended as paid-up term insurance in accordance with option (2).

The values in the above table are for the end of policy years upon the assumption that the premiums required by this policy, less any current dividends, have been paid in full and that there is no indebtedness to the company. Values for years beyond the period covered by the table will be furnished on application. If at time of default any semi-annual or quarterly premiums have been paid in any policy year without completing said year, the surrender values will be the values for the last policy year for which the year's premium was paid in full plus a proportionate part of the increase of the values at the end of the next succeeding year. The cash value if the policy is surrendered during a policy year, the premiums for the full year having been paid, will be the same as that at the end of the policy year unless the reserve at the time of surrender is less than the reserve at the end of the year, in which event the cash value will be equally reduced. For loan values when loans are obtained during a policy year and not at its end, see loan provision. The cash values given in the above table are the full reserve on the policy according to the company's standard, American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one quarter per cent interest less a deduction not exceeding at any time two and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The values of the paid-up life and endowment insurances given in the table are also at no time less than the reserve on the policy less a deduction not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The sum used to purchase paid-up term insurance is the cash value stated in table.

METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS.—The insured (with the right of revocation of any election and of re-election from time to time) or the beneficiary (or each beneficiary to the extent of his interest if there be more than one) after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, subject to the rights of any assignee, elect by written notice to the home office of the company to have settlement of the net sum payable under this policy at the death of the insured made in any one of the following methods, or by combination of two or more of the following methods. Provided, however, that if there be more than one beneficiary and payment is not made in cash, the beneficiaries shall not jointly participate in any one method (unless a satisfactory special agreement is made with the company to that effect), but a special supplemental contract applying to one beneficiary only shall be issued for each method selected. Provided, further, that settlement in any event must be made in cash if the net sum payable under this policy is less than $500, and if any combination of methods is elected the net amount applicable to each method, save that of cash payment, must never be less than $500.

1. CASH.—Payment in cash.

2. AT INTEREST.—Payment of interest at the rate of three and one quarter per cent per annum on said net sum payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and upon the death of said beneficiary payment of said net sum together with any accrued interest to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns.

3. INSTALMENTS.—Payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being made payable immediately, and the amount of each instalment to be in accordance with the following table.

4. INSTALMENTS AND ADDITIONAL SUM.—Payment of said net sum in twenty equal annual instalments, the first instalment being immediate, and the payment of an additional amount equal to forty-seven per cent of said net sum at the end of twenty years after the first instalment becomes due; or, in twenty-five equal annual instalments and an additional amount equal to sixty-six and two-thirds per cent of said net sum at the end of twenty-five years after the first instalment becomes due; or in thirty equal annual instalments and an additional amount equal to ninety per cent of said net sum at the end of thirty years after the first instalment becomes due.

5. INSTALMENTS AND ANNUITY.—Payment of said net sum in twenty, twenty-five or thirty equal annual instalments as in Method 4, and by the payment in addition beginning at the end of twenty, twenty-five or thirty years, as the case may be, after the first instalment becomes due, of an annuity on the life of the beneficiary, said annuity being the amount that forty-seven per cent, sixty-six and two thirds per cent or ninety per cent, as the case may be, of the said net sum will buy according to the following table at the age of the beneficiary attained at the end of the period. This method to be available only if attained age of beneficiary is fifty or over.

6. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENT.—Payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty years (the first instalment being payable immediately), and for as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, the amount of each instalment to be in accordance with the following table.

The yearly instalments under Methods 3 and 4, (or under Method 5 so far as the instalments for the fixed period of years is concerned but not the annuity), provided each yearly instalment is not less than $100, may at the option of the insured or at the option of the beneficiary, unless otherwise provided by special endorsement hereon, be changed to semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. On the basis of an annual payment of $100, each semi-annual payment would be $50.37, each quarterly $25.23, each monthly $8.41.

Each annual instalment after the first under Methods 3 or 4 (or under Methods 5 or 6 so far as the instalments for the fixed period of years therein named are concerned), and each annual instalment of interest provided for in Method 2 will be increased each year by such extra interest as the company may allot thereto.

At any time while policy is in force the company will, upon written request to its home office by the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, limit by endorsement on the policy the settlement of the net sum payable at the death of the insured to any one or to any specified combination of the above described methods. Revocation of such limitation and subsequent establishment of a new limitation from time to time may be similarly secured.

Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement hereon, the beneficiary, if the second method has been chosen, may at any time secure the payment of the principal sum in cash with any accrued interest upon giving satisfactory release. Subject to the same conditions the beneficiary may at any time commute in one payment and receive the value of any unpaid instalments under Method 3 and of any unpaid instalments and of the additional sum under Method 4, or so far as the instalments for the fixed period of years and the value of the annuity at the end of the fixed period are concerned, under Method 5, provided the annuity has not actually been entered upon. The commuted value will be determined by discounting the unpaid instalments at the rate of three and one quarter per cent per annum.

Should the beneficiary die before the payments provided for in Methods 3 or 4 have all been made, or before the annuity provided for in Method 5 has been entered upon, or the payments provided for the fixed period of twenty years in Method 6 have all been made, the unpaid instalments, including the sum available for the purchase of the annuity under Method 5, but excluding any payments to be made subsequent to the fixed period under Method 6, shall be commuted in one sum discounting at the rate of three and one quarter per cent per annum, and the commuted value shall be paid on satisfactory release to the executors, administrators or assigns of said beneficiary. If the beneficiary dies after any annuity has been entered upon all liability of the company will cease with the last annuity payment, if any, preceding said death.

If there be no named beneficiary at the death of the insured entitled to receive payment under this policy, or if no election is made, the net sum payable hereunder shall be paid in cash. Any portion of said net sum which may be payable to an assignee shall also be paid in cash.

Whatever method of settlement may be followed the policy must first be duly surrendered and released, and if settlement is not made in cash a new supplementary contract shall be issued for the mode of settlement elected.

METHOD 3.—$1000 WILL PROVIDE.

Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS— DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $363.60. AGE, 35.

The insured: Roger Williams, age 35, of Springfield, Mass. The beneficiary: Mary Williams, his wife, sum insured: ten thousand dollars, payable at death of the insured. Premium: amount, three hundred, sixty-three and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars payable upon delivery of this policy, and annually thereafter, on the first day of each January until the premiums have been paid for twenty successive years, or until the prior death of the insured, or as provided in "provision for waiver of premium" on fourth page. The insurance hereunder is based upon an annual premium payable in advance. If the annual premium is paid in installments and this policy becomes a claim by death, any installments necessary to complete the premium for the then current policy year will be deducted in settlement of the claim hereunder.

Policy year and insurance begin: January 1, 1914.

In consideration of the application for this policy, which is made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is hereto annexed, and of the payment of premiums as above described, the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company promises to pay the sum insured, at its home office in Springfield, Mass., to the beneficiary herein named, upon receipt at its said home office of due proof of the death of the insured occurring during the continuance of this policy, the balance of the premium, if any, for the then current policy year, and any other indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy, being first deducted therefrom: subject, however, to the insured's right, if any, to change the beneficiary hereunder, as hereinafter specified, and provided that if no beneficiary shall survive the insured, such payment shall be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of said insured.

The right to change the beneficiary has been reserved in the application for this policy.

This policy will be incontestable after the first policy year except for non-payment of premium.

The provisions and benefits hereinafter stated are hereby referred to and made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the said company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary, and countersigned by a duly authorized officer, at Springfield, Mass., this first day of January, 1914.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums are payable, in advance, at the Home Office, or to the agent or cashier holding the company's official receipt therefor signed by the President, or a Vice-President, or the Secretary, which receipt shall not be valid unless countersigned by said agent or cashier. In case of failure to pay any premium when due, or within the grace period, the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is set forth hereinunder (see "Non-Forfeiture Provisions"). Subject to the grace provisions of this policy, no premium payment shall continue it in force beyond the date on which the next premium will become due by the terms of this policy or amendments thereto. The payment of premiums may be changed from annual payment to semi-annual, or quarterly, or vice versa, at the request of and on the individual signature of the insured, except that the assent of the assignee will be required if the policy is assigned.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, while in force, will participate at the end of the first policy year, and annually thereafter, in the distribution of the surplus funds of the company. At the option of the insured, dividends will (1) be paid in cash, or (2) be applied in reduction of premiums, or (3) be used to purchase participating paid-up additions to this policy, which additions shall have a cash surrender value (full reserve) available within thirty days of the application therefor, or (4), subject to withdrawal, they may be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy; if so left, the fund arising will be credited, annually, at the end of the policy year, during the continuance of the policy with interest at such a rate, not less than three per cent, as may be determined by the directors, and outstanding dividend accumulations will be included in any cash settlement of the policy. If no election is made prior to any anniversary, the dividend for that anniversary will be held by the company to accumulate. Whenever, at the end of any policy year, the dividend accumulations, or the reserve on the paid-up additions, or both, together with the reserve on the policy shall equal the reserve on the same basis on a fully paid-up policy of the same kind and amount, at the then attained age of the insured, the company will indorse the policy as paid-up in full; or when such aggregate amount shall equal the face amount of this policy, the company will mature and pay the policy as an endowment: provided, in either case, request is made therefor and a satisfactory release is given.

LOANS. POLICY LOAN.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, on a proper assignment of this policy to the company, the company will, within thirty days of the application therefor, loan on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, the whole or any part of the cash value of the policy, and of all paid-up additions thereto, at the end of the policy year during which application for the loan is made, provided that from such loan the company will deduct any existing indebtedness on account of or secured by the policy, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. If this policy is not assigned the company will loan on the signature of the insured alone, under the conditions described in this paragraph, provided the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved in the application for, or amendments to, this policy, or provided the loan is made for the sole purpose of paying the premium, or interest on any indebtedness to the company under this policy, or both. The whole or any part of a loan may be repaid at any time.

PREMIUM LOAN.—Upon the written request of the insured, and assignee, if any, filed with the company prior to default in payment of a premium hereunder, the company will loan the insured the amount of said premium, less any dividend payable on the due date of said premium, and charge the same as an indebtedness against the policy, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, if the tabular cash surrender value of the policy after the payment of such premium will be equal to the total indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy with interest thereon to the thirty-first day after the due date of the next premium payable hereunder, or to the next anniversary of the policy if no further premium will be payable: provided, however, that any funds arising from dividends left with the company to accumulate at interest shall first be utilized for the payment of such premium, and that while any such premium loan is outstanding dividends apportioned to the policy shall be applied to the reduction of said loan. The whole or any part of such loan may be repaid at any time.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If, while the policy is in full force with no premium overdue and unpaid, a request therefor, on a form furnished by the company, is filed at the home office of the company, signed by the insured, and approved by the assignee, if any, the premium loan provision, by an indorsement hereon at said home office, will be made to apply automatically (without further action by the insured or the assent of any subsequent assignee) to any future premium that may remain unpaid on the last day of grace. Such request may be revoked at any time by a writing signed by the insured alone and filed with the company at its home office.

FAILURE TO REPAY LOAN.—Failure to repay a policy loan or premium loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last-known address of the insured and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company will not recognize any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed in the company's home office, nor will it assume responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may designate one or more beneficiaries, if none be named herein; and, further, may, if the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, or amendments thereto, change and successively change the beneficiary hereunder without the co-operation or assent of other parties in interest, provided, that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the life insured, that any change in beneficiary shall be subject to the rights of any assignee, and that any such change shall become operative only when indorsed upon the policy, at the company's home office, pursuant to such form of request for amendment as the company may require.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—This policy, while in full force, may be changed at the end of any policy year, without medical examination, to any other plan in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, except the continuous installment and continuous monthly income plans, provided the rate of premium will not thereby be diminished, on the payment of such an amount as may be required by the company for such change; but nothing herein shall give the insured the right under the new policy to any disability provision not contained in this policy and in force at the time of change. The new policy shall be written at the same age, bear the same number and date, and be for the same amount as this policy, and all parties in interest must join in the request for change and execute such papers as the company may require.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the applicant shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the application and a copy of the application is hereto annexed.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured was misstated in the application for this policy, and there has been no adjustment on account thereof, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

GRACE.—Any premium after the first may be paid when not more than thirty-one days past due, during which period the policy will be continued in full force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS FROM DIVIDEND ACCUMULATIONS.—If a premium hereon remains unpaid at the expiration of the grace period, and there are dividend accumulations to the credit of this policy sufficient to pay such premium in full, so much of such accumulations as may be needed therefor will be used in payment of the overdue premium, and the insured will forthwith be notified of the amount of the accumulations so used and of the balance thereof.

OPTIONS IN CASE OF DEFAULT. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE. EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon default in the payment of any premium after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, this policy will be binding upon the company as participating paid-up insurance of a reduced amount, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in the original contract; but at any time within thirty days from the date of such default, the insured may elect in lieu of such paid-up insurance, by a writing filed with the company at its home office, to have the insurance continued in force as participating extended term insurance, from the due date of the premium in default, for its original amount and any outstanding paid-up additions, less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, but without the right to loans, or may surrender the policy, and, with the written assent of the person to whom it is made payable, receive in cash, within thirty days of the application therefor, its value at the time of default.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—Extended term insurance, as above described, may be made the automatic option in case of default in the payment of any premium, by an indorsement placed upon the policy at the company's home office, pursuant to a written request therefor signed by the insured and filed at said home office when there is no premium due and unpaid. The values stated in the accompanying table are for even years and apply to this policy, except that if there are outstanding paid-up additions to the policy, the values will be increased in consequence, but if there is any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, the said values will be diminished. If the default occurs after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid, the values will be proportionately adjusted. After this policy has become paid-up by payment of all required premiums, or if it becomes paid-up for a reduced amount by operation of law, or if extended term insurance is taken hereunder, the insurance will have a cash surrender value available within thirty days of the application therefor on legal surrender of the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time after default in the payment of any premium, unless the cash value has been paid, or the extension period has expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy at the time of default, which indebtedness, if not repaid, shall be reinstated as a lien against this policy. A part or the whole of the overdue premiums may be settled by policy or premium loan, if the cash surrender value of this policy, after reinstatement, will be sufficient security therefor and for any reinstated indebtedness. See conditions in "Loans" paragraphs above.

NOTICE.—This policy while in force shall not be modified or altered, except upon the written request of the insured, and of other parties in interest, if any, and the approval on behalf of the company of the president or vice-president, or the secretary, or an assistant secretary. All modifications and alterations shall comply with the legal requirements of the State within which the policy is delivered.

* Loan values are the same as cash values, and, subject to the provisions of the "loans" clause, are available at any time after two full years' premiums have been paid.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum. No deduction has been made from the reserve in computing the values for the tenth and subsequent years, nor will any deduction be made in computing the values for years not shown in the table. In computing the values for the years prior to the tenth, no deduction has been made from the reserve of more than one and four-tenths per cent of the amount insured. The paid-up value or extended insurance value, at the end of any policy year, is the mathematical equivalent of the cash value. (See table on last page.)

PROVISION FOR WAIVER OF PREMIUM.

IN THE EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—If the insured, after the payment of premiums for the first policy year, and before default in the payment of any subsequent year's premium, and before attaining the age of sixty years, and while this policy is in full force, shall furnish due proof to the company at its home office that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously, and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, and that such disability has existed continuously for not less than sixty days, the company, by indorsement hereon, will waive the payment of all premiums becoming due under this policy after the expiration of the then current policy year. The premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under this policy, and the values provided for under "Non-Forfeiture Provisions" shall be the same as if such premiums had been paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand from the company, furnish due proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain, or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with the conditions of this policy. It is further agreed that the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision, and that the company, upon due proof of such loss or severance, will waive the premiums becoming due under this policy after the expiration of the then current policy year. This provision is granted in consideration of the payment of an additional premium of $1.90 with each annual premium payable, and this amount is included in the whole premium charged for this policy. This provision may be discontinued by the insured on any anniversary of this policy by written request to the company, such discontinuance to take effect upon indorsement thereof on this policy by the company at its home office. When the insured has passed the age of sixty years the additional premium charged for this provision will be discontinued without the request of the insured. Non-payment of said additional premium will void this provision and the benefits secured thereby.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

The insured, with the assent of the assignee, if any, may elect by a writing filed with the company, with the right of revocation, to have the proceeds of this policy (including paid-up additions and dividend accumulations, if any), if not less than $1000, paid in equal annual instalments according to any one of Options A, B, and C, beginning upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, in lieu of payment of one sum, or the insured may in like manner elect to leave the proceeds of this policy with the company in accordance with Option D; and any such election or revocation shall become operative only when indorsed upon the policy, at the company's home office, pursuant to such form of request as the company may require. No instalment under Option A, B, or C may be commuted by any beneficiary, except upon the written authority of the insured filed with the company. If the insured shall not have made any such election, the beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive said proceeds may, when the same become payable, exercise such right of election. If no beneficiary survives the insured, said proceeds will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured. At the death of the last surviving beneficiary occurring subsequently to the death of the insured, any balance under Option A will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the said beneficiary, and any instalments under Option B or any stipulated instalments under Option C then remaining unpaid will be commuted upon the basis of three per cent compound interest per annum and paid in one sum in like manner. Provision may be made for the payment of a portion of the proceeds in cash and for treatment of the remainder, if not less than $1000, as hereinunder described. Semi-annual, quarterly, or monthly instalments may be taken in lieu of annual instalments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment will be two semi-annual instalments of $50.37 each, or four quarterly instalments of $25.28 each, or twelve monthly instalments of $8.45 each.

OPTION A.—Equal annual instalments, each of such an amount as may be elected, to continue until the proceeds, together with the interest herein specified, are exhausted provided, that the final instalment shall be for the balance only of said proceeds and specified interest. On each anniversary of the first instalment interest at not less than three per cent per annum will be added to the unpaid balance of said proceeds.

OPTION B.—A specified number of equal annual instalments, each of an amount (for each $1000 of such proceeds) corresponding to the number of instalments shown in the first table following. On each anniversary of the first instalment, but continuing only so long as instalments are being paid, there will also be paid such interest dividend as may be allotted by the directors.

OPTION C.—Equal annual instalments, continuous during the life of the beneficiary, entitled to receive the first thereof, each of an amount (for each $1000 of said proceeds) as shown in the accompanying table, corresponding to the number of stipulated instalments selected and to the completed age of the beneficiary at the date of the death of the insured. If the said beneficiary, having received one or more of such instalments, shall decease before the payment of all the stipulated instalments, the remainder of said stipulated instalments, and no more, will be paid as they fall due to the contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries, if any be named. If there are two or more beneficiaries entitled to share in the first of such instalments, the said proceeds will be divided in proportion to the interests of the several beneficiaries, and in determining the amount of the annual instalment to be paid to each beneficiary, the share of each will be considered as the proceeds of a separate policy. On each anniversary of the first instalment, but continuing only so long as instalments are being paid, there will also be paid such interest dividend as may be allotted by the directors, except that if instalments are paid annually no interest dividend will be paid after all the stipulated instalments have been paid.

OPTION D.—The proceeds of this policy, or any part thereof, but not less than $1000, may be left with the company, and the company will pay interest thereon annually at such rate, not less than three per cent, as may be determined by the directors, the first interest payment to be made one year from the receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. The amount so left may be withdrawn as shall be agreed upon with the company in the election of this option.

CASH VALUE IN INSTALMENTS.—The cash surrender value of this policy and of any outstanding paid-up additions, together with any dividend accumulations, may, if aggregating $1000 or more, be paid according to any one of the above options.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—This application, made to the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Springfield, Mass., is the basis and a part of the proposed contract for insurance. I agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the approval of this application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me or my agent and the payment of the first premium as required therein during my present condition of health (except as these conditions may have been modified, if I have paid the said first premium, by the terms of the company's conditional receipt given in exchange for said premium); and that thereupon said policy shall be considered as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins. I also agree that military and naval service in time of war are risks not assumed by said company during the first policy year, unless a written permit therefor, at a rate of extra premium to be fixed by the company, shall be granted; and that if without such permit I shall engage in any such service during the first policy year, said policy shall thereupon become void, and no claim shall exist thereunder except for the net reserve held against it, reckoned according to the legal standard of Massachusetts; it being a condition of the foregoing that I may serve at any time, without a permit, in the militia of any State. I further agree that if I shall die by my own hand or act during the first policy year, whether I be at the time sane or insane, the company shall be liable only for the net reserve held against said policy, reckoned according to the legal standard of Massachusetts. I understand and agree: (1) That the policy, if issued, cannot be modified or altered except upon my written request, and that of other parties in interest, if any, and the approval, on behalf of the company, of its president, or a vice-president, or the secretary, or an assistant secretary, and that any modification or alteration shall comply with the legal requirements of the State in which the policy is delivered. (2) That no agent of the company has any authority to make or modify contracts on behalf of the company, or to alter or waive any of the conditions or requirements herein contained.

PART II.—I hereby declare, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued upon this application, that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, each of the foregoing answers in Parts I and II of this application is full, complete, and true, and that I am in sound physical condition, and a proper subject for life insurance.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $308.90. AGE, 35.

Meridian Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Indianapolis, county of Marion, State of Indiana, (hereinafter called the insured), in the sum of ten thousand dollars, which amount the company agrees to pay at its home office at Indianapolis, to Mary Doe, his wife, (or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided), if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, this policy being then in force, subject to all of the benefits, privileges and conditions stated on this and the following pages hereof, all of which are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Meridian Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office in the city of Indianapolis, this twentieth day of January, 1909.

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part hereof and a copy of which is attached hereto, and of the payment on or before the delivery hereof of three hundred eight and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars, and the further payment of a like amount on or before the twentieth day of January in every year thereafter until twenty premiums have been paid to the company at its home office in Indianapolis, Ind.

Any unpaid note and other existing indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy reduces the values above specified in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the net value of the extended insurance, the extended insurance being reduced in amount, not in the term of extension.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy, while in force, within six months from date of written application for such loan, any sum not in excess of the amount stated in the table of options to be loaned at the end of the current policy year plus the value of the reserve on any additions hereto; provided that there shall first be deducted from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy and any unpaid balance of the current year's premium, and that interest at the rate of five per cent per annum on the total amount of the loan be paid in advance to the end of the current policy year and that this policy be assigned to the company as security for such loan. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company hereunder shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISION.—If after the premiums for three full years have been paid there shall be a default in the payment of any premium when due, this policy being then in force, the company, without any action on the part of the insured, will continue this policy in force as paid-up non-participating term insurance for the term specified in the table of options for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums shall have been paid, provided that any unpaid note given for a premium and any existing indebtedness to the company on account of, or secured by this policy, shall reduce the amount of such extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such extended insurance; or at the written request of the insured, made within thirty days after such default in premium payment, the company will, upon surrender of this policy properly receipted, pay to the insured its cash value as specified in the table of options, which shall not be less than the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance as aforesaid, or will issue to the insured a paid-up non-participating policy for an amount of insurance as stated in said table, the said cash and paid-up values to be subject to any existing indebtedness.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—When this policy matures as a claim by reason of the death of the insured, the amount payable hereunder, or any portion thereof, not less than one thousand dollars, may be left in trust with the company during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and the company will pay interest annually upon the amount so left on deposit at the rate of three per cent per annum, together with such annual dividend as may be apportioned by the company, so long as the amount shall remain on deposit with the company. The said trust fund may be withdrawn with accrued interest at any time upon sixty days' notice, thereupon terminating the trust; or upon the death of the beneficiary the amount of said trust fund, with accumulated interest and dividends apportioned, will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS—INSTALMENT SETTLEMENTS.—At any time prior to the maturing of this policy as a death claim, provided there be no assignment of the policy outstanding on the records of the company, the insured may change the manner of its payment by written notice to the company, accompanied by this policy for endorsement thereon, so that in event of his death, the equivalent of the amount insured shall be payable in any specified number of equal annual instalments according to the following table, which is based upon a policy of $1,000 and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy: Five annual instalments of $213.99 each, total guaranteed $1069.95; ten annual instalments of $116.17 each, total guaranteed $1161.70; fifteen annual instalments of $83.88 each, total guaranteed $1258.20; twenty annual instalments of $67.98 each, total guaranteed $1359.60; twenty-five annual instalments of $58.62 each, total guaranteed $1465.50. The first instalment shall be payable at the same time that the original amount would have been payable under this policy, and subsequent instalments shall be payable on the succeeding anniversaries of the first payment. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted, and in the event of the death of the beneficiary intestate, any unpaid instalments shall be paid to the estate of the beneficiary.

SECURITY.—This policy will be secured by a deposit of its full legal reserve value with the insurance department of the State of Indiana, in accordance with the Indiana Legal Reserve Compulsory Deposit Law of 1899.

INCONTESTABILITY.—In case of death after one year from date hereof, this policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums, provided the covenants as to military and naval service in time of war, as provided in the application, shall have been complied with.

PREMIUMS. WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company. The company may, however, designate suitable persons authorized to receive said premiums at other places on or before the dates due, but only in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the authorized person to whom payment is made. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company except as herein provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum.

REARRANGEMENT OF PAYMENTS.—Upon ten days' notice, prior to the time any premium becomes due, the insured may have the privilege of changing from an annual to semi-annual or to quarterly rates, or upon any anniversary of the policy may change from semi-annual or quarterly to annual rate in payment of premiums. Such semi-annual or quarterly payments being made in accordance with the terms of the policy will continue this policy in force for the time specified.

REINSTATEMENT IN EVENT OF LAPSE.—This policy may be reinstated on written application at any time after default in the payment of any premium, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and payment of premiums due to date of reinstatement with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, compounded annually.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including any of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will first be deducted in any settlement under this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned, but the assignment must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by filing with the company a written request duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company, provided this policy has not been assigned, or, if assigned, that all assignments shall have been duly cancelled or released on the books of the company.

PREMIUM NOTICE.—Notice of each and every payment due or to become due hereon at the date named is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and further notice required by any statute is hereby waived.

CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be changed or modified except by consent of the company duly recorded by written endorsement hereon over the signature of its president or secretary; and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation affecting this contract made at any time by any person other than the above mentioned officers of the company. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. This contract is to be construed under the laws of the State of Indiana, it being agreed that the place of this contract is at the home office of the company.

PROOFS OF DEATH.—Proofs of death shall be upon and must fully comply with the company's forms in use at the time of the death of the insured, and settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant and not later than two months after receipt of such proof. If the age of the insured is understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the sum which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

POLICY IN FORCE.—No obligation is assumed by this company upon this policy until the first premium has been paid, and the policy duly delivered during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—1. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not be binding on said company until a policy has been issued and delivered to me and the premium paid to the company or its duly authorized agents during my lifetime and good health. 2. That should any policy based upon this application be issued upon the participating plan, in any distribution of surplus the principles and methods which may then be in use by the company for such distribution, and the company's determination of the amount belonging to such policy shall be, and the same are ratified and accepted by me for myself and for every person who shall at any time have or claim any interest in such policy. 3. That I will not, within one year from the date of any policy issued hereunder, engage in any of the following occupations or employments: Handling electric wires or dynamos, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, service as an employee on any railroad train or engine (passenger conductor, express messenger or mail service excepted) or in coupling or switching cars, or on a steam or sailing vessel, and that any such employment or labor or occupation, within said year, shall work a forfeiture of all rights under any policy issued hereon, unless the written consent of the company shall be first obtained. 4. That death by my own hand or occasioned by my own act, whether voluntary or involuntary, whether I be sane or insane, or whether death be intended or anticipated as the result of such act, or in consequence of actual or attempted violation of law, within one year from the date of any policy issued hereunder, shall invalidate the insurance and forfeit the premium payments to the company. 5. That active service in the army or navy in time of war shall invalidate the insurance unless a permit for such service shall have been endorsed upon the policy by the company. 6. That inasmuch as only the company at its home office in the city of Indianapolis has authority to determine the terms and conditions upon which a policy shall issue on any application, that no statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented to the company in this application; that this application (Part I and Part II) and any policy issued on account hereof, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto which shall at all times be held to have been made at Indianapolis, Ind., and shall in all respects be determined in accordance with the laws of the State of Indiana.

PART II. AGREEMENT.—In making this application for insurance on my life to the Meridian Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind., I hereby declare and agree, first, that all the statements and answers in this application (in the part marked Part I, as well as those made to the medical examiner in the part marked Part II) are hereby declared to be true, full and complete and are offered to the company as a consideration for the contract of insurance. 2. That any physician may disclose to the Meridian Life Insurance Company, its successors or assigns, any facts or information communicated to or acquired by him as my physician, and I waive any and all provisions of law which now, or may hereafter, exist exempting or prohibiting any physician from disclosing any facts acquired in any professional capacity or rendering such physician incompetent as a witness.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.60. AGE, 35.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which application is attached hereto and made part hereof, and of the payment of the annual premium of two hundred and ninety-seven dollars and sixty cents, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of March hereafter, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the company in the city of New York of due proof of the death of John Doe (herein called the insured) ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, upon surrender of this policy, properly receipted, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, beneficiary.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This policy is written with the right of the insured to change the beneficiary. When such right has been reserved, and if there be no written assignment of this policy on file with the company, the insured may (while the policy is in force) designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of change thereafter, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

RESTRICTIONS.—The company shall be released from all liability under this policy if the insured shall, within one year from the issue hereof, become engaged in or connected in any manner with the manufacture or sale of ale, wine, beer or liquor, unless so engaged at the date hereof and so stated in the application for this policy. If the insured within one year from the issue hereof die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, this policy shall become null and void and the company will return only the premiums which have been received thereunder. Military or naval service in time of war is a risk not assumed under this policy unless a written permit therefor at a rate of extra premium to be fixed by the company shall be granted, and if the insured without such permit, signed by an executive officer of the company, shall enter or be engaged in any military or naval service in time of war and dies while engaged in or as a result of such service, the liability of the company under this policy is limited to the amount of the full legal reserve to the credit of the policy. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.—The provisions and benefits printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of March, 1916.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or actuary of the company and countersigned by said agent. A grace of thirty-one days, without interest charge, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first during which period the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace the full premium for the then current policy year, or any unpaid portion thereof, shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. The payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable except as herein provided. At any anniversary of this policy, on written request of the insured, approved by the company at its home office, premium payments may be changed so as to be made payable annually, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in accordance with the published rates in force at the date of issue of this policy.

2. AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

3. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy (and the application therefor) constitutes the entire contract between the parties and, except for non-payment of premiums or violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war, shall be incontestable after one year from the date of its issue.

All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless it is contained in the written application therefor and a copy of such application is securely attached to this policy when issued.

4. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be executed upon blanks furnished by the company and filed with the company at its home office in the city of New York. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

5. OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—Upon failure to pay any premium or any part thereof when due, this policy, except as otherwise provided herein, shall immediately lapse. If, however, the lapse occur after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, the owner hereof, provided there be no indebtedness hereon, shall, upon written request filed with the company at its home office together with the presentation of this policy for legal surrender or for endorsement within three months from the due date of premium in default, be entitled to one of the following options: (First) A cash surrender value. The company in its discretion may defer the payment of the cash value for a period not exceeding ninety days after the application therefor is received by the company. (Second) To have the insurance continued for a reduced amount of non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy. Such paid-up insurance shall have an increasing cash surrender value equal to the full reserve at the date of surrender, or a loan value up to the limit of the cash surrender value. Interest on loan under such paid-up insurance shall be payable annually in advance to the end of the policy year at the rate of six per cent per annum. (Third) To have the insurance continued for its original amount as term insurance in whole number of months from due date of premium in default, without participation and without the right to loan, but with a cash surrender value decreasing each year and ceasing entirely upon the expiry of the extension term, which value shall be the full reserve in even dollars for each one thousand dollars of insurance at the date of surrender. If the owner shall not, within three months from due date of premium in default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or for endorsement for paid-up insurance or term insurance as provided in the above options, the insurance shall be continued for a reduced amount of paid-up insurance as provided in the second option. The values of these options are mathematical equivalents, and have been calculated on the basis of the American Experience Mortality Table with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum (omitting fractions of a dollar per thousand of insurance) less a surrender charge not exceeding in any case two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy; except that after the time for which premiums are payable as stated on the first page hereof, no surrender charge has been made. These values as computed produce the results set forth in the table herein at the end of the respective years. Values for other years (after the twentieth) will be computed upon the same basis, for the entire reserve in even dollars for each one thousand dollars of insurance, and for even months in the event of election of term insurance and will be furnished upon request of the insured. If on surrender or default there be any indebtedness to the company under this policy, the cash surrender value shall be reduced thereby, the paid-up insurance shall be reduced proportionately, and the extended term insurance shall be for the face of the policy, less the indebtedness, and for such period as the reduced cash value will purchase. The reserve for which funds are to be held upon this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Mortality Table with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

The cash value or loan value at any time other than the end of the policy year (provided the full year's premium has been paid) shall be the value at the end of the current policy year, discounted at the rate of six per cent per annum.

Should surrender or default be at any other time than at the anniversary date of the policy, the values for the preceding policy year shall be proportionately increased for the portion of the policy year for which premiums have been paid.

6. LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company, on proper and lawful assignment and delivery of this policy, will loan, on the sole security thereof, up to the limit secured by the cash surrender value as increased by the value of any paid-up additions. The loan will bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum payable annually on the anniversary of the policy. If interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, provided the entire outstanding indebtedness shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise, non-payment of interest shall render the policy null and void after one month's notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any. After the expiration of the premium payment period interest in advance to the end of the policy year will be required. The whole or any part of the indebtedness may be repaid at any time while the policy is in force. At the option of the company, the loan may be deferred for a period not exceeding ninety days after application therefor is received by the company, unless such loan is to be applied solely to the payment of premiums due to the company.

7. REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse in consequence of non-payment of any premium when due, it may be reinstated at any time upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums with interest at six per cent per annum; any loan which existed at date of default, together with interest at the same rate to the date of reinstatement, to be, at the option of the owner on application for such reinstatement, either repaid in cash or continued as an indebtedness against the policy.

8. PARTICIPATION IN DIVISIBLE SURPLUS.—This policy is a participating contract and the company will annually ascertain and apportion any divisible surplus accruing hereon. The surplus as ascertained and apportioned shall, at the option of the owner, be either (a) paid in cash; or, (b) applied within the grace period toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (c) applied to the purchase of a participating paid-up addition to the sum insured; or, (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, and payable at maturity of the policy or withdrawable in cash on any anniversary date of the policy, the rate of interest to be not less than three and one-half per cent annually. If no other option is elected the divisible surplus will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the sum insured. Such paid-up addition may be surrendered at any time for a cash value not less in amount than that of the surplus originally applied to its purchase. The payment or apportionment of the divisible surplus shall not be conditioned upon the payment of the next premium. When in event of surrender or lapse this policy is continued as paid-up insurance or continued term insurance it shall not share in the divisible surplus. (See "Notice to Policy-holder" below.)

NOTICE TO POLICY-HOLDER.—The surplus accruing under policies of this class will probably not be sufficient to enable the company to make a distribution of surplus under this policy before the end of the fifth year.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS.

9. MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, with power of revocation, by written notice to the company at its home office, may elect to have the whole or any part of the net sum payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured, retained by the company and paid out as provided below instead of in one sum. In case no such election has been made by the insured the beneficiary may so elect. This policy is to be surrendered at maturity and a supplementary contract issued for the option elected. These modes of settlement are, however, not applicable to a policy which is payable to an assignee, to a corporation, to a co-partnership or association, or when the amount to be retained is less than one thousand dollars.

OPTION 1. INTEREST PAYMENTS.—The payment of interest on the amount left with the company at the rate which the company may each year declare on such funds (but at no less rate than three and one-half per cent per annum), payable at the end of each year for a specified number of years or during the lifetime of the payee, and at the end of the specified period or upon the death of the payee by the payment of the amount retained, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, to the person designated in said notice, or, if there be no person so designated, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

OPTION 2. INSTALMENT PAYMENT.—The payment of equal annual or semi-annual instalments covering a specified number of years, in accordance with the table below for each one thousand dollars of said net sum, the first instalment being payable upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured.

Any instalments payable under Option 2 or Option 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice, shall be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

In lieu of semi-annual instalments under Option 2, or annual instalments under Option 3, quarterly or monthly payment thereof in proportionate parts may be elected, provided that no such proportionate payment be for less than ten dollars.

Unless otherwise specified in the written notice making such election, the supplementary contract on legal release thereof may at any time be surrendered for the amount retained, with any accrued interest, under Option 1, or for the commuted value of the stipulated instalments yet to be paid under Option 2, or for the commuted value of any of the first twenty instalments then remaining unpaid under Option 3; such commutation under this Option (3) shall, however, in nowise affect the payments conditional upon the lifetime of the payee after the term during which the instalments certain would have been payable; such commuted value under either option to be the amount as calculated by the company on the basis of three and one-half per cent compound interest.

The sums payable under the foregoing options are based upon an assumed interest earning of three and one-half per cent, but if in any year the company shall declare for that year, upon funds held by it under such options, a greater interest rate than three and one-half per cent, the sum payable under Option 2, or under Option 3 within the fixed period of twenty years, shall be increased accordingly.

10. TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFITS.—If, after this policy has been in force one full year, and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company receives due proof that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years, has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease, so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, the company will waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the insured's said disability. Any premium so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable hereunder, and the values provided for under the provision "options on surrender or lapse" shall be the same as if such premiums had been paid in cash. Provided, that always, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand from the company, furnish due proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with the conditions of this policy. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. This provision is granted without additional cost to the insured.

Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $285. AGE, 35.

The Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company hereby agrees and promises to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, the amount of this policy at its home office in the city of Detroit (any balance of the current year's premium and any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to this company being first deducted therefrom), when it has received due proof of the death of John Doe of Detroit, county of Wayne, state of Michigan, whose life is hereby insured subject to the conditions contained herein: If at the time the application is made, the insured has therein reserved the right to change the beneficiary, this policy will be payable to the person last designated under that right, and the insured may, providing this policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time by filing with the company a written request, duly acknowledged and accompanied by this policy; such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company. Subject to the above provision, the sum insured is payable to his wife Mary Doe if living; if not living then to his administrators, executors or assigns. This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is attached to and is made a part of this contract, the same being accepted by the insured on the following conditions: The annual premium of two hundred and eighty-five dollars shall be paid in advance to the company at its home office in the city of Detroit, or to its authorized agent, on delivery of this policy, and a like sum shall be paid before twelve o'clock noon on the first day of January in each succeeding year during twenty years or until the prior death of the insured. Such payment of premium shall be made in advance either at the home office of the company or to an authorized agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the collecting agent.

This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid in cash or a note for extension of time for such payment is accepted by the company at its home office at Detroit, Michigan, nor unless the insured be alive and in good health at the time of its delivery.

LOAN.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company will, at any time while this policy is in force, advance upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof a sum equal to (or, at the option of the insured, less than) the reserve on this policy at the end of the current year; (such reserve being computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest) less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by the policy, first deducting from said loan value any unpaid balance of the current year's premium and any other existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Interest on said loan will be charged at the rate of six per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and semi-annually thereafter. The company, at its option, may defer completion of the loan for six months after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or interest will not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon, to the company, equals or exceeds the loan value of the same, nor until one month after notice has been mailed, by the company, to the last known address of the insured and his assignee, if any.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If the premiums are not paid as provided herein, then in every such case the company shall not be liable for the sum insured and the policy shall cease and determine, excepting only that if default be made in the payment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid and there be no indebtedness on account of this policy, the full amount of this policy will be carried as non-participating term insurance for such a period as the reserve of the policy (computed upon the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality) less a sum, not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured, will pay for when used as a net premium. If there be any loan or other indebtedness against the policy at the time of default, the value that otherwise would be used to purchase extended insurance will be reduced by the amount of the loan or indebtedness, with interest, and the remainder used as a net premium to purchase non-participating term insurance for an amount equal to the face of the policy less such indebtedness. This non-participating term insurance shall be subject to all the conditions of this policy, except as to the payment of premiums and except the right to loans and surrender values.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—In lieu of the extended insurance hereinbefore provided for, after the payment of three full years' premiums and default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured may, by return of the policy with a written request to the company within one month after such default, have the policy carried as paid-up non-participating insurance for a fractional part of the sum insured, according to the table of values endorsed hereon; such values being subject to decrease on account of any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to the company. All values after the twentieth year not endorsed in the table of paid-up insurance hereon, will not be less than the equivalent of the full reserve of this policy according to the Michigan standard of valuation.

CASH VALUE.—After premiums have been paid for three full years, if default be made in the payment of any subsequent premium and this policy be surrendered fully receipted by the insured and beneficiary within one month after such default, the company will pay for such surrender an amount at least equal to the sum that would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance, less any unpaid balance of a current year's premium and any other existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. The amount of this cash value, subject to indebtedness, is shown in the table printed hereon and payment of the same may be deferred not longer than six months after application for it is made. Cash values after the twentieth year not endorsed upon this policy will not be less than the full reserve of this policy according to the Michigan standard of valuation.

RESTORATION OF POLICY.—If this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and cancelled, it may be reinstated on written application within three years after the non-payment of any premium, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premium with five per cent interest and the repayment or renewal of any indebtedness outstanding at the time of default in the payment of premiums, with interest.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force one year, a grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of any premium due thereon, during which period this policy shall remain in force for the full amount; but in the event of the death of the insured during such term of grace the full premium for the then current policy year, or any unpaid balance thereof, shall be deducted from the amount payable under the policy.

INCONTESTABLE PROVISION.—This policy with the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto and shall be incontestable after two years from date, except for infraction of the provisions for the payment of premiums, for military or naval service in time of war, or for fraud. If the age of the insured is misstated, the company will be liable only for such an amount as the premium received would have paid for at the rates charged by the company at this date for persons of the insured's correct age. No agent has the power to change the terms of this contract nor to extend the time for the payment of any premium.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD AND AGREED that when the first premium has been paid the insurance under the terms and conditions of this contract shall commence and take effect from the day and date of this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—If this policy is assigned or held as security, written notice shall be given to the company, and proof of interest produced with proof of death. The company will take no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not participate in any distribution of surplus.

ALL STATEMENTS made by the insured in the application for this policy shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this policy.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—In lieu of payment in one sum, the insured, by written request, while this policy is in force, may elect to have the proceeds made payable either in a limited number of annual instalments or in annual instalments continuous during the life of the beneficiary. Such request will become operative upon appropriate endorsement on the policy by the company, and the amount of the instalments will be based upon the sum payable under the policy and will be determined from the tables given below. The first instalment will be paid immediately upon receipt and approval of proof of death of the insured and subsequent instalments annually thereafter.

ENDOWMENT MATURING AT AGE 85—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $216.10. AGE, 35.

The Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company hereby agrees and promises to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, the amount of this policy at its home office in the city of Detroit. (Any balance of the current year's premium and any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to this company being first deducted therefrom.) When it has received due proof of the death of John Doe of Detroit, county of Wayne, State of Michigan, whose life is hereby insured for the term of one year from the date hereof, subject to the conditions, contained herein: If at the time the application is made, the insured has therein reserved the right to change the beneficiary, this policy will be payable to the person last designated under that right. Subject to the above provision, the sum insured is payable to his wife Mary Doe if living; if not living, then to his administrators, executors or assigns. This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is attached to and is made a part of this contract, the same being accepted by the insured, on the following conditions: The annual premium of two hundred sixteen and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars shall be paid in advance to the company at its home office in the city of Detroit, or to its authorized agent, on delivery of this policy.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. If the right has been reserved in the application for this policy, the insured may, providing this policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time by filing with the company a written request, duly acknowledged and accompanied by this policy; such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company. This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid in cash or a note for extension of time for such payment is accepted by the company at its home office at Detroit, Michigan, nor unless the insured be alive and in good health at the time of its delivery. At the expiration of the year for which insurance hereunder is provided, this policy will be converted without new medical examination into a contract of endowment insurance; provided that, on or before twelve o'clock noon of the nineteenth day of October, 1916, there shall be paid to the company the premium of two hundred sixteen and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, and a like sum shall be paid on or before the same date in each succeeding year during the continuance of this policy. The sum hereby insured less any indebtedness thereon, shall be due and payable to the insured, if living, at twelve o'clock noon on the nineteenth day of October, 1965, or, in case of his previous death, to the legal beneficiary herein upon receipt by the company of due proof of the death of the insured.

All premiums upon this policy shall be paid in advance either at the home office of the company or to an authorized agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the collecting agent.

LOAN.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company will, at any time, while this policy is in force, advance upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof a sum equal to (or, at the option of the insured, less than) the reserve on this policy at the end of the current year; (such reserve being computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest) less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by the policy, first deducting from said loan value any unpaid balance of the current year's premium, and any other existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Interest on said loan will be charged at the rate of six per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and semi-annually thereafter. The company, at its option, may defer completion of the loan for six months after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or interest will not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon, to the company, equals or exceeds the loan value of the same, nor until one month after notice has been mailed, by the company, to the last known address of the insured and his assignee, if any.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If the premiums are not paid as provided herein, then in every such case the company shall not be liable for the sum insured and the policy shall cease and determine, excepting only that if default be made in the payment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid and there be no indebtedness on account of this policy, the full amount of this policy will be carried as non-participating term insurance for such a period, not exceeding the term of the policy, as the reserve on the policy (computed upon the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality) less a sum, not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured, will pay for when used as a net premium; if such premium is more than sufficient to carry the insurance to the end of the term of the policy, the excess will be used to purchase a pure endowment, payable at the end of the endowment period, if the insured be then living. If there is any loan or other indebtedness against the policy at the time of default, the value that otherwise would be used to purchase extended insurance will be reduced by the amount of the loan or indebtedness, with interest, and the remainder used as a net premium to purchase non-participating term insurance for an amount equal to the face of the policy less such indebtedness. This non-participating term insurance shall be subject to all the conditions of this policy, except as to the payment of premiums and except the right to loans and surrender values.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—In lieu of the extended insurance hereinbefore provided for after the payment of three full years' premiums and default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured may, by return of the policy with a written request to the company within one month after such default, have the policy carried as paid-up non-participating insurance for a fractional part of the sum insured, according to the table of values endorsed hereon. All values after the twentieth year not endorsed in the table of paid-up insurance hereon will not be less than the equivalent of the full reserve of this policy according to the Michigan standard of valuation.

CASH VALUE.—After premiums have been paid for three full years, if default be made in the payment of any subsequent premium and this policy be surrendered fully receipted by the insured and beneficiary within one month after such default, the company will pay for such surrender an amount at least equal to the sum that would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance less any unpaid balance of the current year's premium and any other existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. The amount of this cash value is shown in the table printed hereon and payment of the same may be deferred not longer than six months after application for it is made. Cash values after the twentieth year not endorsed upon this policy will not be less than the full reserve of this policy according to the Michigan standard of valuation.

RESTORATION OF POLICY.—If this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, it may be reinstated on written application within three years after the non-payment of any premium, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premium with five per cent interest and the repayment or renewal of any indebtedness outstanding at the time of default in the payment of premiums, with interest.

For grace in payment of premiums see page 572.

INCONTESTABLE PROVISION.—This policy with the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto and shall be incontestable after two years from date, except for infraction of the provisions or the payment of premiums, for military or naval service in time of war, or for fraud. If the age of the insured is misstated, the company will be liable only for such an amount as the premium received would have paid for at the rates charged by the company at this date for persons of the insured's correct age. No agent has the power to change the terms of this contract nor to extend the time for the payment of any premium, nor by any writing or otherwise to bind the company in any way not set forth in this policy.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD AND AGREED that when the first premium has been paid the insurance under the terms and conditions of this contract shall commence and take effect from the day and date of this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—If this policy is assigned or held as security, written notice shall be given to the company, and proof of interest produced with proof of death. The company will take no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not participate in any distribution of surplus. ALL STATEMENTS made by the insured in the application for this policy shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I hereby declare and represent, that the above are true answers to the foregoing printed questions, and I hereby agree that these statements, whether written by my own hand or not, shall form the basis of the contract for the policy of insurance hereby applied for, and that any fraudulent answers, any suppression of facts in regard to my health, habits, occupation or circumstances, or neglect to pay the premium on or before the day it becomes due, as specified in said policy, shall void the policy and forfeit all payments made thereon, except as provided in the policy.

I hereby agree that the policy shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid in cash to the company or its authorized agent, or a note for extension of time for such payment is accepted by the company at its home office in Detroit; nor unless I am alive and in good health at the time of its delivery.

And I further agree that if the first or any subsequent premium on the policy shall be settled wholly or in part by note or other obligation, whether of the beneficiary, myself, or any third party, such settlement shall not be deemed a payment, but only an extension of the time for the payment of such premium; and if such note or other obligation, or any renewal thereof, shall not be fully paid when due, then, for any loss occurring while such note or other obligation remains due and unpaid, the company shall not be liable, but the whole amount of the premium included in such note or other obligation shall be considered as earned and the company may collect the same.

I also agree, for myself and for all who may be interested as claimants under any policy issued upon this application, that I will not engage in any military or naval service in time of war, and that should I commit suicide within two years next following the date of issue of any such policy issued hereon (whether sane or insane at the time of such act), that in that event the amount then payable under said policy shall be only the amount of the legal reserve upon such policy, computed in accordance with the statutes of the State of Michigan.

I also agree, for myself and for all who may be interested as claimants under any policy issued upon this application, that if the replies to the foregoing questions are written in by a representative of the insuring company, it is done with the distinct understanding by me that such replies are dictated by me; that I have carefully reviewed the same; that they are all correctly recorded herein; and I also further agree, that any statements or representations made by me or any other person to such representative in connection with this application for life insurance will not be binding upon the said insurance company, unless the same are expressly stated herein.

All statements made by me in the application for this policy shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations.

I also understand and agree that no agent has the power to change the terms of this contract nor to extend the time for the payment of any premium.

It is understood and agreed, that when the first premium has been paid, the insurance under the terms and conditions of this contract shall commence and take effect from the day and date of this policy.

It is also understood that the payment of any note or obligation received under the terms of this application shall, in no manner whatsoever, be contingent upon any conditions not expressed in such note or obligation.

PART II.—I have reviewed and understand all of the above questions and answers thereto, and they are hereby made part of my application for insurance in the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company, and I hereby declare said answers and each of them, as written, to be full, complete and true, that I am the person described above and in Part I of this application, that the application was signed by me, and that the answer to each question in Parts I and II of my application was hereon recorded in writing before I signed the same.

POLICY—MIDLAND LIFE INS. CO. (MO.).

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of any person having or claiming any interest in a policy issued in consequence of this application, I hereby agree: (1) that all statements and answers contained in either part of this application are full, complete and true; (2) that this application and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application; (3) that no policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me; and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company, all during my life and good health.

Midland Life Insurance Company (Mo.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

Midland Life Insurance Company, Kansas City, Mo., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in Kansas City, Mo., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured, or if no designated beneficiary survive, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, upon receipt at its home office of due proof of the claimant's right and of the death of John Doe, the insured, during the continuance of this policy.

STATE OF MISSOURI—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate, deposited with this department.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, from the date of its issue. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the total amount of the premiums paid.

This policy is incontestable after one year if all premiums shall have been duly paid.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid, and before default in payment of any subsequent premium, if due proofs shall be furnished to the company that the insured has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company will agree, by endorsement in writing on this contract, to pay the face amount of insurance under this policy, in twenty equal annual instalments, to the insured or the executors of the insured, and will continue to make annual payments of the same amounts during the life of the insured, after the said twenty instalments shall have been paid; the said instalments and payments to be in lieu of all other benefits under this policy. The first instalment shall be paid immediately on acceptance by the company of due proofs of the said total disability. Payment of premiums on this policy shall cease when endorsement of the disability benefit shall have been made hereon. It is further agreed, that should the insured subsequently recover from the said disability, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, payment of instalments shall immediately cease. This policy may then be reinstated for the full amount, and all the original benefits thereunder restored, without medical re-examination, on payment to the company of the total amount of instalments paid and of all arrears of premiums, with compound interest at five per cent per annum; the said payment to be made in cash, or, if not in excess of the reserve on the policy, the amount of the said payment may remain as a loan on the policy subject to other loan provisions herein. Any medical adviser of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding any alleged disability. This benefit shall not be available if disability occurs after the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five years.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application made within three years after the non-payment of any premium, except when surrendered for its cash value, subject to satisfactory evidence of insurability and payment of the unpaid premiums with five per cent interest as well as the repayment of any indebtedness outstanding at the time of the non-payment of the unpaid premium, with interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may (at any time, and from time to time), subject to any existing assignment of this policy and during its continuance, designate a new beneficiary with or without right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the full amount of insurance hereunder will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in Column 3 of the accompanying table.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—In lieu of such term insurance, the company will endorse on this policy the amount of paid-up life insurance, if any, specified in Column 2 of the accompanying table, upon written request therefor made by the insured within six months from said due date.

LOANS.—At any time when this policy shall be in force after the payment of three full years' premiums, the company will loan to the insured (or the owner of the policy, if assigned) upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, all or any part of a sum equal to the cash value at the end of the current policy year less any unpaid portion of the full premium for the said year. Such loan shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured or of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

CASH VALUE.—Upon written request, and on surrender of this policy, the company will pay the cash value, if any, specified in Column 1 of the accompanying table, which is the net value of the extended or paid-up insurance, stated herein. If any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy exists at the time the above values become available, such indebtedness shall reduce the amount of the said loan, cash or paid-up values, or shall shorten the extended insurance period, which values or period shall then be adjusted on the basis originally used in their calculation. The term insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans. The paid-up insurance shall be subject to cash loans. The cash value and the net value of the term insurance and paid-up insurance specified herein shall not be less than the reserve on the policy at the end of the year for which premiums are paid, less a sum not greater than six tenths of one per cent of the amount insured under this policy.

In case of default in payment of a premium after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid the above values will be proportionately adjusted. Loan and cash values for any subsequent years not shown above will be the full reserve on this policy and will be furnished on request of the insured.

GUARANTEED COUPON OPTIONS.—The insured (or the holder of the policy, if assigned) may select any one of the following options:

OPTION I.—Use in payment of any premium any coupon then matured. Any semi-annual or quarterly premium payable hereunder may, on written request of the insured, be reduced, by a proportionate part of the amount of the coupon payable in the year during which said semi-annual or quarterly premium becomes due, provided the policy with said coupon attached is presented to the company for proper endorsement.

OPTION II.—Leave any coupon then matured with the company to accumulate at compound interest at the annual rate of three and one-half per cent. Any coupons so left with the company may be withdrawn by the insured (or the holder of the policy, if assigned) at any time. Any balance remaining to the credit of the policy under this option shall be paid in cash by the company to the insured or the beneficiary in any settlement thereunder.

OPTION III.—If all premiums due hereon shall be paid in full in cash, and all coupons shall be left to accumulate, then, upon the surrender of all the coupons now attached hereto, and interest accumulations thereon after the end of the fifteenth policy year, this policy will be endorsed by the company as fully paid up.

OPTION IV.—If all premiums due hereon shall be paid in full in cash, and all coupons shall be left to accumulate, then, upon surrender of this policy and all the coupons now attached hereto and interest accumulations thereon after the end of the thirty-first policy year, this policy shall, at the option of the insured, mature as an endowment, and the face amount thereof will then be paid in cash to the insured. Any balance of coupon accumulation above the amount necessary at net single premium rates to make the policy paid-up or to mature it as an endowment for its face value under the above options, shall be paid in cash to the insured.

OPTION V.—If the premium for the year commencing on the date of any coupon shall have been paid in full in cash without the use of said coupon, the amount shown thereon may then, on written request of the insured and surrender of the coupon, be applied by the company as a single premium at the company's rates now in force and at the age of the insured at that time to purchase additional paid-up non-participating life insurance without medical examination. Said additional insurance may be surrendered on any subsequent anniversary of the policy for its legal cash surrender value or the said cash value may be used to reduce any subsequent premium. The said additional insurance may be applied on any policy anniversary to increase the paid-up value, or its cash value applied to increase the cash or loan value under this policy. The cash or paid-up values so increased and the accumulated coupon amounts under Option II are shown in the following table:

The above cash, loan and paid-up values shall be subject to the same conditions as similar values on the second page of this policy.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or secretary, or, in their absence or incapacity, one of the vice-presidents or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

2. If the age of the insured shall have been incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured, unless a different method of adjustment be required by the laws of the State in which this policy shall be delivered.

3. If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall be only as hereinbefore provided.

4. No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

5. Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit thereunder.

6. The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method, on the basis required by the law of the State in which this policy is delivered, and the American Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, for purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loans and surrender value benefits.

7. This policy and application therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto. All statements of the insured in the said application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it be contained in the written application therefor and a copy of such application be attached to the policy when issued.

PREMIUMS.—This contract is issued in consideration of the written and printed application which is made a part thereof, and of the payment of three hundred and eighty-three and ⁴⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, in advance, before this contract shall take effect, as the premium for an insurance commencing on the eighth day of January, 1912, and terminating on the eighth day of January, 1913, and will be renewed as a limited payment life policy upon further payment of a like amount on or before the said date at the home office of the company, or upon the presentation of a receipt for the same amount signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company subject to all the provisions herein, in every year thereafter for twenty years from the date of this policy, or until the prior death of the insured.

The insured shall have the privilege, on written request and on any anniversary of the date of this policy, of paying the premiums hereon semi-annually or quarterly, and such semi-annual premiums shall be fifty two per cent and such quarterly premiums twenty-six and one-half per cent of any annual premium payable hereunder.

In witness whereof, The Midland Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at the home office of the company at Kansas City, Mo., this eighth day of January, 1912.

SAMPLE COUPON—On or at any time after January 9, 1913, Midland Life Insurance Company, Kansas City, Mo., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 0000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned), seventy-nine and ³⁰/₁₀₀ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid, Payable at its home office.

OPTIONS AT THE DEATH OF THE INSURED.—The insured, by written notice to the company, at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect that the net sum payable under this policy at the death of the insured shall be payable either in cash or as follows:

OPTION 1.—On demand of the beneficiary, as may be directed by the insured in the said notice; interest on the said net sum, at the rate of three and one-half per cent to be paid by the company annually to the beneficiary until the said net sum is paid on the said demand.

OPTION 2.—By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments for a specified number of years to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of the said net sum. (See table, Option 2.)

OPTION 3.—By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, for a fixed period of twenty years, to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the said payments to continue during the life of the beneficiary after the said fixed period. (See table, Option 3.)

Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the beneficiary may, on any interest date, receive the amount of the said net sum yet due under Option 1, or may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3, except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Midland Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-YEAR PROTECTIVE ENDOWMENT POLICY. ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $413. AGE, 35.

The Midland Mutual Life Insurance Company, Columbus, O., will pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of Columbus, O., on receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe (the insured), of Columbus, county of Franklin, State of Ohio, while this policy is in force, to Jane V. Roe, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is issued as a twenty-year protective endowment, in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application (Parts I and II), which application is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy being endorsed hereon, and of the payment of the first annual premium of four hundred and thirteen dollars, in advance, and of the payment in advance of a like amount on or before the first day of January in each year until twenty such annual premiums in all have been paid or until the prior death of the insured; if the insured should die during the endowment period the company will pay to the above named beneficiary $10,000, the life insurance hereunder; but if the insured should survive the endowment period and this policy is in force, the company will then pay $7500 to said insured, or, the insured may elect to receive in lieu thereof either of the "special options" stated on page three.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, the reserve being accumulated in accordance with the laws of Ohio.

If the sum insured is increased by surplus accumulations (i. e. policy dividends) the above guarantees will be increased, but any indebtedness placed on the policy will operate to reduce said guarantees.

The reserve on this policy shall be invested as required by the general code of the State of Ohio (Sec. 9357), only in United States, State, county or city bonds; in bonds and mortgages upon unincumbered real estate; in loans upon the pledge of such bonds and mortgages; and in loans upon the company's own policies.

This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and is subject to the conditions, privileges, restrictions and other provisions set forth on the following pages, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto.

Dated at Columbus, Ohio, the first day of January, 1914.

CONDITIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from its date this policy will be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums and except as to service in the army or navy in time of war, for which a written permit must be obtained, as hereinafter provided.

FIRST PREMIUM.—This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium is actually paid while the insured is in good health.

FIRST PREMIUM.—This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium is actually paid while the insured is in good health.

SUBSEQUENT PREMIUMS.—In case any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be void, and all premiums paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein agreed.

WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Columbus, Ohio, but will be accepted elsewhere, if paid to a duly authorized agent, in exchange for the company's receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated therein.

GRACE IN PAYMENT.—Thirty-one days' grace will be allowed in payment of any premium after the first year, the policy to remain in force for its full amount during such period; but interest on such premium shall be paid, at the rate of five per cent per annum, from the date when the premium became due.

OCCUPATION.—This policy does not restrict the insured as to occupation, residence or travel, from date of issue, except as to service in the army or navy in time of war, for which a written permit must be obtained at the company's regular rates.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, is a risk not assumed by this company; but in such case it will pay the amount of the premium received on this policy.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy shall be void, unless assented to in writing by the president or secretary and endorsed hereon and a duplicate filed with the company; but it will not, by receiving or filing any assignment hereof, assume any responsibility for the validity thereof.

CHANGES AND WAIVERS.—At the option of the insured this policy may be changed at any time without medical examination for any other form calling for a higher premium rate which this company issues at that time, but no change will be made whereby the amount of insurance for which this company may become liable is larger than that contained in the original contract; at the time of making this change the insured shall pay the difference between the premiums required under the two contracts, from the date of the old policy in cash with interest at five per cent per annum. No change in, addition to, waiver of or permit, under this contract shall be valid unless signed by the president or secretary and endorsed hereon.

POLICY CLAIMS.—Proofs of death or application for any other settlement hereunder, except for paid-up insurance, cash surrender values or disability benefits, must be furnished to the company at its home office, within one year after the death of the insured or the time when the right to such settlement accrued, and shall be upon the forms supplied and then in use by the company. The premiums on this policy being due annually, the unpaid instalments of any policy year and any other indebtedness to the company will be deducted in any settlement under this policy.

ACTION.—No action shall be brought against the company, hereunder, unless commenced within five years from the time when the right of action accrues.

PRIVILEGES.

BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary shall not, by virtue of the terms of this policy, have any vested interest hereunder; and the insured may, before the maturity of the policy, change the beneficiary named herein, if this policy is not then assigned and if there be no vested right to the proceeds of this policy arising otherwise than under the terms hereof, upon filing a written request with the company at its home office in such form as it may require; but no change shall take effect unless endorsement thereof shall have been made hereon by the president or secretary.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse it may be reinstated at any time within three years, or thereafter by special arrangement, upon evidence of continued good health being furnished by the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company at its home office in Columbus, Ohio, and the payment of premiums and all other indebtedness past due with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the second policy year, if the third annual premium is paid in cash and at the end of each subsequent policy year, the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy which may thereafter be used by the insured for any one of the following purposes: (First) Withdrawn in cash or applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (second) applied to the purchase of paid-up endowment additions to the policy; or (third) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy; or (fourth) used to convert this policy into a paid-up life insurance policy for $10,000 whenever the cash value of this policy, together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto less any outstanding indebtedness, will purchase said paid-up life insurance if used as a net single life premium according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum at the attained age of the insured; or (fifth) used to mature this policy provided there is no indebtedness hereon to the company as an endowment for $10,000 whenever the cash value of this policy together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto shall equal said sum. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within two months after any dividend is due, the same shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—After one full annual premium has been paid and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, should the insured become totally and permanently disabled through bodily injury or disease, before he reaches the age of sixty-five, or the maturity of the premium paying period, so that there is neither then nor at any time thereafter, any work, occupation or profession that the insured can ever sufficiently do or follow to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit; and proofs of such condition, made upon blanks furnished by the company to the entire satisfaction and approval thereof, have been received at the home office, within three months from the date of the beginning of such condition, the insured may select one of the following benefits: (First) This policy, without further premium payments, to become paid-up in full for its face amount and payable at the death of the insured. (Second) This policy, without further premium payments, to be payable to the insured in ten equal annual instalments, the sum of which shall equal the face amount hereof. Should the insured die before ten instalments have been paid, the balance of the ten instalments remaining unpaid will be paid as they mature to the beneficiary named in the policy. (Third) One-half the face amount of this policy to be paid upon surrender thereof and releasing the company from all liability thereunder. Should the disability as above stated occur after the insured has reached the age of sixty-five, the first benefit only will be granted and all subsequent premiums as they become due shall be accumulated without interest and will be an indebtedness against this policy.

The annual premium for this clause is fifty cents for each $1000 of insurance, and is included in the whole premium charged for this policy. This clause may be canceled at any time by the insured, and thereafter the disability insurance shall cease and the premium on this policy shall be reduced by the amount named herein, provided the policy be returned to the company for proper endorsement.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

STATEMENTS OF INSURED NOT WARRANTIES.—All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. At the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, during the whole of which this policy shall have been in force, or within sixty days from the due date of any premium in default, the insured shall have the following options:

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Without any action upon the part of the insured in case of default in payment of any premium after the third year, the company will extend the insurance hereunder as a paid-up non-participating term policy for the period stated, together with a final value, payable at the end of the term, if the insured be then living, as set forth in column 2 of the table of Guarantees, on the first page hereof; provided there is no outstanding indebtedness. If the death of the insured shall occur during the first year of such extended insurance, the premiums which would have been paid, if no default had been made, with interest, shall be deducted from the amount payable. If there should be any indebtedness to the company at the time of such default the life insurance hereunder, less such indebtedness, will be extended for such a period as the cash surrender value at the time of default, less the indebtedness will purchase according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum at the attained age of the insured.

PAID-UP ENDOWMENT INSURANCE.—Upon the written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy within sixty days from the due date of any premium in default after the third year, the company will issue a paid-up participating endowment policy, payable as herein provided, for the amount named in column 3 of the Table of Guarantees, on the first page hereof, provided there is no outstanding indebtedness. If there should be any indebtedness to the company at the time of such default, the amount of paid-up endowment, stated in the Table of Guarantees, on the first page hereof, shall be reduced in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value of the above named benefits. The extended insurance or the paid-up policy will be entitled to cash surrender values according to the reserve thereon at time of surrender, computed upon the basis hereinbefore mentioned less any indebtedness.

CASH VALUE.—To surrender the policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value which shall be equal to the entire net reserve on this policy on the preliminary term basis less a surrender charge not in excess of two and one-half per cent of the face of this policy in any year. If there be no indebtedness on this policy, the cash surrender value will be as shown in column 4 of the Table of Guarantees on the first page hereof.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while the policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in column 4 of the Table of Guarantees on the first page hereof and on any additions thereto, with interest at six per cent per annum, payable in advance, deducting therefrom all indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of assignee, if any. The extended insurance, paid-up insurance, cash and loan values above referred to, together with the Table of Guarantees on the first page of this policy, are computed upon the American Experience Mortality Table, with interest at three and one-half per cent yearly. Such guaranteed values do not provide for the deduction of a sum in excess of two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, as a surrender charge in any year.

PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon written request of the insured and assignee, if any, made prior to default in payment of any premium, the premiums thereafter coming due, if not paid in cash, less any dividends applicable thereto, will be charged against the policy as a loan bearing compound interest at the rate of six per cent per annum in advance, until such time as the accumulated loan, together with any other indebtedness with interest, shall equal or exceed the cash value hereof, when the policy shall become null and void, subject, however, to the notice provided for in the loan clause herein. This request may be revoked at any time in writing, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege. Premium loans may be repaid at any time, and while this policy is carried in force under the provisions of this privilege, the insured may, without furnishing evidence of good health, resume premium payments.

SPECIAL OPTIONS.

EXTENDED LIFE INSURANCE.—Upon the written request of the insured within thirty-one days from the due date of any premium in default after the third year, the company will extend the insurance hereunder as a paid-up non-participating term policy for the period stated in column 2 of the Table of Special Options on this page, and the amount of cash, stated in column 3, if any, will be paid as a pure endowment to the insured, if living, at the end of twenty years from the date on which this insurance becomes effective. If the death of the insured shall occur during the first year of such extended insurance, the premium which would have been paid, if no default had been made, with interest, shall be deducted from the amount payable. If there should be any indebtedness to the company at the time of such default, the life insurance hereunder, less such indebtedness, will be extended for such a period as the cash surrender value at the time of default, less the indebtedness, will purchase according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum at the attained age of the insured.

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Upon the written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of any premium in default after the third year, the company will issue a paid-up participating life policy for the amount named in column 4 of the Table of Special Options, and the amount of cash, if any, specified in column 3, shall be paid as a pure endowment to the insured, if living, at the end of twenty years from the date on which this insurance becomes effective. If the insured shall furnish to the company satisfactory evidence of insurability the company will grant in lieu of the values stated in columns 3 and 4 of the Table of Special Options, paid-up non-participating insurance for the amount stated in column 5. If there should be any indebtedness to the company at the time of default in premium payments, the amount of paid-up life insurance, stated in the Table of Special Options, shall be reduced in the proportion which such indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value of the above named benefits.

SPECIAL MATURITY OPTIONS.—If this policy is in force at the maturity of its endowment period the insured may elect either of the following options: (a) To receive \$7,500 in cash, together with any dividends then standing to its credit less any outstanding indebtedness; or, (b) To convert this policy, provided there is no indebtedness hereon to the company, into a paid-up participating life insurance policy for \$10,000 and to receive in addition \$1,840 in cash, together with any dividends then standing to its credit; or, (c) To convert this policy into a paid-up non-participating life insurance policy for \$13,240, which is the amount of insurance the endowment hereof will purchase if used as a net single life premium, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum, at the attained age of the insured. If the endowment amount is increased by surplus accumulations, the above guarantee will be increased, but any indebtedness placed on the policy will operate to reduce said guarantee. Should "Option C" be selected, and the amount of paid-up life insurance so purchased exceed the amount of this policy payable in the event of death, satisfactory evidence of the good health of the insured must be furnished to the company.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

AGREEMENT.—The insured, at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1000 and not then assigned, upon request in writing to the home office of the company, may substitute, for payment in one sum as provided in the first page, payment by instalments, as stated below, under any one of the following options, provided there shall be but one beneficiary hereunder:

OPTION 1.—Payment of the face of the policy, plus any dividend additions then in force, in twenty equal annual instalments, (the first instalment being payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured) and a further amount equal to one-half the face of the policy twenty years after the payment of the first instalment.

OPTION 2.—Payment immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured, of any part of the face of the policy, plus any dividend additions then in force; and commencing one year thereafter payment of the remainder (if not less than $1000) in 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments as shown in the following table:

Number of instalments.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of instalment for each $1000 remaining.....	$ 54.37	$ 60.67	$ 70.36	$ 86.83	$ 120.24	$ 221.47

OPTION 3.—Payment of a limited number of instalments (the first instalment payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured), for the number of years chosen, as shown in the following table:

Number of years chosen.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
Amount of instalment for each $1000 of insurance.....	$ 52.53	$ 58.62	$ 67.98	$ 83.88	$ 116.17	$ 213.99

UNDER OPTIONS 1, 2 AND 3.—Should the beneficiary die before all instalments are paid the company will pay the remaining unpaid instalments to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary as they mature, or, if so directed by said beneficiary in writing, will pay to said executor or administrator the amount unpaid in one sum discounted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

OPTION 4.—Payment of continuous instalments during the life of the beneficiary (the first instalment payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured), of an amount to be determined by the age of the beneficiary at last birthday preceding the death of the insured, as shown by the following table, for each $1000 of insurance.

UNDER OPTION 4.—Should the beneficiary die before twenty-five instalments have been paid, the balance of the twenty-five instalments, remaining unpaid, will be commuted and their present value paid to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary.

UNDER OPTION 5.—Should the beneficiary die before twenty annual or 240 monthly instalments have been paid, the balance of the twenty annual or 240 monthly instalments remaining unpaid will be commuted and their present value paid to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary.

OPTION 5.—Payment of continuous annual or monthly instalments during the life of the beneficiary, (the first instalment payable immediately on satisfactory proof of the death of the insured) of an amount to be determined by the age of the beneficiary at last birthday preceding the death of the insured, as shown by the following table for each $1,000 of insurance:

The beneficiary can neither assign nor compute unpaid instalments, so as to affect payment hereunder during the life of the beneficiary, unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office during the life of the insured.

Should this policy mature as an endowment for not less than $1000 the insured may, upon written notice as hereinbefore provided, elect to receive the amount in instalments as provided in any one of the foregoing instalment options, subject to their respective terms.

Any indebtedness of the insured under this policy will be deducted from the amount payable thereunder, before any one of the foregoing instalment options become operative.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I agree that if the amount of the premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid when this application is made, no contract of insurance shall be deemed made and no liability on the part of said company shall arise until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me, nor until the first premium thereon shall be actually paid while I am in sound health; but that if the amount of said premium is paid at the time of making this application, the receipt for advance payment of premium given me shall determine the conditions upon which, and the time when the insurance applied for shall take effect, and that the agent has no authority to change or add to the terms of this application nor of the binding receipt hereto attached.

PART II.—I understand and agree, if a policy is issued hereon, that the entire contract is contained in this application and such policy, and any promises, statements or representations made by any person not contained therein shall not affect the liability of the company in any way thereunder, notwithstanding any knowledge or information then had by any representative of the company. I hereby declare that the statements made in Parts one (1) and two (2) of this application are true, full and correct in every detail, which statements and application are understood and agreed by me to be the basis of any policy issued hereon and shall be part of any such policy. I waive all provisions of law preventing any physician from disclosing information concerning me. It is understood and agreed that no liability shall attach to either party hereunder, or connected herewith, until this application shall have been received and approved at the home office, the policy issued and actually delivered to and accepted by me and the first premium paid to an authorized agent of the company during my life and good health, unless payment has been made for first year's premium at the time of making application and for which a binding receipt has been given upon the company's form by an authorized agent, in which event liability attaches to the company, provided the policy is issued at the home office, from this date. Mis-statement of age will be adjusted by the company in accordance with its published premium rate now in use for the correct age. Should I die by my own act, whether sane or insane, during the period of one year next following the date of issue of the policy hereby applied for, the company's liability shall be limited to the premiums paid thereunder. Should I engage in military or naval service in time of war, without first obtaining written permission from the company, then any policy granted hereon shall be null and void, and all payments made thereon shall be forfeited to the company. In any apportionment or distribution of surplus, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company and its determination of the amount belonging to such policy shall be accepted by and for every person who shall have any interest under said policy, and the receipt of the person whose life is insured shall be in full surrender of all dividend additions thereto. That the contract applied for, if issued, shall be held as made in the state of Ohio and construed in accordance with the laws thereof and the company's charter.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

* Adopted in 1907.

Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $374.80. AGE, 35.

The Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Company of Minnesota in consideration of the annual premium of three hundred seventy-four and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, and of the further payment of a like sum on or before the first day of April in every year during the life of the insured, or until premiums for twenty full years shall have been duly paid, promises to pay at the home office of the company in St. Paul, Minn., immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe of St. Paul, State of Minnesota, herein called the insured, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, to Annie Doe, his wife, beneficiary with right of revocation.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: \$194 $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars on the first day of April and October, or 99 $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars on the first day of April, July, October and January. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, not less than thirty days and without interest therefor, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

SPECIAL DISABILITY FEATURE.—After one full annual payment shall have been made and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured shall not have attained the age of sixty years, and shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease, so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement in writing on this policy will waive the payment of premiums thereafter becoming due. Any premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy and the loan and cash values described on the second page hereof shall be the same as if such premiums were actually paid in cash. Provided, that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time on demand furnish the company with satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or engage in any occupation whatsoever, for gain, compensation or profit, payment of subsequent premiums shall then be resumed by the insured as originally provided in the policy. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—When the right to change the beneficiary is reserved, the insured subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred by this policy.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the second policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends at the option of the owner of the policy shall, at the end of two years from the date hereof, and annually thereafter, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at not less than three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash. Paid-up additions are convertible into cash at any time, and if so converted their cash value will be the full reserve therefor on the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, not less however than the amounts of the original dividends.

PAID-UP OPTION.—Whenever the reserve on this policy and on any existing dividend additions, at the end of any policy year shall equal or exceed the single premium at the insured's attained age according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent for an amount of insurance equal to the face of this policy, the company at the written request of the insured will endorse the policy (subject to any existing indebtedness) as participating paid-up insurance for such an amount as the said reserve will purchase at the premium named.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—While this policy is in full force it may be changed at any time, without medical examination to any other form of life or endowment policy in use by the company at the time this policy was issued provided the rate of premium is not thereby diminished. For any such change the company will require the payment of such an amount as is determined by it under its then existing rules and the new policy shall be of the same number, age at issue, date of issue and amount as this policy.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After premiums have been paid hereon for three full years, this policy will have a value equal to the full reserve in even dollars on the policy and on any paid-up dividend additions, computed as of the date to which premiums have been paid and based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Said value may be used at the option of the insured in any one of the following three ways: (1) Applied to the purchase of extended insurance, commencing from the date to which premiums have been paid, without future participation, and without the right to loans or cash values, for the face amount of the policy, plus any outstanding paid-up dividend additions and less any indebtedness hereon, and for such a term of years and months as said value taken as a single premium at the insured's then attained age will provide according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. Any outstanding dividends which have been left to accumulate at interest will be then paid in cash, or, if the insured so elects before the expiration of the days of grace they may be left at interest but withdrawable on any subsequent anniversary of the policy or at the expiration of the term of extension. (2) Applied to the purchase of non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, but without the right to loans or cash values, for such an amount as said value taken as a single premium at the insured's then attained age, will provide according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and half one per cent per annum. Written request must be made for this option accompanied by this policy for surrender or endorsement at the home office before the expiration of the days of grace. Any dividends which have been left to accumulate at interest will be then paid in cash, or if the insured so elects before the expiration of the days of grace they may be left at interest but withdrawable on any subsequent anniversary of the policy or on payment of the paid-up insurance as a death claim. (3) Collected in cash on written request and proper surrender of this policy before the expiration of the days of grace. The amount of any outstanding dividends which have been left to accumulate at interest will also be paid in cash in that event. Payment may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days. The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy and that there are no outstanding dividends or dividend additions. Figures for years not shown will be furnished upon request and will be upon the same basis.

After premiums for three full years shall have been paid, if default occurs in payment of any subsequent premium, and if the insured shall not elect before the expiration of the days of grace to have the value of the policy applied under option (2) or option (3), the value will be applied as provided in option (1). If default occurs before premiums for three full years have been paid this policy will have no value and the insurance will cease and determine.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless surrendered for cash, this policy may be reinstated at any time after default upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum; any indebtedness which existed at date of default together with interest to the date of reinstatement, to be at the option of the insured on application for reinstatement, either repaid in cash or continued as an indebtedness against the policy.

CONDITIONS AND PRIVILEGES.—The insured is privileged to travel or reside in any part of the world and may engage in any occupation. This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by his or her own hand or act, while sane or insane, during the first year from the date hereof, and in the event of such death the liability of the company shall be the amount of the premiums paid. This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in the policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity or effect of any assignment, and any claim made by reason of any such assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force by the payment of premiums, the company will loan on the sole security of the policy and on proper assignment thereof, an amount not exceeding its cash value at the end of the then current policy year. Interest on loans will be at rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, which if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. The company will deduct from such loan any existing indebtedness or previous advances on the policy and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance, or to pay interest, shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value of the policy at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. Consummation of loans may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured subject to any existing assignment of the policy may at any time, and from time to time, nominate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries by filing with the company a written request duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy for endorsement. Such change shall not take effect, however, until it has been endorsed upon the policy by the company. When the right of revocation has not been reserved such right may be resumed by the insured at any time by filing with the company a written request signed by the insured and the then irrevocable beneficiary or beneficiaries and duly acknowledged. The resumption of such right of change shall be operative when so acknowledged by the company. If the beneficiary or beneficiaries named hereunder shall die before the insured, and the insured shall not have named a new beneficiary, the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect at any time and from time to time to have the net sum payable at maturity under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years or for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. This option cannot be selected if there be more than one payee. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years. No change in mode of payment or revocation of any change shall take effect until endorsed on the policy by the company at its home office.

The above modes of settlement are based upon an interest earning of 3½ per cent, and may be increased by such additional rate of interest as may be declared by the company in any year on funds held under such modes of settlement.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying premiums.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—It is agreed and understood: (1) That if said application be approved by the company at its home office on the plan and for the amount applied for, and this policy be issued and delivered to said applicant, and the proper premium be paid, the insurance will then take effect; (2) that if the application is declined there shall be no liability on the part of the company, and the amount paid as evidenced by this receipt will be returned; (3) that if a policy is issued different from that applied for there shall be no liability on the part of the company until the applicant has in writing accepted said modified policy and has paid in full the proper premium and until said policy has been delivered to the applicant—otherwise the amount paid hereon will be returned.

PART II.—I hereby declare that my answers to the questions on Part I and Part II of my application for life insurance are full, complete and true, and I agree that they shall be a part of any policy issued on my life. I do further hereby agree that any policy issued upon this application shall be dated as of the date of approval by the company of this application, unless such date would increase my rated age, in which case said policy shall bear the same date as the first part of this application; and that in determining the due date of any premium the reckoning shall be from the date of the policy

Missouri State Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS— TOTAL DISABILITY

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $382.80.

AGE, 35.

The Missouri State Life Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, and beneficiary, it being understood that the insured may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries as hereinafter provided.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums required hereon, and will pay to the insured annually one-twentieth of the face amount hereof, in event of the total and permanent disability of the insured, as provided on the third page hereof.

UNRESTRICTED AND AFTER ONE YEAR INCONTESTABLE.—This policy is free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, and shall be incontestable after one year if the premiums are duly paid.

This policy shares annually in the profits of the company, as follows: Upon the payment of the premium or premiums hereon for the second policy year, and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy year, this policy, if in full force, will be credited with a cash dividend from the surplus then apportioned by the company to policies of the same age and kind, and the insured shall have the following

DIVIDEND OPTIONS:

1. Draw the dividend in cash; or,
2. Apply the dividend in reduction of premium; or,
3. Apply the dividend to the purchase of a profit-sharing paid-up insurance addition increasing the insurance hereunder; or,
4. Leave the dividend on deposit with the company to accumulate at interest, the entire accumulation, or any part thereof, to be payable in cash to the insured at any time, on demand.

Any dividend not drawn or applied as per Option 1, 2 or 3 above, within one month from the date when credited, shall become an interest bearing deposit as per Option 4. Dividends applied to purchase paid-up insurance additions or left on deposit may be used by the insured (a) to shorten the premium paying period of the insurance, in which event the company will grant a profit-sharing paid-up life policy for the face amount hereof when the accumulated dividend deposits and the reserve on this policy and on any paid-up insurance additions hereto, shall equal or exceed the net single premium then required for such a paid-up life policy by the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent per annum; or, (b) to mature this policy as an endowment, in which event the company will pay the face amount hereof when the accumulated dividend deposits and the reserve on this policy and on any paid-up insurance additions hereto, shall equal or exceed said face amount.

POST MORTEM DIVIDEND.—A mortuary dividend will be paid in cash in addition to the face amount hereof if this policy becomes a claim by death after the first policy year and while in full force on a premium paying basis. Such a dividend will be paid on account of the surplus earnings for the period from the due date of the last dividend to the date of death.

SURPLUS INTEREST PARTICIPATION.—Dividend deposits will be accumulated at a rate of interest in no event less than three per cent per annum and at such greater rate as the company may from time to time determine and allow. Interest payments under the trust fund privilege and instalment payments under the instalment privilege of this policy shall be increased by such annual dividends from interest earnings as may be apportioned by the company, commencing with the payment due at the end of one year from the date on which any such privilege may become effective.

CONSIDERATION.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred eighty-two dollars and eighty cents, being the premium for the first year's insurance under this policy ending on the second day of June, 1915, which is term insurance. The insurance will be continued thereafter as whole life insurance upon the payment of the annual premium of three hundred eighty-two dollars and eighty cents, on or before the second day of June in every year during the continuance of this policy until premiums for twenty policy years, including the first, have been paid.

ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment upon the insured's written request therefor on the company's form.

FACILITY IN PAYING PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance, either at the home office of the company in St. Louis, Missouri, or to an authorized agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such agent. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall cease and determine, except as hereinafter provided.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments, as provided on the fourth page hereof; such instalments will be increased by lividends, as provided on said page.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—The insured may place the proceeds of this policy as a death claim in trust with the company to secure a guaranteed annual cash income with dividends in addition thereto, as provided on the fourth page hereof.

This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue, as follows:

GRACE IN PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—If any premium after the first is not paid on the date when due, this policy will continue in full force from said due date for the term of thirty-one days, which is the period of grace allowed hereunder, without interest charge, in the payment of any such premium.

After completion of premium payments for the first two policy years, if any subsequent premium is not paid on the date when due, and remains unpaid during the period of grace, the insured shall, during said period, have the following

OPTIONS:

CASH VALUE.—(1) To surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash value; or,

PAID-UP POLICY.—(2) To surrender this policy at the home office of the company for a profit-sharing paid-up life policy; or,

CONTINUED INSURANCE.—(3) To let the insurance for the face amount hereof, plus amount of existing paid-up insurance additions, continue as non-profit-sharing term insurance, reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium.

If the insured shall not, within the period of grace, surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash value as provided in Option 1, or for a paid-up life policy as provided in Option 2, the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in Option 3.

The surrender values shown in the following table represent the values available if premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the table and if there is no indebtedness hereon to the company.

TABLE OF NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.

The values hereunder will be increased by the entire reserve on any paid-up additions, and if after the second policy year a semi-annual or one or more quarterly premiums are paid in addition to the premiums for complete policy years, the proportionate part of the current year's increase in the values will be added to the values of the preceding year.

Values will increase annually thereafter, will be furnished on application to the home office and will be equal to the entire reserve.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three per cent per annum. The company will allow a cash surrender value at any time on any paid-up life or paid-up term insurance.

REINSTATEMENT.—If any premium is not paid on the date when due, or within the period of grace, and this policy has not been surrendered, the company will reinstate the policy as of said due date at any time thereafter, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest, together with the payment, or reinstatement, of any indebtedness on this policy on said due date, with interest.

PROFIT-SHARING ENDOWMENT OPTION.—The insured may mature this policy as a profit-sharing annual dividend endowment by continuing to pay the same annual premium, after the first twenty years, as provided herein for the said twenty years, and in consideration of such continued payment of premiums, the face amount hereof together with the amount of any existing paid-up insurance additions shall be payable on the death of the insured, or the company will pay ten thousand one hundred and seventy dollars, together with the entire reserve on any existing paid-up insurance additions on the second day of June, 1942, if the insured be then living. If the insured avails himself of this privilege the loan and surrender values after the said original premium paying period shall be equal to the full reserve on the endowment policy and a table thereof will be furnished on request.

PRIVILEGE OF EXCHANGE.—This policy may be changed while in full force to any other form of policy, in use by the company at the time this policy is issued, except to a continuous instalment form, on the following conditions: If the premium rate per $1,000 of insurance is not thereby diminished, the change may be made without medical examination on the payment of such an amount as may be required by the company. If the premium rate per $1,000 of insurance is thereby diminished, evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company must be furnished, and an allowance may be made by the company which shall be applied toward payment of premiums thereafter payable on the new policy, provided at least two years' premiums have been paid hereon. The new policy shall be written at the same age, bear the same date, and be for an amount not in excess of the face amount hereof, and all parties in interest must join in the request for change and must execute all papers which the company may require.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY CLAUSE.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums required hereon for every policy year following the date of approval by the company of proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as hereinafter defined, if such proof is received by the company before the insured has attained the age of sixty years and if premiums have been duly paid by the insured to the end of the policy year in which such proof is approved. The premiums so paid by the company will not be an indebtedness hereon, and this policy will continue in full force towards maturity, sharing in the profits of the company among policies of its class, and with loan, cash and other guaranteed values increasing and progressing from year to year, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The company will also pay annually to the insured one-twentieth of the face amount, the first payment to be made one year after approval of proofs as aforesaid, and subsequent payments annually thereafter during the continuance of such disability, upon the written request of the insured and of any assignee and beneficiary, if there be no indebtedness against this policy. If there be any indebtedness hereon the annual instalments shall be reduced in the proportion which the indebtedness bears to the face amount hereof. The amount of each such instalment shall be endorsed on the policy before payment is made by the company and shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force and in the proportion of such payments to the face amount hereof shall reduce the non-forfeiture and loan values. When the payments so made, together with any indebtedness hereon, shall equal the face amount hereof, plus any paid-up dividend additions, unpaid dividends and dividends left on deposit, the company's obligations under this policy shall be fully satisfied and discharged. The company will allow all premiums falling due more than six months after receipt of proofs of like disability occurring after the insured shall have attained the age of sixty to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness hereon. The total and permanent disability of the insured may be due either to bodily injuries or to disease, occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from engaging in any gainful occupation; provided, that at any time after approval by the company of the aforesaid proof, and from time to time, it may demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability, and upon failure to furnish such proof, or if it appears that the insured has recovered so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay or accumulate further premiums or to pay further instalments of the sum insured shall cease, and the insured shall be required to pay all premiums becoming due hereon after the date of such recovery. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss, by removal or by disease, of the use of both hands, or of both feet, or such loss of the use of one hand and of one foot, will also be deemed total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. In the event of the total and permanent disability of the insured, neither the endowment option nor the privilege of exchange will be available.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the first policy year, and while this policy is in full force, the insured can borrow from the company on the sole security of this policy, properly assigned on the company's form, any sum within the loan value specified in the adjoined table, from which loan value any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid premiums for the current policy year will be deducted. Interest, at six per cent per annum, will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the current policy year and thereafter be payable annually in advance. The tabular loan value will be increased by the value of any paid-up insurance additions. Loans will in like manner be made on security of a paid-up policy (but not on continued term insurance) for any amount up to the reserve thereon. Failure to repay any loan granted hereon by the company, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

Loan values for subsequent policy years, being the full end year reserve hereon, will increase annually and will be furnished on application to the home office.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—The company will advance any and all premiums becoming due hereon and remaining unpaid on the last day of the period of grace hereunder, and will charge such premium or premiums as a loan against this policy together with interest at six per cent per annum in advance to the end of the current policy year, if written request from the insured on the company's form has been received at the home office, while this policy is in full force; provided that the company will not so advance and charge up a premium, if the amount thereof and interest thereon, as aforesaid, together with any outstanding indebtedness hereon to the company, shall exceed the cash value of this policy at the end of the period which such premium, if advanced or paid, would cover. Interest on any such loan shall, for subsequent policy years, be payable annually in advance at six per cent per annum. Such advancing and charging up of premiums will be discontinued at any time on receipt at the home office of the insured's written request therefor. Premium loans hereon shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan granted hereon by the company under the cash loan privilege above set forth. While this policy is thus carried in force, the insured may, without medical examination, resume payment of premiums.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy may be insured. Loan insurance secured for this purpose shall be applied to the cancellation of any such indebtedness should the policy mature as a death claim. Such loan insurance shall take effect only after the insured has furnished evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, paid the premiums hereon based upon the rate at the attained age at the date of granting or renewing such insurance in accordance with the following schedule, and has received a certificate of loan insurance from the company.

SCHEDULE OF PREMIUM RATES FOR LOAN INSURANCE.

Attained age of insured	20-30	31-40	41-50	51-55	56-60
Annual premium per $100 of loan insurance.	$0.80	$0.90	$1.10	$1.60	$2.30

For a period of less than one year the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the annual premium for each month and fraction of a month. Loan insurance shall expire on each anniversary date of this policy but may be renewed from year to year until the insured has attained age sixty, on furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and on paying the annual premium based on the rate at the insured's then attained age. Any excess of loan insurance over the indebtedness hereon to the company may be cancelled by the company and the unearned premium refunded.

AGE.—If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both documents sent to the home office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of this policy, with the consent of the company, subject to any assignment of this policy, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries hereunder by filing at the home office a written request on the company's form therefor, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise stipulated herein.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor.

DIVIDEND DEPOSITS.—Dividend deposits may remain with the company at interest while this policy remains in force, becoming payable in cash in any event upon the discontinuance of this policy—to the beneficiary if this policy matures as a death claim, otherwise to the insured. Provided, that no premium shall be construed as paid, either wholly or in part, nor any insurance hereunder extended or continued in force, by reason of any dividend deposits remaining with the company.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in St. Louis, Mo., and proof of interest of claimant will be required. Any indebtedness hereon to the company will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or from any cash surrender value available hereunder; the amount of paid-up life insurance and the period of continued term insurance, provided in options 2 and 3 of the non-forfeiture values, will be reduced by the equivalent value of such indebtedness according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest. In the settlement of this policy as a death claim, any unpaid premiums or unpaid part of a premium for the current policy year in which death occurs shall be considered as an indebtedness hereon to the company.

Payment of the cash value or the making of a loan (except for the purpose of paying renewal premiums hereon) may be deferred for a period not exceeding ninety days after application shall have been made therefor.

In case of death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, the liability of the company shall be limited to an amount equal to the premiums paid hereon.

Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of said officers.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

In witness whereof, the Missouri State Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy this second day of June, 1914.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by equal annual instalments of any number from two to twenty-five, or in equal annual instalments for twenty years certain and to continue so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall live, in accordance with the tables below. The instalment payments herein provided may be made annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly, and if made other than annually, the total of the fractional payments each year shall equal the annual payment as provided herein. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment privileges; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company; after endorsement, the policy will be returned to the insured. Payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly thereafter as may have been directed if the beneficiary should die before the total number of instalments certain shall have been paid, the remainder of these instalments will be commuted at the rate of three per cent per annum and paid in one sum to the beneficiary's estate, unless otherwise directed by the insured. Payment by continuous instalments cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, or if the beneficiary is a corporation, a firm, or the insured's estate. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment in instalments is directed.

The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000 and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—By written agreement between the insured and the company made while this policy is in force and not assigned, the proceeds of this policy as a death claim if not less than $1000, or any part of such proceeds not less than said amount, may be placed in trust with the company for the purpose of paying the beneficiary a guaranteed income thereon at the rate of not less than three per cent per annum, until the termination of the trust or until the death of the beneficiary, whereupon the amount thus placed in trust may be withdrawn by the beneficiary, if living, or, if not living, by the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns. The first payment of income shall be made one year after receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, and subsequent payments shall be made annually thereafter. The insured may subsequently revoke the trust, thereby making this policy again payable as provided on the first page hereof. The beneficiary cannot withdraw the amount placed in trust, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary upon creation of the trust.

DIVIDENDS ON INSTALMENT BENEFITS AND TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—Each instalment certain, except the first, and each payment of interest under the above privileges will be increased by such annual dividend from the interest earnings as may be apportioned by the company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY, NON-PARTICIPATING, WITH PROFIT-SHARING AFTER 20 YEARS. TOTAL DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300. AGE, 35.

The Missouri State Life Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, and beneficiary, it being understood that the insured may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries as hereinafter provided.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums required hereon and will pay to the insured annually one-twentieth of the face amount hereof, in event of the total and permanent disability of the insured, as provided on the third page hereof.

UNRESTRICTED AND AFTER ONE YEAR INCONTESTABLE.—This policy is free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, and shall be incontestable after one year if the premiums are duly paid.

NON-PROFIT-SHARING WITH PROFIT-SHARING PRIVILEGE AFTER TWENTY YEARS.—This policy is issued on the non-profit-sharing plan, but the insured shall have the privilege of exchanging it, without additional cost, for a profit-sharing annual dividend paid up life policy for the face amount hereof on the anniversary date next following the date of the last premium payment if all premiums have been duly paid as provided herein.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments, as provided on the fourth page hereof; such instalments will be increased by dividends, as provided on said page.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—The insured may place the proceeds of this policy as a death claim in trust with the company to secure a guaranteed annual cash income with dividends in addition thereto, as provided on the fourth page hereof.

CONSIDERATION.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred dollars, being the premium for the first year's insurance under this policy ending on the twenty-ninth day of May, 1915, which is term insurance. The insurance will be continued thereafter as whole life insurance upon the payment of the annual premium of three hundred dollars, on or before the twenty-ninth day of May in every year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums for twenty policy years, including the first, have been paid.

See preceding policy for annual, semi-annual or quarterly premiums; facility in paying premiums; grace in premium payments; cash value; paid-up policy; continued insurance; reserve; reinstatement.

TABLE OF NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.—If after the second policy year a semi-annual or one or more quarterly premiums are paid in addition to the premiums for complete policy years, the proportionate part of the current year's increase in the values will be added to the values of the preceding year.

Values will increase annually thereafter, will be furnished on application to the home office and will be equal to the entire reserve.

PROFIT-SHARING ENDOWMENT OPTION.—The insured may mature this policy as a profit-sharing annual dividend endowment by continuing to pay the same annual premium, after the first twenty years, as is provided herein for the said twenty years, and in consideration of such continued payment of premiums, the face amount hereof shall be payable on the death of the insured, or the company will pay ten thousand two hundred and fifty dollars, on the twenty-ninth day of May, 1943, if the insured be then living. If the insured avails himself of this privilege the policy will be credited at the end of the twenty-first year and annually thereafter, so long as premium payments are continued with a cash dividend from the surplus then apportioned by the company to policies of the same age and kind, and the loan and surrender values after the said original premium paying period shall be equal to the full reserve on the endowment policy and a table thereof will be furnished on request.

Remainder of policy same as preceding form, except as affected by dividend clauses, the instalments as given herewith and three and one-half per cent interest in the trust fund privilege instead of three per cent.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree on behalf of myself and of any person who may have, or claim any interest in any policy which may be issued hereon as follows: 1. That all statements and answers written herein as well as those made and to be made to the medical examiner in Part 2 of this application, are true and complete; that no material information or facts which should have been stated have been suppressed, and that the same are offered to the company as a consideration for the contract of insurance. 2. That no statements, promises or information made to or received by any person or to the company shall be binding on the company unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and made a part of this application. 3. That any policy issued hereon shall be on the form now in use by the company, and together with the written and printed statements and answers in this application, and Part 2 thereof, shall constitute the entire contract, which can only be varied by one or more executive officers of the company, and then only in writing. 4. That if within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon, I shall die by self-destruction, sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to an amount equal to the premiums paid under such policy. 5. That in any apportionment or distribution of profits or dividends, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such apportionment or distribution are accepted by me for myself and all parties having or claiming any interest under any policy issued hereon. 6. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid and the policy delivered to and accepted by me during my lifetime and good health. 7. That any payment in advance on account of premium shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the agent's receipt therefor on the company's authorized form.

† $10 per month for 240 months (no disability benefit). * With disability benefit.

Montana Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $408.40. AGE, 35.

Montana Life Insurance Company, Helena, Mont., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, in Helena, Mont., to the beneficiary, Mary Doe, wife of the insured, John Doe of Helena, State of Montana, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy.

DOUBLE INDEMNITY BENEFIT.—The company further agrees to pay twenty thousand dollars in lieu of the sum named above, in the event that the death of the insured under this policy is caused by bodily injury effected directly through external, violent and accidental means (suicide, or any attempt thereat, sane or insane, not included) exclusively and independently of all other causes, said death occurring within ninety days after the happening of said accident, while no premium is in default, and during the period for the payment of premiums hereunder. This benefit may be cancelled by either the insured or the company, during the thirty-one days following the due date of any premium, upon written notice. In such event the remaining premiums due hereon will be reduced one dollar and fifty cents per thousand of insurance.

SPECIAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company further agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred dollars each, as hereinafter conditioned, in the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, or one eye and one limb, of the insured, such payment to be in lieu of all other benefits guaranteed in this policy, and the first instalment thereof to be paid immediately after receipt by the company of due proofs of such disability. If the insured shall die before all of the above twenty instalments have been paid, then, in such event, the face amount of this policy less the instalment payments already made, will be paid to said beneficiary in one sum. The above disability benefit will be null and void if any such disability occurs after the period for the payment of premiums hereon, or while this policy is not in force by the payment of premiums as herein provided. At the time the first instalment becomes due under the aforesaid instalment benefit, this policy shall be exchanged for a supplementary instalment policy, issued to the owner hereof and guaranteeing the payment of instalments as above provided.

TOTAL DISABILITY PROTECTION.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, and before default in the payment of any renewal premium hereunder, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for profit or from carrying on any gainful occupation, the company will pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become due hereunder during the continuance of such disability; provided that in any such event premiums so paid by the company shall not become an indebtedness on this contract and that the "table of guaranteed loan and surrender values" hereinafter shown shall increase in the same manner as though the premiums were being paid by the insured. The insured shall, however, during the thirty-one days of grace following the due date of any premium, and upon the request of the company, furnish proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, when so requested, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums hereunder.

SECURITY.—The full legal reserve on this policy is secured by a pledge of bonds and first mortgage securities on real estate deposited with the insurance department of the state of Montana.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence occupation, travel or place of death, after one year from date of issue. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

THIS POLICY IS INCONTESTABLE AFTER ONE YEAR if all premiums shall have been duly paid. In case of suicide of the insured, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the total amount of the premiums paid.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy shall have been in force one year, thirty-one days of grace without interest will be allowed in payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in full force.

GUARANTEED LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement and upon proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner, less than, the cash value at the end of said year, as shown in Column 1 of the "table of guaranteed loan and surrender values," given below; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premiums due or to become due during the said policy year and interest on the said loan to the end of the said year shall be paid out of such advance. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance at the beginning of each policy year, and this interest, if not so paid, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure.

LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF INSURED.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid when due, and if no other guaranteed surrender value under this policy has been chosen by the insured within the thirty-one days of grace, the company will, without request on the part of the insured, charge the amount then due hereunder as a loan against the policy, with interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, if the loan value at the date when such premium is due, is sufficient to secure all indebtedness hereon, with interest. If the premium is so charged, this policy will be continued in force the same in all respects as though said loan had been requested by the insured. The same benefit will be applied from time to time as the premiums become due hereunder and are not paid, as long as the balance of the cash value hereon at the last date of non-payment of premium is sufficient to pay for one day's insurance on a quarterly premium basis. Notice of such loans will be mailed to the insured when made, and to the assignee, if any is recorded on this policy, and said insured may resume the payment of premiums hereon at any time without medical re-examination, while the policy is so continued in force. The indebtedness hereon may be repaid wholly or in part in cash or may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy. In any settlement of this policy the indebtedness to the company hereon shall be a first lien in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee.

CASH VALUE PAID-UP INSURANCE TERM INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, the insured, upon surrender of this policy to the company and upon written request, both within the thirty-one days of grace, shall be entitled to one of the following options:

(First) CASH.—A cash payment equal to the loan value hereon at the date of default.

(Second) PAID-UP INSURANCE.—A paid-up insurance policy payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy.

(Third) TERM INSURANCE.—A term insurance policy for the full amount of this policy.

The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the period of the term insurance are shown in Columns 1, 2 and 3, respectively, of the "table of guaranteed loan and surrender values" shown herein, and are equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy at the date of default, without any surrender charge, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period, the above values will be computed on the basis of the entire reserve hereon at date of such default.

Values for later years not shown in the table will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on the policy.

ANNUITY OPTIONS.—(1) At the end of twenty years from date hereof, or (2) on the anniversary nearest the age of 65 of the insured, if this policy be then in force by the payment of premiums as required herein and if no indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall then exist, an annuity policy, in lieu of all other benefits hereunder, will be issued by the company on surrender of this policy, guaranteeing an income payable annually to the insured during his life, of the amount stated below, the first payment thereof to be made on the following dates: (1) $470; on the first day of May, 1936. Or, (2) $830; on the first day of May, 1946, no fractional part of any annuity payment hereunder shall be payable on the death of the insured.

GUARANTEED COUPON OPTIONS.

OPTION I.—Beginning with the second year, the annual premiums payable hereon may be reduced by the amount shown on the coupons attached hereto and the company will accept, on the dates thereon, or within thirty-one days thereafter, the said coupons in partial payment of the annual premiums then due. If the premiums hereunder are paid semi-annually or quarterly, the pro-rata value of any coupon shall be applied as said premiums are paid, upon return of the coupon to the company for indorsement.

OPTION II.—If the premium for the year commencing on the date of any coupon shall have been paid in full in cash without the use of said coupon, the amount shown thereon shall be placed to the credit of the policy, and interest thereon, compounded annually at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, shall also be credited; any part of the amount so credited may be withdrawn by the insured at any time. Any balance remaining to the credit of the policy under this option shall be paid in cash by the company to the insured or beneficiary in any settlement hereunder. If all of the amounts represented by the coupons attached to this policy at date of issue shall have been left on deposit with the company at compound interest, as the coupons become due, the total cash value hereon at the end of any policy year will be as follows:

Total cash value.....	4,610	5,080	5,570	6,090	6,610	7,160

OPTION III.—If all premiums previously due hereon shall have been paid in full in cash, and if all the amounts represented by the first fourteen coupons attached to this policy at issue are left on deposit with the company at compound interest as aforesaid, the insured, on written request, shall have the option at the end of fifteen years from the date of this policy, of surrendering the policy to the company and all of the coupons originally attached thereto, whereupon the company will issue in lieu thereof, a fully paid-up policy for ten thousand dollars. Any excess over the amount required to pay up the policy will be paid to the insured in cash.

OPTION IV.—If all premiums due hereon shall have been paid in full in cash, and if all the amounts represented by the coupons attached hereto at date of issue are left on deposit with the company at compound interest as aforesaid, the insured, upon written request, shall have the option, at the end of thirty-one years from the date of this policy, of surrendering the policy to the company and all of the coupons originally attached thereto, whereupon the company will pay the face amount hereof to the insured in cash, thereby maturing this policy as an endowment. Any balance of coupon accumulations above the amount necessary to mature the policy as an endowment for its face amount shall be paid in cash to the insured.

OPTION V.—If the premium for the year commencing on the date of any coupon shall have been paid in full in cash without the use of said coupon, the amount shown thereon may then, on written request of the insured within the thirty-one days of grace, and on surrender of the coupon, be applied by the company to purchase additional paid-up life insurance, without medical examination. Such paid-up life insurance will not, however, be doubled in the event of the accidental death of the insured.

If all of the amounts represented by the coupons attached hereto at date of issue shall have been applied by the company to purchase additional paid-up life insurance, as the coupons become due, the total insurance payable under this policy and the increased loan or cash values and paid-up insurance shall be as follows:

YEARS' PREMIUMS PAID.	Total Insurance.	Loan or Cash.	Paid-up Insurance.	YEARS' PREMIUMS PAID.	Total Insurance.	Loan or Cash.	Paid-up Insurance.

The loan or cash value and the net value of the paid-up life insurance specified above shall not be less, at the time the same becomes available, than the reserve on the policy and paid-up additions at the end of the policy year for which premiums are paid, less a sum not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If all premiums on this policy shall have been paid in full in cash, and all of the amounts represented by the coupons attached to this policy at issue shall have been left on deposit with the company at compound interest until the end of twenty years, and if no indebtedness to the company on account of this policy then exists, the insured may then have the choice of one of the following options, on surrender of this policy within thirty-one days thereafter: (1) Receive in cash, $7,740; or, (2) receive a policy of paid-up life insurance of $10,000, and cash, $2,080; or, (3) receive a policy of paid-up life insurance of $13,670, upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, or, (4) receive a policy guaranteeing a life annuity, first payment at the end of one year, of $650. If no other option is selected as above provided, the company will apply option (2) to this policy.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or at any time after May 1st, 1916, the Montana Life Insurance Company will pay to the order of the insured or assigns under policy No. according to the terms of the same twenty-eight ⁷⁵/₁₀₀ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy to and including said date have been paid. Successive coupons are for $29.95, $31.20, $32.40, $33.60, $34.75, $35.95, $37.10, $38.25, $39.40, $40.55, $41.70, $42.85, $43.95, $45.05, $46.15, $47.25, $48.35, $49.40.

REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—If any premium hereon is not paid as herein provided, this policy may be reinstated at any time to its original form and amount on payment to the company of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum provided that such reinstatement shall require evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time, subject to any existing assignment of the policy and during the continuance of the policy, name a new beneficiary with or without right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon, upon which endorsement all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If any beneficiary hereunder shall die before the insured, the proceeds of this policy payable to such beneficiary shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, unless otherwise provided on page one hereof.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for the payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered on its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age. (3) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall be only as hereinbefore provided. (4) No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company, and receipt thereof acknowledged. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment, and any claim made thereon shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5) Any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid will be deducted from the amount due under this policy at the death of the insured, and any indebtedness under this policy will first be deducted in the payment of any benefit hereunder. (6) This policy and the application therefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto when issued) constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto. All statements of the insured in the said application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, unless it be contained in the written application therefor. (7) The proceeds of this policy are payable in one sum. The insured, however, may elect to have the policy paid in annual or monthly incomes, in accord with the provisions of the tables on page four hereof.

PREMIUMS.—The consideration for this insurance shall be the application for this policy, which is made a part hereof, and the payment of four hundred eight and ⁴⁰/₁₀₀ dollars in advance, which sum is for term insurance commencing on the first day of May, 1915, and terminating on the first day of May, 1916.

In consideration of the payment to the company of a like amount at its home office, or upon the presentation of a receipt for the said amount, signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before same day, or within thirty-one days thereafter in each year for twenty years from the date this policy takes effect or until the prior death of the insured, this contract shall be continued as a limited payment life policy, subject to all the provisions herein.

The insured shall have the privilege, upon written notice to the company on the company's form, of paying the premiums hereon semi-annually or quarterly, and such semi-annual premiums shall be fifty-two per cent and such quarterly premiums twenty-six and one-half per cent of any annual premium payable hereunder.

In witness whereof, the Montana Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at the home office of the company at Helena, Mont., this first day of May, 1915.

The proceeds of this contract may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual or monthly income.

The insured, by written notice to the company, at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect that the net sum payable under this policy at the death of the insured shall be payable either in cash or as follows:

Option (1) On demand of the beneficiary, as may be directed by the insured in the said notice; interest on the said net sum, at the rate of three and one-half per cent to be paid by the company annually to the beneficiary until the said net sum is paid on the said demand.

Option (2) by the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments for the specified number of years to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of the said net sum. (See table, Option 2.)

Option (3) By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, for a fixed period of twenty years, to the beneficiary or executors thereof, the said payments to continue during the life of the beneficiary after the said fixed period. (See table, Option 3.)

Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the beneficiary may, on any interest date, receive the amount of the said net sum yet due, under Option 1, or may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

OPTION 2—LIMITED INCOME.

Income limited to one of the periods stated below; any number of years, from 5 to 30, may be selected.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I agree to be promptly examined by a regularly appointed medical examiner of the company. I agree that any policy issued hereon shall not take effect or be binding upon the company until the full premium has been paid and the application approved by the company at its home office. I also agree that no policy issued hereon shall be valid during the first year following its date I engage in any of the following hazardous occupations or employments: Handling dynamos or live electric wires, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, manufacture or handling of any highly explosive substance, service upon any railroad train or track as engineer, fireman, brakeman or freight conductor, trackman, or in switching or in coupling or uncoupling cars, or as a seaman on any team or other vessel, unless written permission is first expressly granted by the company. I also agree that if, during the first year following the date of any policy issued hereon, I commit suicide, whether sane or insane, or die in consequence of my own unlawful act, the only liability under said policy shall be for a fixed sum equal to the actual cash premiums paid to the company on said policy. I also agree that the company may reinsure all or any part of any insurance issued hereon. I hereby waive, both for myself and for all persons who may hereafter claim any interest in the policy herein applied for, all my rights under any and all statutes that prohibit or restrict any physician who has attended me or prescribed for me, or who may in the future attend me or prescribe for me, from testifying in any court regarding my health, habits, or any communications I may have made to him regarding the same, and I agree that such physician or physicians may testify as to all such matters as fully as if no legal prohibition or restriction on such testimony had ever existed. I also represent and agree that all the preceding statements and answers as well as those I make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract to be issued hereon.

PART II.—I have verified each of the foregoing answers on this page and on pages one and two hereof and adopt them as my own, whether written by me or not, and represent that they are full, complete and literally true answers to the questions against which they are written; and I agree that the exact literal truth of each shall be a condition precedent to any binding contract issued upon the faith of the foregoing answers;

I hereby certify that after inquiry and full investigation I am convinced that the above applicant is of temperate habits and in sound health, and I hereby unreservedly recommend him as a fit subject for insurance.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $362.20. AGE, 35.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the payment of premiums as hereinafter provided, hereby insures the life of John Jones, of Newark, in the County of Essex, State of New Jersey (herein called the insured), in the sum of ten thousand dollars, for the term of life, payable at its office in Newark, New Jersey, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. Any error made in stating the age of the insured will be adjusted by paying such amount as the premiums paid would purchase at the correct age. Any indebtedness to the company on this policy and any unpaid instalments of the then current year's premium will be deducted from the sum insured.

PREMIUMS.—The annual premium of three hundred and sixty-two dollars and twenty cents, will be payable by the insured on delivery hereof and on the first day of January in each year at the company's office in Newark, New Jersey, or to agents in exchange for receipts signed by the president or treasurer, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, should that event sooner occur. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept one hundred and eighty-four dollars and seventy cents semi-annually in advance, or ninety-four dollars and twenty cents quarter-annually in advance. This policy will not take effect unless the first premium or agreed instalment thereof shall be actually paid during the lifetime of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall affect the company until it shall have received written notice thereof.

AGENTS.—Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts.

INCONTESTABILITY.—If within one year the insured shall commit suicide, while sane or insane, this policy will be null and void. This policy will be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium.

The Provisions and Agreements printed on the second and third pages hereof are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed this contract at the City of Newark, in the State of New Jersey, this first day of January, 1910.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

At the end of any policy year during the whole of which this policy shall have been in force, or within one month from default in premium payments, the owner shall have the following options:

1. To surrender the policy to the company at its office in Newark, New Jersey, for its cash surrender value.
2. To surrender the policy to the company at its office in Newark, New Jersey, for a non-participating paid-up policy payable at the time this policy would be payable if continued in force.
3. If the policy be not surrendered as above, the insurance will be automatically extended from date of default in premium payments, without any action by the owner of the policy and without participation in surplus, for a sum equal to the amount of the policy and existing dividend additions, if any, less any indebtedness to the company hereon.

The cash surrender value will be equal to the entire net reserve on this policy by the American Experience Mortality and interest at three per cent yearly, less any indebtedness to the company hereon and less a sum equal to one per cent of the amount of this policy and existing dividend additions, if any, up to and including the fifth policy year, after which the said percentage will be reduced each year one-tenth per cent of the amount insured. If there be no indebtedness the cash surrender value will be as shown in the following table.

The amount of the paid-up policy or the term of the extended insurance, will be such as the amount of the cash surrender value will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age of the insured, by the American Experience Mortality and interest at three per cent yearly, and if there be no indebtedness, will be as shown in the following table. The paid-up policy or the extended insurance will be entitled to cash surrender values equal to the reserve thereon at time of surrender, computed upon the basis hereinbefore mentioned, less any indebtedness to the company thereon.

Except as provided in this policy any default in premium payments will immediately render the policy null and void.

GRACE AND REINSTATEMENT.—In event of default in premium payments, the arrears may be paid within one month, (of not less than thirty days) or, if not so paid and the insured shall die within the said month, this policy will be regarded as being then in force, and the arrears will be deducted in the settlement hereof; or, if requested by the insured prior to or within the said month, the arrears will be charged as an indebtedness against this policy, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; or this policy may be reinstated at any time after the said month, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears with interest thereon at not to exceed six per cent per annum; provided, in any case, the policy has not been surrendered to the company.

LOANS.—At any time while this policy is in force the company will loan on the sole security thereof up to the limit secured by the cash surrender value, upon receipt of the policy and a certificate of loan satisfactory to the company. The loan will bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and may be paid off at any time while the policy is in force. If interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise non-payment of interest shall render the policy null and void after one month's notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

The following table shows the minimum values guaranteed by this policy for the years stated, provided there is no outstanding indebtedness to the company hereon. Dividends applied upon either the addition or accelerative endowment plan effect a corresponding increase in the values of the policy.

NOTE.—While any owner of the policy (either by the terms thereof or by assignment) is a minor no loan can be made by the company, except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid the interest of such minor must be released by a duly appointed legal guardian.

This policy and the application on which it is based (a copy of which is appended hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured will, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No such statement will avoid or be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy thereof be attached hereto when issued.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

If not assigned, this policy may be returned to the company at its office in Newark, N. J., with the insured's written request for the appropriate indorsement of the policy by the company:

1. To have the beneficiary changed. This change may be made at any time and from time to time while the policy is in force, or within one month from default in premium payments.

2. To have the whole, or any designated fraction, of the proceeds of this policy at its maturity retained by the company until the death of the beneficiary, the company in the meantime to pay the beneficiary interest on the amount so retained at the rate of three per cent per annum, the first interest payment to be made one year after the maturity of this policy, and the last interest payment to be a pro rata one for the expired fraction of the year in which the beneficiary dies. At any interest date the beneficiary may withdraw the amount retained by the company, in which case the interest payments will cease.

3. To have the whole, or any designated fraction, of the proceeds of this policy at its maturity paid in a specified number (not exceeding thirty) of equal annual instalments, as shown by the accompanying table, the first instalment being payable immediately.

4. To have the whole, or any designated fraction, of the proceeds of this policy at its maturity paid in equal annual instalments continuing during the lifetime of the beneficiary, as shown by the accompanying table, the first instalment being payable immediately.

When either of the instalments payable under privilege No. 3, or of the instalments certainly payable under privilege No. 4, shall fall due, the company, if requested, will pay the then present or commuted value of such instalments computed at three per cent interest compounded annually, as shown by the accompanying table. The commutation of a part or the whole of the instalments certainly payable under privilege No. 4 will have been applied upon the addition plan, subsequent dividends cannot be applied upon the accelerative endowment plan, or vice versa. If settlement of this policy be made in accordance with privilege No. 2, or No. 3, or No. 4, the stipulated payments under privilege No. 2 or No. 3, or the instalments certainly payable under privilege No. 4, will be increased by such annual dividends as may be apportioned by the directors, but such dividends will be payable only in cash.

Under the addition plan dividends are applied to the purchase of additional participating insurance (herein referred to as dividend additions) payable with the policy, such insurance being purchased at the company's rates therefor published and in force at this date. This policy may be converted into a fully paid-up participating policy payable at the same time as this policy, subject to any outstanding indebtedness on this policy whenever the reserve on such additional insurance, together with the reserve on the original policy, computed on the basis hereinbefore mentioned, shall equal the net single premium therefor, computed on the same basis.

Under the accelerative endowment plan dividends are applied to the conversion of the policy into an endowment payable at a specified and gradually diminishing age; or, if preferred, into a fully paid-up participating policy payable at the same time that this policy is payable according to its terms.

FIVE-YEAR NON-RENEWABLE CONVERTIBLE TERM.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $130.80. AGE, 35.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the payment of premiums as hereinafter provided, hereby insures the life of John Jones of Newark, in the county of Essex, State of New Jersey (herein called the insured), in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable at its office in Newark, N. J., to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, should that event occur on or before the first day of January, 1913. Any error made in stating the age of the insured will be adjusted by paying such amount as the premiums paid would purchase at the correct age. Any unpaid instalments of the then current year's premium will be deducted from the sum insured.

PREMIUMS.—The annual premium of one hundred and thirty dollars and eighty cents, will be payable by the insured on delivery hereof and on the first day of January in each year during the continuance of this policy, at the company's office in Newark, N. J., or to agents in exchange for receipts signed by the president or treasurer, until five full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, should that event sooner occur. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept sixty-six dollars and seventy cents semi-annually in advance, or thirty-four dollars quarter-annually in advance. This policy will not take effect unless the first premium or agreed instalment thereof shall be actually paid during the lifetime of the insured.

For balance of face of contract see preceding policy with the addition of the following.

CONVERSION.—At any time within four years from the date hereof this policy, if in force and not assigned, may be surrendered by the insured to the company at its office in Newark, N. J., for a new life or endowment policy for an amount no greater than the amount of this policy, without re-examination. The new policy will bear the date of the surrender of this policy and the premium thereon will be according to the tables then in use and the attained age of the insured. If upon surrender of this policy as above the insured shall pay to the company the difference between the premiums which would have been payable on the new policy if it had been issued at the same time as this policy, and the premiums paid hereunder for the same amount of insurance, with interest on such difference at not to exceed six per cent yearly, the new policy will be treated as if it bore the date of this policy.

Special privileges same as preceding contract.

DIVIDENDS.—Upon payment of the second year's premium, and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy year, this policy while in force will be credited with such dividends as may be apportioned by the directors, and such annual dividends will include the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends thus credited will be paid in cash, or, at the option of the insured, will be applied in reduction of premiums. If settlement of this policy be made in accordance with privilege No. 2, or No. 3, or No. 4, the stipulated payments under privilege No. 2 or No. 3, or the instalments certainly payable under privilege No. 4, will be increased by such annual dividends as may be apportioned by the directors, but such dividends will be payable only in cash.

GRACE AND REINSTATEMENT.—In event of default in premium payments, the arrears may be paid within one month (of not less than thirty days), or, if not so paid, and the insured shall die within the said month, this policy will be regarded as being then in force, and the arrears will be deducted in the settlement hereof; or this policy may be reinstated at any time after the said month, but within the term of this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears with interest thereon at not to exceed six per cent per annum. Except as herein provided any default in premium payments will immediately render this policy null and void.

This policy and the application on which it is based (a copy of which is appended hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured will, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No such statement will avoid or be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the written application and a copy thereof be attached hereto when issued.

Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—WITH WAIVER OF PREMIUM BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $284.60.

AGE, 35.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York in consideration of the annual premium of two hundred, eighty-four and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of November, hereafter until the death of the insured, promises to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of Richard E. Roe of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy-year, upon surrender of this policy properly receipted, to Mary E. Roe, beneficiary, with right to the insured to change the beneficiary.

DEATH OF BENEFICIARY BEFORE INSURED: CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If any beneficiary die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise provided herein.

If the interest of a beneficiary shall have vested in the insured, or if the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy, may, from time to time, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving the right to change the beneficiary; by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement hereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed by either the president, vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company and countersigned by said agent. A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the period of grace, the overdue premium and any other unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy-year, shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment of premium is payable. If any premium or instalment thereof be not paid before the end of the period of grace, then this policy shall immediately cease and become void; and all premiums previously paid shall be forfeited to the company except as hereinafter provided.

PARTICIPATION—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and the proportion of the surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained and distributed annually on the anniversary of its date of issue. At the option of the insured such dividends shall be either—(1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up participating additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum compounded annually and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy (hereinafter referred to as "dividend deposits"). Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions, as per option (3). Such paid-up additions may be surrendered at any time for a cash value which shall not be less than the original cash dividends as per option (1), provided the reserve for such paid-up additions has not been applied to purchase extended insurance or paid-up insurance in accordance with the provisions of the clause entitled "options on surrender or lapse."

POST-MORTEM DIVIDEND.—On the death of the insured a cash dividend will be credited to this policy for the fraction, if any, of the then current policy-year elapsing before such death.

PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS OF POLICY.—Provided no premium is in default and provided the insured is then less than fifty-five years of age, this policy may be exchanged at any time as from its original date, without medical re-examination, for a policy of the same face amount upon the limited payment life or the endowment plan, without waiver of premium benefit, at the rate of premium in force for such new plan at such original date. Such exchange shall be made upon the written request of the insured and beneficiary or assignee, if any, and upon the surrender of this policy and upon the payment of a sum equal to the differences between the premiums paid hereon (exclusive of premiums paid for waiver of premium benefit) and the premiums which would have been paid upon the policy had it originally been upon the new plan, with interest on such differences as from the various due dates at the rate of six per cent per annum compounded annually. Allowance will be made for any increased dividends on the new plan.

CONDITIONS—RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is free from any restriction as to residence and travel.

OCCUPATION.—If, within the period of one year after the date of issue of this policy, the insured shall engage in military or naval service in time of war or in any work as a civilian in any capacity whatever in connection with actual warfare, and shall die within one year from the date of beginning such service or work, the company's liability hereunder shall be limited to one-fifth of the face amount of the policy, unless, prior to the date of beginning such service or work, a single extra payment of three per cent of the face amount of the policy shall have been made to the company. This policy (with the exception of the waiver of premium benefit) is free from any restriction as to military or naval service, as well as all other occupations of the insured, after one year from its date of issue, as set forth in the provisions of the application endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

SUICIDE.—The company shall not be liable hereunder in the event of the insured's death by his own act, whether sane or insane, during the period of one year after the date of issue of this policy, as set forth in the provisions of the application endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, provided two years shall have elapsed from its date of issue. This policy and the application herefor, copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement of the insured shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless contained in the written application herefor and a copy of the application is endorsed on or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid hereon would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company shall not be charged with notice of any assignment of any interest in this policy until the original assignment or a certified copy thereof has been filed at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity or effect of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless it shall have been surrendered for its cash value, this policy may be reinstated at any time within three years from date of default in payment of any premium, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and upon payment of the arrears of premium with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, and, at the option of the insured, either (a) upon payment in cash to the company of any indebtedness which existed at said date of default together with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, compounded annually, or (b) upon reinstatement of such indebtedness increased by the amount of interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, compounded annually, provided such reinstated increased indebtedness does not exceed the loan value at the date to which reinstatement is made.

RESERVE AND NET SINGLE PREMIUMS.—The reserve held for the face of this policy and for any dividend additions hereto and the reserves and the net single premiums mentioned herein shall be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality, assuming interest at the rate of three per cent per annum.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—If at any time the reserve held herefor shall be equal to the net single premium at the attained age of the insured, for an amount of life or endowment insurance equal to or greater than the face amount of this policy the company, upon the written request of the insured and upon delivery of the policy, will endorse the policy as fully paid-up participating life or endowment insurance, as the case may be, for such amount as said reserve will then purchase when applied as a net single premium; such paid-up insurance shall be subject to any then existing indebtedness to the company hereon. Or if said reserve shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company, upon legal surrender hereof, will pay in cash such reserve, less any indebtedness hereon to the company.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner, within three months after any default in payment of premium but not later, may elect either, (a) to surrender this policy for its cash value less any indebtedness to the company hereon (this balance is hereinafter referred to as the net cash value); or, (b) to have the insurance continued in force from the date of such default as non-participating term insurance, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions less any indebtedness to the company hereon; or, (c) to surrender this policy for non-participating paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value under option (a), after premiums have been paid for three full years or more, will be the reserve at the date of default for the face amount of this policy and for any dividend additions hereto, less a surrender charge which, in no case, shall be more than one and one-half per cent of the face amount insured by this policy; after premiums have been paid for ten full years or more there shall be no surrender charge. The term for which the insurance will be continued under option (b), or the amount of the paid-up life insurance obtainable under option (c), will be such as the net cash value obtainable under option (a) will purchase at the attained age of the insured at date of default when applied as a net single premium. If this policy shall not, within three months after default in payment of premium, have been surrendered to the company at its home office for its cash value as provided in option (a), or for paid-up insurance as provided in option (c), the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in option (b).

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and before any default in the payment of premium and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy-year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than, the cash value at the end of said year: any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of said current policy-year's premium, shall be paid out of such advance. Interest on the loan shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum and shall be payable at the end of each policy-year, and this interest, if not paid when due, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. The loan with accrued interest may be repaid to the company at any time. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company, in which case this policy shall become void. (If a loan is desired before three full years' premiums have been paid, the unpaid balance of the three full years' premiums may be paid by deduction from the loan when made if the amount which can be loaned is sufficient.)

TABLE OF SURRENDER AND LOAN VALUES.—The values hereunder (computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years the "policy has been in force") apply to a policy for $1000. As this policy is for $10,000, the values, i. e. the cash, loan, or paid-up life insurance, will be ten times the amount stated in the table; the term, i. e. the continued insurance, will be for the period stated irrespective of the amount of the policy. If there be any dividend additions to the credit of the policy, or if premiums have been paid for any part of a year beyond the last preceding anniversary, the values and, in certain cases, the term will be increased; if there be any indebtedness on the policy, the values and the term will be decreased; any dividend deposits will also be payable in cash; the figures contained in the table represent the actual amounts available after deduction of the surrender charge, if any, but assuming no dividend additions or indebtedness.

Values for later years will be computed upon the above stated basis and will be furnished upon request.

* The cash value provided for in the above table for the end of a policy-year, less interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum to the end of such policy-year, can be obtained during such policy-year provided all premiums due prior to the end of such policy-year shall have been duly paid.

 The loan value provided for in the above table for the end of a policy-year can be obtained (less interest) during such policy-year as explained in the above clause entitled "loans."

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—If election be made as hereinafter provided, the net sum payable under this policy at death of the insured, provided such net sum be not less than $1000, will be settled in one of the following methods in lieu of being then paid in one sum to the person then entitled thereto, hereinafter referred to as the payee: (1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three per cent per annum on said net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum together with any accrued interest for the year then current; or, (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, whether the payee lives or dies, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum; or, (3) by the payment (a) of twenty equal annual instalments certain, whether the payee lives or dies, the first annual instalment being payable immediately, and the twentieth annual instalment being payable nineteen years later, and (b) of annual instalments of a like amount thereafter throughout the remaining lifetime of said payee, the first of such annual instalments being payable one year after the twentieth annual instalment certain, provided said payee be then alive, the payments terminating with the last annual instalment preceding the death of said payee, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Unless otherwise specified in making the election of one of the above modes of settlement the amount payable upon the death of the payee under mode of settlement (1), or any instalments payable after the death of the payee under mode of settlement (2), or any of the twenty equal annual instalments certain which may be payable after the death of the payee under mode of settlement (3), shall be payable to the payee's executors or administrators. The election of any of the foregoing modes of settlement may be made by the insured and the beneficiary jointly; or, if the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, by the insured alone; or, after the death of the insured, if no prior election shall have been made, by the payee. If the policy be assigned, the assignee must join in any election. Such election shall be made by sending to the company at its home office written notice thereof together with the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. This policy, upon its maturity, if such election shall have been made, shall be surrendered to the company and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the mode of settlement elected, and the date of such contract shall be the date of receipt at said home office of completed proofs of death. If the net sum payable under the policy be payable to two or more persons, modes of settlement (1) and (3) are available only if each such person be entitled to receive a separate share of said net sum, in which case each such share shall be settled by the issuance of a separate supplementary contract. The above modes of settlement (1) and (3) are not available if the payee be a corporation, a partnership or an association. If so specified in the written notice making election of one of the foregoing modes of settlement, but not otherwise, the supplementary contract may at any time be surrendered to the company and the company will pay for the legal surrender thereof, (a) where mode of settlement (1) has been elected, the said net sum together with interest thereon to date of surrender at the rate of three per cent per annum for the fractional part of a year, if any, for which interest shall not have already been paid, (b) where mode of settlement (2) or (3) has been elected, the commuted or then present value computed at three per cent interest, compounded annually, of the then future payments certain of the amounts hereinbefore mentioned; but no such surrender and commutation will be made under mode of settlement (3) except after the death of the payee occurring before all of said twenty annual instalments certain shall have become payable. A payee who has not the right to surrender the supplementary contract to the company shall not have the right to assign or encumber such contract or any part thereof or any instalment accruing thereon. Such supplementary contract shall participate annually in the excess of interest earnings over three per cent per annum, at the same excess rate each year as is used in the dividend calculations of that year in the case of policies issued in the same year as this policy, but if settlement be made under mode of settlement (3), only that part of the supplementary contract providing for instalments for the fixed period of twenty years shall participate. Any excess interest shall be paid annually on the anniversary of the date of issue of the supplementary contract and, where the instalments under mode of settlement (2) or (3) are payable fractionally throughout the year as hereinafter provided, such excess interest shall be calculated on the assumption that the instalments are paid annually at the commencement of each supplementary contract year.

TABLE OF ANNUAL INSTALMENTS FOR EACH $1000.

If so requested in writing when making the election, these instalments will be paid in equal fractional parts, semi-annually, quarterly, or monthly, the total of the fractional payments each year being equal to the annual payment provided for by this table.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM IN THE EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—If the insured, after payment of premiums for at least one full year, and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, and before attaining the age of sixty years, and while this policy is in full force, shall furnish due proof to the company, at its home office, that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease, so that he is, and will be, permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, and that such disability has then existed continuously for not less than sixty days, the company will waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the continuance of such disability. In making any settlement under this policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premium so waived, and the cash surrender and the loan values provided for in the paragraphs entitled "options on surrender or lapse" and "loans" and in the "table of surrender and loan values" shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums so waived had been paid in cash to the company regularly when due. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time thereafter, and from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, on demand, furnish to the company due proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain, or profit, no further premiums shall be waived. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision, and the company upon due proof of such loss or severance, will waive the payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due under the policy. The foregoing provisions for waiver of premium shall immediately terminate either, (a) if written request of the insured therefor is received at the home office of the company together with the policy for endorsement, or, (b) if the insured shall, voluntarily or involuntarily, engage in military or naval service in time of war or in any work as a civilian in any capacity whatever in connection with actual warfare. The additional annual premium of $3.50, in consideration of which this benefit is granted, is payable for twenty-five full years or until the prior termination of this benefit. The premium stated on the face of the policy includes such additional premium, and the premium payable, if any, after the "waiver of premium" benefit terminates will be reduced by the amount of such additional premium.

NOTICE.—No agent or other person except the president, vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company has power on behalf of the company to make, modify or discharge this or any contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any lapse or forfeiture, or any of the company's rights or requirements or to bind the company by making any promise respecting any benefits hereunder or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the written application for this policy.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of November, 1915.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

This application is made to The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. All the following statements and answers, and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application, are true, and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the proposed policy. The proposed policy shall not take effect unless and until the first premium shall have been paid during my continuance in good health, and unless also the policy shall have been delivered to and received by me during my continuance in good health; except in case a conditional receipt shall have been issued as hereinafter provided:

It is understood and agreed that, during the period of one year following the date of issue of the policy of insurance for which application is hereby made, (a) the risk of death will not be covered by the policy if such death occur by my own act, whether sane or insane, (b) I will not engage in any of the following extra-hazardous occupations or employments: retailing intoxicating liquors, handling electric wires or dynamos, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture of highly explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track or in switching or in coupling cars, or on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is expressly granted by the company, and (c) if, during said year, I shall engage in military or naval service in time of war or in any work as a civilian in any capacity whatever in connection with actual warfare, and shall die within one year from the date of beginning such service or work, the company's liability shall be limited to one-fifth of the face amount of the policy unless, prior to beginning such service or work, payment shall have been made to the company of a sum equal to three per cent of the face amount of the policy (or of the present value of the amounts payable after death if the insurance is not payable in one sum). I agree that no agent or other person except the president, vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company has power on behalf of the company to make, modify or discharge any contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any lapse or forfeiture or any of the company's rights or requirements or to bind the company by making any promise respecting any benefits under any policy issued hereunder or by accepting any representation or information not contained in this application.

CASH OPTION DEFERRED ANNUITY.AMOUNT, $500 ANNUALLY TO BEGIN END OF 20 YEARS.*ANNUAL PREMIUM, $260.50.*AGE AT ENTRY, 35.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York in consideration of the annual premium of two hundred, sixty and $\frac{0}{100}$ dollars, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of November hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the annuitant, promises to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York to John Doe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, (herein called the annuitant) a deferred annuity of five hundred dollars, payable in equal annual payments of five hundred dollars, the first payment to be made on the first day of November, 1931, (hereinafter referred to as the cash option date) provided John Doe, the annuitant, be then living, and subsequent payments to be made on each first day of November thereafter during the lifetime of said annuitant;

It is agreed that said company shall be furnished with evidence that the annuitant is living on each and every date on which an annuity payment falls due and that no payment will be made until such evidence shall have been received, and it is further agreed that if said annuitant shall die after the "cash option date" there shall be no proportionate payment from the date of the last periodic payment to the day of such death. Should the death of the annuitant occur prior to the "cash option date," then this contract shall immediately cease and become void, and all premiums previously paid shall be forfeited to the company except as hereinafter provided. This annuity is granted upon the declaration that said annuitant was born on the first day of November, 1866. If the date of birth has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the actual money paid would have purchased at the correct age; any overpayments by the company, with legal interest thereon, shall be charged against the payments to be made after adjustment.

PREMIUM.—A grace of thirty days (or one month if greater), subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, shall be granted for payment of every premium after the first,

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in payment of premium, this contract may be reinstated at any time before the cash option date upon payment of arrears of premium with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum compounded annually, provided it shall not have been surrendered for its cash value.

CASH OPTION IN LIEU OF ANNUITY.—If the annuitant be living on the cash option date and if all premiums shall have been duly paid, this contract may be surrendered on said date or within thirty days thereafter, provided the first payment of the annuity has not been made, and, in lieu of paying the annuity herein provided for, the company will pay for the surrender of this contract the sum of six thousand eight hundred forty-nine and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars in cash.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At any time prior to the cash option date, provided no premium is then in default more than three months, this contract may be surrendered to the company, and the company will pay therefor, whether the annuitant be living or dead, a sum in cash equal to as many times the annual premium of two hundred and sixty and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars as there have been full years' premiums and fractions thereof paid hereunder, less one such annual premium.

AUTOMATIC PAID-UP DEFERRED ANNUITY.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid, upon default in payment of any subsequent premium, this contract will automatically remain in force as a paid-up deferred annuity, payable as herein provided, for the proportion of the amount of the above deferred annuity which the number (including any fraction) of years' premiums paid bears to the total number of years' premiums hereinabove provided for, but without right to "cash option in lieu of annuity" or to cash surrender value.

NON-PARTICIPATING.—This contract does not participate in the surplus of the company. No person except an executive officer of the company (president, vice-president, second vice-president, secretary or treasurer) has power to modify or, in the event of lapse, to reinstate this contract or to extend the time for paying a premium. Agents are not authorized to modify this contract or to extend the time for paying a premium.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of November, 1911.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

National Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Iowa will pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe the insured, to Mary Doe, beneficiary, subject to the terms and provisions on the following pages hereof, which are hereby made part of this contract.

This contract is made in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and in further consideration of the payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred eighty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, comprising the legal reserve and the premium for term insurance for the first policy year; and in consideration of the further payment of a like amount on the fifteenth day of January in every year thereafter during its continuance, until twenty full year's premiums in all shall have been paid, this policy will be renewed and continued in force in accordance with its terms.

This policy is unrestricted as to residence, travel and occupation of the insured in time of peace or war, and after one year from date of issue shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premium.

The full reserve on this policy is secured by approved securities deposited with the insurance department of the State of Iowa as required by law.

In witness whereof, the National Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Iowa has caused this agreement to be executed at its home office in Sioux City, this fifteenth day of January, 1916.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

REDUCTION OF PREMIUMS.—If the insured so elects, the coupons in the attached schedule may be used to reduce the amount of the annual premium payable hereunder from year to year. If the premiums are payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments as herein-after provided, the coupons shall be applied to reduce the payment which completes the annual premium.

SAVINGS FUND.—If the insured elects to pay the premiums on this policy without reduction, the unused coupons shall be placed to the credit of the policy as they mature and shall be payable at any time together with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Upon the death of the insured, the matured and unused coupons together with their accumulated interest will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the sum insured. The accumulated amount of the coupons at the end of any policy year is shown in Column 4 of the accompanying table.

NUMBER OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS REDUCED.—If the coupons are allowed to accumulate and if there be no indebtedness hereon, the company guarantees that the fund to the credit of this policy at the end of fifteen years will be sufficient to cancel further premium payments and upon the legal surrender of this policy with all coupons attached, will issue in lieu thereof a paid-up participating policy for the face amount of this policy, and in addition will pay seventy dollars cash. Such paid-up policy will participate in the surplus of the company as hereinafter provided.

FACE AMOUNT IN CASH.—If this policy with all coupons attached is legally surrendered and if there be no indebtedness hereon after premiums have been paid without reduction for twenty-four years, the company in lieu of all other benefits, will pay the face amount hereof in cash and two hundred and forty dollars in addition thereto.

ENDOWMENT PROVISION.—If all coupons have been used to reduce premium payments, this policy will mature and be payable as an endowment at the end of policy year nearest age eighty-five of the insured, if then living.

CASH LOANS.—Cash loans will be granted on the sole security of this policy and proper assignment of the same at any time while the policy is in force after premiums have been paid in cash for three full years, for any sum not greater than the cash surrender value indicated in Column 1 of the accompanying table, deducting therefrom all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Interest shall be paid on such loans at a rate not greater than six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter; if interest is not paid when due it shall be added, to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice to that effect shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

SPECIAL PREMIUM LOAN PRIVILEGE.—The owner of this policy, at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder, may file with the company a request for automatic premium loans. If after such request shall have been filed any premium on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the date when due or within the thirty-one days of grace, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash) with interest at a rate not greater than six per cent per annum, in advance, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that such loan value is sufficient. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the preceding clause "cash loans." The request for automatic premium loans may be revoked at any time in writing by the said owner, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company within thirty-one days after the end of the third year from its date or of any year thereafter, and all premiums to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor, in lieu of all other benefits, the sum indicated in Column 1 of the accompanying table, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

PAID-UP ENDOWMENT INSURANCE.—Upon written request by the owner, accompanied by this policy, within thirty-one days after default in the payment of any premium after it shall have been in force for three full years this policy will be endorsed for the amount of non-participating paid-up endowment insurance indicated in Column 2 of the accompanying table, payable at the same time and under the same conditions, except as to premium payments, as this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After premiums on this policy shall have been paid in cash for three full years, if any subsequent premium is not paid within thirty-one days after the day when due or charged against the loan value of the policy, as provided in the above "special premium loan privilege" clause, and if this policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value or endorsed for paid-up insurance, the insurance hereunder will, without any action on the part of the insured, be continued in force for its face amount as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the period indicated in Column 3 of the accompanying table, from the date to which premiums have been paid, and the amount of cash specified in said column will be paid to the insured at the end of said period if then living. If there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, the amount of paid-up insurance and automatic extended insurance will be reduced by the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value at date of default. Any paid-up insurance or automatic extended insurance in force under the provisions of the preceding paragraphs may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

Loans will be made at the beginning instead of the end of the year, provided the full year's premiums have been paid. The guaranteed values in the above table are equal to the entire reserve on this policy, less an amount not greater than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. Due allowance^a will be made for payment of fractional premiums beyond completed policy years. Figures for later years will be furnished on application to the home office.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company, or to a designated collector, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by such collector. In lieu of the annual premium specified on the first page hereof, the company will, upon written request by the owner of this policy, accept payment of any renewal premium in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, in accordance with the company's published table of rates. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable.

DAYS OF GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days (without interest charge) will be allowed in the payment of any renewal premium, during which period the policy will remain in full force.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy will be reinstated after default in payment of any renewal premium, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, subject to the payment of all premium arrears, with interest not exceeding six per cent per annum; provided, that any indebtedness existing at the time of default shall be reinstated with interest at a like rate.

PAID-UP PARTICIPATING OPTION.—At any time after this policy shall become fully paid-up for the face amount it may then be surrendered to the company in exchange for a paid-up participating policy for the same amount. Such paid-up policy from and after the date of issue shall participate annually in the distribution of such surplus as may be determined by the board of directors. The dividends so apportioned shall each year on the anniversary date of the policy be paid in cash, or at the option of the insured be (1) applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating additions to the policy, or (2) left to accumulate at three and one-half per cent interest compounded annually.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this contract of insurance or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made by any agent or person other than the above. (2) If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premiums paid under this policy would have purchased at the correct age. (3) Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. (4) If within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, the only amount payable hereunder shall be a sum equal to the premiums paid hereon, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. (5) The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, modified preliminary term plan, twenty payment life basis. (6) This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Sioux City, Ia. Any indebtedness to the company, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. (7) This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured, shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or the owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured or upon the maturity of this policy as an endowment, provided such net sum be not less than $1000 paid either in cash or;

TRUST PROVISION.—(1) Left in trust with the company, in which event interest will be paid thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and upon the death of the payee, the net sum together with any accrued interest for the then current year will be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's legal representatives or assigns.

LIMITED INCOME.—(2) In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum.

LIFE INCOME.—(3) In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer, as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum.

Equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments, will be made in lieu of annual payments under (2) or (3), if request therefor is included in the written notice above referred to.

Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's legal representatives or assigns. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee shall have the right, when any instalment becomes due, to commute and receive in one sum the then present cash value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option 2 in the above table; provided that no such commutation will be made under option 3, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

SPECIAL SETTLEMENT.—The proceeds of each $1000 will be paid in twenty annual instalments of $50 each and $525 at the end of twenty years, making the total payment $1525.

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—Upon receipt of due proof, at any time after one full year's premium shall have been paid on this policy and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be continuously and permanently prevented thereby from engaging in any gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement on this policy will agree to waive the payment of premiums thereafter during the continuance of such disability. Any premium so waived shall not be a lien on this contract and the cash loans and surrender values as shown by the table of guaranteed values in this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. In addition to waiving the premiums as above, upon written request by the owner of the policy, the company will further agree in said endorsement to either of the following options: (1) To pay to the insured during such disability, the face amount of this policy in ten equal annual instalments, the first instalment to be paid immediately upon receipt of said proof of disability. (2) To pay to the insured during such disability, the face amount of this policy in twenty equal annual instalments, the first instalment to be paid immediately upon receipt of said proof of disability. The company further agrees to continue to make annual payments of like amounts during the lifetime of the insured after said twenty instalments have been paid. The payment of such instalments under either option 1 or 2 shall be in full settlement of this policy and in lieu of all other benefits hereunder. If there shall be any indebtedness hereon to the company at the time of said endorsement, the amount of each instalment will be reduced in the proportion which the indebtedness bears to the face amount hereof. In the event of the death of the insured after said endorsement and before all the instalments shall have been paid, the remaining instalments shall be paid to the beneficiary as they become due, provided, however, that under option 2 not more than twenty instalments be paid. If like total and permanent disability shall occur, under the conditions above stated, but after the insured has attained the age of sixty years, the company will allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness against the contract and in such case the cash loans and surrender values as shown by the table of guaranteed values in this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. The company reserves the right at its option to require at any time, but not oftener than once a year, due proof of the continuance of such disability. If the insured fail to furnish such proof or shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, no further premiums will be waived and the company's obligation to make further instalment payments shall cease and the policy shall be restored as originally issued for its face amount, less the sum of the instalments paid. The premiums payable, as well as the guaranteed values, will be in proportion to the reduced insurance, and any indebtedness to the company on account of the policy outstanding at the date of said endorsement shall be restored, together with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum from said date. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the use of both eyes or of both hands or of both feet, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as permanent and total disability within the meaning of this provision.

OPTIONS GUARANTEED AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If the insured is living on the fifteenth day of January, 1936, provided all the premiums have been paid without reduction and there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, one of the following options may be selected: (1) Surrender this contract for a cash payment of $7,769.70. (2) Surrender this contract for a paid-up participating policy of $10,000 and receive $2,079.70 cash. (3) Surrender this contract for a paid-up participating policy of $13,650, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. (4) Discontinue further premium payments and receive the face amount of this policy in cash upon attaining age sixty-six and $100 in addition thereto.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after January 15, 1917, National Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Iowa will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 0000 (or to the assignee of said policy if assigned) fifty-seven and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars subject to conditions of said policy provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office in Sioux City, U. S. A. Successive coupons are for \$59.90, \$62.40, \$64.80, \$67.20, \$69.50, \$71.90, \$74.20, \$76.50, \$78.80, \$81.10, \$83.40, \$85.70, \$87.90, \$90.10, \$92.30, \$94.50, \$96.70, and \$98.80.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree as follows: 1. That this application, including the statements made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied form 2. That no statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office, in this application. 3. That the policy shall not take effect until the payment of the first premium thereon. and the approval of this application by the company. 4. That I will submit to such examination or examinations by the company's regularly appointed medical examiners, as may be required by the company. 5. That the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by said policy.

PART II.—I declare on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim an interest in any policy issued hereunder, each of the above answers to be full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper subject for life insurance. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $372.70. AGE, 35.

An insurance of ten thousand dollars is hereby granted on the life of John Doe, of Montpelier, Vt., immediately payable upon receipt at the home office of the company in Montpelier, Vt., of due proofs of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, to his wife, Mary Doe.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The right is reserved to the insured, if no assignment of this policy has been duly filed with the company, to designate a new beneficiary, from time to time, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company. Such change shall take effect only upon its endorsement on the policy by the company in the lifetime of the insured. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise provided by this policy.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor and a premium of three hundred seventy-two and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, to be paid to this company upon delivery of this policy, and of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in every year during the lifetime of the insured until twenty full years' premiums have been paid.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the devisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends, when declared, shall become absolutely the property of the insured and at his option may be: 1st, paid in cash; or 2d, applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, 3d, converted into additional paid-up participating insurance; or 4th, deposited with the company subject to the payment annually of three per cent. interest thereon, together with the share of surplus interest apportioned on account of this policy by the directors of the company. Such deposits may be withdrawn at any time and will be included in any cash settlement of this policy. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise prior to thirty days after any dividend is due, the same will be paid in cash.

POLICY THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and its application, which is made a part hereof and a copy of which is hereon endorsed, together with general provisions contained on the reverse of this page, which are hereby made a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed, constitute the entire contract between the parties.

In witness whereof, the National Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy this first day of January, 1914, at Montpelier, Vt.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE.—(a) On failure to pay any premium or any part thereof, or any premium note or interest thereon, when due, this policy, except as otherwise provided herein, shall immediately lapse; if, however, lapse occurs after three full years' premiums have been paid, the owner of the policy shall be entitled, at the end of successive policy years, to one of the settlements specified in the following table, which are: First, without action of the insured, Non-Participating Continued Term Insurance, for $10,000 for the specified term counting from the anniversary date to which full year's premiums have been paid; or second, on application and legal surrender of this policy within three months, a participating paid-up policy; or third, on application and legal surrender of this policy within three months, a cash value.

(b) The above table of values represents the full reserves according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent. less deductions (already made) in the amount applicable to purchase continued insurance of not exceeding at any time two and one-half per cent. of the amount insured and in the cash or loan values of not exceeding one per cent. of the amount insured up to the end of the seventh policy year, said values for the eighth and any subsequent year being the full reserve; and with no deduction at any time in paid-up insurance. The corresponding values for intervening and subsequent years will be extended on request upon a like basis of calculation. To these cash surrender or loan and paid-up insurance values will be added in any settlement the full reserve or face values respectively of any dividend additions in force. (c) Should default occur in the payment of any quarterly or semi-annual premium within the policy year, the cash or paid-up or continued insurance values will be the values at the beginning of the year plus a proportionate part of the increase in values by the table for such year. (d) Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, unless otherwise provided in this policy, will be deducted from the cash value and will also proportionately reduce the value applicable to purchase paid-up insurance and applicable to determine the amount at risk under continued insurance. (e) Paid-up and continued insurance may be surrendered at any time for a cash value, computed upon the basis of calculation specified in paragraph (b) preceding.

LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at any time while continued in force, and upon receipt by it of this policy duly assigned, up to the limit secured by the above specified cash or loan values at the end of the policy year within which application for the loan is made. The rate of interest on such loan shall not exceed six per cent. per annum and if such interest be not paid, when due, it shall be added to the principal until the limit of said cash surrender value has been reached, whereupon, if then the interest be not paid, the policy shall become null and void, but not until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the loan was made and of the insured and any assignee. All or any part of a loan may be paid at any time while the policy is in force. Loans will in like manner be made upon a paid-up policy (but not on continued insurance) up to the limit secured by its cash value.

NOTE.—No loan will be made if the insured or any beneficiary is a minor, or cannot make a legal transfer.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums, both first and renewal, are payable at the home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed either by the secretary or actuary of the company and countersigned by said agent. Notes for premiums will be accepted on the sole signature of the insured, provided this policy be not duly assigned, so long as the free loan value of the policy is sufficient security therefor, and such notes will be a lien on the policy as fully as if executed by all persons having an interest therein. All or any part of a premium note may be paid at any time while the policy is in force. Premium payments, on written request of the insured to the home office, may be changed so as to be made payable annually, semi-annually or quarterly in accordance with the published rates in force at date of issue.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for payment of every premium after the first, holding the insurance in full force, but if death occurs during said period, the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

INSTALMENT SETTLEMENTS.—(a) The insured, provided this policy has not been assigned on written notice to the company and the return of this policy for such endorsement, may provide for the payment of its proceeds as follows: (1) To have the company retain all or part of such proceeds, subject to its payment annually to the beneficiary of three per cent. interest thereon, first payment one year after maturity of this policy. If this mode of settlement is used, the company will on the death of the beneficiary pay the principal sum, with pro rata interest to date, to the executors, administrators or assigns of said beneficiary, or at any anniversary, upon request of the beneficiary, unless it has been otherwise ordered by the insured, it will pay the principal sum in full in determination of its entire obligation. (2) To have all or any part of such proceeds paid to the beneficiary in equal yearly instalments certain as per table on fourth page hereof, first payment immediate. (3) To have all or any part of such proceeds paid to the beneficiary in a given number of instalments certain and also during the after lifetime of the beneficiary, first payment immediate, as per table on fourth page hereof.

FRACTIONAL PAYMENTS.—(b) The instalment settlements will be paid yearly, half-yearly, quarterly or monthly, as written notice to the company may direct, and the half-yearly, quarterly and monthly payments will bear such ratio to the annual payments appearing in the table as the decimal in the table specifies; but no form of Instalment settlements will be granted which calls for a periodical payment of less than ten dollars.

BENEFICIARY RIGHTS.—(c) The guarantees next immediately preceding are subject to these further mutual understandings: The company will pay the beneficiary at any time the commuted value of unpaid instalments certain, computed at three per cent interest yearly, unless otherwise directed by written notice from the insured. The beneficiary may make use of any of the modes of payment by instalments herein provided unless the company has been otherwise directed by written notice from the insured and provided this policy does not stand assigned.

SURPLUS INTEREST PARTICIPATION.—Interest payments under paragraph (1) and instalment certain settlements under paragraphs (2) and (3), will include the share of surplus interest apportioned on account of this policy by the directors of the company to be paid annually beginning with the first annual interest payment or on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment certain.

POST MORTEM DIVIDEND.—If this policy after one year from its date becomes a claim by death, a mortuary dividend will be paid in cash in addition to the policy proceeds.

CONVERTIBILITY.—While this policy is in full force and on proper application by the insured, the company will at any anniversary date change it, without medical re-examination, to any form of participating insurance then issued by it which requires a higher premium rate, on the payment of such an amount as may be required by the company for such change. The new policy shall bear the same date and be for the same amount as this policy.

ACCELERATIVE PAID-UP POLICY.—Whenever at the end of any policy year the reserve of the policy and of any reversionary additions plus the accumulation of dividends left with the company is sufficient to buy paid-up participating insurance for the face of the policy the insured may, on his written application made to the home office, have the policy converted to paid-up participating life insurance computed on the basis of a net single premium according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent.

ACCELERATIVE ENDOWMENT.—When the aggregate amount of reserves and accumulations left with the company equals the face amount of this policy the company will, on legal surrender, pay such amount as a matured endowment less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of lapse of this policy, provided it has not been surrendered to the company, it may be reinstated at any time on written application therefor, and upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of all its premium arrears and reinstatement or payment of any indebtedness existing at the date of the original default, with interest not exceeding six per cent. per annum.

MISSTATEMENT IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, on satisfactory proof thereof the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age, or at the option of the insured the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at date of issue.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment of this policy, nor will any assignment of this policy be recognized until it has been duly filed with the company at its home office.

NOTE.—The claim of any assignee shall be subject to the proof of interest. The interest of any minor (beneficiary or assignee) must be released by a legally appointed guardian, duly authorized by the appointing court before any adjustment of this policy will be made.

SETTLEMENT.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including any deferred premiums for the uncompleted policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy as a claim by death.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim upon it unless contained in the written application and unless a copy of the application is endorsed on the policy when issued.

ALTERATIONS.—No one except the president, a vice-president, secretary or actuary of the company, has power, in behalf of the company, to make or modify this policy, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promises or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy. These powers will not be delegated.

LIMITATION OF ACTION.—No action at law or in equity shall be commenced against the company for claim under this policy after six years from the time cause of action shall accrue, and it is agreed that, in case of claim by death, cause of action, if any, shall accrue on the date of death of the insured.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS.—The insured is hereby notified that all claims under this policy are payable at the home office in Montpelier, Vt.; that he is a member of the National Life Insurance Company during the continuance of this policy and of any paid-up or continued insurance arising therefrom, and that the annual meetings of the company are holden at its home office in Montpelier, Vt., on the 3d Tuesday of January, in each year, at 10 o'clock A. M.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application and the answers made to the medical examiner and the policy applied for shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. I hereby certify that I have read all the statements and answers in this application (forms A and B), and agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any contract issued hereunder: That no material circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, are complete and true and shall be the basis of the policy hereby applied for; that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered to me and the premium thereon paid to the company, or its authorized agent, during my lifetime and good health; and that if, within one year from the date of the policy, I shall suicide or destroy myself, sane or insane, the policy hereby applied for shall be null and void and the company discharged from liability except for the premium paid.

† Certain and during after life of beneficiary.

In settlement of the instalment certain there will be added annually the share of surplus interest apportioned by the directors. On the death of the beneficiary before the agreed number of instalments certain have been paid, the commuted value of the remaining instalments certain will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless the company has been otherwise directed by written notice from the insured. If payments are to be made half-yearly, find the amount of each payment by multiplying the annual payment by the decimal .5037; if quarterly by the decimal .2528; and if monthly by the decimal .0844.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE—MONTHLY INCOME POLICY.AMOUNT, $10,000.*ANNUAL PREMIUM, $410.60.*AGE, 35.

National Life Insurance Company. An insurance of ten thousand dollars is hereby granted on the life of John Doe of Montpelier, Vermont, payable to his wife, Mary Doe, age 30, as follows: $950 as an immediate benefit upon receipt at the home office of the company of due proofs of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy; and instalments certain of $50 on the corresponding day of each month thereafter, until two hundred and forty such monthly instalments shall have been paid; and after the completion of said payments continuous instalments of $50 in like manner monthly during the remainder of the lifetime of the said beneficiary.

INSTALMENT PARTICIPATION.—During the continuance of the payment of the instalments certain above provided for, there will be added to such instalments certain, payable on the anniversary of the payment of the immediate benefit, the share of surplus interest annually apportioned by the directors of the company; but the extra premium for continuous instalments shall not participate in surplus.

DEATH OF BENEFICIARY.—If the beneficiary shall die after the insured and before the payment of all of said two hundred and forty monthly instalments, the commuted value of the remainder of such instalments will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of said beneficiary, to whom in like manner, in the event of the death of the original beneficiary after receiving the said two hundred and forty instalments certain, will be paid any remaining monthly instalments to the next anniversary of the date of payment of the first instalment certain. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary in the sum insured (the immediate benefit and the commuted value of the two hundred and forty monthly instalments certain) shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise provided by the policy, and will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

For policy participation and incontestability and general provisions see preceding policy except as modified herein.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The right is reserved to the insured, if no assignment of this policy has been duly filed with the company, to designate a new beneficiary, from time to time, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company. Such change shall take effect only upon its endorsement on the policy by the company in the lifetime of the insured, and the interest of any new beneficiary shall not extend beyond the immediate benefit and the subsequent 240 consecutive monthly instalments certain herein specified.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor and a premium of four hundred and ten and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, to be paid to this company upon delivery of this policy, and of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in every year during the lifetime of the insured until twenty full years' premiums have been paid. On the death of the original beneficiary, or if any change of beneficiary is made under the provisions of this policy, or if a different mode of instalment settlement is elected by the insured as hereinafter provided, the annual premiums thereafter payable will be reduced to three hundred and seventy-two dollars and $\frac{70}{100}$.

POLICY THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and its application, which is made a part hereof and a copy of which is hereon endorsed, together with general provisions contained on the reverse of this page and the instalment table on the fourth page hereof, which are hereby made a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed, constitute the entire contract between the parties.

In witness whereof, the National Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy this first day of January, 1914, at Montpelier, Vermont.

MISSTATEMENT IN AGE.—If the age of the insured or of the beneficiary has been misstated, on satisfactory proof thereof the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct ages, or at the option of the insured the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at date of issue.

SETTLEMENT.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including any deferred premiums for the uncompleted policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy as a claim by death, and any immediate benefit and instalments in which this policy is payable will be reduced by the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the sum insured; if, however, the resulting monthly payments are less than 10 dollars each, then the commuted value of said resulting monthly payments will be paid in one sum. Said indebtedness deduction shall in no way affect any payment which may become due after the instalments certain have been paid.

TEN-YEAR RENEWABLE CONVERTIBLE TERM POLICY

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $140. AGE, 35.

National Life Insurance Company. An insurance of ten thousand dollars is hereby granted on the life of John Doe of Montpelier, Vermont, for the term of ten years from the date hereof, immediately payable, upon receipt at the home office of the company in Montpelier, Vermont, of due proofs of the death of the insured within said term to his wife Mary Doe.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor and a premium of one hundred forty dollars to be paid to this company upon delivery of this policy, and of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this contract, until ten full years' premiums have been paid.

RENEWAL PRIVILEGE.—The insured may renew this policy for further periods of ten years each without medical examination, provided there has been no lapse in the payment of premiums, by written notice to the company at its home office before the expiration of any period of the insurance hereunder and by the payment in each year, on the dates above specified, of the premium for the age attained by the insured at the beginning of any such renewal period in accordance with the table of rates on the fourth page hereof.

CONVERTIBILITY.—The insured, provided there has been no lapse in the payment of premiums hereunder, may, on any anniversary, surrender this policy and, on written application therefor to the company at its home office, exchange it, without medical examination, for a participating life or endowment policy of not greater amount upon the form then in use by the company and at the then rate for age attained. Or, at any time within five years, provided there has been no lapse in the payment of premiums hereunder, the insured may surrender this policy and, on written application therefor, change it, without medical examination, for a participating life or endowment policy of the same amount, as of the original date of issue, by the payment of the difference in premiums with interest.

In witness whereof, the National Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy this first day of January, 1914, at Montpelier, Vermont.

For change of beneficiary, incontestability, policy the entire contract and general provisions see first policy except as modified herein.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE.—On failure to pay any premium or any part thereof, when due, this policy shall immediately lapse; if, however, lapse occurs after three full annual premiums have been paid, the company guarantees at the end of successive policy years one of the following benefits or options of settlements. 1. Without action of the insured, non-participating continued term insurance for $10,000 for a period purchasable with the reserve, according to the American Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent at the company's single premium term rates, and counting from the anniversary date to which full years premiums have been paid. 2. On application and legal surrender of this policy within three months, a non-participating, paid-up life policy for a sum computed on the basis of the reserve, as above defined, and the company's non-participating life rates. 3. On application and legal surrender of this policy within three months, a cash surrender value equal to seventy-five per cent of the reserve, as above defined.

National Life Insurance Co. of the U. S. of A.

TWENTY-PAYMENT ENDOWMENT AT 85—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $305.40.

AGE, 35.

National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, Chicago, Ill., hereby agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe (wife of the insured) if living, if not living, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, or to any other beneficiary designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, at the home office of the company in the city of Chicago, Ill., less any indebtedness to the company hereon and any unpaid portion of the current year's premium, upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured hereunder, during the continuance of this contract, as hereinafter provided.

ENDOWMENT PROVISION.—If the insured be living and all premiums shall have been duly paid, this policy will mature for its face amount and become payable as an endowment to the insured or legal holder hereof, at the end of the policy year falling nearest to age eighty-five of the insured, which date is the end of the endowment period of this policy; and this contract shall thereupon cease and determine.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured shall have the right, at any time when this policy is in force and not assigned, to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, in accordance with the rules of the company, by filing with the company a written request for the change desired and presenting the policy for endorsement, such change to take effect upon endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company.

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium, and except for violation of its conditions in regard to military or naval service in time of war. If, however, the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy, either within or after the contestable period, shall be such amount of insurance as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate for the correct age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. The insured may serve in the militia in time of peace, or for the purpose of preserving order in case of riot; but in time of war, before engaging in hostilities, a written permit, must be obtained from the company. On written request and payment of the extra premium charged therefor, a permit will be granted for military or naval service in time of war. In case of the death of the insured from service in war, without such permit the liability of the company shall be limited to the reserve hereon.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), without interest, will be allowed in the payment of each premium after the first, during which month the insurance will continue in force; and if the insured shall die within the month of grace, the unpaid premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered to the company, will be reinstated at any time after date of default in payment of premium, upon written application therefor accompanied by proof of insurability satisfactory to the company, and upon the payment of premiums to date of reinstatement, with interest at the rate of six per cent, per annum, and payment or reinstatement, with interest at contract rate, of any indebtedness existing at the date of such default.

CASH LOANS.—At any time while this policy is in force under its original premium paying condition, the company will advance on proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, any sum not exceeding the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the current policy year, less any outstanding indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest on any such loan will be at the rate of six per cent. per annum and will be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to repay any such advance or loan or to pay interest, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month (not less than thirty days) after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. The company shall have the right to defer the making of any loan available under this policy (unless such loan is for the purpose of paying renewal premiums on policies of this company) for a period not exceeding ninety days from receipt of written application for loan.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

VALUES UPON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After premiums shall have been paid hereon for three full years, in case of default in premium payments, the insured or the legal holder hereof shall be entitled:

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—To receive the cash surrender value of this policy, upon legal surrender thereof to the company at its home office within two months after date of default. Payment of cash value may be deferred by the company for not to exceed ninety days from receipt of written application therefor by the company; or,

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Upon written application and legal surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, within two months after default, to have this policy reissued by endorsement as a paid-up non-participating policy payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for such amount as the cash surrender value of this policy, less any indebtedness thereon, will purchase, applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum; or,

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy automatically extended in force from date of default, without the right to loans, for its face amount less any indebtedness thereon, for the number of years and complete months which the cash surrender value of this policy at date of default, less any indebtedness thereon, will purchase, applied as a net single premium at the attained age of insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If the sum applicable to purchase extended insurance be more than sufficient to extend the insurance to the end of the endowment period of the policy, then the balance will be applied to the purchase of a non-participating pure endowment payable to the insured or the legal holder hereof, at the end of the endowment period, on which date the insurance shall cease. The cash surrender values of this policy, as set forth in the following table, are the full reserve thereon, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the foregoing provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy. They are stated for completed insurance years only, and in case of default in payment of premium due at intermediate period, the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired, and subject to the same conditions.

Loan and surrender values of this policy for years after the twentieth year, are equivalent to the full reserve, and will be furnished on request.

This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties; and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor, a copy of which application is attached hereto.

Agents are not authorized to alter or modify this policy of insurance, or to extend the time for the payment of any premium.

This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company.

The company, upon request, will furnish blanks for proof of death under this policy. Proof of death must be furnished to the company at its home office in Chicago, Ill.

All premiums are payable at the home office, but will be accepted elsewhere if paid to an agent in exchange for a receipt, signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or actuary and countersigned by the agent designated thereon. This insurance is granted upon condition that all premiums be promptly paid when due, and failure to pay any premium, or any part thereof, when due, shall forfeit and cancel this contract and terminate all obligations of the company under this policy, except as herein otherwise provided. No act or series of acts upon the part of the company in sending premium notices and accepting premium payments after maturity shall constitute or evidence a waiver of the provisions of this paragraph.

The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums, payable in advance, but premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, in advance, at the option of the insured, as follows: $158.80 semi-annually, carrying the insurance for six months; or $80.90 quarterly, carrying the insurance for three months; with one month of grace on each premium after the first, as elsewhere provided herein.

Any assignment of this policy must be acknowledged and made in duplicate, and both copies must be sent to the home office, one of which will be returned with endorsement. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and any claim arising under an assignment will be subject to satisfactory proof of insurable interest. Forms for assignment will be furnished by the company.

The reserve values on this policy are computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—This policy is issued payable in one sum on the death of the insured, but the insured may at any time, upon written consent of the assignee or irrevocable beneficiary, if any, change the manner of such payment from one sum to such number of limited instalments as the insured may elect, as provided in the following table of limited instalments, by giving written notice to the company at its home office in Chicago, Ill., accompanied by this policy for endorsement. The insured may at any time during his lifetime in like manner direct that the beneficiary shall have the right, when any instalment becomes due, to commute and receive in one sum the then present cash value of all unpaid instalments, computed on the basis of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The beneficiary, without such direction, shall not have such right. In like manner, the insured may, if there is but one beneficiary under the policy, direct that the proceeds of the policy shall become payable in continuous instalments during the lifetime of the beneficiary; the amount of each instalment, according to the age at last birthday of the beneficiary, at date of death of the insured, being indicated in the following table of continuous instalments. In like manner, the insured may at any time subsequently change any selection of instalment benefits; or revoke any selection, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. In the event of the death of the beneficiary after the maturity of this policy and before the payment of the total number of instalments payable hereunder, the executor or administrator of such beneficiary shall have the right to commute into one cash payment the then present value of the unpaid instalments, computed on the basis of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The first instalment under this contract shall be due immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter, upon each succeeding anniversary of the first payment, until all instalments due shall have been paid.

The following tables are based upon $1000 of insurance, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, in event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force. If, however, the amount due is less than $1000, it shall be paid in one sum and not in instalments:

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty-five years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $47.79 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment in advance of a premium of three hundred five dollars and forty cents (which may, however, be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, as elsewhere provided herein), for one year's term insurance, terminating on the first day of December, 1915, and the minimum reserve, if any, required by law, and in further consideration of the payment of an annual renewal premium of three hundred five dollars and forty cents on or before the first day of each December thereafter during the continuance of this contract, or until renewal premiums for nineteen complete years shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America has caused this agreement to be signed by its president and secretary at Chicago, Ill., this first day of December in the year nineteen hundred and fourteen.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I represent, on behalf of myself and any person who shall have or claim an interest in any policy issued under this application, that all of the above answers, as well as those I have made or may hereafter make to the company's medical examiner, are full, complete and true. I agree to pay the first premium upon any policy issued hereon; and further agree:

That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received and approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered to me, and the premium actually paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, all during my lifetime and present condition of health.

I hereby certify that I have read all statements and answers in both parts of this application, and represent and agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any contract issued hereunder, that said statements and answers, as therein written, are full, complete and true, and shall be the basis of and the consideration for the contract hereby applied for and for any additional contract of insurance that may be issued on the faith hereof; and agree that if within a period of one year from the date of any policy that may be issued upon this application, I shall die from self-destruction, sane or insane, the company's liability under such policy shall be limited to a sum equal to the premiums actually received by it.

New England Mutual Life Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $270.

AGE, 35.

In consideration of the application upon which this policy is issued, which is made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of two hundred and seventy dollars, and of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in each year thereafter during the life of John Alden, of Plymouth, Mass., the insured, the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company promises and agrees to pay, at its office in the city of Boston, upon due proof of the death of the said insured, ten thousand dollars, to his wife, Priscilla Alden, if she shall survive him, otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, without right of revocation, less any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, and less any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year. If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application herefor the amount payable shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate for the correct age.

In case of the non-payment of any premium when due or during the period of grace, this policy shall cease to be in force and shall have no value except as provided by the non-forfeiture provisions hereinafter set forth.

When the right of revocation has been reserved, the insured (with the assent of the assignee, if any), upon written request filed with the company at its home office, may from time to time designate a new beneficiary hereunder, or have the policy made payable to his estate, such change to take effect only when endorsed hereon by the company.

If the insured, whether sane or insane, shall die by his own hand or act within one year from the date hereof, this policy shall be void and shall have no value; but in such event the company will return the premium paid.

This policy and the application constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured, in the absence of fraud, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid, or be used in defence to a claim under, this policy unless it is contained in the application and a copy of such application is endorsed hereon.

After one year from the date of issue, this policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums, and no waiver of any of its conditions shall be valid unless made in writing and signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or an assistant secretary of the company.

The rights, options and non-forfeiture provisions set forth on pages two and three are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, by its president or vice-president, and secretary or an assistant secretary, has signed and delivered this contract at Boston, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, this first day of January, in the year 1913.

RIGHTS, OPTIONS AND NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums shall be payable in advance at the home office in the city of Boston, or, when due, to an agent of the company, upon the production and delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary or an assistant secretary.

GRACE.—After this policy has been in force one year, a grace of thirty-one days, without interest, shall be granted for the payment of premiums, during which time the insurance shall continue in force, but in the event of the death of the insured during said period, the overdue premium shall be deducted from the amount payable.

SURPLUS.—Upon payment of the second annual premium, and each year thereafter, this policy shall participate in the distribution of surplus made by the company, and the share apportioned hereto shall, on the premium date or any anniversary thereof, at the option of the holder of the policy, be (a) payable in cash; (b) applied in reduction of premiums; (c) used to purchase non-forfeitable, participating, paid-up additions, convertible into their cash value upon release by the holder; or (d) left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at not less than three per cent per annum, payable at the maturity hereof, or withdrawable in cash on demand; but if no election is made on or before the premium date or any anniversary thereof, the share for that year will be held by the company as provided in option (d). If any premium remains unpaid at the expiration of the period of grace, the company will apply the accumulated surplus under option (d) to the payment then due, if sufficient to pay not less than a quarter of an annual premium.

LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums have been paid on this policy, the company will loan, upon the sole security hereof legally assigned, an amount which with interest thereon to the end of the policy year during which the application for the loan is made shall be equal to, or at the option of the holder less than, the loan value at the end of said year, after deducting any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid portion of the premium for said policy year. Interest on such loan shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance. The whole or any part of such loan may be repaid at any time. Failure to repay the loan, or to pay interest thereon when due, shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, including interest, equals or exceeds the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the person or persons to whom the policy is payable.

PREMIUM LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, and upon legal assignment hereof to the company prior to the expiration of the period of grace, the company will charge against this policy as a premium loan the amount of any premium, less the share of surplus then due, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance; provided the cash value of the policy and additions shall equal or exceed the amount of such loan, together with any other indebtedness on account of or secured hereby, and interest thereon. Any accumulated surplus held at interest shall first be applied to the payment of the premium, and future shares of surplus shall be applied to the reduction of the premium loan. Upon the filing of such request as may be required by the company, these provisions, by endorsement hereon, will be made automatic as to future premiums.

PAID-UP OR ENDOWMENT PROVISION.—When the cash value of the policy and additions, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, shall equal the reserve for a fully paid-up policy of the same form and amount at the then attained age of the insured, the company will endorse this policy as fully paid up; or when such aggregate amount, less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, shall equal the face of this policy, the company will, upon written request and release by all parties in interest, pay such amount as an endowment.

CONVERSION OPTION.—Upon written request of all parties in interest, this policy, while in full force, may be exchanged at any anniversary of issue, without medical examination, for any other form of policy then written, and not involving any other life, at the original age of issue, for an amount whereby the actual insurance liability of the company shall not be increased, upon payment of the difference between the reserve upon the respective policies.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—In case of default in the payment of any premium, after three full annual premiums have been paid hereon, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed with the company at its home office during the period of grace, to elect one of the following options:

FIRST. CASH VALUE.—To surrender the policy and, with the written assent of the person or persons to whom it is made payable, receive its then cash value, less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

SECOND. PAID-UP INSURANCE.—To take paid-up insurance for such an amount as the then cash value of the policy and additions, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, will purchase as a net single premium. Such insurance shall participate annually in the distribution of surplus, and shall have increasing loan and cash values.

THIRD. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued as extended insurance from the anniversary date last past, for its face amount, including any additions, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, for such time as the then cash value, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, will purchase as a net single premium, but without the right to loans. Such extended insurance shall have a cash surrender value and shall participate in the annual distribution of surplus, the share apportioned thereto to be payable in cash. If requested in the application, or upon written request of all parties in interest, this option shall be made automatic. If, during the aforesaid period of grace, the holder shall not elect one of the foregoing options, this policy shall be continued as paid-up insurance under the second option, provided the third option has not been made automatic.

TABLE OF LOAN, CASH, PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE VALUES.—The values given below are based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest, and are equivalent to the full reserve. They will be increased by the value of any additions or accumulations at interest, and decreased, in the manner set forth in the non-forfeiture provisions, by the amount of any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby. If in any year not less than one quarter of an annual premium is paid hereon, a proportionate part of the increase in the values at the end of that year will be added to the values of the preceding year.

Values for later years will be computed upon the same basis and will be furnished upon request to the home office. Loan values are available at any time after three full annual premiums have been paid.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated after default in the payment of any premium, unless the cash value has been paid or the extension period has expired, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon, and the payment of overdue premiums with interest at six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless the original assignment, or a duplicate thereof, be filed with the company at its home office. All assignments shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy. The company will assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The amount due on this policy, provided the same be not less than one thousand dollars, may be made payable in equal annual instalments, or in equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments, in accordance with whichever of the following options the insured, or in case he shall fail to exercise his option the beneficiary, shall elect in writing. Each annual instalment certain after the first will be increased by such share of surplus interest as may be apportioned thereto by the directors.

FIRST OPTION.—INSTALMENTS PAYABLE FOR A DEFINITE NUMBER OF YEARS.—Instalment for each $1000 due on this policy, the first instalment payable upon receipt by the company of due proof of the death of the insured, or upon the maturity of this policy, and a like instalment payable annually thereafter for a definite number of years.

In the event of the subsequent death of the payee before all of the instalments due have been paid, the then present value of the unpaid instalments, computed at three per cent interest, will be paid in one sum to his or her executors, administrators or assigns.

SECOND OPTION.—TWENTY-FIVE INSTALMENTS CERTAIN, AND CONTINUOUS FOR LIFE.—Instalments for each $1000 due on this policy, according to the age of the payee when a claim accrues hereunder, the first instalment payable upon receipt by the company of due proof of the death of the insured, or upon the maturity of this policy, and a like amount annually until twenty-five instalments certain have been paid and each year thereafter during the lifetime of the payee.

In the event of the subsequent death of the payee before having received all of the twenty-five instalments certain, the then present value of the unpaid instalments certain, computed at three per cent interest, will be paid in one sum to his or her executors, administrators or assigns.

THIRD OPTION.—CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS. INCOME FOR LIFE.—Instalment for each $1000 due on this policy, according to the age of the payee when a claim accrues hereunder, the first instalment payable upon receipt by the company of due proof of the death of the insured, or upon the maturity of this policy, and a like instalment payable annually thereafter during the lifetime of the payee.

In the event of the subsequent death of the payee before the sum of the instalments paid equals the amount insured under the policy, an amount equal to the difference will be paid in one sum to his or her executors, administrators or assigns.

DISABILITY CLAUSE.—Supplemental agreement waiving premiums in the event of permanent total disability occurring before attaining the age of sixty-five years. The premium payable by the terms of this policy includes an additional premium of dollars, payable for full years, or until the prior death of the insured, and in consideration of the payment of such additional premium the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company hereby agrees to the following waiver of premium in the event of permanent total disability. If the insured, after payment of premium for one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, and before attaining the age of sixty-five years, and while this policy is in full force, shall furnish due proof to the company, at its home office in the city of Boston, that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be permanently and continuously prevented from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation, the company will waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the continuance of such disability. The premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy, and the values provided for under "Non-Forfeiture Provisions" and in the "Table of Loan, Cash, Paid-up and Extended Insurance Values" shall be the same as if the premiums had continued to be paid in cash to the company regularly when due. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured agrees that any medical examiner appointed by the company shall be allowed opportunity, not oftener than once a year thereafter, to satisfy himself by examination of the person of the insured as to the continuance of the disability, and if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to engage in any occupation whatsoever for compensation or profit, no further premiums will be waived and all premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid by the insured in conformity with the terms of the policy. Irrespective of any other cause of disability the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this agreement, and the company upon due proof of such loss or severance will waive the premiums thereafter becoming due. After the premium stated in the policy has been paid for the full number of years specified above, or upon the cancellation of this agreement at the written request of the insured, any premiums payable thereafter will be reduced by the amount of the said additional premium.

FIVE-YEAR TERM POLICY—CONVERTIBLE AND RENEWABLE.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $135. AGE, 35.

In consideration of the application upon which this policy is issued, which is made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of one hundred and thirty-five dollars, and of the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in each year thereafter until five annual premiums have been paid during the life of John Alden, of Plymouth, Mass., the insured, the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company promises and agrees to pay, at its office in the city of Boston, upon due proof of the death of the said insured prior to twelve o'clock noon on the first day of January, 1918, and while this policy is in full force, ten thousand dollars, to his wife, Priscilla Alden, if she shall survive him, otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, with right of revocation, less any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, and less any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year. If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application heretofore the amount payable shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate for the correct age.

The premiums due upon this policy may be paid in semi-annual amounts of $70, or quarterly amounts of $35. In case of the non-payment of any premium when due or during the period of grace, this policy shall cease to be in force and shall have no value except as provided by the non-forfeiture provisions hereinafter set forth.

For remainder of face of policy see previous contract.

RIGHTS, OPTIONS AND NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

For premiums and grace, see preceding contract.

SURPLUS.—Upon payment of the second annual premium, and each year thereafter, this policy shall participate in the distribution of surplus made by the company, and the share apportioned hereto shall, on the premium date or any anniversary thereof, at the option of the holder of the policy, be (a) payable in cash; (b) applied in reduction of premiums; or (c) left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at not less than three per cent per annum, payable at the expiration hereof, or withdrawable in cash on demand; but if no election is made on or before the premium date or any anniversary thereof, the share for that year will be held by the company as provided in option (c). If any premium remains unpaid at the expiration of the period of grace, the company will apply the accumulated surplus under option (c) to the payment then due, if sufficient to pay not less than a quarter of an annual premium.

CONVERSION OPTION.—This policy, while in full force, may be exchanged, without medical examination, provided the age of the insured shall not exceed sixty-five years, for any other form of policy then written, and not involving any other life, for an amount whereby the actual insurance liability of the company shall not be increased, subject to the payment of the premium for the then attained age of the insured; or such exchange may be made as of the age and date of issue of this policy, regardless of the attained age of the insured, upon payment of the difference between the reserves upon the respective policies.

RENEWAL OPTION.—This insurance may be renewed, without medical examination, for successive periods of five years each, provided the age of the insured shall not exceed sixty-five years; and, upon written request filed with the company at its home office at least thirty days before the expiration hereof, the company will issue a new policy for the same term and for an amount not exceeding the sum hereby insured, subject to the payment of the premium for the then attained age, as set forth in the table of rates printed on page four hereof.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—In case of default in the payment of any premium, after three full annual premiums have been paid hereon, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed with the company at its home office during the period of grace, to elect one of the following options:

FIRST. CASH VALUE.—To surrender the policy and, with the written assent of the person or persons to whom it is made payable, receive its then cash value.

SECOND. PAID-UP INSURANCE.—To take participating paid-up term insurance for such an amount as the then cash value of the policy, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, will purchase as a net single premium.

THIRD. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued as extended insurance from the anniversary date last past, for its face amount, for such time as the then cash value, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, will purchase as a net single premium, but without the right to loans. Such extended insurance shall have a cash surrender value and shall participate in the annual distribution of surplus, the share apportioned thereto to be payable in cash. If requested in the application, or upon written request of all parties in interest, this option shall be made automatic. If, during the aforesaid period of grace, the holder shall not elect one of the foregoing options, this policy shall be continued as paid-up insurance under the second option, provided the third option has not been made automatic.

TABLE OF CASH, PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE VALUES.—The values given below are based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest, are equivalent to the full reserve, and will be increased by the value of any accumulations at interest.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby apply to the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company for insurance, and as a part of the contract, and as consideration therefor, make the following statements, which I declare to be true:

I hereby certify that I am now in good health and that my habits are correct; and I hereby agree that the insurance applied for shall not take effect unless and until this application is approved by the company and the first premium is actually paid while I am in the same condition of health as herein described, and that if within one year from the date of the policy of insurance issued upon this application I shall, without the written consent of the company, engage in military or naval service in time of war, or travel to or reside in any part of the torrid zone, or north of the parallel of sixty degrees north latitude, or shall within said period and without such consent engage in electrical employment where the voltage used is over five hundred, or in mining, subterranean or submarine labor, aerial navigation, the manufacture of explosives, service upon any railroad train, or on any steam or sailing vessel, said policy shall be void and no claim shall exist thereunder.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000; written, $25,000.

New World Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.10.

AGE, 35.

New World Life Insurance Company, Spokane, Wash., hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured; of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, to Mary Doe, his wife, as beneficiary, subject to all of the terms and provisions of this policy.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and the payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred nine and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars as the premium for one year's term insurance from the date hereof.

This insurance will be renewed and continued upon the further payment of three hundred nine and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, upon the first day of July in each and every year, until renewal premiums for nineteen full years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

The privileges, benefits and provisions printed and written on the following pages by the company are made a part of this contract, as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, New World Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed as of the first day of July, 1913.

GENERAL PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

1. PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, Spokane, Wash., or, at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by such collector.

2. If any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall be null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

3. HOW PAYABLE.—Premiums after the first policy year may be paid annually, semi-annually, or quarterly in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company.

4. GRACE.—A grace of one month, (not less than thirty days) will be allowed for the payment of all premiums after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, during which period this policy shall remain in full force.

5. NOTICE.—Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereunder is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Notice of premiums coming due is sent to the insured as a matter of accommodation, but the company assumes no responsibility for the failure to send or the miscarriage or non-delivery of any notice.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

6. PREMIUM EXEMPTION FOR TOTAL DISABILITY.—The company will exempt the insured from the payment of any further premiums as the same become due and will endorse this policy to that effect if the insured has paid the first annual premium and is not in default in the payment of any subsequent premium hereon and has not then attained the age of sixty years and shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease and that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations.

7. All premiums payable hereunder from which the insured shall be granted exemption shall be paid and credited by the company on account of the insured, without charge to him and without forming a lien against any of the surrender values hereunder, thereby augmenting the surrender values hereunder as though the insured had actually paid the premiums in cash; provided that, notwithstanding the acceptance by the company as satisfactory the proofs of disability of the insured, the company shall have the right, from time to time, to demand of the insured further satisfactory proofs of the continuance of such disability, and provided further, that if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain, or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with the terms of this policy.

8. In addition to and independently of all other cases of total and permanent disability, the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrist, or both feet above the ankle, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, within the meaning of this provision, as total and permanent disability.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

9. CONTRACT INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and shall be incontestable after one year from date, except for non-payment of premiums; provided, however, that in the event of the death of the insured by his own act, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the company's liability hereunder shall be limited to the amount of premium paid hereon, and further provided, that:

MILITARY AND NAVAL SERVICE.—In the event of the death of the insured while engaged in military or naval service in time of war, without first having obtained written permission from the company, the company's liability hereunder shall be limited to the amount of premiums paid hereunder.

10. AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

11. REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, and a copy of such application shall be endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

12. INDEBTEDNESS.—Upon any settlement under this policy, all indebtedness to the company on the policy and also any unpaid portion or instalment of the full premium for the current policy year, shall be deducted from any sum payable by the company.

13. CASH LOANS.—At any time after the payment of premiums for three full years and while this policy is in force, the company will loan upon proper assignment of this policy, and upon the sole security thereof, all or any part of the sum stated in column one of the table on page three hereof, subject to the deduction of all premiums for the current policy year and all existing indebtedness to the company on the policy. This loan shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, to the end of the current policy year and annually thereafter, and may be deferred for not exceeding six months, unless made for the purpose of paying a premium hereon. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay the interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value nor until one month after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

14. REINSTATEMENT.—After default in the payment of any premium and unless previously surrendered, this policy may be reinstated at any time upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from their respective due dates; provided, that any indebtedness to the company upon this policy existing at the date of such default, together with compound interest thereon to the date of reinstatement, at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be a first lien upon the policy if not paid in cash at the date of reinstatement of the policy.

15. ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office of the company in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the company and the other returned to the insured. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

16. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY; RIGHTS OF INSURED.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request therefor accompanied by this policy; such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns.

17. This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

18. NON-FORFEITURE AND SURRENDER OPTIONS.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium after payment of premiums for three full years, if there be no indebtedness to the company under this policy, the insured shall be entitled to one of the following options; all of equal value. (a) Without any action on the part of the insured, and without the payment of further premiums, this policy will be continued as paid-up term insurance for the term specified in column three of the table on page three hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium; or (b) upon written application of the insured therefor, made to the company at its home office within sixty (60) days from the date of such default, the company, on legal surrender of this policy, will issue in exchange therefor a paid-up life policy for the amount specified in column two of said table; or (c) if this policy be legally surrendered to the company at its home office within sixty days from the date of such default, the company will pay therefor in cash, the sum stated in column 1 of said table. The payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for a period of not exceeding six months.

19. If there be any indebtedness to the company under this policy, the values in the table on page three shall be reduced in the following manner: (a) From the cash value, provided for in paragraph (c) above, shall be deducted such indebtedness and the excess of said cash value over said indebtedness shall, without any action on the part of the insured, be applied to the purchase of paid-up term insurance for such term, to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium, as the said excess will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest; or, (b) upon written application of the insured made therefor to the company at its home office within sixty (60) days from such default, and upon legal surrender of this policy, such excess shall be applied to the purchase of a paid-up life policy, for such amount as the excess above referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates according to the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid; or (c) if this policy be legally surrendered to the company within sixty days from such default, the company will pay therefor in cash the excess above referred to.

The paid-up term insurance, or the paid-up life policy, provided for above, will be entitled to cash surrender values based upon the entire reserve thereon at the time of surrender, according to the above Mortality Table and rate of interest, less any indebtedness to the company.

TABLE OF LOAN AND NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.

The values in the table below apply only if there be no indebtedness under this policy, and apply only to completed policy years. If default occurs after a fractional part of the current policy year's premium has been paid, the non-forfeiture values provided for in paragraphs 18 and 19 above, shall be adjusted proportionately.

The above options are all of equal value and are based upon the reserves on this policy, at the end of policy years, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, with a surrender charge in no case of more than two and one-half per cent of the face of this policy. Values for later years will be furnished upon request, and will be equal to the entire reserve under this policy according to the aforesaid table and interest rate.

20. The reserve on this policy shall be computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The first year's insurance hereunder shall be valued as one year term insurance.

21. This policy is free from conditions as to residence, travel, or place of death.

22. The lapse of six years from the date whereon cause of action accrues, shall be an absolute bar to any action or suit brought upon this policy.

23. No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify contracts, to extend the time of payment of premium, to waive any forfeiture, to bind the company by making any promise or representation, or to deliver any policy contrary to the provisions thereof. These powers can be exercised only by the president or vice-president, and secretary or assistant secretary of the company (and then only in writing), and will not be delegated.

24. This policy shall not take effect until approval of the application therefor by the company and until the payment of the first annual premium during the good health of the applicant. Unless otherwise herein especially stipulated, the first policy year shall begin upon the date stated on the first page hereof.

INSTALMENT AND TRUST FUND PRIVILEGES.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—At any time when this policy shall be in force and not assigned or pledged, the insured may change the mode of payment thereof as a death claim, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. In such case any instalments maturing after the death of the beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary. The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and the amounts shown thereby are to be increased proportionately for larger policies. These instalments benefits do not apply to policies of less than $1000.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number selected. Any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by twenty instalments, the amount of each will be $65 for each $1000 of insurance.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Instalments to continue during the entire life of the beneficiary; twenty-five annual instalments guaranteed. (Payment by continuous instalments cannot be selected if there be more than one beneficiary.)

ILLUSTRATION.—Under a policy for $1000, if, at the death of the insured, the beneficiary were thirty years of age at last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment would be $43, payable at least during the entire life of the beneficiary. If the beneficiary should die before twenty-five instalments had been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments would be payable annually to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

At any time when this policy shall be in force and not assigned, the insured may revoke any selection of instalment benefits theretofore made.

No selection, change, or revocation shall be made except upon written direction of the insured, or take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office.

The first instalment shall be paid upon receipt by the company at its home office of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right be given expressly by the insured to the beneficiary in his written direction for payment by instalments.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—The amount payable as a death claim under this policy, if $1000 or more, may be placed in trust with the company. During the continuance of such trust, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum will be paid thereon to the beneficiary. The payment of the first instalment of interest will be made one year from the date of death of the insured. At the termination of the trust the principal sum will be paid to the beneficiary or to his executors, administrators, or assigns in event of the death of the beneficiary prior to such termination.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

Application is hereby made to New World Life Insurance Company, Spokane, Wash., for insurance on my life upon the following conditions: The following statements and answers and those I shall make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, and designated as Part II hereof, all of which shall become a part of such policy of insurance as may be issued to me, are by me declared to be full, complete and true, and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue and the basis for the proposed policy, which shall not take effect unless this application shall have been approved by the company and the first annual premium shall have been paid by me, during my continuance in good health.

I further declare and agree that for the period of one year, from the date of the policy, for which application is hereby made, I will not engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations or employments: Aeronautic ascensions, blasting, explorations, mining, submarine labor, retailing intoxicating liquors, handling electric wires or dynamos, the manufacture of highly inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train or track or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steamer or other vessel unless written permission is expressly granted by the company. Also that the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of premium paid, should I, within one year from the date of the policy, die by my own act, whether sane or insane.

New York Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $389. AGE, 35.

New York Life Insurance Company, by this policy of insurance agrees to pay (face amount of the policy) ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company in the city and State of New York to (beneficiary) Mary Doe, wife of the insured, beneficiary, (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided), upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death, during the continuance of this contract, (insured) of John Doe, the insured.

PREMIUM. HOW AND WHEN PAYABLE.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment of the first premium of three hundred eighty-nine dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, constituting payment for the period terminating on the fifteenth day of January, in the year nineteen hundred and fourteen, and the payment of a like sum on said date and on the fifteenth day of January in every year thereafter during the continuance of this policy until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from January 15th, 1913 or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is free of conditions as to residence, travel, occupation, or military or naval service, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium. (Date policy takes effect.) After its delivery to and receipt by the insured this policy takes effect as of the fifteenth day of January, 1913.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof the New York Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed this fifteenth day of January, 1913.

SECTION 1—PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.

The proportion of divisible surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually and will not be conditioned upon the payment of the next premium. At the option of the insured such dividend shall each year, on the anniversary of the policy, be either (a) paid in cash; or, (b) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (c) applied to the purchase of a participating paid-up addition to the sum insured; or, (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, and payable on the maturity of the policy or withdrawable in cash on any anniversary date of the insurance. The rate of interest shall not be less than three per cent compounded and credited annually. If the insured fails to notify the company in writing, within three months after the company shall have mailed to him a written notice of the amount of said dividend and the options available as aforesaid, which option he selects, the company shall then apply said dividend to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the sum insured. Such paid-up addition may be surrendered for cash at any time, and the cash value thereof shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

SECTION 2—CASH LOANS AND BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company shall advance to the insured on the sole security of this policy as duly evidenced in writing, any sum desired, the total indebtedness to the company, including any advance then made, shall, however, not exceed that sum which with six per cent interest shall equal the cash surrender value at the end of the then current insurance year. Interest on the loan shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable annually on the premium paying anniversary date of the policy. All or any part of the sum advanced may be repaid at any time. Failure to repay such advance or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy, but if the interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the indebtedness; and whenever the amount of the total indebtedness equals the cash surrender value, the policy shall become void one month after the company shall have mailed notice of such fact to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any.

BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid, the insured may within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, surrender the policy, and, (a) receive its cash surrender value less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The cash surrender value shall be the reserve on this policy, at the date of default (omitting fractions of a dollar per thousand of insurance) and the reserve on any paid-up additions thereto, and any dividends standing to the credit of this policy, less a surrender charge which in no case shall be more than one and one-half per cent of the sum insured. After premiums have been paid for ten years or more there will be no surrender charge. The reserve will be computed according to the American Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three per cent per annum; or, (b) receive non-participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy except as to disability benefits. The insured may at any time obtain a loan on such paid-up insurance in accordance with the provisions contained in this section, or surrender such paid-up insurance for its cash surrender value. (c) If the policy be not surrendered for cash, or for paid-up insurance as above, the insurance shall be automatically continued for the face amount of this policy plus any dividend additions and less any indebtedness to the company hereon, from the date of default, for such term in years and months as is hereinafter provided, but without future participation and without the right to loans or cash surrender value and without disability benefits. The amount of paid-up insurance, or the term for which the insurance will be continued, shall be such as the cash surrender value less any indebtedness to the company hereon will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, according to the American Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three per cent per annum.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—The figures contained in this table represent the maximum amounts available, assuming that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the table, and that there is no indebtedness to the company hereon and that there are no outstanding dividends.

* The loan values in the above table are the maximum amounts available at the end of the policy year indicated. Loans may also be obtained during the policy year as set forth in this section under "cash loans."

SECTION 3—DISABILITY BENEFITS.

A. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—If, after this policy shall have been in force one full year and before default in the payment of any premium, the company receives due proof that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be presumably, thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company shall waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the insured's said disability. In making any settlement under this policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premiums so waived, and the loan and cash surrender values provided for under Section 2 shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums so waived had been paid in cash. Under all the conditions aforesaid, except that the insured shall have attained the age of sixty years before becoming disabled, the company shall waive payment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability, but the face amount of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived premium, and the loan and cash surrender values as provided for under Section 2 shall be based upon said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premiums for such reduced amount of insurance had been duly paid.

B. INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—In addition to waiving payment of premiums as aforesaid, if such disability shall have occurred before the insured attained the age of sixty years, the company, one year after said proof of such disability, shall pay to the insured one-tenth of the face amount of the policy and a like amount in each insurance year thereafter during the continuance of such disability prior to the maturity of the policy; the policy must be returned to the company for the endorsement thereon of each payment. At the insured's option any such payment or payments may be left with the company to accumulate until the maturity of the policy at such rate of interest as the company may declare on funds so held by it but at a rate not less than three per cent, compounded annually. Each instalment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force, and the loan and cash surrender values provided for under Section 2 shall be calculated for the reduced amount insured on the basis provided in said Section 2. If at the time when any such instalment becomes payable there shall be an indebtedness on the policy in excess of the cash surrender value of the reduced amount of insurance, the company shall apply such part of the instalment as may be necessary to reduce the indebtedness to the amount secured by such cash surrender value. When ever the total amount of said instalments, together with the amount of any remaining indebtedness to the company, shall equal the face amount of the policy, plus any paid-up dividend additions, unpaid dividends and dividends left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, then the company's obligations under the policy shall thereby be fully satisfied and discharged without further action.

C. RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Should the company accept under this policy proofs of disability, it may nevertheless at any time thereafter, and from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability, and upon failure to furnish such proof, or, if it appears that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived and no further instalment payments will be made by the company. But if the amount of the insurance shall then have been reduced under any of the foregoing provisions such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy, and the premiums thereafter falling due will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance, and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this section.

SECTION 4—LOAN INSURANCE.

Any indebtedness to the company against this policy may be covered by loan insurance, and, upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of any such indebtedness. Loan insurance shall be subject to the following conditions:

FIRST.—Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be required. No loan insurance shall take effect until the insured shall have received from the company a certificate thereof.

SECOND.—Premiums must be paid in accordance with the rates in the following table. The premium for loan insurance shall be computed at the attained age of the insured at the time when such loan insurance is made or renewed. For periods of less than one year, the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the one year's premium for each month and fraction of a month.

THIRD.—Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium paying anniversary date of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of premium at the attained age, but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after age sixty-five.

FOURTH.—Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness the company may cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness, and refund the unearned premium.

SECTION 5—OTHER BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and one copy filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum shall be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occurs within the period of grace the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—Whenever the reserve on this policy together with the reserve on existing dividend additions, if any, at the end of any policy year shall equal or exceed the net single premium for the attained age of the insured by the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three per cent, for an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, the company, at the written request of the insured, will endorse the policy as participating paid-up insurance for such amount as the said reserve will purchase when thus applied, any indebtedness to the company to be a lien against said paid-up insurance upon the same terms and conditions as in Section 2; or, whenever said reserve at the end of any policy year shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company, upon surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder, shall pay in cash the face amount of the policy and any excess of said reserve, less any indebtedness to the company.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable on or before the date due, at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company, and countersigned by said agent. The premium is always considered as payable annually, in advance, but by agreement in writing and not otherwise may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly payments. Any unpaid premiums required to complete the payments for the current policy year in which death occurs shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. The payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as herein provided.

PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS OF POLICIES.—At any time, and while in full force, and provided the insured is then less than sixty years of age, this policy may be changed without medical re-examination for a policy of the same amount, upon any form of insurance issued by the company at the time this policy takes effect and having a higher rate of premium but without disability benefits. Such change shall be effective upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums on the new policy and the premiums paid on this policy (exclusive of the premiums paid for disability benefits), with compound interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the due date of each payment to the date when the change is made, and upon the surrender of this policy. The new policy shall take effect as of the date of this policy, and the premium shall be based upon the same age as this policy. The cash value of any dividends standing to the credit of this policy, as well as any additional cash value of such dividends that would have been credited under the new policy, may be used in the settlement of the difference of premiums.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In event of self-destruction during the first insurance year, whether the insured be sane or insane, the insurance under this policy shall be a sum equal to the premiums thereon which have been paid to and received by the company, and no more.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—The policy and the application therefor, a copy of which was attached to this policy when delivered, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim hereunder unless it be contained in said written application. The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures, or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

SECTION 6—INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

If there is no assignment of this policy, the insured, or in case the insured shall not have done so, the beneficiary after the insured's death may, by written notice to the company at its home office, make the proceeds of this policy payable under one of the following options instead of in one sum, to wit:

OPTION 1.—The proceeds of the policy, or any part thereof, may be left with the company subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time on demand, in sums of not less than one hundred dollars. The company shall pay interest on the proceeds so left with it at such rate as it may each year declare on such funds, at a rate, however, never less than three per cent per annum and credited annually.

OPTION 2.—In equal instalments for an agreed number of years, payable immediately upon approval of proofs of death of the insured, and annually, semi-annually, quarterly, or monthly thereafter as may be agreed. The amount of each instalment shall be in accordance with the instalment table on the last page of this policy. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the company, upon due demand, shall pay in one sum the value of all unpaid instalments commuted at three per cent compound interest.

OPTION 3.—In equal instalments for twenty years, and for as many years thereafter as the beneficiary shall survive, payable immediately upon approval of proofs of death of the insured, and annually, semi-annually, quarterly, or monthly thereafter as may be agreed. The amount of each instalment shall be determined by the attained age, on the date of the approval of proofs of death of the insured, of the beneficiary to whom it is payable and in accordance with the instalment table on the last page of this policy. If the insured shall so direct in writing, the instalments payable under this option shall not be transferable, nor subject to commutation or incumbrance, during the lifetime of the beneficiary entitled thereto.

If there be more than one beneficiary under the option selected, the proceeds so left with the company, unless otherwise agreed in writing, shall be deemed to be divided into as many equal parts as there are beneficiaries, and shall be credited and paid to each beneficiary severally.

In the event of the death of a beneficiary any unpaid sum left with the company under Option 1, or any unpaid instalments payable to him under Option 2, or any instalments for the fixed period of twenty years only under Option 3 which shall not then have been paid, shall be commuted at three per cent compound interest, and unless otherwise agreed in writing shall be paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of such beneficiary.

The sums payable under the foregoing options are based upon an assumed interest earning of three per cent, but if in any year the company shall declare for that year upon funds held by it under such options a greater interest rate than three per cent, the sum then payable under Option 2, or under Option 3 within the fixed period of twenty years, shall be increased accordingly.

After approval of proofs of the death of the insured, and upon surrender of the policy, the company shall make and deliver to each beneficiary a certificate evidencing his rights and benefits under the option selected.

Instalment options are not applicable to a policy which is payable to a corporation or co-partnership nor to policies under which the net sum payable is less than one thousand dollars.

INSTALMENT TABLES.—Instalment payments under Options 2 and 3 specified in Section 6 on the third page of this policy, may be made annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly; the minimum basis of such payments will be $50 when paid annually, $25 when paid semi-annually, $15 when paid quarterly, or $10 when paid monthly, and the total of the fractional payments each year shall equal the annual payment each year as shown in the following tables, which are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are $1000. The figures contained in the table will apply pro rata to this policy.

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITY CONTRACT.

ANNUITY $500 PER ANNUM.—ANNUAL PREMIUM, $128.70.

AGE OF NOMINATOR, 35.

AGE OF ANNUITANT, 33.

New York Life Insurance Company promises to pay to Mary Doe (herein called the annuitant), an annuity of five hundred dollars per annum during the lifetime of said annuitant, said annuity to be payable in annual payments of five hundred dollars each, the first payment to be made immediately upon receipt of satisfactory proof of the death of John Doe (herein called the nominator), and subsequent payments each year thereafter, said annuity terminating with the last payment preceding the death of the annuitant.

This contract is made in consideration of the sum of one hundred and twenty-eight dollars and seventy cents and of the payment of an annual premium of a like amount on each twenty-eighth day of October of each year thereafter, until the death either of the nominator or of the annuitant.

The agreements and conditions printed or written by the company on the back hereof are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this contract to be executed this twenty-eighth day of October, 1909.

AGREEMENTS AND CONDITIONS.

It is agreed that the company shall be furnished with satisfactory evidence that the annuitant is living on each date on which an annuity payment falls due; that no payment shall be made until such evidence has been received; and that upon the death of said annuitant there shall be no proportionate payment of this annuity to the date of such death.

If the age of the nominator or of the annuitant has been misstated, the amount of annuity payable under this contract shall be such as the actual money paid would have purchased at the true age; any over-payment or over-payments by the company, with interest thereon, shall be repaid by the annuitant and may be charged against the payments to be made after said adjustment.

A grace of one month, or of thirty days if the month have less than thirty days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first. Payment of premium on or before the date when due or within said period of grace thereafter is a condition precedent to the continuance of this contract. If any premium is not duly paid on or before the date when due or within said period of grace thereafter, or if the annuitant shall die before the nominator, or if the nominator shall commit suicide within one year from the date of this contract, sane or insane, then in either such case this contract shall thereupon immediately become null and void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company; but after this contract shall have been in force three full years, if any subsequent premium is not duly paid, this contract shall be automatically paid up for such proportion of the original annuity as eighty per cent of the net value thereof shall purchase at the ages of the nominator and annuitant at the date of lapse. Such paid-up annuity shall be subject to the conditions of this contract, but without further payment of premiums and without refund of premiums.

This contract does not participate in the surplus of the company.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I. I agree as follows: 1. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid and the policy is delivered to and received by me during my lifetime and good health, and that unless otherwise agreed in writing, the policy shall then relate back to and take effect as of the date of this application; 2. That any payment made by me before delivery of the policy to, and its receipt by, me as aforesaid shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the terms of the company's receipt therefor on the receipt form which is attached to this application and contains the terms of the agreement under which said payment has been made and is the only receipt the agent is authorized to give for such payment; 3. That only the president, a vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company can make, modify or discharge contracts, or waive any of the company's rights or requirements, and that none of these acts can be done by the agent taking this application.

PART II.—I agree, represent and declare, on behalf of myself and of every person who shall have or claim any interest in any insurance made hereunder, that I have carefully read each and all of the above answers, that they are each written as made by me, that each of them is full, complete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper subject for life insurance. Each and all of my said statements, representations and answers contained in this application are made by me to obtain said insurance, and I understand and agree that they are each material to the risk and that the company believing them to be true will rely and act upon them. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has heretofore attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired.

ENDOWMENT AT 75—DISABILITY BENEFIT—DOUBLE INDEMNITY—ACCELERATIVE ENDOWMENT—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $303.80. AGE, 35.

New York Life Insurance Company, a mutual company, agrees to pay to John Doe the insured, ten thousand dollars (the face of this policy) on the first day of October, 1955, or on such earlier date as may result from the agreements contained in Section 2 hereof, if the insured is then living; or one thousand dollars per annum until the face of this policy has been paid, if the insured before attaining age sixty becomes wholly and permanently disabled, subject to all the terms and conditions contained in Section 1 hereof; or to Mary Doe, beneficiary, (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as provided in Section 6) ten thousand dollars (the face of this policy) upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured before the maturity of the endowment; or twenty thousand dollars (double the face of this policy) upon receipt of due proof that the death of the insured, before the maturity of the endowment and before the allowance of any disability benefit, was caused directly by accident while traveling as a passenger on a street car, railway train, steamship licensed for regular transportation of passengers, or other public conveyance operated by a common carrier, and that such death occurred within sixty days after such accident.

This policy contains the following benefits and provisions: Disability benefits, Section 1; participation in surplus—dividends, Section 2; cash loans, Section 3; loan insurance, Section 4; benefits on surrender or lapse, Section 5; other benefits and provisions, Section 6; optional methods of settlement, Section 7.

This contract is made in consideration of the payment in advance of the sum of $303.80, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, constituting the first premium hereon and maintaining this policy to the first day of October, 1916, and of a like sum on said date and every twelve months thereafter during the life of the insured until the maturity of the endowment. This policy takes effect as of the first day of October, 1915, which day is the anniversary of the policy. If the insured becomes wholly and permanently disabled, the payment of premiums will be waived under the terms and conditions contained in Section 1.

SECTION 1.—DISABILITY BENEFITS.

Whenever the company receives due proof, before default in the payment of premium, that the insured has, subsequent to the delivery hereof, become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so as thereby permanently and continuously to prevent the insured from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, and that such disability has then existed for not less than sixty days—the loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands or of both feet, or of one entire hand and one entire foot to be considered a total and permanent disability without prejudice to other causes of disability—then

A.—IF THE DISABILITY OCCURRED BEFORE THE INSURED ATTAINED AGE 60.

1. WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—Commencing with the anniversary of the policy next succeeding the receipt of such proof, the company will on each anniversary waive the premium for the ensuing insurance year. The loan and surrender values provided for under Sections 3 and 5 shall be calculated from year to year the same as if the waived premiums had been paid as they became due, and in any settlement of the policy the company will not deduct the premiums so waived.

2. INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—One year after the due date of the first waived premium, the company will pay the insured one-tenth of the face of the policy and a like sum on each anniversary thereafter until the face of the policy has been paid; but if the policy matures by death or as an endowment before the face amount shall have been so paid, the balance of the face amount shall then be payable in one sum. Any outstanding dividend additions under Section 2, Option (c) and dividends left to accumulate to the credit of the policy under Section 2, Option (d), will be paid with the final payment. The policy must be returned to the company for endorsement thereon of each payment.

Each instalment shall reduce to that extent the face of the policy, and the loan and cash surrender values provided for under Sections 3 and 5 shall be calculated for the reduced insurance on the basis employed in said sections. Any indebtedness on the policy shall be so far settled out of each such instalment payment as to reduce the balance of the indebtedness to a sum never exceeding the then cash surrender value of the policy.

B.—IF THE DISABILITY OCCURRED AFTER THE INSURED ATTAINED AGE 60.

1. WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—Commencing with the anniversary of the policy next succeeding the receipt of such proof, the company will on each anniversary waive the premium for the ensuing insurance year, and thereupon as each premium is waived the face of the policy will be reduced by a sum equal to each premium so waived, the premium will be correspondingly reduced, and all benefits under the policy shall be calculated for the reduced insurance on the same basis as if the premium for the reduced insurance had been paid when due.

2. The instalment payments provided for if disability occurs before the insured attains age sixty shall not apply if disability occurs after age sixty.

C.—RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.

The company may at any time and from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, demand due proof of such continued disability, and upon failure to furnish such proof, or if it appears that the insured is no longer wholly disabled as aforesaid, no further premiums shall be waived nor further instalment payments made; and if the insurance shall then have been reduced under any of the foregoing provisions, such reduced insurance shall thereafter be the face of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly.

SECTION 2.—PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS—DIVIDENDS.

The proportion of divisible surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained annually. Beginning not later than the end of the second insurance year, and on each anniversary thereafter, such surplus as shall have been apportioned by the company to this policy, shall at the option of the insured be either (a) Paid in cash; or (b) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (c) applied to the purchase of a participating paid-up addition to the sum insured; or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy at such rate of interest as the company may declare on funds so held, but at a rate never less than three per cent compounded and credited annually, and withdrawable in cash at the maturity of the policy or on any anniversary; or (e) applied on the accelerative endowment plan as set forth below.

If the insured fails to notify the company in writing, within three months after the company shall have mailed to him a written notice of the amount of said dividend and the options available as aforesaid, which option he selects, the company will apply said dividend to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the sum insured. Such paid-up addition may be surrendered for cash at any time not later than three months after any default in the payment of premium, and the cash value thereof shall never be less than the original cash dividend.

DIVIDENDS MAY BE APPLIED UNDER OPTIONS (C) AND (D) TO MAKE POLICY FULLY PAID-UP.—Whenever the cash value of this policy, including the cash value of any dividend additions under option (c) and of any sums held under option (d), equals or exceeds the net single premium calculated on the same basis as the premium on this policy for a policy giving the same rights, privileges and benefits, at the then attained age of the insured, the company, on any anniversary of the policy thereafter, upon the owner's written request, will endorse the policy as a fully paid-up, participating policy, and will pay in cash the excess, if any, of said cash value over said single premium, and thereafter no further payment of premiums will be required.

ACCELERATIVE ENDOWMENT PLAN.—Under the accelerative endowment plan the dividends are applied to mature the policy as an endowment at a gradually diminishing age of the insured. To avail himself of this plan, the insured must, before the first dividend becomes payable, file with the company written notice that he elects so to apply the dividends. In such case the first and each succeeding dividend as they severally become due shall be applied to mature the endowment at an earlier anniversary date to be then stated in writing by the company; if any dividend is more than sufficient to mature the endowment at the anniversary then stated by the company but is insufficient to mature the endowment at the next preceding anniversary, the difference shall be used temporarily to increase the amount of the endowment and when the next dividend becomes payable the reserve for said temporary increase in the endowment shall be added to such dividend and the total sum applied to mature the endowment at an earlier anniversary, said increase in the endowment to be then canceled. The basis on which the dividends shall be so used shall be the American table of mortality and interest at three per cent per annum, at the attained age of the insured. When dividends are so used the policy reserve shall be computed with reference to the earlier maturity date and to any increase in the amount of the endowment, thereby correspondingly increasing the policy's participation in surplus, its loan value, and the benefits on surrender or lapse. If after electing to use the dividends to shorten the endowment period the insured changes the election as to future dividends, then no further dividends can be so used.

SECTION 3.—CASH LOANS.

After three full years' premiums have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company will advance on the sole security of this policy as duly evidenced in writing any sum desired—provided the total indebtedness to the company, including any advance then made, shall never exceed that sum which with six per cent interest to the end of the then current insurance year shall equal the cash surrender value. Interest on the loan shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum payable annually on the anniversary of the policy. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal. All or any part of the indebtedness may be repaid at any time before the company has deducted it from the value of the policy. Failure to repay such indebtedness or to pay interest shall not avoid the policy, but whenever the amount of the total indebtedness equals the cash surrender value, the policy shall become void one month after the company shall have mailed notice to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any.

SECTION 4.—LOAN INSURANCE.

Any loan under this policy may be covered by loan insurance as follows: (1) The insured must furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. (2) The premium shall be computed at the attained age of the insured at the time the loan insurance is made or renewed. (3) Loan insurance shall not extend beyond the next anniversary, but may under the same conditions be renewed from year to year. No loan insurance shall be made or renewed after age sixty-five. (4) If the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness, the company may cancel the excess and refund the unearned premium. (5) Loan insurance takes effect upon delivery to the insured of the company's certificate thereof, and is payable upon receipt of due proof of the insured's death. The sum payable shall be applied to the cancellation of the indebtedness.

The values in this table assume that premiums have been paid in full when due for the number of years stated, that there is no indebtedness to the company, and no outstanding dividends. Values for later years will be computed on the same basis and will be furnished on request. Dividend additions (Option c) and dividends standing to the credit of the policy (Option d) will increase the values stated in this table. If insured has selected the accelerative endowment plan, dividends so applied will increase the values stated in this table.

After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, the insured may, not later than three months after any default in payment of premium, surrender the policy, and (1) receive its cash surrender value; or (2) receive the amount of non-participating paid-up insurance which the cash surrender value less any indebtedness hereon will purchase, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, but without disability or double indemnity benefits. The insured may at any time obtain a loan on such paid-up insurance, or surrender it for its cash surrender value. (3) If the policy be not surrendered for cash or for paid-up insurance, its cash surrender value at date of default, less the amount of any indebtedness, shall automatically purchase continued insurance from the date of default for the face of the policy at the time of lapse plus any dividend additions and less any indebtedness to the company; and if it shall be more than enough to purchase continued insurance to the date of the maturity of the endowment, the excess shall be used to purchase pure endowment payable on the maturity date if the insured is then living. The continued insurance and the pure endowment shall be without future participation and without the right to loans, cash surrender values, disability or double indemnity benefits. The cash surrender value shall be the reserve on the face of the policy at the date of default (omitting fractions of a dollar per thousand of insurance) and the reserve on any outstanding paid-up additions under Section 2, Option (c), plus any dividends standing to the credit of the policy under Section 2, Option (d), and less a surrender charge which in no case shall be more than one and one-half per cent of the face of the policy.

The reserve, paid-up insurance under (2), and continued insurance and pure endowment under (3), will be computed on the basis of the American Table of Mortality and Interest at three per cent, at the attained age of the Insured on the date of default.

SECTION 6.—OTHER BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and one copy filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved the insured may at any time, and from time to time, change the beneficiary, provided this policy is not then assigned. Every change of beneficiary must be made by written notice to the company at its home office accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only when duly endorsed on the policy by the company. In the event of the death of any beneficiary before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

GRACE.—If any premium is not paid on the day it falls due the policyholder is in default; but a grace of one month (not less than thirty days) subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum will be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance continues in force. If death occurs within the period of grace the unpaid premium for the then current insurance year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company against the policy shall be deducted in any settlement thereof.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable on or before their due date, at the home office of the company or to an authorized agent of the company, but only in exchange for the company's official premium receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company, and countersigned by the person receiving the premium. No person has any authority to collect a premium unless he then holds said official premium receipt. The premium is always considered as payable annually in advance, but by agreement in writing and not otherwise may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly payments. Any unpaid premiums required to complete payment for the current insurance year in which death occurs shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. The payment of the premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment becomes due, except as to the benefits provided for herein after default in premium payment.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within five years after any default, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of loan interest, and of arrears of premiums with five per cent interest thereon from their due date.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In event of self-destruction during the first two insurance years, whether the insured be sane or insane, the insurance under this policy shall be a sum equal to the premiums thereon which have been paid to and received by the company and no more.

OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.—If there is no assignment of this policy, the insured, or in case the insured shall not have done so, the beneficiary after the insured's death, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, make the proceeds of this policy payable under one of the options contained in Section 7, which section is endorsed hereon and made a part of this policy.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—The policy and the application therefor, copy of which is attached hereto, constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it, unless it be contained in the written application and a copy of the application is endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures, or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

This policy is free of conditions as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service, and shall be incontestable after two years from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium. All benefits under this policy are payable at the home office of the company in the City and State of New York.

In witness whereof, the New York Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed this first day of October, 1915.

SECTION 7.—OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.

OPTION 1.—The proceeds may be left with the company subject to withdrawal in whole or in part at any time on demand in sums of not less than one hundred dollars. The company will credit interest on the proceeds so left with it at such rate as it may each year declare on such funds, at a rate, however, never less than three per cent per annum and credited annually.

OPTION 2.—In equal instalments for an agreed number of years.

OPTION 3.—In equal instalments for twenty years, and for as many years thereafter as the payee shall survive. The amount of each instalment shall be determined by the attained age of the payee on the date when the instalment payments begin. If the insured shall so direct in writing, the instalments payable under this option shall not be transferable, nor subject to commutation or incumbrance, during the lifetime of the payee.

Any instalments under Options 2 or 3 shall be payable either immediately upon approval of proofs of death of the insured in case such death occurs before the end of the endowment period, or immediately at the end of the endowment period in case the insured is then living, and annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly thereafter as may be agreed.

In the event of the death of a payee any unpaid sum left with the company under Option 1 shall be paid in one sum; any unpaid instalments payable under Option 2, or any instalments for the fixed period of twenty years only under Option 3 which shall not then have been paid, shall be commuted at three per cent compound interest, and unless otherwise agreed in writing shall be paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of such payee.

The sums payable under the foregoing options are based upon an assumed interest earning of three per cent, but if in any year the company shall declare for that year upon funds held by it under such options interest at a rate greater than three per cent, the sum then payable under Option 2, or under Option 3, within the fixed period of twenty years, shall be increased accordingly.

After this policy becomes a claim, and upon surrender of the policy, the company will make and deliver to each payee a certificate evidencing his rights and benefits under the option selected.

Instalment options are not applicable to a policy which is payable to a corporation or co-partnership, nor to policies under which the net sum payable is less than one thousand dollars.

The minimum payments will be $50 when paid annually, $25 when paid semi-annually, $15 when paid quarterly, or $10 when paid monthly, and the total of the fractional payments each year shall equal the annual payments each year as shown in the following tables, which are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are $1,000. The figures contained in the table will apply pro rata to this policy.

For instalment table see first policy given for this company.

* Adopted January 1, 1913.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000; written, $20,000.

Niagara Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL MAXIMUM PREMIUM, $383.40.

ANNUAL MINIMUM PREMIUM, $287.50. AGE, 35.

Niagara Life Insurance Company, Buffalo, N. Y., by this contract of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at its home office, to Jane Doe, the beneficiary, upon the death of John Doe, the insured, while this contract is in force, established by written proofs duly made.

This contract is issued in consideration of the application for the same, which is made a part hereof and copied hereon, and of payments for the first year as follows: Three hundred eighty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars made on or before the tenth day of November; and of like payments in each and every year thereafter, during the continuance of this contract, unless the insured shall elect to pay the minimum rate as hereinafter provided. Premiums shall be payable in advance at the home office or to an authorized agent of the company.

LIMITED PAYMENT LIFE.—After premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid hereon, no further payments will be required.

DISABILITY BENEFITS AND LIFE INCOME.—After one full year's premium has been paid hereon, and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured furnish satisfactory proof that he has, while this contract was in full force and before he attained the age of sixty years, become disabled by injuries or disease, so as to be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation, the company by a written endorsement hereon will waive payment of premiums thereafter becoming due. Premiums so waived shall not constitute an indebtedness or lien against this contract, and loan and surrender values will continue to increase as if said premiums were paid in cash by the insured.

Upon proper written request duly made, at any time after the proof as aforesaid, the company will, in full settlement and discharge of this contract, convert all equities and values hereunder into a monthly income of ten dollars per month for each one thousand dollars of original insurance hereunder, payable to the insured during his after lifetime, subject to satisfactory proof at the time of each payment that the insured is then living.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and entire foot, will be considered total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums and for violation of the conditions relating to military or naval service in time of war, after one year from its date of issue. If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

This contract is issued and accepted subject to all conditions, benefits and privileges contained in the subsequent pages, which are made a part hereof. But this contract shall not go into effect until the policy is delivered to the insured, together with the first premium receipt, signed by an officer and countersigned by the cashier or duly authorized agent of the company.

In witness whereof, the Niagara Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be executed at Buffalo, N. Y., this tenth day of November, 1912.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed in the payment of premiums, after the first year, during which time the contract will remain in full force, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum.

LOANS.—The company at any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment or pledge of the policy, on the sole security thereof, and interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, a sum not greater than the reserve at the end of the current policy year, less a sum not to exceed two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereby, deducting therefrom all existing indebtedness and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the amount set forth in the table of options on surrender or lapse, and one month's notice shall have been given by the company. The making of a loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after application therefor is made.

REINSTATEMENT OF CONTRACT.—In case of default unless the cash value has been duly paid or the extension period has expired, this policy may upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company be reinstated at any time by payment of arrears of premiums and of whatever indebtedness may have existed at the date of default with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable annually.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this contract is not assigned, the insured may at any time and from time to time during its continuance change the beneficiary, to take effect only, however, when such change and the consent of the company thereto are endorsed hereon at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

EXCHANGE OF POLICY—After two full years' premiums have been paid on this policy the insured may at any time exchange the same for an ordinary life or a twenty-year endowment, without medical re-examination, at the annual rate shown in the table below (being the company's established minimum rate, at the then attained age, less annuity value of accumulated reserve), corresponding to the number of years' payments made hereon at date of change. Rates for years not shown will be upon the same basis. The following table is based upon the minimum rate having been paid in the second and subsequent years. If the maximum rate has been paid, the premiums shown below will be still further reduced.

On the same basis exchange may be made for any other regular form of life or endowment insurance issued by the company.

INSTALMENT OPTION.—The proceeds of this contract, if not less than $1,000, may be placed in trust with the company to pay to the beneficiary, from the time when such proceeds are payable, an annual income limited to a period of years, or an annual life income, according to the accompanying tables.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, this policy may be surrendered by the owner at any time prior to, or within three months after, any default. Thereupon, the owner may elect under the appended table (proportionately adjusted if there is any indebtedness to the company), either to continue the insurance in force for its face amount, or to purchase paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as obtain in this policy.

If maximum premium be paid for 14½ years policy becomes paid up for face amount Maximum values apply only in case maximum rates are paid.

If the owner shall not exercise either of said options within three months after such default, the insurance will be converted into paid-up life insurance as above.

The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The maximum surrender charge deducted therefrom is ten per cent of the reserve for extended insurance, nothing for paid-up insurance and two and one-half per cent of the face amount for cash or loan.

MAXIMUM AND MINIMUM PREMIUMS.—Upon the payment of the second and each succeeding year's premiums, if the maximum rate shall be paid, the face value of this policy shall be increased by paid-up additions; and thereafter the total amount insured hereby shall be the sum named in the table of options on surrender or lapse, according to the number of full years' maximum premiums paid. The insured may at the beginning of any policy year after the first, in lieu of such paid-up additions, duly elect in writing to pay thereafter the minimum rate endorsed hereon (which is three-quarters of the maximum rate); and thereafter no further additions to the face value of the policy will be made.

GENERAL CONDITIONS:

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—No alteration or discharge of this contract, or extension of time for the payment of premiums, or waiver, alteration or variation of any conditions contained herein, shall be effective, except the same be in writing and signed by the president, vice president, or secretary, whose authority shall not be delegated.

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as herein specifically provided.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made with its consent and the same be endorsed by the company upon this contract.

INDEBTEDNESS.—All benefits, options and values referred to in this contract are on the basis that there is no indebtedness against the same; and any such indebtedness shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder, and any premium, or portion of any premium, due and remaining unpaid at the death of the insured, including balance for current policy year in which death occurs, shall be considered an indebtedness.

SUICIDE, MILITARY SERVICE.—Death due to military or naval service in time of war; and self-destruction within year from date hereof, whether sane or insane, are risks not assumed by the company; in such cases the amount of indemnity shall be the sum of the gross premiums paid hereon. With the company's consent, however, the insured may, without prejudice, engage in military or naval service as above.

This policy, and the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

HEALTH AND ACCIDENT CONTRACT.

Providing indemnity for loss of time due to disability from accident or sickness as herein limited.

Niagara Life Insurance Company does hereby insure John Doe, whose place of residence and occupation are stated in copy of the application for this contract, in the sum of thirty-five and ⁰⁰/₁₀₀ ($35) dollars per week ($5 per day) indemnity, for loss of time by reason of his continuous and complete disability resulting from any accident or sickness affecting his health, while this policy is in force, subject to the limitations herein contained, provided that such disability prevent the insured from performing any and every duty pertaining to his occupation. This indemnity shall be payable for the entire period of such disability, but for a period not exceeding thirteen weeks.

This policy is issued in consideration of the payment in advance of a premium of thirty-eight and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars, and of a like premium on the twentieth day of October in each year thereafter during the continuance of this contract.

This policy shall not go into effect until same is delivered to the insured, together with the first premium receipt signed by an officer and countersigned by the cashier or duly authorized agent of the company.

STANDARD PROVISIONS.—(1) This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation. (2) No statement made by the applicant for insurance, not included herein, shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the company, and such approval be endorsed hereon. (3) If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the company or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover accidental injury thereafter sustained and such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance. (4) Written notice of injury or of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the company within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury, or within ten days after the commencement of disability from such sickness. (5) Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the company at Buffalo, New York, or to any authorized agent of the company, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed to be notice to the company. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible. (6) The company upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character and extent of the loss for which claim is made. (7) Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the company at its said office within ninety days after the termination of the period of disability for which the company is liable. (8) The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law. (9) Upon request of the insured, and subject to due proof of loss, two weeks' accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of each two weeks during the continuance of the period for which the company is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof. (10) All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured. (11) If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the company as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the company, upon written request of the insured and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium. (12) No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy. (13) If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law. (14) The company may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the company, together with cash or the company's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto. (15) Upon the payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom. (16) The insurance under this policy shall not cover any person under the age of seventeen years nor over the age of sixty years. Any premium paid to the company for any period not covered by this policy will be returned upon request. This policy does not cover disability self-inflicted, or while engaged in aviation or aeronautical ascensions. It is agreed that if the company exercises its right and cancels this policy as provided for in standard provision No. 16, such cancellation shall be without prejudice to the life insurance policy with which this policy is issued.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed at Buffalo, New York, this twentieth day of October, 1914.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that I have carefully read the above questions and answers before signing this application, and that every declaration hereinabove contained is true; and that in the absence of fraud, said declarations shall be deemed representations and not warranties; and that any contract issued hereupon shall not take effect until actually delivered to me, together with the first premium receipt signed by an officer of the company and countersigned by the cashier or a duly authorized agent of the company.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $20,000.

North American Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—FIVE-YEAR DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.50. AGE, 35.

In consideration of the application (a copy of which is hereto attached) and of the statements and agreements therein contained, hereby made part of this policy, which constitutes the entire contract, and of the annual premium of three hundred sixty-nine and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, to be paid in advance to the company, at its head office, in the city of Toronto, Can., on the delivery of this policy, and thereafter on the fifth day of January, in every year, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, if that should intervene, the North American Life Assurance Company insures the life of John Dow, (herein called the insured), of Chicago, in the county of Cook, and State of Illinois and, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, and upon its surrender, promises to pay, at its head office, to his wife, Mary Dow, if living, otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary, ten thousand dollars, (first deducting therefrom the balance of the current year's premium, if any, and all loans on account of this policy).

After this policy shall have been in force one year, the only condition which shall be binding upon its holder is, that the premiums shall be paid as provided; in all other respects, after the expiration of said year, the liability of the company under this policy shall not be disputed.

This policy is issued and accepted subject also to the provisions, privileges and agreements, on the following pages hereof, as well as those printed and written hereon, all of which are hereby incorporated herein and made part hereof.

In witness whereof the company has duly executed this policy at the city of Toronto, this fifth day of January, A.D. 1912.

PROVISIONS, PRIVILEGES AND AGREEMENTS.

1. SURPLUS OR DIVIDENDS.—The dividend apportioned by the directors of the company to this policy shall be allowed or paid upon the completion of the fifth policy year from the date hereof and each five years thereafter, if this policy be then in force. At each division, the legal holder or holders shall have the right to apply the dividend as follows:

OPTIONS.—Firstly, to withdraw the amount in cash; or secondly, to purchase a non-participating paid-up addition to the policy; or thirdly, to reduce the premiums hereon during the ensuing five years; or fourthly, to reduce the remaining premiums payable under the policy. Should the death of the insured occur after a distribution of surplus to this policy and before the subsequent quinquennial division a mortuary dividend will be paid in cash with the policy.

FAILURE TO NOTIFY.—If no notice in writing shall be given to the company of the way elected in which to apply the dividend within two months after the completion of each dividend period, the dividend will be applied to the purchase of a non-participating paid-up addition to the policy.

2. After the payment of the premiums for three full years, in default in the payment of any subsequent premium or otherwise, the company will,

A. LOANS.—At any time while the policy is in force, on completion of a loan agreement properly assigning the policy, and on the sole security thereof, advance to the legal holder or holders at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum in advance, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the following table of guaranteed values, after deducting therefrom all indebtedness hereon. This loan value will be increased by the amount of the loan value of any dividend additions existing to the credit of the policy at the time the application for loan was made. Failure to pay interest shall not void the policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

B. PAID-UP INSURANCE. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon application therefor being made by the legal holder or holders of this policy at any time prior to any default or within three months after any default, (1) endorse hereon the amount of non-participating paid-up insurance, as specified below, which amount shall be payable, less any indebtedness hereon under the same conditions as this policy, or (2) pay its cash value, as specified below, less any indebtedness, upon surrender to the company, with the receipt for the last premium paid hereon and in addition thereto the cash value of any existing dividend additions.

C. AUTOMATIC EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—If the holder shall not exercise Option B without application, continue the policy as a paid-up term policy, as specified below, only without participation in profits or cash loans, for a sum equal to the amount of the policy plus any existing dividend additions and less any indebtedness to the company hereon which term insurance will commence at the date of default in payment of any premium. If there be any indebtedness against this policy, or any existing dividend additions, then the term insurance granted as above shall be for such time only as the resultant purchase value will buy.

This table contains the values as at the end of the policy years stated, and is based upon the Hm Table of Mortality and three per cent interest. The values given are based upon the same surrender charge, which, after twenty years shall equal one per cent, and in other years does not exceed two and one-half per cent of the face value of the policy and dividend additions. Where the premiums are not payable annually, or through other causes the date of the default does not coincide with the end of the policy year, the values given in the above table will be equitably adjusted.

3. INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—In lieu of the settlement in one sum of this policy when it becomes a claim, the company will pay for each $1000 net value thereof, the amount in five instalments of $211 each, or in ten instalments of $113 each, or in fifteen instalments of $81 each, or in twenty instalments of $65 each, or in continuous instalments payable for twenty years certain, as given below, and as much longer afterwards as the beneficiary may live. The first of these instalments shall be payable upon the death of the insured and the remainder annually thereafter.

These instalments are subject to the election (made by written notice to the company at its head office) of the insured, or the owner, or the beneficiary, after the insured's death if the insured shall have made no election. Any instalments thus payable which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid unless otherwise directed by the insured, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. Such outstanding instalments as are contingent only upon their payment during a fixed period, may be commuted at three per cent, unless otherwise specified, by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election.

A. WHEN POLICY IN FORCE.—Under no circumstances shall this policy be held to be in force until the actual payment to, and acceptance of, the first premium thereon by an authorized agent of the company, and the delivery to the applicant, when in the same condition of health as stated in the application for this policy, of the official receipt, signed by the managing director.

B. PREMIUMS—HOW PAID.—Payment of premiums to agents will not be valid unless receipts be given, signed by the managing director. When receipts are sent to agents for delivery, such agents shall countersign and date the same only on the day of the actual payment of premium, and as evidence of its then payment to them. All premiums are due and payable at the head office in Toronto. For the convenience of the insured, payment of a premium, when not overdue, may be made to an agent, but only upon production of the official receipt, signed by the managing director.

C. GRACE.—One month, not less than thirty days, will be allowed for payment of each renewal premium on this policy after the same has become payable during which time the policy will continue in force.

D. NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If a note, cheque, draft, or other obligation, given for the first or any subsequent premium, or any part thereof, or any renewal of any such note or other obligation or part thereof, be not paid when due, this policy, subject to provision 2 on preceding page hereof, will thereupon cease to be in force, without any notice or act on the part of the company.

E. RE-INSTatement.—If, in the event of default in the premium payments, the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, the policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears with compound interest not greater than six per cent per annum.

F. MIS-STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and if within one year from the date of this policy, any fraudulent statement made in the application shall be found to have been, at the date of said application, untrue, this policy, after due notice to the legal holder thereof or to the insured, shall thereupon cease to be in force.

G. SELF-DESTRUCTION, ETC.—This policy does not insure against death by the insured's own act, whether sane or insane, nor from duelling, nor in consequence of the violation of law, should the death of the insured occur within one year from the date hereof.

H. PROOF OF AGE.—The age of the insured will be admitted by the company on due proof, but, if misstated, any error will be adjusted by making the insurance for such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the company's table rate at the correct age.

I. ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy shall be made in duplicate, and sent forthwith to the head office, one copy to be retained by the company, and the other to be returned; the company assumes no responsibility in connection with any assignment hereof.

J. WAIVER.—No provision of this contract can be changed, waived or modified, or permit granted, except by written agreement, signed by the president or a vice-president, and the managing director of the company.

K. STATEMENTS—HOW COMMUNICATED.—No information or statement not contained in the application for this policy, no notice of any facts touching said application or this policy, however made, given, received or acquired, shall affect the company, unless forthwith communicated in writing by the insured to the president or managing director, at the company's head office, and assented to by him in writing for the company.

L. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary if the policy is not then assigned, provided an absolute beneficiary is not then living and notice thereof duly given to the company, the insured may, while the policy is in force, change the beneficiary and appoint a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof, duly acknowledged, at the head office of the company, accompanied by the policy for endorsement thereon. The insured may by written notice, duly acknowledged, also declare any beneficiary to be an absolute beneficiary. Any change of beneficiary or declaration shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company at the head office. During the lifetime of an absolute beneficiary, the insured shall not have power to change the same. If there is no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy shall be payable to his estate.

M. FORM OF PAYMENT.—The amount of this policy will be paid in gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness, or its equivalent in U. S. currency and the premiums payable hereon may be required to be paid to the company in like gold coin, or its equivalent in U. S. currency.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby apply for a policy of insurance on my life in accordance with this application, and declare that I have read or heard read each of the above questions and answers, that the answers are correctly recorded, and that they are true and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief.

I agree on behalf of myself and of all persons who shall have any interest in any policy to be issued hereunder, that the statements made in Parts One and Two and this declaration and agreement shall form the basis of the contract; that if a policy be issued and delivered such policy shall be the only acceptance of this application, and its terms binding and conditions observed; that all rights, claims and remedies not based on such contract are hereby waived; that I will accept the policy when issued and pay the first premium thereon; that such policy shall not be in force until actual payment of the first premium due thereon, and its acceptance by an authorized agent of the company, and the delivery of the company's official receipt during my lifetime and good health; that if any material statement has been fraudulently made or so withheld by me, any policy issued hereunder shall, at the option of the company within one year from the date thereof be absolutely null and void; that if a note, cheque, draft or other obligation be given for the first or any subsequent premium or any part thereof, and the same be not paid at maturity, any policy issued on this application or renewed, shall, subject to its terms, be null and void, but such obligation must nevertheless be paid; that the place of contract for all purposes shall be the place of delivery of the policy; that no presumption of death shall arise from disappearance; that if I die by my own act, whether sane or insane, or from duelling, or in consequence of the violation of law, within one year from the policy date, any policy issued hereunder shall be void; that the principles and methods now or hereafter to be followed by the company in determining or apportioning the surplus to participating policies and the amount thereof, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted.

North American Life Insurance Company (Ill.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.40. AGE, 35.

North American Life Insurance Company of Chicago agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, at its home office, in Chicago, Ill., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, to Mary, wife of the insured, beneficiary, subject to the privileges and provisions on the following pages hereof, which are hereby made part of this contract.

This contract is made in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto annexed and in further consideration of the payment, on or before delivery of this policy, of the first year's annual premium of three hundred nine and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, comprising the legal reserve and the premium for term insurance for the first policy year, computed in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois; and in consideration of the further payment of a like annual premium on the thirteenth day of September, in every year thereafter during its continuance, until twenty full years' premiums in all shall have been paid, this policy will be renewed and continued in force in accordance with its terms.

In witness whereof, the North American Life Insurance Company of Chicago has caused this agreement to be executed this thirteenth day of September, 1914.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

LOANS.—Cash loans will be granted on the sole security of this policy and proper assignment of the same, at any time while the policy is in force after premiums have been paid in cash for three full years, for a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than the cash surrender value indicated in Column (1) of the accompanying table, deducting therefrom all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Said loans shall be subject to interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, and annually in advance thereafter. At the option of the company the loan may be deferred for a period not exceeding ninety days, after the application therefor is received by the company, unless such loan is to be applied solely to the payment of a current premium hereunder. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, but if the interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the indebtedness; and whenever the total indebtedness shall become equal to the loan value the policy shall be forfeited or void provided such indebtedness be not reduced to less than the said loan value within one month (not less than thirty days) after notice to that effect shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the loan was made, of the insured, and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

SPECIAL PREMIUM LOAN PRIVILEGE.—The owner of this policy, at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder, or upon reinstatement, may file with the company a request for automatic premium loans. If after such request shall have been filed any premium on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the date when due or within the month of grace, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash) with interest at six per cent per annum, in advance, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that such loan value is sufficient. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the receding clause "loans." The request for automatic premium loans may be revoked at any time in writing by the said owner, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan that may have been previously made under this privilege.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company within one month after the end of the third year from its date or of any year thereafter, and all premiums to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor, in lieu of all other benefits, the sum indicated in Column (1) of the accompanying table less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Upon written request by the owner, accompanied by this policy, within one month after default in the payment of any premium after it shall have been in force for three full years, this policy will be endorsed for the amount of non-participating paid-up life insurance indicated in Column (2) of the accompanying table, payable under the conditions of this policy at the death of the insured; provided that such paid-up insurance shall be without the right to loans, and provided further that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, the amount of such paid-up insurance will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value of this policy at date of default.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After premiums on this policy shall have been paid in cash for three full years, if any subsequent premium is not paid within one month after the day when due or charged against the loan value of the policy as provided in the above "special premium loan privilege" clause, and if this policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value or endorsed for paid-up life insurance, the insurance hereunder will without any action on the part of the insured, be continued for its face amount, but without the right to loans, as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the period indicated in Column (3) of the accompanying table, from the date to which premiums have been paid; provided that if there be any indebtedness hereon to the company, the amount payable hereunder will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value of this policy at date of default.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE AND AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Any paid-up life insurance or automatic extended insurance in force under the provisions of the preceding paragraphs may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

NOTE.—Loans will be made at the beginning instead of at the end of any year, provided the full years' premiums have been paid.

The reserve for which funds are to be held upon this policy shall be computed according to the Illinois standard of valuation upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

The surrender options in the above table are mathematical equivalents and the net value of each option is equal to the entire reserve on this policy, according to the foregoing standard, less an amount not greater in any case than one per cent of the amount insured by the policy. For the twentieth and subsequent years each of such net values shall be equal to the full American Experience three and one-half per cent reserve. If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, figures for later years will be furnished on application to the home office.

In case premiums are paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments the values at intermediate periods between the anniversaries will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values at the end of the last completed year.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before the date due, of a receipt signed by the president, the vice-president, or the secretary of the company, and countersigned by said agent. In lieu of the annual premium specified on the first page hereof, the company will, upon written request by the owner of this policy, accept instalments of one hundred sixty dollars and ninety cents semi-annually in advance, or eighty-two dollars quarter-annually in advance. If premiums hereon are paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, any portion of the premium for the then current policy-year remaining unpaid when this policy matures shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable.

DAYS OF GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) will be granted for the payment of premiums after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated after default in payment of any premium upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, subject to payment of the past due premiums, with interest at six per cent per annum thereon, provided that any indebtedness previously existing against this policy shall be reinstated with interest at six per cent per annum from date of default, and provided that said indebtedness with interest does not exceed the loan value after past due premiums, with interest, have been paid.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or in any benefit hereunder.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company, unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTIONS GUARANTEED AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If the insured is living on the thirteenth day of September, 1932, provided all the premiums have been duly paid under this contract, one of the following options may be selected: (1) Continue the contract without further payment of premiums as a paid-up policy payable at death. (2) Surrender this contract for a cash payment of five thousand, six hundred and sixty dollars, less any indebtedness hereon. (3) Surrender this contract for an annual income payable during the lifetime of the insured, based on the company's published annuity tables then in force.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured provided such net sum be not less than $1000 paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Any instalments under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the beneficiary shall have the right when any instalment becomes due, to commute and receive in one sum the then present cash value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table; provided that no such commutation will be made under option (3), except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

(1) No one has power to make or modify this contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by any two of the following officers, viz.: the president, vice-president or secretary. (2) If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age. (3) This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premium. (4) If the insured shall, within one year from the date hereof, enter or engage in military or naval service in time of war, or travel or reside south of the Tropic of Cancer or north of the sixtieth degree North Latitude, without first obtaining the written consent of the company; or, if the insured shall during said year engage in any of the following extra hazardous occupations or employments, viz.: retailing intoxicating liquors, handling electric wires and dynamos, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture or handling of highly explosive substances, serve upon any railroad train or track, or any switch, or in coupling cars, or on any steam or other vessel, unless written permission is expressly granted by the company; or if within one year from the date hereof the insured shall die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, then, and in either of the above events, the only amount payable hereunder shall be a sum equal to the premiums paid hereon, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. (5) This policy or any paid-up or continued insurance or other benefits granted as provided herein, shall not participate in the profits or surplus of the company. (6) If this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant and not later than two months after receipt of such proof. (7) This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto annexed, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—Upon receipt of due proof, at any time after one full year's premium shall have been paid on this policy and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company, by an endorsement on this contract, will agree to waive payment of any premium or premiums that may thereafter become due during the continuance of such disability. Premiums so waived shall not be a lien on this contract, and the loan and surrender values specified on the second page of this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. Upon written request by the owner of this policy, the company will further agree, in said endorsement, to pay the face amount of this policy to the insured, during such disability, in ten equal annual instalments, beginning one year after receipt of said proof of disability, provided that such instalments shall be in full settlement of this policy, and in lieu of all other benefits thereunder, and provided further, that if any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall remain unpaid at the time of such endorsement each of such annual instalment shall be reduced by an amount equal to twelve per cent of such indebtedness. In the event of the death of the insured after such endorsement, and before the ten annual instalments shall have been paid, the remaining instalments shall be paid to the beneficiary as they become due. If like total and permanent disability shall occur, under the conditions above stated, but after the insured has attained the age of sixty years, the company will allow all premiums falling due more than six months after receipt of due proof of such disability to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness on this contract, and in such case the loan and surrender values specified on the second page of this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. The company, notwithstanding acceptance of proof of disability, may, from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, require proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if the insured shall have become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, then all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid as originally provided in the policy; and if the policy shall have been endorsed for payment in instalments the company's obligation to make further instalment payments shall immediately cease, and the policy shall be restored, as originally issued, for its face amount less the sum of the instalments paid. Premiums thereafter falling due and all benefits under the policy shall be reduced proportionately and shall be based on such reduced amount of insurance and any indebtedness to the company on account of the policy outstanding at the date of said endorsement shall be restored, together with interest at six per cent per annum from said date. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. This provision will be canceled at any time upon written request by the insured, accompanied by this policy for proper endorsement, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars insured hereunder, which is the premium included for this benefit in the total premium charged for this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: 1. That no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office, in this application. 2. That the policy hereby applied for shall not take effect until the same has been issued and delivered by the company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, during my lifetime and while I am in good health. 3. That any payment in advance on account of premium shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the agent's or cashier's receipt therefor on the company's authorized form. 4. That the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by such policy.

* Adopted November, 1914.

Northern Assurance Company of Michigan.

TWENTY-PAYMENT ENDOWMENT AT 85—DISABILITY— NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $293.

AGE, 35.

Northern Assurance Company of Michigan hereby assures the life of John Doe of Detroit, Mich., in the amount of ten thousand dollars and promises to pay said sum to John Doe, his executor, administrator or assigns, on the seventh day of November, 1964, or upon due proof of the previous death of the said assured, then said company promises to immediately pay said sum to Mary Doe, his wife, or to such other beneficiary as may, according to the conditions hereof, be finally designated and recognized by endorsement hereon; or if no beneficiary be then living, then to the executor or administrator of the said assured; deducting from said amount any indebtedness to this company hereon, or secured hereby, and the premium, if any, for the balance of the policy year, subject to the following conditions and provisions and those recited hereafter in this contract, which are made a part hereof.

In case any subsequent premiums or instalment thereof is not paid when due, or if any of the representations or statements in the application for this policy are fraudulent, this policy shall become void except as hereinafter agreed.

After three full annual premiums have been paid hereon, in event of default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment thereof, the company will (subject to pro rata adjustment for any existing indebtedness), grant one of the following options: (Extended assurance will be for the face of the policy for such term as the cash value will purchase).]

(a) If full years' premiums have been paid and this policy has been in force for years.

(b) Without any action on the part of the assured continue this policy as extended assurance in years and months for the face of the policy, and endowment payable at end of endowment period, if living.

(c) Or upon legal surrender of this policy a paid-up endowment assurance policy maturing at same time as original policy for:

(d) Or amount the company will pay in cash, or loan at a rate not exceeding six (6%) per cent per annum upon legal and satisfactory surrender or assignment of this policy.

NOTE.—See back of policy for cash value beyond twenty years.

This contract is made in consideration of the application therefor, which application is hereby made a part hereof, and a copy of the same contained herein, and in further consideration of the sum of two hundred ninety-three dollars, to be paid in advance on delivery of this policy, and thereafter to the company, either at its home office, in the city of Detroit, Michigan, or to an agent of the company, authorized to receive the same, the payment of a like sum on or before the seventh day of November in every year until premiums for twenty years, including the first year, have been paid.

This assurance is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, and three and one-half per cent interest, and for the first year is term assurance, modified on the basis of the twenty payment life policy, and in consideration of the premium therefor as above required, this assurance is continued as a limited premium endowment policy by the payment of further premiums thereafter, as herein provided.

In witness whereof, the Northern Assurance Company of Michigan, has by its president and secretary, executed and delivered this contract at Detroit, on this seventh day of November, A. D., 1914.

PROVISIONS AND OPTIONS.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, is not a risk assumed by this company, but in such case it will pay the amount of the legal net reserve under this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium, but shall always be subject to adjustment for error in age.

LIMITATION FOR SUIT.—No suit shall be brought against the company on any claim under this policy, unless commenced within six years from the time when the right of action accrues.

POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

STATEMENTS WARRANTIES.—All statements made by the assured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless contained in the application for this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any assignment of this policy shall be void, unless assented to in writing by the president or secretary.

WHO AUTHORIZED TO DISCHARGE CONTRACTS.—No person, except the president or secretary, is authorized to make, alter, or discharge contracts or waive forfeitures.

PREMIUMS WHEN CONSIDERED PAID.—No premium shall be considered as paid unless and until a receipt shall be given therefor signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by an agent authorized to receive such premium.

POLICY WHEN EFFECTIVE.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon is paid during the lifetime and good health of the assured. The first year's assurance under this policy is term assurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The assured may change the beneficial interest herein from time to time, subject, however, to the rights of any assignee, upon filing a written request with said company at its home office, in such form as it may require, but no change shall take effect unless and until endorsement thereof shall have been made hereon by the president or secretary.

DAYS OF GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days will be allowed in the payment of all premiums excepting during the first year, the policy to remain in force for its full amount during such period.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within three years, or within the term of extension, if more than three years, upon evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and the payment of overdue premiums with interest at five per cent.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—In case of misstatement of age, no greater sum will be paid hereunder than the amount which the premium paid hereon would have purchased for the true age at the rate in use at the date of this policy.

VALUES EXPLAINED.—The cash value of this policy shall be the full reserve, less a surrender charge not to exceed one per cent of the amount assured. The cash values given on the first page are net, the surrender charge as above having been first deducted. The loan value shall in no case be less than the even dollars in the column of cash values for the same policy year. The assurance value shall always be the assurance equivalent of the cash value provided for herein. Paid-up and extended assurances effected under this policy may be surrendered by the assured for their full reserve value at any time. The values in this policy will be increased pro rata by the payment of a quarterly or semi-annual premium hereon. The cash values in the table on the first page of this policy are available at the end of the policy year indicated in the table, but may be had by the assured any time as stated herein after the payment of the premium in advance for the current policy year, less interest for the unexpired portion of the year at the rate of three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum. The loan value in the table on the first page of this policy is available on or after payment of the full year's premium for the current policy year indicated therein, provided, however, that in such case interest will be deducted in advance for the balance of the current policy year at the rate of six per cent per annum. The company may defer the payment of the cash value or the making of a loan (unless the loan be for the purpose of paying premiums to the company) for a period not exceeding ninety days from date of application therefor.

LOAN FORFEITURES, WHEN TO INVALIDATE CONTRACT.—Failure to pay any loan secured by this policy, or interest thereon, when due shall not invalidate the policy until the entire indebtedness shall equal the loan value hereof, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the assured and of the assignee, if any.

SETTLEMENT IN EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this contract and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the assured or someone in his behalf shall furnish the company with satisfactory proof that he has since such payment and before having attained the age of sixty, become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupation, the company will pay to him during such disability and in full settlement of this contract, twenty annual instalments—the first instalment to be paid six months after receipt of satisfactory proof of permanent total disability. The amount of each such annual instalment shall be six and eight tenths per cent of the amount of assurance stated on the first page hereof after deducting therefrom any indebtedness under this contract. Any instalment remaining unpaid at the death of the assured shall be payable as they become due to the beneficiary or beneficiaries of this assurance, who shall have the right to commute such remaining payments into one sum on the basis of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The assured shall not have the right to commute any instalments becoming payable under this contract prior to the date specified for its maturity as an endowment. If the assured shall furnish proof of like disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty, the company will allow all premiums falling due more than six months after receipt of such proof to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness on this contract and in such case the values in the table on page one shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the assured. In addition to or independently of all other causes of permanent total disability the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot as permanent total disability within the meaning of this provision. The annual premium for the benefits provided in this clause is twenty-five cents per $1000 of assurance hereunder, which premium is included in the whole premium charged for this contract. It is agreed that the assured may at any time discontinue the benefits provided by this clause and hereafter the benefits thereunder shall cease, and the premium on this contract shall be reduced by the amount provided in this clause if the contract shall be returned to the company for proper endorsement with written request signed by the assured.

TRUST FUND AND INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—The assured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy, if not less than $1000, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee, and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest at the above rate to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the accompanying Table C for each $1000 of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual or monthly instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the accompanying Table D, for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options 2 or 3, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

CONDITIONS GOVERNING PRIVILEGES.—If the trust is created by the assured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary cannot assign or commute the instalments, nor, if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw the principal or anticipate the interest, unless such right is given by the assured in writing, and is endorsed on the policy by the company at its home office, during the lifetime of the assured.

If the trust is created by the beneficiary, he may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid instalments, or at any time withdraw the principal or any part thereof remaining unpaid, with accrued interest.

HOW TRUST MAY BE CREATED.—Trust agreement for interest or instalment payments may be created at any time by the assured, but shall only be created and take effect when made in writing, subscribed by him and by the company at its home office. Trust agreement may be created by the beneficiary after the death of the assured, and when the proceeds of the policy become payable to the beneficiary. When a trust is revoked, and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of this assurance, payment shall be made in cash, as provided for in this policy.

ILLUSTRATION OF TABLE C.—If the assured should direct that the proceeds of the policy be paid in 20 annual instalments, the beneficiary would receive annually $67.98 per $1000 of assurance for 20 years. Exactly 20 annual payments would be made, and should beneficiary die after say 15 payments had been made, the remaining 5 payments would be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

Or, if the assured should direct that the proceeds of the policy be paid in 240 monthly instalments, the beneficiary would receive monthly $5.75 per $1000 of insurance for 240 months. Exactly 240 monthly payments would be made, and should beneficiary die after say 180 payments had been made, the remaining 60 payments would be made to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

ILLUSTRATION OF TABLE D.—If at the death of the assured the beneficiary should be 50 years of age, the company would pay the beneficiary annually $59.57 per $1000 of insurance, so long as the beneficiary should live. At least 20 annual payments would be made and should beneficiary die after say 15 payments had been made, the remaining 5 payments would be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

Or, if at the death of the assured, the beneficiary should be 50 years of age, the company would pay the beneficiary monthly $5.04 per $1000 of insurance, so long as the beneficiary should live. At least 240 monthly payments would be made and should the beneficiary die after say 180 payments had been made, the remaining 60 payments would be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

ILLUSTRATION OF TABLE E.—If at the death of the assured the beneficiary should be fifty years of age, the company would pay the beneficiary annually sixty-nine dollars per thousand of insurance, so long as the beneficiary should live.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

As a part of the application, and as the basis of the contract which I agree shall not take effect until the first premium is paid thereon during my lifetime, and while I am in good health, I declare to be complete and true all the statements and answers herein made, and also the written statements made by me to the agent, and I agree that all such statements made by me shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. I agree to the adjustment of claim hereunder according to the true age. I certify that my answers to the foregoing questions are correctly recorded by the medical examiner.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $367.

AGE, 35.

The Northern Life Insurance Company, Seattle, Wash., hereby insures the life of George Washington of Seattle, Wash. (hereinafter called the insured), and upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and upon surrender of this policy, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars (less any unpaid portion of the year's premium and less any note or other indebtedness to the company hereon) to Martha Washington, his wife, if she survive him, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries as hereinafter provided.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application, a copy of which is attached hereto and hereby made a part of this contract, and of the annual premium of three hundred sixty-seven dollars on the date hereof and on the first day of January in every year until twenty annual premiums have been paid.

One month of grace, not less than thirty days, will be allowed in the payment of premiums hereon after one full year's premium has been paid, during which month the policy will remain in full force.

This policy is non-forfeitable for failure to pay premium, after three full annual premiums have been paid in cash, in which event, if no other option has been selected by the insured, it will continue in force for the face of the policy for the time provided by the table of life insurance values endorsed hereon.

This policy is incontestable after one year, as provided under general provisions.

The life insurance options, life insurance values, permanent disability clause, general provisions and instalment and annuity options elsewhere hereon are referred to and are hereby made part of this contract as fully as though recited here at length.

Dated at Seattle, Wash., this first day of January, 1916.

LIFE INSURANCE OPTIONS.—This policy participates in the division of surplus of the company. The accumulation period of this policy shall be completed on the first day of January, 1921, and on each fifth anniversary thereafter. All premiums having been paid in full, the company will, on such date and subsequent fifth anniversaries, allot to this policy its share of surplus payable in cash; or the insured may, in lieu of such cash option, at the time such dividend is declared or within one month of the annual premium due date in any such year, select any other of the following options: (1) Take such surplus in cash. Or, (2) apply such surplus to the purchase of an annuity, to be used in reduction of future premiums. Or, (3) apply such surplus to the purchase of fully paid additions to the face of the policy, such additions to the policy also participating in dividends. Or, (4) allow such surplus to accumulate at a rate of interest determined by the company and compounding annually; such accumulation to be payable to the insured at any time on demand, or payable in addition to the insurance at death. Or, (5) apply such surplus toward making this policy fully paid up in a constantly reducing time, as additional surplus is so applied. Provided, that any such option calling for increased insurance shall be subject to evidence satisfactory to the company of continued insurability.

LIFE INSURANCE VALUES.—At the insured's option, in event of lapse in payment of premium, by written request addressed to the home office, and mailed before the expiration of the month of grace, and upon surrender of this policy for such endorsement hereon, the insured may select one of the following optional values after full annual premiums have been paid in cash for the year shown, which value shall not be in excess of the reserve value according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. If, at the end of said month of grace, the insured has not made selection as above, the continued insurance shall be finally determined to be the value selected. If there is any unpaid premium note or other unpaid note or any other indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, such indebtedness shall first be deducted from the amount of the cash value to determine what if any value remains, and the value of the other options shall be reduced in like proportion, the continued insurance being, as before, for the face of the policy but with the value reduced in time to correspond with any such indebtedness. If there should be any paid-up additions hereto and the continued insurance option is selected, such paid-up addition shall be canceled and the equivalent value in cash applied to increase the time for which the face of the policy continues in force. The insurance in this table is non-participating when applicable because of lapse in payment of premium.

LOANS.—The company will at any time loan the amount of the cash value of this policy, including that of any dividend additions hereto, which shall not be less than the full reserve according to the American Experience Table and three and one-half per cent interest with surrender charge not to exceed two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy, at not to exceed six per cent interest payable in advance, upon execution of the proper evidence of such indebtedness, but such loan may be deferred by the company for not to exceed six months. This policy will be the sole security required for such loan.

NOTE.—On any other anniversary after second year values will be allowed on the same basis.

PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid hereon in cash and before default, beyond the days of grace, in payment of any subsequent premium (providing the insured shall not have attained the age of sixty-one years), if the insured shall furnish the company with due proofs that he has been wholly and continuously disabled for one year and that such disablement was not the evident or necessary consequence of his voluntary act or consent and was not due to any defect or condition existing at the time of making application herefor, and that he will be continuously disabled so that he will, for the remainder of life, be able to engage in no occupation whatever for wages or profit, then the company, by such endorsement upon the policy, will waive payment of future premiums, and, within sixty days after receipt of completed proofs as above, will pay one-tenth of the policy to the insured, if living, and should the insured live to receive them, will continue to pay one-tenth of the policy each anniversary after the receipt of such proofs, till ten payments in all have been made. Such payments shall reduce the policy and any reserves or values thereof one-tenth for each payment made hereon, and if the insured should die after furnishing such proofs but before receiving any and all of such ten payments, the payment to the beneficiary named in the policy of a sum which, together with all payments so made on account hereof, shall amount to the face of this policy, shall cancel the policy. Absolutely no benefit hereunder shall apply and no time shall be held to have begun to run hereunder till the date of the actual issue of this feature of the policy from the home office. The insured shall not be permitted to commute or take the present value of any instalments. No dividends shall be allowed after any benefits under this clause are invoked. On receipt by the insured of the above ten instalments, the company, on each anniversary as before, will continue the payment of instalments of a like amount, during such disability, as long as the insured shall live. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proofs, in all particulars as above, of such continuous disability beginning before the age of sixty years, the foregoing provisions shall be void, but the company, if this policy be presented for such endorsement before default in payment of any premium due and accompanied by proofs in all particulars as above, will, without further payment of premiums, allow such premiums, without interest, to accumulate as a lien against the policy, and any cash or other surrender values shall be reduced in value by the total amount of such liens. As conditions precedent to any of the above benefits, the insured shall annually keep the company advised of the address where he may be seen, and shall, if required, before the anniversary of the date any premium would have fallen due or date any benefit is to be received, furnish proofs, in all particulars as above, that his disability was total and permanent and submit this policy for endorsement thereon of any such benefits received. Failure to perform any of the foregoing conditions shall operate as a lapse of payment of premium and lapse of policy. These disability provisions shall be held to be a part of and involve only the life insurance, and if accident or sickness insurance shall be included in or added hereto, such insurance shall not be in anywise modified hereby, and such accident or sickness insurance shall terminate whenever any benefit hereby granted becomes applicable, but any benefit then due for any accident or sickness insurance shall be payable in addition to the benefits provided by this clause. Payment of any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall also be a condition precedent to the validity of any claim hereunder, and if such prior payment be not made, any values of the policy, including the value of above ten payments, shall be reduced the value of such indebtedness, and later payments, if any, reduced to same amounts as such payments. The company will recognize loss of both hands or both feet or loss of one hand, together with one foot, in all such cases at or above wrists and ankles, or the entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes as total disability hereunder.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of policy, for any other cause than that involving the non-payment of premium or service in army or navy; except that any error in statement of age of insured will be equitably adjusted by the company paying the amount which the premium hereon would purchase at the true age. Right of contest for other cause, as above, shall be held vested in the company only upon written notice with reason therefor being mailed or delivered within such first year to the address furnished by the insured.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Assignments under this policy will not be noticed by the company unless filed with the home office on the prescribed form. The company shall not be responsible for the validity of any assignment.

ADDRESS OF INSURED.—Except in the case of notice of forfeiture for non-payment of loans, as elsewhere provided, the address of the insured for all purposes relating to this policy shall be understood and held to be the post-office address given in the application; unless the insured shall make definite and specific written request of the company for change, in which event such new address then given shall be held to be his address until again changed by like proceeding.

RE-INSTALLMENT.—In event of lapse in payment of premium, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be re-instated at any time within five years after such lapse by the payment of all premiums that would otherwise have maintained the policy in force with interest at not exceeding six per cent per annum on past due premiums.

RESERVE BASIS.—The first annual premium on this policy pays for one year preliminary term insurance. All surrender values are calculated upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, as per table printed elsewhere hereon.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if not otherwise specified herein, and if no assignment has been made, reserves the right to change the beneficiary by obtaining such endorsement on the policy by the president, a vice-president or secretary of the company, and he may by like method waive such privilege, thereby irrevocably determining the beneficiary.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums in cash have been paid, failure to repay any loan or indebtedness shall not void this policy until the total indebtedness hereon shall equal the cash value, including the cash value of any dividend additions, nor until one month after notice has been mailed to the last known address of insured and of any accredited assignee according to the policy, and any interest not paid when due shall be added to the principal and bear a like rate of interest.

OCCUPATION.—This policy does not cover for any sum beyond the reserve thereon in the event of service in any army or navy in time of war (unless written permit be first obtained from the home office of this company); otherwise the insured has entire freedom of occupation after one year.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—No restriction whatever is placed upon the residence or travel of the insured after one year from date.

PREMIUMS.—The first and all other payments due the company hereon are payable in advance at the home office or else to a duly authorized agent holding the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president, general manager or the secretary of the company, and such payment in advance shall be a condition precedent to the validity of any claim under this policy. In event of lapse in payment of any premium or part of premium when due, all insurance hereunder shall immediately terminate, and all former payments hereon be forfeited to the company, except as modified only by the table of "life insurance values" and by the provision for cessation of premiums in event of permanent disability. This policy itself shall be held sufficient notice of all premiums or other amounts due the company hereon, and if further notice is required by law the evidence customarily accepted at the home office that such notice was issued shall, without further proof of accuracy of address or delivery, be held adequate evidence of full compliance with such legal requirements. The premium for the permanent disability feature is six dollars, included in the premium stated on face of policy.

TRUST AGREEMENT.—Any proceeds of this policy due may be left with the company upon execution of a trust agreement therefor, whereby the payee may elect to leave the funds in trust with the company and receive interest annually or quarterly thereon while so remaining, and withdraw the principal any time thereafter at will; or if not so withdrawn the principal to be payable at death of such payee; or may be converted into an annuity upon the basis of the table of annuity options printed elsewhere hereon; all subject to any previous provision or endorsement on the policy for a different method of payment by authority of the insured. On any funds due, left with the company, there shall be paid not less than three and one-half per cent interest per annum.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.—The terms of this contract are wholly expressed in this policy and application. No agent has any authority, and no notice to or knowledge of and no action by any agent, general agent or any other person shall be held to extend any time or effect any change or waiver whatsoever of any of the conditions of this policy unless endorsed hereon and signed by the president, a vice-president, general manager or the secretary of the company. No warranty made by the insured shall be used in defense against any claim unless contained in a written application, and all warranties made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be considered representations and not warranties. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person or body in case of permanent disability when and so often as it may require. Failure to pay when due any note, or any instalment of such note, given by the insured in payment hereon (except as elsewhere modified under "loans" and in table of "life insurance values" when three full years' cash premiums have been paid) shall make it optional with the company at any time thereafter to cancel this policy from the time written notice thereof is delivered or mailed to the insured; and, in the event of such failure to pay, all former payments shall be forfeited to the company, and there shall be credited on any unpaid premium note any unearned portion of premium (pro rata for the unexpired portion of the period covered by the premium). If any question should arise as to whom any of the proceeds of this policy are due, the company shall be held to have obtained a full and final release therefrom by payment of such proceeds into any court of competent jurisdiction.

INSTALLMENT AND ANNUITY OPTIONS.—The insured may (by obtaining such endorsement hereon by the company) have this policy made payable in accordance with one of the following options and the subjoined table.

OPTION 1.—To have this policy payable in from two to thirty instalments covering a like period of years, the full value of such instalments being payable regardless of length of life of the payee; or,

OPTION 2.—To have policy payable by twenty certain annual instalments, the full value of such twenty instalments being payable regardless of length of life of the payee, but continued thereafter so long as such designated payee shall live.

The last option can be availed of only by a payee named as such at time of issue of policy and payment of the aforesaid twenty annual instalments shall discharge all obligation under the policy, unless such designated beneficiary or payee shall live beyond that time, in which event payment of such instalments will be continued during the lifetime of such payee.

The following values participate in division of surplus upon the same basis as other policies. The first instalment will be payable at the death of the insured or at the time the cash equivalent would have fallen due.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY, WITH ACCIDENT AND HEALTH PROVISIONS—FIVE-YEAR DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $415.50. AGE, 35.

This policy except as to premiums is the same as the preceding form down to the end of the permanent disability provision.

A. ACCIDENT INDEMNITIES.—If affirmative proofs be furnished the company that the insured has met with bodily injury through external, violent and accidental means, and that, within ninety days of the happening thereof, such injury was either, first, the sole and independent cause of the death of the insured; or, second, that such a period of ninety days from the date of such accident had elapsed and the death of the insured had not occurred, but that such injury had, within such ninety days of the happening of such accident, been the sole and independent cause of the loss of one or more of the insured's hands, feet or eyes as below specified, then the company will pay one of the amounts specified in the following table; the sum provided herein for loss of life being inclusive of the amount provided by the face of the policy and is in lieu of the life insurance and of all further benefits under this policy; all subject to the general provisions on page three hereof. The accident indemnities are the full face of policy for loss of two members as below, one-half for one hand or foot and two-fifths for one eye, increasing after first year, as follows: Benefits, except monthly indemnity for disability, being increased by ten per cent of the original benefits on payment of the second and also on payment of each subsequent premium, except that such increase shall cease and the amount remain stationary when equal to a total increase of fifty per cent. Loss of life, such payment being in lieu of the face of policy and canceling policy, loss of both hands, by actual separation at or above the wrists, loss of both feet, by actual separation at or above the ankles, loss of one hand, together with one foot, by actual separation at or above wrists.

and ankle, loss of sight of both eyes, if complete and irrecoverable, loss of sight of one eye, if complete and irrecoverable, together with either the loss of one hand or one foot, by actual separation at or above wrist or ankle, amounts payable during first year, $10,000; on and after sixth year, $15,000. Loss of one hand, by actual separation at or above the wrist, loss of one foot, by actual separation at or above the ankle, amounts payable during first year, $5000; on and after sixth year, $7500. Loss of sight of one eye, if complete and irrecoverable amounts payable during first year, $4000; on and after sixth year, $6000. Or, for total disability, if, in all other particulars, as provided in Clause A such proofs show such injury not to have caused loss of members as above, but to have resulted in the immediate, continuous and total disability of the insured, on account of which he could perform none of the duties of his occupation, then the company will pay him for the period of such disability, the monthly indemnity stated opposite hereto, immediately on receipt of proofs; and in case such disability continues, will pay such indemnity every two months on receipt of proofs, but such monthly indemnity shall terminate in event of death, and shall not extend beyond two full years, and shall be payable in addition to the life insurance provided by the policy, $200 per month.

PARTIAL DISABILITY.—If, in all other particulars as provided above for total disability, such proofs show the insured to have been completely prevented from performing one or more essential duties of his occupation, the company will pay him from one-fourth to three-fourths of the indemnity otherwise payable, according to the proportion such intercepted duties bear to the entire duties of his occupation, but indemnity for partial disability shall not be payable for more than six months, and the period for which both total and partial disability is payable shall not extend beyond two years.

B. SICKNESS INDEMNITIES.—If affirmative proofs be furnished the company that the insured has suffered from any sickness or disease, subject to the general provisions on page three hereof, which sickness or disease solely and independently of any other cause, has resulted as below specified, he shall be entitled to one of the following benefits: Total disability, whereby the insured has been continuously and necessarily confined to the house for more than seven days and treated under regular calls of a licensed physician and has been totally disabled, on account of which he could perform none of the duties of his occupation, then the company will pay him for the period of such confinement not exceeding six months and not extending beyond the time of death, the amount set opposite hereto. No sickness indemnity shall be payable until termination of disability, and in event of death any monthly indemnity due to be payable to time of death in addition to the life insurance, $200 per month; or, entire loss of sight, if such affirmative proofs show such sickness or disease not to have resulted in death, but to have caused the entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes, whereby the insured has been for one year and will continue to be permanently unable to engage in any occupation for wages or profit, then the company will pay him a sum which, inclusive of any other payments on account of the same sickness, shall equal the amount set opposite hereto, $5000; or paralysis of two hands or feet, if such affirmative proofs show such sickness or disease not to have resulted in death, but to have resulted in permanent paralysis of both hands or both feet, or of one hand together with one foot, which has resulted in total disability whereby the insured has been for one year and will continue to be permanently unable to engage in any occupation for wages or profit, then the company will pay him a sum which, inclusive of any other payments on account of the same sickness, shall equal the amount set opposite hereto, $5000.

CONVALESCENCE DISABILITY.—If the insured shall furnish proofs entitling him to indemnity for more than one week for total disability, as provided above, and such proofs show that immediately following and continuous therewith such disability continued for a certain period in all particulars as described in B and total disability, as above, except that he was not confined to the house, he shall be entitled during such additional period to indemnity at two-fifths of the amount otherwise payable, but such indemnity shall in no event be payable for a period of more than six months, and the period for which both total and convalescence disability are payable shall in no event extend beyond twelve months.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

For assignments, address of insured, reserve basis, change of beneficiary, loans, trust agreement, instalment and annuity option, see preceding form.

INCONTESTABILITY.—The life insurance section of this policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of policy for any cause other than that involving the non-payment of premium or service in army or navy; except that any error in statement of age of insured will be equitably adjusted by the company paying the amount which the premium hereon would purchase at the true age. Right of contest for other cause, as above, shall be held vested in the company only upon written notice with reason therefor being mailed or delivered within such first year to the address furnished by the insured.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—In event of lapse in payment of premium, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be re-instated at any time within five years after such lapse by the payment of all premiums that would otherwise have maintained the policy in force with interest at not exceeding six per cent per annum on past due premiums. After expiration of the days of grace acceptance of a past due premium by an authorized agent in the state, town or county in which the insured shall reside shall not serve to reinstate the life insurance portion of this policy until approval by the home office of the application for re-instatement, but shall re-instate the accident insurance as to bodily injuries thereafter sustained, and re-instate the sickness insurance as to disability from disease having its incipency ten days or more after acceptance of such premium.

OCCUPATION.—The life insurance section of this policy does not cover for any sum beyond the reserve thereon in the event of service in any army or navy in time of war (unless written permit be first obtained from the home office of this company); otherwise the insured has entire freedom of occupation after one year under the life insurance

Under the accident and sickness insurance, injury or sickness occurring while engaged in any occupation more hazardous than "present occupation" stated in the application, shall only entitle the insured to the proportion of the indemnities which the accident and sickness premium paid would purchase at such more hazardous occupation. The classification of accident and health risks referred to in this policy shall be according to the company's manual of risks as filed with the insurance department at or prior to the date of this policy.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—No restriction whatever is placed upon the residence or travel of the insured under the life insurance portion of this policy after one year from date, but under the accident or sickness insurance in the event of sickness contracted or suffered north of sixty degrees north latitude or outside the limits of Europe, Canada or United States territory, or contracted or suffered in the Philippine Islands, or in event of accident occurring north of sixty degrees north latitude, the classification as to hazard of occupation is doubled and the benefits in that event will be held to be one-half the accident or sickness benefits otherwise payable.

PREMIUMS.—The first and all other payments due the company hereon are payable in advance at the home office or else to a duly authorized agent holding the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president, general manager or the secretary of the company, and such payment in advance shall be a condition precedent to the validity of any claim under this policy. In event of lapse in payment of any premium or part of premium when due, all insurance hereunder shall immediately terminate, and all former payments hereon be forfeited to the company, except as modified only as to life insurance portion of policy by the table of "life insurance values," and by the provision for cessation of premiums in event of permanent disability. This policy itself shall be held sufficient notice of all premiums or other amounts due the company hereon, and if further notice is required by law the evidence customarily accepted at the home office that such notice was issued shall, without further proof of accuracy of address or delivery, be held adequate evidence of full compliance with such legal requirements. The accident and sickness portion of the premium for this policy shall be understood to be $54.50, and the premium for the permanent disability feature six dollars, both included in the premium stated on face of policy.

CANCELLATION OF ACCIDENT AND SICKNESS INSURANCE.—The insured shall have the privilege of canceling the accident and sickness portion of this policy by obtaining the company's endorsement hereon, upon giving written notice to the company during any annual premium days of grace, or the company may (without prejudice to any claim for any prior injury or illness) cancel such accident and sickness insurance at any time from the date of mailing or delivering to the insured of written notice, provided it shall deliver to the insured or mail to him by registered letter with due postage, and addressed to the insured's usual or last known address, a post office or express company money order, bank draft, or cash, for the pro rata unearned portion of the premium.

NOTICE TO COMPANY AND PROCEDURE UNDER ACCIDENT AND SICKNESS INSURANCE.—Written notice with full particulars and full name and address of insured must be given to the company at its home office in Seattle, Wash., within twenty days of happening of any accident or within ten days of the beginning of any disability under sickness insurance, except that where death ensues as a result of such accident, failure to notify the company immediately thereof, shall be held to constitute an admission that such death was not due to accidental causes. Proofs on the company's prescribed forms must be furnished the home office within three months of the time of dismemberment or loss of sight by accident or of termination of disability from accident or sickness, or termination of any period for which indemnity is due, and within fifteen months from the beginning through sickness of either permanent paralysis or entire loss of sight; and no legal proceedings shall be brought hereunder unless brought within one year of the time of dismemberment or loss of sight by accident or of termination of disability, or termination of any period for which disability indemnity is due under the policy, or within two years from the beginning through sickness of permanent paralysis or entire loss of sight, and legal proceedings shall in no event be begun within three months from date of filing final and completed proofs at the home office. Compliance with the provisions of this policy shall be a condition precedent to the validity of any claim hereunder and any claim not in conformity with such provisions shall be forfeited to the company.

LIMIT OF INDEMNITIES.—Payment for death shall terminate this policy, and if death shall result within ninety days after the loss of one or both hands, feet or eyes, the absolute limit of liability under this policy, including liability for death, shall be the amount payable for death, and payment for any cause of the amount of the face of this policy (with such additional amount, if any, as may be called for by the provision for annually increasing accident benefits) shall cancel this policy; except that in case of payments made for loss of sight or paralysis, or due under the policy for loss of sight or for loss of members by actual removal, which removal or loss of sight had occurred more than ninety days prior to date of death, or in case of monthly indemnity due according to the policy for total disability, such payments shall not serve to cancel the life insurance nor be deducted from the life insurance provided by this policy. Payment for the loss of one or more members or loss of sight or paralysis shall terminate the accident and sickness portions of this policy, and no claim shall be valid for more than one of the accident and sickness indemnities as the result of or the aggravation of, any one injury or illness, and claims for the results of either accident or sickness shall cancel all other accident or sickness claims covering the same period of time for which such claim is made, and no claim for accident or sickness indemnities shall be valid for the direct or indirect results of any operation performed because of any defect or condition existing at time of issue of this policy. Accident and sickness insurance terminates absolutely on failure to pay any premium due, and if not otherwise terminated, ceases either on termination of the policy, or at the first anniversary after cessation of annual premiums or at the end of twenty years or when the insured has attained the age of seventy years—whichever shall first occur; and subsequent premiums, if any, shall be correspondingly reduced. If accident or sickness insurance is carried by the insured in this or other companies or associations in excess of the money value of his time, unless the company has been so duly notified in writing, this company shall only be liable for the proportion of monthly indemnity herein provided which the money value of his time bears to the total insurance carried.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.—The terms of this contract are wholly expressed in this policy and application. No agent has any authority, and no notice to or knowledge of and no action by any agent, general agent or any other person shall be held to extend any time or effect any change or waiver whatsoever of any of the conditions of this policy unless endorsed hereon and signed by the president, a vice-president, general manager or the secretary of the company. No warranty made by the insured shall be used in defense against any claim unless contained in a written application, and all warranties made by the insured shall, in respect to the life insurance portion of this policy be, in the absence of fraud, considered representations and not warranties. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person or body in case of injury or sickness when and so often as it may require, including an autopsy in case of death. Failure to pay when due any note, or any instalment of such note, given by the insured in payment hereon (except as elsewhere modified under "loans" and in table of "life insurance values" when three full years' cash premiums have been paid) shall make it optional with the company at any time thereafter to cancel this policy from the time written notice thereof is delivered or mailed to the insured; and, in the event of such failure to pay, all former payments shall be forfeited to the company, and there shall be credited on any unpaid premium note any unearned portion of premium (pro rata for the unexpired portion of the period covered by the premium). All valid claims under this policy are payable immediately on receipt of due proofs. Claims in event of death of insured are payable to the beneficiary, but all other claims are payable to the insured. If any question should arise as to whom any of the proceeds of this policy are due, the company shall be held to have obtained a full and final release therefrom by payment of such proceeds into any court of competent jurisdiction.

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $368.50. AGE, 35.

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the payment of three hundred sixty-eight and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and of the annual payment of a like sum to the said company on or before the second day of January in every year until twenty full years premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of John Doe, of Milwaukee, Wis., (hereinafter called the insured), promises, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, to pay at its home office unto his wife, Jane Doe, beneficiary, subject to the right of the insured to change such beneficiary, the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any unpaid premium or premiums for the then current policy year and any other indebtedness on account of this policy; provided, however, that if there be no beneficiary or contingent beneficiary surviving the insured, such payment unless otherwise directed by the insured and endorsed by the company on this policy shall be made to the executors, administrators or assigns of the said insured.

Subject to the rights of any assignee and with or without reserving the right of revocation, the insured, (1) may designate a beneficiary or beneficiaries if none be named in this policy, or in the event of the death of any person designated; (2) and may designate a contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries whose interest shall be as expressed in, or by endorsement of the company on, this policy; (3) and may change any beneficiary or contingent beneficiary not irrevocably designated. If there be more than one beneficiary the interest of any deceased beneficiary shall pass to the survivor or survivors unless otherwise directed by the insured and endorsed by the company on this policy. No designation, direction, revocation or change shall be effective unless duly made in writing, and filed at the home office of the company (accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement) prior to or at the time this policy shall become payable.

No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment, and satisfactory proof of assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

This policy is issued and accepted by the parties in interest subject to the provisions stated on the second and third pages hereof which are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Milwaukee, Wis., has by its president and secretary executed this contract, this second day of January, 1912.

PROVISIONS.

1. POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor (a copy of which is attached to this policy when issued) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement of the insured shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder unless it is material and is contained in the said application.

2. AGENTS.—No agent of the company has any authority to waive forfeitures or to make, alter or discharge contracts.

3. RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy and any dividend additions thereto shall be in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent.

4. SUICIDE.—If within one year from the date hereof the insured shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, the liability of the company under this policy shall be limited to the amount of the reserve hereon.

5. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premium, provided, however, that if the age of the insured has been misstated, and the error shall not have been adjusted during his lifetime, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

6. PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums payable in advance, but payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, at the premium rates therefor now in use by the company, and change from the mode selected to either of the other of such modes may be made on any anniversary of the policy. No premium after the first shall be considered paid (except it be duly charged as a premium loan) unless a receipt, signed by the president or secretary of the company and countersigned by an agent authorized to receive such premium, shall be given therefor. Should default be made in the payment of any premium this policy shall cease and determine except as hereinafter otherwise provided.

7. GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which time the insurance shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of every premium except the first.

8. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy will be reinstated at any time within five years succeeding default in premium payment, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured and payment of all premium arrears with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with interest from that date.

9. DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—This policy while in force except as extended term insurance shall participate in the surplus of the company and the company will annually determine and account for the divisible surplus accruing hereon until all surplus found to have arisen from this policy shall have been returned.

The current dividend each year, at the option of the owner of the policy, may be: (a) withdrawn in cash; or (b) applied to the payment of premiums; or (c) applied to the purchase of non-forfeitable participating paid-up additions to the policy; or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy and withdrawable on any anniversary thereof, at such rate of interest not less than three per cent, credited annually, as may be determined by the company. Unless the owner of the policy shall otherwise elect in writing, dividends will be paid in cash.

10. PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—Whenever the reserve on this policy and existing dividend additions at the end of any policy year shall equal or exceed the net single premium for the attained age of the insured by the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent for an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, the company, at the written request of the insured, will endorse the policy (subject to any existing indebtedness) as participating paid-up insurance for such an amount as the said reserve will purchase at the premium named; or, whenever said reserve at the end of any policy year shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company upon a full and valid surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder will pay, as a matured endowment, the amount of said reserve less any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

11. NON-FORFEITURE AND LOAN FEATURES.—The following provisions relating to the non-forfeiture and loan features of this policy shall become operative only after payment of premiums for two full years, and no request, revocation or change in connection with such provisions shall become effective unless duly made in writing and filed at the home office of the company.

11a. BASIS OF SURRENDER VALUES.—The cash surrender value of this policy at any time prior to default in premium payment or within the thirty-one days of grace, will be the then reserve on the policy and any dividend additions then existing, less any indebtedness to the company on account thereof, and less also a surrender charge on the amount insured which during the fifth or any previous policy year shall be at the rate of ten dollars per $1000 of insurance and which thereafter shall diminish annually at the rate of one dollar per $1000 of insurance.

11b. PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon request of the insured, together with the assigns if any, made prior to default in premium payment, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked and not paid when or before due, will be charged as a premium loan with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the then cash surrender value (as stated in the preceding paragraph numbered 11a) shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time.

11c. EXTENDED AND PAID-UP INSURANCE OPTIONS.—Upon default in premium payment, unless the premium be paid within the thirty-one days of grace, the face amount of the policy and any existing dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company on account thereof, will be extended automatically as non-participating term insurance for such length of time from the date of such default as the then cash surrender value (as stated in the preceding paragraph numbered 11a) will provide at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent.

11d.—Upon request of the insured, together with the beneficiary and assigns if any, made prior to default in premium payment or within the thirty-one days of grace and including a waiver of the automatic extended term insurance feature, participating paid-up insurance will be secured upon default in premium payment, unless the premium be paid within the thirty-one days of grace, for such an amount as the then cash surrender value (as stated in the preceding paragraph numbered 11a, but exclusive of any indebtedness which shall remain as a lien against the policy) will provide at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent.

11e.—Change from automatic extended term insurance to paid-up insurance, or vice versa, may be made in accordance with their respective provisions, if the policy be not then in premium default for more than thirty-one days.

11f. CASH SURRENDER AND LOAN OPTIONS.—Upon request accompanied by a full and valid surrender of this policy and all claims thereunder, the company will pay the then cash surrender value thereof, which while the policy is in full force including the thirty-one days of grace shall be as stated in the preceding paragraph numbered 11a, and subsequent thereto shall be the full reserve on the form of insurance then in force less any indebtedness to the company on account thereof.

11g.—Upon request and the sole security of this policy properly assigned, the company, unless extended term insurance be in force, will advance at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, an amount which with the interest, and any unpaid premium or premiums, for the then current policy year shall equal, or at the option of the insured be less than the cash surrender value of the policy and of any existing dividend additions at the end of such year. Failure to pay either loan or interest shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness to the company on account thereof shall equal or exceed the cash surrender value of the policy and any existing dividend additions, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee.

11h.—The company shall have the right to defer payment of the cash value, or the making of the loan (unless for the purpose of paying renewal premiums on policies in this company), for a period not exceeding ninety days.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

This table is based upon a policy of $1000 free from indebtedness and without dividend additions. The values stated will apply pro rata to the amount of this policy and due allowance will be made for any dividend additions continued in force and also for any portion of a year's premium paid over and above the premiums for the full number of years indicated. Indebtedness will be adjusted as stated in the policy.

The values in the above table after the fourteenth policy year are equal to the full reserve, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three per cent. The basis upon which the table is constructed will apply if this policy be continued in force beyond the twenty-second year.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO SETTLEMENT (IN LIEU OF PAYMENT IN ONE SUM) WHEN THIS POLICY BECOMES PAYABLE.

The insured shall have the right, with the privilege of revocation and change, to elect in lieu of payment in one sum, either of Options "A," "B," or "C," or that the amount payable be distributed under two or more of said options; the beneficiary or beneficiaries when this policy becomes payable shall have the same right and privilege if no such election effected by the insured shall then be in force; the beneficiary or beneficiaries if of lawful age when this policy becomes payable, shall also (subject to the rights of any assignee, and if there then be living no contingent beneficiary designated by the insured) have the right, with the privilege of revocation and change, to designate a contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries whose interest shall be as expressed in, or endorsed by the company on, this policy; provided, however:

AMOUNT PAYABLE.—1st. The amount payable must equal or exceed $1000 for each option elected.

ENDORSEMENT.—2nd. No election, direction, designation, revocation or change shall be effective unless duly made in writing and filed at the home office of the company (accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement) prior to or at the time this policy shall become payable.

DECEASED BENEFICIARY.—3rd. If there be more than one beneficiary, the interest of any deceased beneficiary shall, upon satisfactory proof of such decease, pass to the survivor or survivors unless otherwise directed by the insured and endorsed by the company on this policy; except that under Option "C" only so many of the stipulated instalments, if any, as then remain unpaid, shall so pass.

RIGHTS OF CONTINGENT BENEFICIARY.—4th. Unless otherwise directed by the designator and so endorsed by the company on this policy, the contingent beneficiary or beneficiaries, if any, shall, upon satisfactory proof of the death of the last surviving beneficiary, succeed to all the interest, rights and privileges then possessed by such beneficiary; except that under Option "C" the interest of any contingent beneficiary shall be limited to such of the stipulated instalments, if any, as then remain unpaid.

LAST SURVIVING BENEFICIARY OR CONTINGENT BENEFICIARY.—5th. At the death of the last surviving beneficiary if there be no contingent beneficiary then living, or at the death of the last surviving contingent beneficiary occurring subsequently thereto, the amount retained by the company under Option "A" will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of such last surviving beneficiary or contingent beneficiary upon due surrender of this policy; under the same conditions, any of the instalments under Option "B," or any of the stipulated instalments under Option "C," then remaining unpaid, will be commuted upon the basis of three per cent compound interest and paid in one sum in like manner.

OPTION A.

ANNUITY EXTENSION.—To have the whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured retained by the company until the death of the last surviving beneficiary or contingent beneficiary, the company in the meantime to pay an annuity equal to three per cent of the amount so retained, the first annuity being payable one year after the death of the insured.

COMMUTATION.—At the time any annuity payment becomes due the beneficiary, if of lawful age, provided the company has not been specifically directed to the contrary by the insured, shall have the right, upon due surrender of this policy, to withdraw the amount so retained by the company, in addition to such annuity payment, and if said amount be so withdrawn the annuity payments shall cease.

OPTION B.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—To have the whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured paid in a specified number of annual instalments as per the first table below, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid, the first instalment being payable immediately.

CHANGE.—The number of the instalments may be changed by the insured at any time prior to the payment of the first instalment.

COMMUTATION.—The instalments remaining unpaid will be commuted upon the basis of three per cent compound interest, and paid in one sum, at any time when an instalment is due, upon written request of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, if of lawful age, and due surrender of this policy, provided the company has not been specifically directed to the contrary by the insured.

OPTION C.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—To have the whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured converted into an immediate life annuity to the beneficiary at the then published rate of the company; or, paid in either 10, 15, 20 or 25 stipulated annual instalments of an amount corresponding in the table below to the number of instalments selected and to the age of the beneficiary at the date of the death of the insured, provided that if the beneficiary shall survive to receive the number of instalments selected, then similar instalments shall be continued throughout the lifetime of the beneficiary. The table shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid, the first instalment being payable immediately.

PRO-RATA SHARE.—If there be more than one beneficiary the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured and endorsed by the company on this policy, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined in accordance with the table below for the age attained.

PARTICIPATION.—For ages of beneficiaries under 10 years the instalments will be the same as for age 10. All payments under Options "A" and "B," and the stipulated payments under Option "C," will be increased by such annual dividends as may be apportioned by the company.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is understood and agreed (1) that if the amount of the premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid at the time of making this application there shall be no liability on the part of the said company under this application unless nor until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me and the first premium thereon actually paid during my lifetime; and (2) that if the amount of such premium is paid to the said company's agent at the time of making this application the insurance (subject to the provisions of the said company's regular form of policy for the plan applied for) shall be effective from the date of my medical examination therefor and such a policy shall be issued and delivered to me or my legal representatives, provided the said company in its judgment shall be satisfied as to my insurability, on the plan applied for, on the date of such medical examination; and (3) that if said company shall not be so satisfied the amount of the premium paid shall be returned.

TEN YEAR TERM POLICY—CONVERTIBLE.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $122.40. AGE, 35.
The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in consideration of the payment of one hundred twenty-two and ⁴⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and of the annual payment of a like sum to the said company, on or before the twentieth day of February in every year, for ten years from the date of this policy, or until the prior death of John Doe, of Milwaukee, Wis., (hereinafter called the insured), promises, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, if such death shall occur within said ten years, to pay at its home office unto his wife, Jane Doe, beneficiary, subject to the right of the insured to change such beneficiary the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any unpaid premium or premiums for the then current policy year; provided, however, that if there be no beneficiary or contingent beneficiary surviving the insured, such payment unless otherwise directed by the insured and endorsed by the company on this policy shall be made to the executors, administrators or assigns of the said insured.

For balance of face of policy and provisions 1 to 7, see preceding policy.

8. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy will be reinstated at any time within five years succeeding default in premium payment, but not later than ten years from the date hereof, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured and payment of all premium arrears with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

9. DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—This policy while in force shall participate in the surplus of the company and the company will annually determine and account for the divisible surplus accruing hereon until all surplus found to have arisen from this policy shall have been returned. The current dividend each year will be paid in cash.

10. CHANGE TO ANOTHER FORM.—Within seven years from its date, and upon written request made while the insurance is in force, this policy may be converted without medical examination to any form of life or endowment insurance issued by the company; or, if this policy be for $2000 or more, any part thereof not less than $1000 may be so converted provided the amount if any remaining in force shall equal or exceed $1000; but in either case the conversion shall be subject to the following conditions:

10 a. The new insurance shall not exceed the amount of this policy and this policy must be duly surrendered or reduced.

10 b. The new policy will be issued as of the date of this policy, upon a form now in use, and the premium shall conform to the company's present published rate for the present age of the insured, and the difference in premiums for the amount of insurance converted shall be paid with interest at five per cent per annum; or

10 c. At the option of the insured, if then not more than sixty years of age, the new policy will be issued as of the date of the conversion upon a form then in use by the company and with premium conforming to its rates then in use for the attained age of the insured.

For provisions relating to settlement see preceding form.

Maximum amount written on one life, $35,000.

Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $353. AGE, 35.

Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, Minneapolis, Minn., hereby insures the life of John Doe (hereinafter known as the insured), and upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured, agrees to pay at its home office in the city of Minneapolis, ten thousand dollars to Jane Doe, wife (hereinafter known as the beneficiary), if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured, as provided upon the second page hereof.

This agreement is made in consideration of the application therefor, which is made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred and fifty-three dollars, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and of a like payment thereafter on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, in each and every year until premiums for twenty complete years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

The privileges and conditions stated on the following pages hereof are made a part of this contract.

Minneapolis, Minn., the twenty-ninth day of January, 1913.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

1. PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company in Minneapolis, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of the company, and countersigned by such agent. Payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the period for which it is paid, except as herein provided.

2. GRACE.—Grace of thirty-one days, during which the insurance will continue in force, will be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first.

3. POLICY CONTAINS ENTIRE CONTRACT.—Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts, to waive any provisions thereof, to extend this insurance, to grant permits, or to bind the company in any way. It is agreed that this policy shall constitute the entire contract between both parties, and that all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and that no such statement shall void the policy, unless it is contained in the written application therefor, copy of which is attached when issued.

4. VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

5. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to any existing assignment of this policy, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, provided, in making application for the policy the right of revocation has been reserved. If any beneficiary, under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, shall die before the insured, and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall revert to the insured, the insured's legal representatives or assigns.

6. PLACE OF CONTRACT.—No action at law, or suit in equity shall be commenced or maintained hereon, nor recovery had, unless such action or suit is commenced within five years from the date when such right of action accrues.

7. RESTRICTIONS WAIVED.—This policy is absolutely free of conditions as to residence, occupation and travel. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service.

8. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium.

9. AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. The company will admit age at any time upon satisfactory proof.

10. SUICIDE.—In event of the death of the insured, within one year from the date hereof, by his or her own hand, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be the amount of the premiums paid.

11. ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignments of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless filed at the home office of the company. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

12. LOAN.—At any time after three years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force, the company will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum not exceeding the loan value as stated in the table on the third page hereof, increased by the reserve upon dividend additions to this policy, if any. The granting of a loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding sixty days after the application therefor is made. Interest on such loan shall be at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, and shall be payable in advance to the end of the then current policy year, and annually in advance thereafter. The company will deduct from such loan, interest on the loan to the end of the current policy year, any existing indebtedness on the policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance, or to pay interest, shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and if any, of the assignee of record at the home office of the company.

13. SURRENDER VALUE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if any subsequent premium be not paid, the insured may, within one month after the unpaid premium shall have become due, select one of the following options: (a) To surrender the policy for its cash value; or (b) to have the policy endorsed for non-participating, paid-up insurance of a reduced amount, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or (c) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default as extended term insurance for the face amount of the policy less any indebtedness, but without further participation or right to loans. The cash value, paid-up value, and period of extended insurance available if the policy is without dividend additions or indebtedness, are shown in the table on the third page hereof. The reserve on dividend additions, if any, shall be added to the cash value or used to increase the amount of paid-up insurance or to extend the period of term insurance. If there is any indebtedness on account of the policy, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the cash surrender value, or the amount of paid-up insurance shall be such as the cash surrender value less the indebtedness will purchase according to the American Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, or the extended insurance shall be for the amount of the face of the policy less such indebtedness, and for such time as the cash value less all indebtedness will extend the same according to the American Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The company may defer the payment of a cash surrender value for not more than sixty days after the application therefor is made.

14. AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—After three years' premiums have been paid, if any subsequent premium remains unpaid, and a surrender value is not selected within one month as above provided, the policy will be automatically continued under surrender value option (c), as extended term insurance.

15. INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, and any part of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid at the death of the insured, will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

16. REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—If this contract is surrendered, automatically or otherwise, for either a paid-up policy or extended insurance, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of arrears of premium with interest. Any indebtedness charged against the contract at the time of surrender shall continue in full against the reinstated policy.

17. PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and beginning at the end of the second policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon.

18. DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—The current dividend each year, at the option of the insured, may be: (first) drawn in cash; or (second) left to accumulate, with interest, to the credit of the policy and payable at the maturity of the policy but withdrawable on any anniversary. The rate of interest shall be declared annually by the company, but shall in no event be less than three and one-half per cent; or (third) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (fourth) applied to the purchase of pure endowment additions to the policy; or (fifth) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy. If this option is originally selected and followed continuously, evidence of good health will not be required, but a change to the fifth option after another option has been used will be subject to satisfactory evidence of insurability. Unless the insured shall select otherwise within three months after the mailing of notice requiring such election, dividends shall be paid in cash.

19. MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The amount due hereon shall be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. The insured, or after the insured's death the beneficiary, by written notice to the company at its home office, may elect to have the total sum payable under this policy, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) by payment of an annuity equal to three and one-half per cent of such total sum, at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said total sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns; or (2) by payment of equal annual instalments at the beginning of each year for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total sum; or (3) by payment of equal annual instalments payable at the end of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. Unless otherwise specified by the insured or the beneficiary, the agreement for the payment of an annuity or instalments may be surrendered at any time for the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as the following tables: Provided, that no such surrender and commutation shall be made under (3) unless the good health of the beneficiary is shown to the satisfaction of the company. Under the above explanation of the first mode of settlement and in the following tables illustrating the second and third modes of settlement, values are based on an assumed interest earning of three and one-half per cent which rate is guaranteed as a minimum. If in any year the company should declare on funds held by it under such modes of settlement a greater rate of interest, the sums payable shall be increased accordingly.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS—OPTION (2).

Figures showing the loan and surrender values after twenty years will be supplied upon application. These values are the full legal reserve held to the credit of the policy, without deduction of any kind.

In all cases where default shall occur after three years' premiums have been paid, and a portion of any further premium shall have been paid, the insured shall receive proportionate intermediary values corresponding to the fraction of the year's premiums paid.

NOTICE.—The insured is hereby notified that by virtue of his policy he is a member of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, and that the annual meetings of said company are held at its home office on the second Monday of February in each year at ten o'clock a. m.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I hereby apply to the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, of Minneapolis, Minn., for $10,000 insurance and as a consideration therefor I hereby declare that all statements and answers as written or printed herein, and in Part 2 of this application, are full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not and agree that every such statement and answer is material to the risk. It is understood and agreed (1) that if the amount of the premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid in cash at the time of making this application there shall be no liability on the part of the said company under this application until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me and the first premium thereon actually paid during my lifetime; and (2) that if the amount of such premium is paid in cash to the said company's agent at the time of making this application the insurance (subject to the provisions of the said company's regular form of policy for the plan applied for) shall be effective from the date of my medical examination therefor and such a policy shall be issued and delivered to me or my legal representatives, provided the said company in its judgment shall be satisfied as to my insurability, on the plan applied for, on the date of such medical examination and (3) that if said company shall not be so satisfied the amount of the premium paid shall be returned.

PART II.—I hereby declare that the written answers to the above questions are my answers and that they are each full, complete and true; and I agree that they shall form a part of any contract of insurance issued by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company on my life.

Occidental Life Insurance Co.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—DEFERRED DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $273.80. AGE, 35.

Occidental Life Insurance Company, Los Angeles, Cal., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, herein called the face amount, at the home office of the company, in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured in the manner hereinafter provided, immediately upon receipt at said home office of due proofs of the death during the continuance of the policy of John Doe, the insured.

CONSIDERATION: This policy is issued in consideration of the written and printed application therefor, which is made a part of this contract, and the sum of two hundred and seventy-three and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, constituting payment for the term expiring the first day of January, 1917, and will be renewed upon the further payment of a like sum on said day and thereafter on the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this policy, until the death of the insured. This policy shall be absolutely incontestable, after one year from the date of issue, for any cause except non-payment of premium. The benefits and provisions stated on the second and third pages of this policy are made a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto.

In witness whereof, the Occidental Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its proper officers at the home office of the company in the city of Los Angeles, California, to take effect as of the first day of January, 1916.

PARTICIPATION IN PROFITS.—This policy is on the Deferred Dividend plan and participates in the profits of the company. If the policy is in full force at the end of twenty years from the date on which it takes effect, which is the end of the deferred dividend period, the company will apportion to the policy its share of the profits, and the insured shall then have the option of one of the following modes of settlement: (1) Draw profits in cash, and continue the policy. (2) Convert profits in an annual income for life, and continue the policy. (3) Convert profits into paid-up additional insurance, and continue the policy. (4) Surrender policy for its entire cash value and profits. (5) Convert entire cash value and profits into an annual income for life. (6) Convert entire cash value and profits into non-participating paid-up insurance. (Options 3 and 6 are subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.) If the policy is continued in force beyond the deferred dividend period, profits will be apportioned annually thereafter. If the company does not receive from the insured a written selection of one of the above options before the date when the apportionment is due, or within three months thereafter, the profits will be converted into an annual income for life as provided in the second option.

An extension of this table covering later policy years will be furnished on application to the home office.

THIS POLICY IS NON-FORFEITABLE FROM DATE OF ISSUE, AS FOLLOWS: If any premium after the first be not paid when due, this policy will continue in force from date of default for the term of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge on the overdue premium at the rate of six per cent. per annum. If the death of the insured occurs during said term of thirty-one days the current year's premium if unpaid will be considered an indebtedness hereunder. At the end of any policy year if this policy be then in full force, or within three months from default in payment of premium, provided that not less than two years' premiums have been paid in full, the following options are available: (1) To surrender the policy to the company for the cash value, as shown in column 1 of the table below, the policy to be legally surrendered to the company. (2) To exchange the policy for a fully paid-up non-participating policy for the amount shown in column 2 of the table below. This option will be granted upon the written request of the insured. (3) To exchange the policy for a non-participating paid-up term insurance, effective from date of default for the face amount for the period shown in column 3 of the table below. If option 1 or 2 has not been selected within three months from date of default, option 3 will become automatically effective without the action of the insured.

The foregoing non-forfeiture provisions and table of values are based upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. If there is an indebtedness it will be deducted from the cash value, and from the amount of insurance extended under Option 3, and the period of extended insurance under Option 3, and the amount of paid-up insurance under Option 2 will be such as the cash value less the amount of the indebtedness will purchase at the attained age of the insured at the net single premium based on the reserve basis of the policy.

LOANS.—Cash loans may be obtained on the sole security of this policy at any time after premiums have been paid in cash for three full years, if there is no default in payment of premiums. This policy shall be pledged as collateral security for such loans, in accordance with the terms contained in the company's form of policy loan agreement then in use. The maximum amount which the company will loan at any time is the value stated in column 1 of the table opposite. Such value includes loans then unpaid. Interest will be at the rate not to exceed six per cent. per annum, payable in advance to the next anniversary of the policy, and in advance on that date and annually thereafter.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If written request from the insured on the company's form has been received at the home office while this policy is in full force, the company will advance and charge up as a loan against this policy any and all premiums becoming due hereon, and remaining unpaid on the thirty-first day following date of default, together with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent. per annum in advance to the end of the current policy year; provided, that the company will not so advance and charge up a premium, if the amount thereof and interest thereon, as aforesaid, together with any outstanding indebtedness hereon to the company, shall exceed the cash value of this policy at the end of the period which such premium, if advanced or paid, would cover. Interest on any such loan shall, for subsequent policy years, be payable annually in advance at a rate not to exceed six per cent. per annum. Such advancing and charging up of premiums will be discontinued at any time on receipt at the home office of the insured's written request therefor. Premium loans hereon shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan granted hereon by the company under the cash loan privilege stated above. While this policy is thus carried in force, the insured may, without medical examination, resume payment of premiums.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time, and from time to time, provided this policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by sending to the company, at the home office, a written notice accompanied by this policy. Such change will take effect only when endorsed on this policy by the company. The insured may however, declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable; in which case, the insured shall not have the right to change the beneficiary during the lifetime of such irrevocably designated beneficiary. If any beneficiary or irrevocably designated beneficiary die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be in writing, and a duplicate thereof filed at the home office of the company, and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The premiums on this policy are always considered as payable annually in advance. The insured, however, in this application for the policy, or at any time by written agreement signed by himself and the company, may arrange to pay the premiums after the first year either annually or by semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof, but the payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not have the effect to continue this policy in full force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment is payable. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company, unless otherwise provided, and in any case only in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by the person to whom payment is made. Where any premium remains unpaid after its due date such due date is the date of default.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by reason of default in payment of any premium, it may be reinstated at any time within five years, upon the insured furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and upon payment of all overdue premiums, and upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness under the policy at the date of default, with interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

This policy covers, from the date of the insurance thereunder takes effect, death of the insured occurring in any part of the world or in any occupation, or from any cause, but in case of death by self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from date of issue the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the premiums paid on this policy.

This contract cannot be varied or altered, or its applications or conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by written agreement of the company, signed by two of the following officers, viz.: The president, a vice-president, secretary and actuary. If the age of the insured is incorrectly stated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. The reserve basis used in computing the premiums and values under this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent. yearly. The first year's insurance under the policy shall be term insurance. Any indebtedness to the company, including any unpaid premiums or instalments required to complete the payments for the current policy year in which death occurs, will be deducted in any settlement of this contract or of any benefit hereunder. In any apportionment of distribution of profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for said apportionment or distribution and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to this policy shall be conclusive upon the insured and upon all parties having or claiming any interest under this policy.

The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFITS.—Attached to and made a part of Policy No. Specimen, insuring John Doe.

A. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—If while this policy is in full force and without default in the payment of any premium the company receives due proof that the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is, and will be presumably, thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company shall waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the insured's said disability. In making any settlement under this policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premiums so waived, and the loan and cash surrender values provided for in the policy shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums so waived had been paid in cash.

PROVISION FOR DISABILITY OCCURRING AFTER AGE SIXTY.—Under all the conditions aforesaid, except that the insured shall have attained the age of sixty years before becoming disabled, the company shall waive payment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability, but the face amount of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived premium, and the loan and cash surrender values in the policy shall be based upon said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premiums for such reduced amount of insurance had been duly paid.

(B) INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS.—In addition to waiving payment of premiums as aforesaid, if such disability shall have occurred before the insured attained the age of sixty years, the company, one year after said proof of such disability, shall pay to the insured one-tenth of the face amount of the policy and a like amount in each insurance year thereafter during the continuance of such disability prior to the maturity of the policy; the policy must be returned to the company for the endorsement thereon of each payment. At the insured's option any such payment or payments may be left with the company to accumulate until the maturity of the policy at such rate of interest as the company may declare on funds so held by it but at a rate not less than three and one-half per cent, compounded annually. Each instalment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force, and the loan and cash surrender values provided in the policy shall be reduced proportionately to the reduced amount insured. If at the time when any such instalment becomes payable there shall be an indebtedness on the policy in excess of the cash surrender value of the reduced amount of insurance the company shall apply such part of the instalment as may be necessary to reduce the indebtedness to the amount secured by such cash surrender value. Whenever the total amount of said instalments, together with the amount of any remaining indebtedness to the company, shall equal the face amount of the policy, plus any paid-up dividend additions, unpaid dividends and dividends left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, then the company's obligations under the policy shall thereby be fully satisfied and discharged without further action.

(C) RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Should the company accept under this policy proofs of disability, it may nevertheless at any time thereafter, and from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability and upon failure to furnish such proof, or, if it appears that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived and no further instalment payments will be made by the company. But if the amount of the insurance shall then have been reduced under any of the foregoing provisions such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy, and the premiums thereafter falling due will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance, and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this section.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby apply for a policy of insurance in the Occidental Life Insurance Company, to be issued in accordance with the particulars of the adjoining memorandum and based upon the warranties and agreements hereafter made in writing to the company. Inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of the company in the city of Los Angeles have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall be issued upon this application, and as they act on the written statements, answers and agreements contained in my application, it is hereby agreed that no statements, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding upon the company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing and presented to the officers of the company at the home office in this application. I hereby declare and warrant that all my statements and answers herein contained, and those to be given by me in response to the questions asked me by the medical examiner in connection herewith, are full, complete and true.

I agree on behalf of myself and of any other person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: (1) That any policy issued upon this application shall at all times and places be construed to be a contract made in and under the laws of the State of California. (2) That any policy issued upon this application shall be placed in the dividend class corresponding with the value as to longevity which the company may put on my life, and that in any distribution of the surplus or apportionment of profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such apportionment and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued upon this application, shall be conclusive upon the insured under said policy, and upon all having or claiming any interest thereunder. (3) That the insurance during the first year succeeding the date of any policy which may be issued hereunder shall be term insurance, and thereafter as for a policy issued at the end of said term. (4) That if the first premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid in cash at the time of making this application, the insurance shall not take effect unless the policy is delivered to me during my lifetime and good health, and that, unless otherwise agreed in writing, the policy shall then relate back to and take effect as of the date thereof. (5) That any physician may disclose any knowledge or information concerning any question arising under any of my statements or answers or under the contract of insurance, all provisions of law to the contrary being hereby expressly waived. (6) I agree to submit without delay to a medical examination by an authorized medical examiner of the company.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Ohio State Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE, PREMIUM ENDOWMENT— NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348.60. AGE, 35.

The Ohio State Life Insurance Company, Columbus, O., in consideration of the representations made in the application herefor and of the payment of (1. PREMIUM) three hundred, forty-eight and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, first annual premium in advance, insures for the term of one year the life of (2. INSURED) John Doe, of Columbus, county of Columbus, State of Ohio, hereinafter called the insured, in the amount of (3. AMOUNT) ten thousand dollars, payable at the home office of the company in Columbus, O., less any indebtedness to the company, on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured to (4. BENEFICIARY) Mary Doe, wife of the insured, hereinafter called the beneficiary; or, in event of the beneficiary's prior death, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, and a modified preliminary term reserve is credited hereon the first year according to law.

5. RENEWAL.—In further consideration of the first year's premium, this policy may be renewed at and after the expiration of the first year as a non-participating twenty payment life policy for the same amount by the payment of three hundred forty-eight and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars on the first day of March, 1911, and annually thereafter until twenty full annual premiums have been paid from the date of this policy.

6. CONTRACT.—This policy together with the application herefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, shall constitute the entire contract.

On the first day of March, 1930, provided that this policy be then in force and there be no indebtedness to the company against this policy, the insured shall have the right to choose one of the following settlements: (1) To receive on the surrender of this policy the sum of $6972 in cash, being the total of annual premiums paid. (2) To receive on the surrender of this policy a life annuity of $570, the amount which the cash value of this policy will purchase. (3) To receive the sum of $1310.50 in cash, and to continue this policy as a paid-up non-participating life policy for its face value. (4) To receive on the surrender of this policy a new paid-up non-participating life policy for $12,200.

7. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time, if this policy is not assigned, substitute another beneficiary for the one herein named, provided that duplicate copies of the deed of substitution shall be sent to the company at its home office, one copy to be retained by the company and one to be attached to the policy with the endorsement of the company; however, the validity of any substitution is not warranted by the company.

8. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Each premium is due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Columbus, Ohio, but premiums may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president or the secretary, and countersigned by the agent. The unpaid portion of any full annual premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy. The company will accept payment of premium in advance, at other times than as stated above, as follows: Semi-annually, $181.30; quarterly, $92.40. Failure to pay any of the first three years' premiums, or any note given for any part thereof, will void this policy and forfeit all premiums to the company.

9. GRACE.—After this policy has been in force one year, a grace of one month will be allowed in payment of any subsequent premium, during which month the insurance shall continue in force, and the unpaid premium shall remain an indebtedness due the company.

10. AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if any premium hereon shall not be paid within one month after due, the company shall charge the annual premium against this policy as a loan at five per cent interest from the time when due, if the respective loan value be sufficient to cover such advance in addition to existing indebtedness including accrued interest thereon; if the respective loan value be insufficient to cover the entire premium when due, the company shall apply the same to pay the premium for a shorter period but not for less than one quarter of the year. Notice of such advance shall be mailed the insured, and at any time, while the policy is thus sustained in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed.

11. CONDITIONS.—This policy shall be null and void, except for the amount of premium paid, if the insured shall die within one year by self-destruction, whether sane or insane; or if the insured shall at any time engage in military or naval service in time of war (the militia not in actual service excepted), unless a special written permit therefor has been obtained from the company.

12. INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year this policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, or for violation of the condition relating to military and naval service in time of war; and except as otherwise provided in the application. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

13. MISTAKE IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

14. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

15. VALUES.—After three full years' premiums have been paid in cash, the reserve on this policy at date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, less a surrender charge in no case of more than two and one-half per cent of the amount of the insurance, and less any indebtedness against this policy, may be used, at the option of the insured, in any one of the ways set forth in the following tables:

Figures for other years computed on the same basis will be furnished on request.

INDEBTEDNESS.—If there be any indebtedness against this policy, the cash value and the loan value shall be reduced thereby; the paid-up value shall be reduced proportionately; and the extended insurance shall be for the face value of the policy less the indebtedness, and shall be such as said reduced cash value will provide, computed according to the method set forth in the first paragraph of article 15.

CASH.—On surrender of this policy before the expiration of the month of grace, the company will pay its cash value; provided, however, that such payment may be deferred for a period of three months. (Table 1.)

LOAN.—On the sole security of this policy and the proper assignment hereof the company will loan, at five per cent interest payable annually in advance on the anniversary of the policy, an amount equal to its loan value, less the unpaid balance of the current year's premium, if any. Failure to repay principal or interest shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the insured and the assignee, if any. However, such loan may be deferred for a period of three months. (Table 2.)

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—On written request by the insured and surrender of this policy before the expiration of the month of grace, a non-participating policy for the amount of paid-up insurance will be issued; the sum applicable to the purchase of paid-up insurance being more than sufficient to pay for the amount as specified, the excess shall be payable immediately in cash. (Table 3.)

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—On written request by the insured, this policy will be continued as non-participating term insurance, from the date to which premiums have been paid in cash, without further payment of premiums; the sum applicable to the purchase of term insurance being more than sufficient to pay for the time as specified, the excess shall be payable immediately in cash. (Table 4.)

16. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy will be reinstated at any time within five years from the date of lapse, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of premium arrears with five per cent interest per annum compounded, and the payment of any other indebtedness due the company with accumulated interest.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, while this policy is in force and is not assignee, may elect by written notice to the company at its home office, that the proceeds of the policy shall be paid the beneficiary in annual instalments according to the tables of instalment options herein provided. If the insured elects that the proceeds of this policy shall be paid in instalments, the beneficiary will be denied the right to assign or discount unpaid instalments, unless the consent of the insured, while living, is endorsed on the policy by the president or the secretary of the company. Whatever option may be chosen the first instalment becomes due immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, this policy being then in force. In case of the death of the beneficiary before the payment of the total number of instalments due hereunder, the company will pay the then present cash value of unpaid instalments to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. The instalment privilege shall not be operative, if the amount payable on this policy is less than one thousand dollars. The tables given with the different options are on the basis of equal annual instalments for each one thousand dollars of insurance.

FIRST OPTION.—After the death of the insured the proceeds will be paid in any specified number of instalments as shown in the table for the first option.

TABLE FOR THE FIRST OPTION.

Number of instalments.	5	10	15	20	25	30
Amount of each.	$212	$114	$81	$65	$56	$49

SECOND OPTION.—The proceeds will be paid in instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the table for the second option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured. In case of the death of the beneficiary before twenty instalments have been paid, the company will pay the then present cash value of the remainder of the twenty instalments to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

THIRD OPTION.—The proceeds will be paid in instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the table for the third option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—This application, which I make to the Ohio State Life Insurance Company, of Columbus, O., is the basis and a part of the proposed contract of insurance. I hereby declare and agree, on behalf of myself, and of any person having or claiming any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: (1) That the policy shall not be binding upon the company, unless it has been delivered to me during my good health and the amount of the first premium payment thereon has been made to the company or its duly authorized agent. (2) That all provisions of law, preventing or excusing any physician or other person from disclosing any and all information which he has acquired in serving me, are hereby expressly waived. (3) That death within one year from the date of the policy by my own hand or act, whether sane or insane, shall render the policy null and void. (4) That blank proofs of death may be furnished to my beneficiary or representative without incurring any liability or waiving any rights on the part of the company. (5) That all statements and answers written in this application, as well as those to be made to the medical examiner in continuation hereof, are declared to be true and complete; that no material facts have been suppressed; and that the same are offered to the company as a consideration for the issuance of the policy.

PART II.—I hereby declare that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, I am in sound physical condition and a proper subject for life insurance.

Oklahoma National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING— DISABILITY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $304.40. AGE, 35.

The Oklahoma National Life Insurance Company of Oklahoma City, U. S. A., will pay $10,000 (ten thousand dollars) at its home office in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma to Mary Anna Russell (wife), or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured, or if no designated beneficiary survive, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, upon receipt at its said home office of due proof of the claimant's right and of the death of William Henry Russell.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—If, at any time before the insured shall attain the age of sixty years and when all accrued premiums upon this policy shall have been duly paid, he shall furnish to the company, at its home office, proof satisfactory to it that by reason of disease or bodily injury not self-inflicted or occurring in consequence of his own violation of law or indulgence in intoxicating drinks, he is permanently, continuously and wholly disabled from performing gainful work, the company will pay in his behalf all premiums accruing upon this policy during the continuance of such disability; conditioned, that the insured shall furnish to the company at any time upon demand therefor, proof satisfactory to it of the continuance of such disability, and upon his failure to do so the company's obligation to pay in his behalf premiums thereafter accruing shall cease. Payments so made will not be charged either as a lien upon this policy or as an obligation of the insured.

LOSS OF MEMBER'S BENEFIT.—Should the insured suffer an injury through external, violent and accidental means, not self-inflicted or occurring in consequence of his own violation of law or indulgence in intoxicating drinks, resulting within ninety days from the date of such accident in the severance of both hands at or above the wrist, or the severance of both feet at or above the ankle, or the severance of one hand and one foot as aforesaid, or the total loss of the sight of both eyes, or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of one hand or foot as aforesaid, the insured shall be deemed totally disabled and $10,000, the amount insured by this policy, less indebtedness hereon, shall be payable to the insured upon due proof of such disability and the surrender of this policy for cancellation.

This policy is unrestricted as to travel, residence and occupation of the insured, in time of peace or war.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (without interest charge) will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums, during which period this policy will remain in force.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force, the company will loan to the insured (or to the owner of the policy, if assigned,) upon the execution of a proper loan agreement and assignment of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which with any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year shall not exceed the cash value at the end of such policy year; the policy must be deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company; interest shall be at a rate not greater than six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter; if interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value hereof, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any.

THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE, AS FOLLOWS:—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, this policy subject to the terms and provisions hereinafter contained, will automatically continue for its face amount as term insurance, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium or premium note, but without the right to loan or surrender values; or within one month from the date of such default it may be surrendered to the company at its home office for a paid-up life policy, or for its cash value. The cash value shall equal the reserve hereon at date of default, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the face amount of this policy, and less any indebtedness hereon to the company. The term of continued term insurance, also the amount of paid-up life policy, shall be such as the cash value applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, at date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum will purchase, fractions of a month and fractions of a dollar of insurance omitted.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED VALUES.—The values in this table are computed upon the assumption that all premiums due prior to the end of the years designated below are paid and that there is no indebtedness on this policy.

Values for later years will be computed upon the basis of the full reserve on this policy and will be furnished upon request.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of default in the payment of any renewal premium or premium note when due, the company will reinstate this policy, if not previously surrendered, at any time upon written application of the insured to the company at its home office, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of premium arrears with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum and the payment or reinstatement, with interest at a like rate, of any indebtedness existing at the date of default.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance in force of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the indorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After this policy shall have been in force one full year, the second annual premium having been duly paid, it shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premium.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) Only the president, vice-president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing), to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above. (2) If the age of the insured is misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the correct age of the insured. (3) This policy and any and all insurance allowed under or by virtue hereof shall be non-participating and shall not participate in the company's surplus nor in any profit or dividend earned or apportioned by the company. (4) Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one copy to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. (5) This policy is payable at the home office of the company, in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any payment or payments or in any settlement under this policy. In any settlement of this policy as a death claim, the company shall be entitled to deduct any indebtedness owing to it upon the policy, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the full policy year current at the date of the death of the insured. If death occur within the period of grace the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. (6) This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto), constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. (7) If, within the first insurance year and before the second annual premium shall have been paid hereon, the insured shall die from self-destruction, sanely or insanelly, the company shall not be liable under this policy, but it will return the premiums actually received hereon, in cash, by paying the same to the beneficiary. (8) The reserves on this policy are and shall be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum according to the modified preliminary term standard, based on the twenty-payment life as now prescribed by the law of Oklahoma.

PREMIUMS.—(1) This policy is issued in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment at or before its delivery of a premium of three hundred four dollars and forty cents, for term insurance, for the period ending one year from its date, together with the amount necessary to provide the minimum reserve required by law, if any, and in consideration of the payment in advance on or before the tenth day of each March of a renewal premium of three hundred four dollars and forty cents until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured. (2) All premiums are payable at the company's home office, but may be paid elsewhere to a duly authorized agent in exchange for the company's receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated. (3) The company will accept payment of any premium after the first, within one calendar month after the date of its maturity without interest as specified in the policy, and during such month of grace the policy shall remain in force. (4) Failure to pay any premium or any note or interest thereon, given for any premium or in extension of any premium, in full within the time allowed for such payment, by the policy or the note, shall cause all insurance hereunder to cease and determine ipso facto and immediately, save as herein otherwise provided. Any annual premium after the first may be paid in semi-annual instalments of $158.30 each, or in quarterly instalments of $80.70 each, but in no event shall this policy continue in force for a period longer than that covered by the instalments so paid, save as otherwise herein provided, and any provision relating to the payment or non-payment of any premium shall also apply to the payment or non-payment of any instalment premium.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy if it is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as hereinbefore provided, to payment by instalments, as stated below. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum, but no selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured, if not assigned. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. No designated beneficiary shall have the right to assign or commute any periodical instalment before its maturity.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly.

The following tables are based on a policy the proceeds of which are $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

In witness whereof, The Oklahoma National Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at Oklahoma City, U. S. A., as of the tenth day of March, 1916.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of every person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued in consequence of this application, I hereby represent and agree: (1) That all statements and answers contained in either section of this application are full, complete and true as therein written; (2) that this application comprising two sections, and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application; (3) that no policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me, and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company, all during my life and good health, but when the policy shall be so delivered and paid it shall relate back to its date and the first insurance year shall begin with the date of the policy; (4) that all provisions of law prohibiting or exempting physicians and surgeons from testifying or disclosing information are waived in favor of the company; (5) that I will not die within the first insurance year, nor before the second annual premium shall have been paid hereon, from self-destruction, sane or insane.

Old Colony Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT ENDOWMENT AT 85—NON-PARTICIPATING.
 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $311.10. AGE, 35.

Old Colony Life Insurance Company, Chicago, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount hereof, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, to Mary Doe (wife), beneficiary, subject to the provisions of this policy.

ENDOWMENT PROVISION.—If the insured is living and this policy in full force at the end of its endowment period, which is the end of the policy year falling nearest age eighty-five of the insured, the face amount hereof will become payable and be paid to the insured, instead of to the beneficiary.

LIFE INCOME FOR THE INSURED.—In lieu of the foregoing cash settlement at the end of the endowment period hereof, the company will grant the insured, as annuitant, a guaranteed cash income for life of $1836.20 payable annually; or of $155.50 payable monthly, the first payment of said income being due at the end of said period.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS FOR THE BENEFICIARY AND THE INSURED.—The proceeds of this policy as a death claim (payable to the beneficiary) or as an endowment or cash surrender value (payable to the insured) may be left with the company for the purpose of providing for the person entitled thereto, as annuitant, an annual or monthly income, in accordance with the provisions of the trust fund and instalment privilege on the fourth page hereof.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums stated on the second page hereof for every policy year following the date of approval by the company of proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as hereinafter defined, if such proof is received by the company before the insured has attained the age of sixty years and if premiums have been duly paid by the insured to the end of the policy year in which such proof is approved. The premiums so paid by the company will not be an indebtedness hereon, and this policy will continue in full force towards maturity, with the values in the table herein increasing and progressing from year to year, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The total and permanent disability of the insured must be due to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from performing any work or conducting any business for compensation or profit; provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been approved by the company, the company shall at any time, on demand, be furnished satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if such proof is not furnished, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work, or to conduct any business for compensation or profit, any subsequent premiums required hereon must be paid by the insured. In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This policy is absolutely free of conditions or restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation, or military or naval service.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of premiums as herein provided.

PREMIUMS WHEN DUE.—The annual premium of three hundred eleven and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars will be payable on delivery hereof and on the first day of March in each year, until premiums for twenty policy years have been paid or until the prior death of the insured. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept \$161.80 semi-annually in advance, or \$82.40 quarterly in advance. A reduction of \$3 per annum will be granted on any premiums becoming due hereon after expiration or cancellation of the provision for the disability benefit herein, it being understood that said provision will be cancelled by the company at any time before its expiration, upon receipt at the home office of the insured's written request therefor, accompanied by this policy. The insurance covered by the foregoing premiums will be term insurance until the end of the first policy year, and endowment insurance thereafter, the company setting aside a reserve for said year in accordance with the reserve standard herefor.

GRACE FOR PAYING PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days from date when due will be allowed, without interest charge, for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If a request for an extension of grace for the payment of any such premium, signed by the insured on the company's form, is received at the home office on or before the last day of the aforesaid period of grace, accompanied by the payment of a deposit, on account of the premium, of such amount as the company may require, such extension will be granted by the company for any period desired by the insured within the limit of 225 days for an annual, 125 days for a semi-annual and 25 days for a quarterly premium, subject to the provisions of said formal request and interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable on or before the date when due, at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. If the insured shall die within the period of grace, or while this policy is maintained in force by the payment of a semi-annual or quarterly premium, the unpaid premium, or premiums, required to cover the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. The payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as herein otherwise provided.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—At the end of the second policy year, or at any time thereafter within thirty-one days from the date to which premiums have been paid, the insured shall have the following options: 1. To surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash surrender value; or, 2. To surrender this policy at the home office of the company for such paid-up endowment policy covering the remainder of the endowment period hereof, as its cash surrender value will purchase, or, 3. To let this policy continue in force for its face amount, less amount of any indebtedness hereon to the company, as paid-up term insurance for as long a term from said date, as its cash surrender value will purchase, not longer, however, than the remainder of the endowment period hereof, any balance of said value, after providing such insurance for said remainder, being applicable to the purchase of a pure endowment payable in cash to the insured if living at the end of said period.

After completion of its premium-paying period this policy may be surrendered by the insured to the company at the end of any policy year for its then cash surrender value.

If this policy is not, within the aforesaid thirty-one days, surrendered under either option 1 or 2, it will be automatically continued in force in accordance with option 3, without further loan privilege, but entitled to a cash surrender value, payable to the insured, equal to the full reserve thereon at the time of surrender, or exchangeable for such paid-up endowment policy covering the then remainder of the endowment period hereof, as such cash surrender value will purchase.

The foregoing purchases shall be made at net single premium rates for the then attained age of the insured by the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality.

End of later years figures will be furnished on application to the home office. The reserve on this policy, by the standard herein named. The respective insurance equivalents of the reserve on this policy, by the standard herein named.

The cash surrender value of this policy under option 1 is its cash value as stated in the adjoined table, or as may be computed from the figures given in said table, less any indebtedness hereon to the company, it being understood that each semi-annual or quarterly premium paid after the second policy year in addition to payments for entire years will increase the cash value for the policy year last completed by one-half and one-fourth, respectively, of the current year's increase in cash value. The tabular cash value is at no time more than one-half of one per cent of the face amount hereof below the reserve on this policy by the standard hereinafter named, and equals said reserve at the end of the tenth and subsequent policy years.

The amount of paid-up policy under option 2, and the term of continued insurance and pure endowment under option 3, will be as stated in the adjoined table, if premiums have been paid for entire years and if this policy is free from any indebtedness to the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—The company will reinstate this policy, and any indebtedness thereon in accordance with the loan provisions thereof, at any time after a default in any payment required hereon, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and settlement of all sums in arrears, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, giving the insured every advantage of the loan privilege hereunder in effecting such settlement.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION.—If no claim has been made for the disability benefit hereunder, this policy, while in full force, may be exchanged by the insured, without medical re-examination, for a new policy of the same amount, to be issued as of the date of this policy upon any form of endowment insurance now written by the company on the lives of persons of the insured's present age, requiring a higher rate of premium based on said age and covering any hazard covered hereby. Such change shall take effect upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums on the new policy and the premiums paid on this policy for the same hazards, with compound interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from the due date of each payment to the date of exchange, and upon the surrender of this policy; provided, however, that the payment necessary to secure such exchange shall in no case be less than the difference in the then reserves on the respective policies according to the company's legal standard therefor.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the first policy year and while this policy is in full force, the insured may borrow from the company on the sole security of this policy as duly evidenced in writing, any sum desired by the insured within its loan value, which is the cash value at the end of the current policy year, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and less any unpaid premiums for such year. Interest at the rate of five per cent per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the current policy year and thereafter be payable annually in advance.

PREMIUM CHARGE ACCOUNT.—If a request therefor, signed by the insured on the company's form, is received at the home office while this policy is in full force, a premium charge account will be opened for this policy, and thereafter any premium becoming due hereon and not paid in cash, or otherwise settled, on the last day of grace, will be paid by being charged by the company as a loan on the policy, with interest in advance to the end of the current policy year, provided that the loan value of the policy for such year shall be sufficient to cover the charge. Such premium loans shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as cash loans, but no deposit or endorsement of the policy will be required. The charging up of premiums will be discontinued by the company on receipt at the home office of a written request therefor from the insured.

GENERAL LOAN PROVISIONS.—Any interest not paid in cash when due will be paid by being added to the principal, with yearly interest in advance at the rate payable on the principal, so long as the total indebtedness to the company against this policy does not exceed its cash value. All or any part of any loan granted hereon by the company may be repaid by the insured at any time while the policy is in full force. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed its cash value, nor until thirty-one days after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company against this policy, or any part of such indebtedness, may be covered by loan insurance on the life of the insured, and such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of the indebtedness covered thereby when this policy matures as a death claim. Any loan insurance, and increase therein, or revival thereof after any period of discontinuance, will be subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, will be without disability benefit and will take effect upon receipt by the insured of the company's certificate thereof, and not before. It will be granted until the end of the current policy year and may be renewed from year to year, with allowance of grace as in the case of the principal insurance hereunder, at the rates stated in the adjoined table, from which each year's premium shall be computed on the basis of the insured's attained age at the time when the loan insurance is granted or renewed; but no loan insurance will be granted or renewed after the insured shall have attained age sixty-five, nor shall it be valid for any portion thereof in excess of any indebtedness hereon to the company, nor remain in force after a default in any payment required on any insurance or benefit under this policy, the unearned premium in any such case being subject to refund by the company.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, if the premiums are duly paid, it being agreed that in case of misstatement of the age of the insured, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In event of self-destruction, whether the insured be sane or insane, within one year from the date of issue of this policy, the insurance hereunder shall be a sum equal to the premiums which have been paid to and received by the company, hereon, and no more.

RESERVE STANDARD.—The reserve on this policy shall be based upon the 3½% American Experience Table of Mortality and shall during the premium paying period be computed in accordance with the twenty payment life modification of the preliminary term method of valuation; subject to such modification, the first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, with the consent of the company and subject to any existing assignment of the policy, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries herein, by filing at the home office a written request on the company's form therefor, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment of this policy, and shall not be held to have notice of any such assignment until the original assignment, or a copy thereof, is received at its home office.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., and proof of interest of claimant will be required. The proceeds of cash surrender values, or of cash loans, will be paid by the company within sixty days from the date of the application for such values or loans. Any indebtedness hereon to the company will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor, a copy of which was attached to this policy when delivered, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless it is contained in said written application.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

After its delivery to and receipt by the insured, this policy takes effect as of the first day of March, 1914.

In witness whereof, the Old Colony Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, executed this policy, this first day of March, 1914.

TRUST FUND AND INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.

The proceeds of this policy as a death claim (payable to the beneficiary) or as an endowment or cash surrender value (payable to the insured), or any part of such proceeds may be left with the company for the purpose of providing for the person entitled thereto, as annuitant, an annual or monthly income. In accordance with the insured's written request, filed at the company's home office while this policy is in force, the company will, 1. Hold said proceeds, or any part thereof, in trust for the annuitant and pay three and one-half per cent interest thereon annually until the death of the annuitant or termination of the trust, when said proceeds, with any accrued interest thereon, shall be paid to the annuitant, his or her legal representatives or assigns; or, 2. Pay said proceeds, or any part thereof, to the annuitant in equal instalments of annual or monthly income during any period of years from five to twenty-five, in accordance with the following table of income for fixed number of years; or, 3. Pay said proceeds, or any part thereof, to the annuitant in equal instalments of annual or monthly income to continue for twenty years in any event, and so long thereafter as the annuitant shall live, in accordance with the following table of continuous income; or, 4. Hold any part of the proceeds left with the company, in trust under option 1, and pay the balance as an income in accordance with options 2 or 3. The foregoing options, if not exercised by the insured, may after the insured's death, as to the proceeds of this policy payable as a death claim, be exercised by the beneficiary.

The first interest payment under option 1, will be made one year after the date of termination of this policy; the first income payment under options 2 and 3, will be made on, or as of, the date of termination.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured or by the beneficiary in electing option 2 or 3, the company will at any time allow the withdrawal, in cash, of the commuted value of any payments of income yet to be made under option 2, and, in case of the annuitants' death within the twenty year income period under option 3, the withdrawal, in cash, of the commuted value of any remainder of said twenty year income, computing the commuted value in either case at three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest.

The trust fund and instalment privilege is not available if this policy be assigned or if the beneficiary be a corporation or a firm. If there be more than one beneficiary, the proceeds of this policy shall be considered as divided into equal parts, unless otherwise provided. The tables of income herein are based on a policy the proceeds of which are $1000 and will apply pro rata to the proceeds of this policy, or to any beneficiary's share of such proceeds, left with the company.

Oregon Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE ADVANCE DIVIDEND POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $298.50.

AGE, 35

Oregon Life Insurance Company of Portland, Oregon, hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Portland, Ore., hereinafter called the insured, and on receipt of satisfactory proofs of the death of the said insured, provided this policy is then in force, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at its office in the City of Portland in the State of Oregon, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary, and subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the second and third pages hereof, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

Portland, Oregon, February 13, 1914.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

I. INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from its date of issue, this policy shall be indisputable for the amount due, provided premiums have been duly paid.

II. OCCUPATION, RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—There are no restrictions under this policy upon travel, residence, occupation, military or naval service, excepting for one year from its date of issue, during which time travel or residence in Mexico or the Torrid Zone, or engagement, occupation or employment in blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon railroad trains, or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steamboat or vessel, will render this policy void, and excepting military or naval service in war, which is at all times subject to and permitted only in accordance with the provisions of Section XIII on the third page hereof.

III. GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one calendar month, during which the policy remains in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums, except the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum.

IV. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by reason of the non-payment of any premium, it may be reinstated at any time upon the insured furnishing evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all arrears and any indebtedness to the company under this contract existing at the date of lapse, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

V. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by filing with the company a written request, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, provided this policy has not been assigned and notice of such assignment recorded on the books of the company, or if assigned, that all assignments shall have been duly canceled or released on the books of the company.

VI. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall take effect unless made in writing in duplicate, the original attached to this policy and the duplicate filed in the home office of the company. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

VII. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be adjusted in accordance with the correct age of the insured.

VIII. SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of the issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

IX. LOANS AND SURRENDER VALUES.—After this policy has been in force three years the company will make loans thereon at five per cent. interest per annum, payable in advance, of the respective amounts stated in the following table, upon the due assignment of this policy to the company as collateral security for such loan. This policy shall lapse and together with all premiums paid thereon shall forfeit to the company on the non-payment of any premium when due, except that provided premiums shall have been paid for the periods respectively mentioned in the following table, there will be granted, without action on the part of the insured, paid up life insurance for the amount fixed in said table; or, in lieu thereof, at the option of the insured (1) the cash value fixed in said table upon the surrender of this policy to the company at its home office in Portland, Oregon, at any time after its termination; or (2) (provided this policy is surrendered within the days of grace, or with satisfactory evidence of good health, within one year thereafter) a paid-up term policy for the full amount insured under this policy for the time stated in said table. The paid-up insurance, cash value and paid-up term policy referred to herein are based on the number of full years' premiums that have been paid, are granted without participation in profits, and are subject to reduction for any indebtedness to the company under this contract.

X. ALTERNATIVE METHOD OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY OF POLICY. INSTALMENT SETTLEMENT.—The insured may at any time prior to the maturity of this policy, provided no assignment is then outstanding on the records of the company, change the manner of its payment by a written notice, filed with the company, so that the equivalent of the amount insured shall be payable in any designated number of equal annual instalments (which number may be subsequently changed if desired), with or without the privilege of commutation, according to the following table:

XI. APPLICATION AND PREMIUMS.—All insurance provided by this policy is based upon the written and printed application therefor, which is made a part of this contract, and the annual payment of two hundred ninety-eight and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars on the thirteenth day of February, 1914, as the premium for one year's insurance, and this insurance will be renewed and extended upon the further payment of a like amount on or before the thirteenth day of February, and thereafter in every year until twenty full year's premiums have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

XII. FACILITY IN MAKING PAYMENTS.—All renewal premiums are due in Portland, Oregon, but at the pleasure of the company suitable persons may be authorized to receive said premiums at other places on or before the due dates, but only on the production of the company's receipt therefor, signed by the secretary, and countersigned by the authorized person to whom payment is made. This contract is based upon the receipt of premiums annually in advance, but premiums may be made in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, in which case any instalments necessary to complete the full year's premium, as well as all other indebtedness, shall be deducted from the amount of the claim. This policy is issued upon the advance dividend plan, and in consideration of the low premium charged, shall have no further share in the profit earnings of the company.

XIII. SERVICE IN WAR.—Military or naval service in war are not risks assumed by the company under this contract, unless the insured shall cause to be sent to the home office of the company in the City of Portland, in the State of Oregon, in advance by registered mail, a written notice of his desire to be classed for one year as a member of the company's yearly war class, in which class no extra premium will be required in advance but the actual losses to the company by war will be annually apportioned among the members of the said class on the basis of the amounts insured under their contracts. This apportionment (which it is guaranteed will not exceed 10 per cent of the amount insured in any one year) may then either be paid in cash, or charged by the company as lien, with interest, against any moneys payable under each contract respectively. Pending such apportionment, a sum equal to 10 per cent of its face will be withheld by the company in the settlement of each maturing contract. Such mailing of notice shall be the sole and essential requisite for entrance into this war class and in acceptance of its conditions of membership, and shall act as a waiver of all restrictions against military or naval service in war. In the event of the death of the insured through service in war without membership in the yearly war class as thus defined, and without first obtaining a special permit for such service, the reserve under the policy only will be due.

XIV. BENEFITS FOR PERMANENT DISABILITY.—1. After three full annual premiums shall have been paid and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured (before attaining the age of sixty years) shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled for life, by bodily injuries, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case the loan and surrender values shall increase in like manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit during the premium-paying period, the obligation on his part to make payment of premiums in accordance with this contract shall recommence, but only from date of recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained therein. 2. Immediately after the happening of the disability, full particulars thereof must be given to the company at its home office, together with the then address and whereabouts of the insured, and within one hundred and twenty days after the happening of the disability, there must be given the company at its home office, upon blanks furnished by the company, satisfactory proof of disability, and, after the payment of the first premium by the company similar proof must be made, if required by the company, of such continuing disability, at the time of each subsequent annual payment of premium. 3. Any medical adviser of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any alleged disability, and the manner and at all times the medical adviser may require. 4. No suit on account of alleged disability shall be maintainable, if commenced before the expiration of one year or after the expiration of two years from the date of the happening of the disability. 5. If there is a failure to comply with any one of the foregoing provisions, no claim on account of disability shall arise or be valid or enforceable.

XV. POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and application therefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied except in writing by two of the following officers of the company at its home office, Portland, Oregon, viz.: the president and general manager, or one of the vice-presidents and general manager.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby make policy payable to my executors, administrators, or assigns—it being expressly understood and agreed that I reserve the right, provided the policy is not then assigned, to change any beneficiary or beneficiaries named by me, by filing with the company during the continuance of the policy a written request accompanied by the policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. I further reserve the right as my option, provided the policy is not then assigned, to surrender the policy, and to receive the surrender value thereof as therein provided. I hereby agree that this application, and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto; that all the statements and answers herein are warranted to be true; that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. I have not been declined or postponed by any life company or received a policy different in form from the one originally applied for, nor have I been intemperate, or had any serious illness or disease, except diseases incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity in my family, i. e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts. I further agree and contract to present myself to the medical examiner of the company for examination when called upon to do so to complete this contract.

Our Home Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT ENDOWMENT AT 75—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $359.30. AGE, 35.

Our Home Life Insurance Company in consideration of the representations made in the application for this policy, which are hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-nine and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars, or semi-annual or quarterly premiums of proportionate amounts as determined by the company, on or before the twenty-first day of January in every year hereafter until premiums shall have been paid for twenty years, or until the death of the insured, Our Home Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Doe of Nonesuch, county of Duval, State of Florida, herein called the insured, for the amount of ten thousand dollars, for the period of forty years, and promises to pay at the office of the company in the city of Jacksonville, Fla., the said amount to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, upon receipt of proof in writing, satisfactory to the company, of the death of the insured; or to the insured himself, or the legal claimant, or claimants thereof, if he shall survive the said period of forty years. Any unpaid semi-annual or quarterly premium for the current policy year, as above determined, in which the death of the insured may occur, or any note, loan or lien upon the policy, as per the conditions of the following pages hereof, less the amount of any dividends or shares of surplus due and payable by the company, shall be deducted or considered in determining the amount of cash due from the company, in settlement of the claim, at the death of the insured, or the end of the above term of years.

This policy is issued by the company and accepted by the insured, upon the conditions and agreements expressed on the following pages thereof, and covers the benefits and privileges thereby granted, as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the corporate seal of the said company is hereto affixed under the hands of the proper officers at the aforesaid city of Jacksonville, this twenty-first (21st) day of January, in the year 1911.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LIENS AND CASH LOANS.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LIENS.—This policy shall continue in full force automatically without further payments, as long as the amount of full annual premiums or equivalent semi-annual or quarterly premiums in arrear at the end of any year after the first, with interest, at the rate of six per cent per annum, together with any other indebtedness hereon, as reduced by duly credited dividends or shares of surplus, shall not exceed the amount of the surrender value for the end of the same year, shown in the table below, together with the amount of any unpaid dividends or shares of surplus then due hereon; but otherwise, this policy shall become null and void, the same as if the full surrender value had been demanded by the insured and paid by the company. While this policy is thus carried in force the insured may, without furnishing evidence of good health, resume payment of premiums, or make payments of cash on account thereof, provided, that no such payment shall be received for an amount less than one quarterly premium.

CASH LOANS.—At any time while this policy is in force the company will loan up to the limit secured by the cash surrender value, including the amount of outstanding premium liens, if any, in the amount thereof, upon presentation of the policy for proper endorsement, and receipt of a certificate of loan satisfactory to the company. The rate of interest charged therefor shall not exceed five per cent per annum. The loan may be paid off at any time while the policy is in force. If interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise, non-payment of interest shall render the policy null and void after one month's notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

SURRENDER VALUES AND PAID-UP INSURANCE.

SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon application therefor at the end of the second or any succeeding year, and the full and legal surrender of this policy to the company, the company will pay the insured the amount of surrender value shown in the table herein, paying any excess thereof over all indebtedness of the insured to the company in cash.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Upon written application therefor at the end of the second, or any subsequent year, this policy shall be continued in force for the amount of paid-up insurance shown in the table herein, or such proportion thereof as the excess of the surrender value for the same year over all indebtedness of the insured to the company, may bear to the full amount of such surrender value.

PARTICIPATION IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.

DIVIDENDS OR SHARES.—This policy is written upon the company's annual dividend plan, and shall be entitled, after payment of the second annual premium, and during its continuance in full force, or as paid-up insurance of not less than fifty dollars ($50) in amount, to an annual dividend or to a share of every dividend voted by the board of directors, which shall be an equitable share of the company's surplus thus voted to be distributed, according to its contribution thereto, and interest therein, as determined by the company. Shares shall be payable as above on each anniversary of the issue of this policy.

MODES OF PAYMENT.—At the option of the holder of this policy, dividends may be payable or used as follows: (1) in cash; or (2) in payment of any premium or premiums and other dues; or (3) in the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at not less than three per cent per annum, and payable at the maturity of the policy, or on demand on any anniversary of its issue.

USUAL MODE.—When no choice has been expressed, it will be understood that the dividends will be applied to the payment of premiums, or other dues to the company, or if there are no such dues, accumulated in accordance with the fourth of the above options.

OTHER BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

DAYS OF GRACE.—Thirty-one days of grace, without charge of interest, will be allowed for the payment of renewal premiums.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, on satisfactory proof thereof, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age; or at the option of the insured, the premiums and endorsed values will be adjusted and corrected for that age, credit for past over payment being given to the insured, or to the company for past under payment, reckoning interest at five per cent in either case.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium, and is free from restrictions as to residence, travel or occupation. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace. During the first year after its date, this policy does not insure against suicide, but in such case the liability of the company, under this policy, shall be limited to the amount of reserve hereon.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance of this policy subject to statutory restrictions, if any, by filing with the company a written request, sufficiently executed, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—Only the president, secretary, or other duly appointed executive officer has power on behalf of the company to make or modify the terms of this policy, or extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any person other than as above. Premiums are due and payable at the head office unless otherwise agreed in writing, but may be paid to an agent producing receipts signed by one of the above named officers and countersigned by the agent.

* The loan values provided for at the end of policy years, in the above table, can be obtained (less interest) during such policy years as set forth in the above clause entitled "cash loans."

AUTHORITY OF AGENTS.—No agent has authority to put this policy in force by the delivery thereof, without the payment of the premium and the delivery of the proper receipt therefor. If it goes into the possession of any interested party without such payment and receipt, it is only for examination and is not thereby put in force.

TAKING EFFECT.—This policy shall not take effect unless the annual or other authorized premium thereon is paid to the company, or an authorized agent of the company in the lifetime and good health of the insured.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies must be sent to the head office, one to be retained by the company and the other to be signed and returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

COPY OF APPLICATION.—The insured shall be entitled upon request and receipt therefor, to a copy of the application and certificate of examination for this policy.

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—Any claim arising under this policy owing to the death of the insured or its maturity, will be paid in annual instalments, when this form of settlement has been duly applied for by the insured in writing previous to the occurrence of the claim. Payments will be made in accordance with the following table, subject to increase in any year by surplus interest earned on the company's reserve for future instalments. In stalment payments, which may be commuted to a single sum on any due date of an instalment, unless such commutation has been forbidden by written request of the insured, filed with the company.

LIFE ANNUITY PAYMENTS.—Any claim arising under this policy owing to the death of the insured or its maturity, will, unless such disposition of its proceeds has been forbidden by written request of the insured, filed with the company, be accepted as premium for an annuity, duly applied for, at the regular rates of the company, on the life of the beneficiary or beneficiaries named in the policy, and entitled to its entire proceeds or the life of the insured, or his nominees, upon his written application for such settlement.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true to the best of my knowledge and belief and I agree that the foregoing, and answers to be made in Part II of this application together with this declaration, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application. I hereby reserve the right to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time provided the policy or any interest therein be not assigned.

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company.

DISABILITY—OLD AGE INCOME.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $373.

AGE, 35.

The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and of the payment of three hundred seventy-three dollars, constituting payment of the premium for the period terminating on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and seventeen and in further consideration of a like payment on said last mentioned date, and thereafter on the first day of January in each and every year during the continuance of this policy, until twenty full years' premiums in all shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured: promises to pay, at the home office of the company in the city of Los Angeles, on receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of John Doe, herein called the insured, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, to Mary Doe, beneficiary, with right of revocation.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Should the insured become permanently totally disabled as hereinafter defined, before attaining the age of sixty years and while this policy is in full force and effect, the company agrees to pay to the insured annual advances on account of the amount payable as a death claim hereunder, all as provided on the succeeding pages of this policy. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy, made as herein provided, other than an assignment to the company as collateral security for a policy loan, may, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, reserving the right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect on the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company and not before. It there be no beneficiary living at the time this policy becomes a claim by death, the proceeds hereof shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. The contents of the succeeding pages of this policy and the benefits, conditions and values set forth therein are made a part hereof.

In witness whereof, The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California has by its proper officers, signed this contract at the city of Los Angeles, as of the first day of January, 1916.

BENEFITS, CONDITIONS AND VALUES REFERRED TO ON THE PRECEDING PAGE OF THIS POLICY.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after one year, except for non-payment of premium or for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war.

STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, unless it is contained in the written application therefor.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance hereunder shall continue in force. If death occurs within said grace period, the unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums on this policy are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, but may be paid to the agents of the company producing receipts signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary or an assistant secretary, and countersigned by such agents. The mode of premium payment will be changed by the company, upon request, from annual to semi-annual or quarter-annual or vice versa at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof, but a semi-annual or quarter-annual payment shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than for the six months or three months covered by such payment, subject to the above provisions relating to grace. If this policy becomes a claim by death, the company shall have the right to deduct any part or parts of the policy year's premiums unpaid. If any premium is not paid when due, or within the grace of thirty-one days, the only liability of the company under this policy, if any, shall be such as set forth in the paragraphs marginally headed "non-forfeiture" and "automatic non-forfeiture."

PARTICIPATION.—This policy, while in full force and effect, (both during and subsequent to its premium paying period,) shall participate in the future surplus earnings of the participating business of the company. The proportion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy shall be determined by the company and distributed annually, and not otherwise. The distribution of the surplus at the end of the first policy year shall be conditioned on the payment of the premium then due, but the distribution at the end of the second and subsequent policy years shall not be so conditioned.

DIVIDENDS.—Dividends, at the option of the insured, shall each year on the anniversary date of the policy be (Option 1) paid in cash; or (Option 2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (Option 3) applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating additions to the policy; or (Option 4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with compound interest at such a rate as may be determined from time to time by the company, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on demand. The company guarantees that the interest rate shall not be less than three per cent per annum, and that the same shall be compounded annually. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends will be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions (Option 3), which may be surrendered for cash at any time, and the cash value thereof shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force and effect, the company will advance to the insured, on the proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, the whole or any part of the cash surrender value available at the end of the policy year in which application for the loan is made; provided that from such loan interest thereon to the end of the then current policy year, together with any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year, shall first be deducted. Interest on the loan shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance on each anniversary date of the policy. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay the loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall exceed the cash surrender value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. Unless for the purpose of paying premiums on the policy, the right to defer the granting of loans for a period not exceeding sixty days after application therefor is made is reserved by the company.

NON-FORFEITURE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the insured may elect within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, any one of the following options: Option 1—Paid-up life insurance. Have this policy endorsed by the company for a reduced amount of non-participating paid-up life insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or (Option 2)—Cash surrender value. Surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash value; or (Option 3)—Paid-up term insurance. Have the insurance for the face amount of this policy, plus any outstanding dividend additions and less any indebtedness hereon to the company, continued in force from date of default for such term as is hereinafter provided, but without participation and without the right to loans. The cash surrender value shall be equal to the entire reserve on the face amount of this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, (computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three per cent per annum,) less a surrender charge of not more than two per cent of the amount insured by this policy. Any indebtedness hereon to the company shall be deducted from the cash surrender value. The amount of the paid-up life insurance or the term of the paid-up term insurance shall be such as the amount of the cash surrender value, reduced by the amount of any indebtedness hereon to the company, will purchase, applied as the net single premium at the attained age of the insured based on the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three per cent per annum. The right to defer the granting of a cash surrender value for a period not exceeding sixty days after application therefor is made is reserved by the company.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—If the insured shall not, within three months from default, surrender this policy to the company at the home office for its cash surrender value, as provided in option 2, or for paid-up life insurance as provided in option 1 the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in option 3.

The figures in the above table—computed as provided in this policy—are the minimum values; and are guaranteed on the assumptions that the policy has been in force and the premiums paid in full to the end of the years stated, and that there is no indebtedness on the policy. Due allowance will be made in computing values from the above table for any quarter-annual or semi-annual premium payments which may have been made in addition to the premiums for the full number of years indicated. Any dividend additions to the credit of the policy will increase the values set out in the above table.

The cash loan values provided for in the above table for the end of policy years can be obtained during such policy years, as set forth in the paragraph marginally headed "cash loans."

Values for later years shall be based on the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three per cent per annum and shall be equal to the entire reserve on the policy according to that standard. Such values will be furnished on request.

RESTORATION.—After any default in payment of premium this policy, if not surrendered to the company, may be restored to full force and effect at any time within five years from the date of such default on written application by the insured to the home office of the company and the payment of premiums to date of restoration with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, provided the insured shall with such application submit evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.

AGENTS.—Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy shall first be deducted from any money to be paid or from any settlement to be made under the policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—An assignment of this policy must be made in writing. The company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of an assignment unless the original assignment or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE.—Military or naval service in time of war is not a risk assumed under this policy. If the insured shall enter or be engaged in military or naval service (except in time of peace) without a written permit therefor, issued by the company, the only liability under this policy shall be for the net reserve held against it, calculated according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three per cent per annum.

SUICIDE.—If the insured within one year from the date of this policy shall commit suicide, sane or insane, the only liability under this policy shall be for an amount equal to the total premiums paid.

OWNERSHIP OF POLICY.—The benefits and options granted to the insured by this policy are conditioned on the ownership of the policy being vested in the insured.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.

Should the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, become permanently totally disabled, as hereinafter defined, while this policy is in full force and effect and prior to default in payment of premium the company agrees without further payment of premium to pay annually to the insured while living, as an advance, instalments for ten years, each of such instalments to be one-tenth of the amount otherwise payable under this policy on the death of the insured, the first of such advance payments to be made immediately on acceptance by the company of satisfactory proofs of such disability; provided, however, as follows:

1. That the total amount of the advance payments that may be made on account of the permanent total disability shall be deducted from the total amount otherwise payable under this policy on the death of the insured, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount of the first advance payment made.

2. That in case of any and every such advance payment, this policy must be produced at the home office of the company to have the amount of payment or payments endorsed hereon in reduction or extinguishment of the amount payable on the death of the insured.

3. That immediately after the commencement of the permanent total disability full particulars thereof must be given in writing to the company at its home office, together with the then address of the insured; and, within one hundred and twenty days after the commencement of the permanent total disability, there must be given the company at its home office satisfactory proof of permanent total disability; and, after the payment of the first advance, similar proof must be given, if required by the company, of the continuance of the permanent total disability, prior to each subsequent annual advance payment.

4. That any medical adviser of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any alleged permanent total disability, in the manner and at all times that such medical adviser may require.

5. That no suit on account of alleged permanent total disability shall be maintainable if commenced before the expiration of six months from the date of the commencement of the permanent total disability.

6. That no claim on account of permanent total disability, or for any advance payment, shall be valid or enforceable if there is a failure to comply with any of the foregoing provisions.

7. That any valid claim for such advancement shall extinguish all other options, values and benefits under this policy, except as to the balance, if any, of the amount payable on the death of the insured not exhausted by the advance payment or payments made by the company under this benefit.

8. That the permanent total disability referred to above must be permanent and total.

and such that there is neither then nor at any time thereafter any work, occupation or profession that the insured can ever sufficiently do or follow to earn or obtain wages, compensation or profit, and must not result directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, from any form of insanity or from disease complicated with insanity.

The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the amputation of both entire hands at or above the wrist, or the amputation of both entire feet at or above the ankle, or the amputation of one entire hand at or above the wrist and one entire foot at or above the ankle, shall also be deemed to constitute permanent total disability.

Should the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, desire to cancel this permanent total disability insurance, the company will cancel such insurance and guarantees to reduce the premium thereafter fifteen cents per annum for each thousand dollars of face value.

OLD AGE INCOME BENEFIT.—The insured, on the anniversary date of this policy nearest to said insured's sixty-fifth birthday, if this policy is then in full force and effect and free from indebtedness to the company, may surrender this policy for a supplementary contract providing, without further payment of premiums, for the payment to the insured of annual instalments of $647.60 each, said annual instalments to be paid as long as the insured shall live. At the option of the insured, and in lieu of annual instalments, the company will pay to the insured monthly instalments. The payment of the first annual or the first monthly instalment shall be made on the anniversary date of this policy nearest to the sixty-fifth birthday of the insured, and the payment of subsequent annual or monthly instalments shall be made annually or on the first day of each month thereafter respectively. Should the insured die before receiving ten annual or one hundred and twenty monthly instalments, the balance of the ten annual or the one hundred and twenty monthly instalments shall be commuted at the rate of three per cent per annum and paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured in one sum. Any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount of the first instalment or instalments paid, and the value of any dividend additions, or any accumulations to the credit of the policy, shall be paid to the insured in cash with the first instalment. The first ten annual instalments or the first one hundred and twenty monthly instalments payable under the conditions of this benefit shall, unless commuted as hereinbefore provided, be increased by profits as determined from time to time by the company arising from excess interest earnings over the rate assumed in computing this benefit.

Note.—To obtain the amount of the monthly instalments, multiply the amount of the annual instalment shown in the first paragraph by the decimal .0845.

DEPOSIT PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes a claim by death the amount then payable under the conditions of this policy, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand dollars, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary with the company, and the company guarantees to pay annually thereafter interest at the rate of three per cent per annum so long as the said amount or said portion thereof remains with the company. Such interest payments will be increased by profits, as determined from time to time by the company, arising from excess interest earnings over the rate guaranteed herein. The said amount, together with the accrued interest thereon, shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time. This privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than one thousand dollars, if the beneficiary be a partnership, a company or a corporation, or if the insured directs that the proceeds of this policy shall be payable other than in one sum.

INSTALMENT BENEFIT.—The insured, provided the beneficiary is not a partnership, company or a corporation, may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment in instalments, and may subsequently change or revoke any instalment selection. Each selection, change or revocation of a selection must be made by the insured in writing, and shall take effect at the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company and not before. Payment will be made in annual instalments as follows: Limited Instalments.—Equal annual instalments (from two to thirty) as set out in Table A; or Continuous Instalments.—Equal annual instalments for twenty years certain and as long thereafter as the beneficiary may live, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the attained age of the beneficiary (age at last birthday) at the time of the death of the insured as set out in Table B; or Special Plan—Limited Instalments. A first instalment of $150 and subsequent instalments annually thereafter (nine, fourteen, nineteen or twenty-four) as set out in Table C. At the option of the insured, and in lieu of annual instalments, the company will pay semi-annual instalments of $50.37 each, quarter-annual instalments of $25.28 each or monthly instalments of $8.45 each for each hundred dollars of annual instalments which may be available under the conditions of this benefit. The payment of the first annual, semi-annual, quarter-annual or monthly instalment shall be made immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, and the payment of subsequent annual, semi-annual or quarter-annual instalments shall be made annually, semi-annually or quarter-annually thereafter respectively, and the payment of subsequent monthly instalments shall be made on the first day of each month thereafter. Should there be no beneficiary, original or substituted, when this policy becomes a claim by death, any existing instalment selection shall be void and of no effect, and the proceeds of this policy shall be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. Should the beneficiary, original or substituted, survive the insured but die before receiving all of the instalments certain, the balance of the instalments certain shall be commuted at the rate of three per cent per annum and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of such beneficiary. It is specifically agreed that the company will not commute any of the instalments payable hereunder after the death of the insured except as hereinbefore provided, unless the previous written assent of the insured has been filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. Any instalment or instalments payable under this benefit shall be unassignable. If more than one beneficiary has been designated to share in the proceeds of this policy as death benefit, the conditions of the policy as to the apportionment of such death benefit and as to survivorship shall apply to the payment of a "limited instalments" or "special plan—limited instalments" selection. A "continuous instalments" selection cannot be made if more than one beneficiary is designated under the policy, and payment thereunder shall be conditioned on evidence satisfactory to the company being furnished as to the age of the beneficiary at the time of the death of the insured. This benefit shall be inoperative if instalments otherwise available shall be less than $40 annually, $2 semi-annually, $15 quarter-annually or $5 monthly. This provision, however, shall not be construed to prevent apportionment between two or more beneficiaries of instalments for not less than the minima prescribed, or to prohibit the continuance of payment to a surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries when the share due a deceased beneficiary under such an apportionment has been commuted under the terms of this benefit. When any instalment selection shall become operative, this policy, if required by the company shall be surrendered and a supplementary contract shall be issued providing for the payment of such instalment selection. All "limited instalments," "special plan—limited instalments" and "continuous instalments" during the first twenty years, payable under the conditions of this benefit, shall, unless commuted as hereinbefore provided, be increased by profits as determined from time to time by the company arising from excess interest earnings over the rate assumed in computing the instalment benefits.

The tables below are based on a policy the proceeds of which are one thousand dollars and will apply pro rata to this policy.

EXPLANATION OF TABLES.

TABLE A.—If payment is made in 20 annual instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $65.26 for each $1000 of insurance.

TABLE B.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary is 30 years of age (at last birthday), the amount of each annual instalment will be $44.98 for each $1000 of insurance, and will be payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary; but if the beneficiary should die before 20 instalments have been paid, the remainder of the 20 instalments will be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

TABLE C.—If payment is made in 20 annual instalments, the amount of the first will be $150 and the amount of each subsequent instalment (19) will be $59.34 for each $1000 of insurance.

NOTE.—To obtain the amount of semi-annual, quarter-annual, or monthly instalments, multiply the amount of the annual instalments shown in the tables by the decimal .5037 for semi-annual payments, .2528 for quarter-annual payments or .0845 for monthly payments

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the foregoing statements, and the answers that I shall make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, are made by me to obtain said insurance and are complete, true and correct, and I understand that each of such statements and answers is material to the risk and that the company, believing them to be true, will rely and act on them.

It is understood and agreed (1) that if the entire amount of the first annual, semi-annual or quarter-annual premium, as selected by me under the statement marginally numbered "7," on the insurance herein applied for is not paid in cash at the time of making this application, there shall be no liability on the part of the said company under this application unless nor until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me and the entire amount of such first premium thereon actually paid during my lifetime and while I am in good health; and (2) that if the entire amount of such first premium is paid in cash to the said company's agent at the time of making this application, the insurance (subject to the provisions of the said company's regular form of policy for the plan applied for) shall be effective from the date of my medical examination therefor and such a policy shall be issued and delivered to me or my legal representative, provided the said company in its judgment shall be satisfied as to my insurability, on the plan applied for, on the date of such medical examination; and (3) that if said company shall not be so satisfied, the entire amount of the premium paid, without interest, shall be returned.

ACCIDENT AND SICKNESS BENEFITS.—Attached to and made a part of life insurance policy No. 00000, dated November, 29 1915, applied for by John Doe, herein called the insured.

The Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, herein called the company, hereby further insures the insured, subject to the conditions and provisions herein contained, against (1) loss of life, limbs or sight, as hereinafter set forth, resulting directly and independently of all other causes, from bodily injuries effected through external, violent and accidental means, (2) disability as hereinafter set forth, resulting directly and independently of all other causes, from bodily injuries effected through external, violent and accidental means, (3) disability as hereinafter set forth, resulting directly and independently of all other causes, from sickness, which sickness is contracted and begins after the date hereof, as follows:

ACCIDENT BENEFITS.—(a) Five thousand dollars will be paid in one sum should loss of life, loss of both hands, loss of both feet, loss of one hand and one foot, or the loss of the sight of both eyes, so accidentally caused, result within ninety days from date of the accident. Loss shall mean with regard to hands and feet, amputation of both entire hands at or above the wrist, amputation of both entire feet at or above the ankle, amputation of one entire hand at or above the wrist and one entire foot at or above the ankle; with regard to eyes, irrecoverable loss of entire sight of both eyes. (b) Twenty-five dollars per week will be paid, while disability so accidentally caused, consists of continuous total loss of business time and such disability immediately follows the accident, herein called total disability. (c) Twelve and $\frac{51}{100}$ dollars per week will be paid, while disability so accidentally caused, is not total but consists of continuous inability to prosecute important daily business duties, from either the time of the accident or the termination of such total disability.

Liability under clause "c" is limited to twenty-six weeks, and under clause "b" and "c" together, to fifty-two weeks.

SICKNESS BENEFITS.—(d) Twenty-five dollars per week will be paid, while disability so caused by sickness consists of continuous confinement inside the house, accompanied by regular visits by a legally qualified physician. (e) Twelve and $\frac{51}{100}$ dollars per week will be paid, in case of a valid claim under clause "d" while disability so caused by sickness continues after termination of such confinement and visits and consists of inability to transact any and every kind of business, and requires the insured to be under the care of a legally qualified physician.

Liability under clause "e" is limited to twenty-six weeks, and under clause "d" or clauses "d" and "e" together, to fifty-two weeks.

PROVISIONS.

1. Should the insured be injured or contract sickness after having changed his occupation to one classified by the company as more hazardous than Class A, or while doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified, except ordinary duties around the insured's residence or while engaged in recreation, the company will pay only such portion of the "accident and sickness benefits" as the premium paid therefor would have purchased at the rate but within the limits fixed by the company for such more hazardous occupation, according to its premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it prior to the loss for which the company is liable.

2. Written notice of injury or sickness on which a claim under "accident and sickness benefits" may be based must be given to the company at its home office, within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury or within ten days after the commencement of the disability from such sickness. In the event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the company. Failure to give notice within the time above provided shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

3. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the company at its home office in case of claim under "accident and sickness benefits" for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the company is liable, and in case of claim for any other loss, within ninety days after the date of such loss.

4. That portion of the premium on said life insurance policy charged for "accident and sickness benefits" and the payments under such benefits shall not share in the surplus earnings of the company. The instalment benefit provision of said life insurance policy shall not be applicable to any amount payable under "accident and sickness benefits."

5. No recovery shall be had under "accident and sickness benefits" on account of disability from sickness for any period of time for which the insured is entitled to benefits on account of bodily injury under any policy. Any benefits payable under "accident and sickness benefits" shall be in addition to any other benefits payable under said life insurance policy, but, in determining the amount of any other benefit or value, any amount stated in "accident and sickness benefits" shall not be added to or in any way increase the amount upon which any such other benefit or value is based, anything in said life insurance policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

6. Subject to due proof of loss, all the accrued benefits for loss of time on account of disability covered by "accident and sickness benefits" will be paid at the expiration of each eight weeks during the continuance of the period for which the company is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof.

7. The amount payable under "accident and sickness benefits" for loss of life, and any unpaid accident or sickness benefits accrued at the death of the insured, shall be paid to the beneficiary under said life insurance policy. If there be no beneficiary living at the time of the death of the insured said benefits shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. All other amounts payable under "accident and sickness benefits" shall be paid to the insured.

8. Any medical adviser of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured during the pendency of claim under "accident and sickness benefits," in the manner and at all times such medical adviser may require, and such medical adviser shall have the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of alleged accidental death where it is not forbidden by law.

9. No suit on account of "sickness and accident benefits" shall be maintainable if commenced before the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed as hereinbefore provided, nor shall such suit be maintainable unless brought within two years after the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required as hereinbefore provided. The conditions of said life insurance policy relating to its incontestability shall not be construed as applying to "accident and sickness benefits," anything in said life insurance policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

10. Accident benefits cover freezing and unprovoked assaults (including assaults of burglars and robbers), but neither accident nor sickness benefits cover loss or disability resulting directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, from pregnancy, any disease of the genital organs, participation in aeronautics, bodily injury sustained or sickness contracted while the insured is engaged in military or naval service in time of war; anything in said life insurance policy to the contrary notwithstanding. If at any time the insured, whether sane or insane, makes any attempt at or commits suicide, the only liability under "accident and sickness benefits" shall be for an amount equal to the premium paid on said "accident and sickness benefits" for the then current insurance period, anything in said life insurance policy to the contrary notwithstanding.

11. Insurance under accident benefits (either clause "a" or clauses "b" and "c" or clauses "a," "b" and "c", together) and under sickness benefits, may be cancelled at any time by the insured filing said life insurance policy for endorsement, together with written notice, at the home office of the company, or by the company mailing written notice to the insured at his last known address, but such cancellation shall not effect any claim pending. Insurance under sickness benefits ceases on the insured becoming sixty years of age, and under accident benefits on his becoming seventy years of age, and under either or both sickness and accident benefits on default in payment of any premium. Insurance under "accident and sickness benefits" ceases when premiums on said life insurance policy are for any reason no longer payable. On the occurrence of any one of the losses specified in clause "a," all insurance under "accident and sickness benefits," except as respects such loss, shall immediately cease.

12. In case of such ceasing or cancellation, the premium on said life insurance policy shall be reduced as to clause "a," or clauses "b" and "c" or clauses "d" and "e" or clause "a," "b" and "c" and "d," together, by the amount fixed by the company as the premium for the class mentioned in provision (1) of "accident and sickness benefits" on insurance provided by said clauses, according to the company's rate book in effect at the date of the issuance of said life insurance policy, and on presentation of said life insurance policy for endorsement at said home office the company will pay to the insured a like proportion of any unearned portion of any premium paid.

In witness whereof, the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California has, by its proper officers, signed this contract at the city of Los Angeles, as of the twenty-ninth day of November, 1915.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000; written, $45,000.

Pan-American Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $310.

AGE, 35.

Pan-American Life Insurance Company, New Orleans, La., by this policy of insurance promises to pay, at the home office of the company, in New Orleans, La., ten thousand dollars, upon receipt at said home office, during the full continuance of this contract, of due proof of the death of John Doe (herein called the insured), of New Orleans, county of Orleans, State of Louisiana, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured (beneficiary).

This insurance is granted in consideration of the sum of three hundred and ten dollars, paid in advance, for one year's term insurance, and in further consideration of the payment of a like amount, on or before the third day of January, in every year until annual premiums for twenty years, including the first year, have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured; and in further consideration of all the conditions, benefits and privileges stated on the second and third pages hereof.

This policy is free from conditions as to residence, travel and occupation, and shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date of issue.

PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured before attaining age sixty shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally disabled and shall, in consequence of bodily injury or disease, be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life, and thereby prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement hereon will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter fall due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. Should the company assume the payment of premiums as herein provided the insured shall furnish proof of continued disability if called for as each succeeding premium falls due, and failure to submit such proof shall render this clause null and void.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) during which this contract shall remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums, except the first.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary named herein, at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it has not been assigned, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon this policy, at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid, subject to ninety days' notice at the company's option, while the policy is in force, the company will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at five per cent per annum, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the cash value at the end of the current policy year. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance, or to pay interest, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure. If interest is not paid annually, it shall be added to the principal as aforesaid and bear interest at the same rate.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, without action on the part of the insured, this insurance will continue from said date, during the term (including the period of grace) specified in the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values; unless the insured shall surrender the policy within three months after default, for the option of cash value or paid-up insurance as provided herein.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated, together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner, within three months after any default, and on proper surrender of this policy to the company at its home office may elect: (a) To accept the value of the policy in cash; or (b) to purchase paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or (c) to have the insurance continued in force as term insurance from date of default, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, without the right to loans.

* Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

INDEBTEDNESS.—The figures in the above table give the values available at the end of complete policy years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy, and provided premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated. Any indebtedness on account of this policy, outstanding at the time of any settlement due under this policy, including any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, will be deducted from the sum insured, and also from the amount of cash or loan value or from the reserve used in the calculations above specified, and will reduce the amount of extended or paid-up insurance by the proportion that such indebtedness bears to said reserve.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

(1) This policy and the application therefor, including the medical examination, copy of which is attached hereto as part hereof, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No agent can make, alter or discharge this contract or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can this contract be varied or altered, or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary or actuary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age. (3) Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract. (4) No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company, unless in writing, and until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment. (5) Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to any agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company signed by one or more of the following officers, viz.: President, vice-president, secretary or actuary, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium, or any note or other obligation given therefor shall not be paid when due, this policy shall thereupon cease except as herein provided. (6) The plan of premium payment can be changed so that premiums may be paid in quarterly or in semi-annual instalments according to the company's rates, or changed from such form to annual on any anniversary of this policy by application in writing to the home office of the company.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this third day of January, 1913.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no contrary stipulation, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum, payable upon the death of the insured, paid as follows instead of in one sum:

1. FIXED INSTALMENTS.—In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

2. INSTALMENTS 20 YEARS FIXED, LIFE THEREAFTER—In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

3. ANNUITY.—As an annuity during the life of the payee, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum, the last annuity payment to be the regular payment immediately preceding the death of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity, and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected, which shall specify to whom any unpaid instalments shall be paid in event of the death of the payee.

Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee under options (1) or (2) may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (1) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (2), except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $281.60.

AGE, 35.

Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the payment in advance to the company at its home office of the sum of two hundred, eighty-one and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars at the date hereof, and upon condition that the annual premium of two hundred, eighty-one and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars is paid at or before three o'clock P. M. on the first day of January in every year during the life of the insured, The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company insures the life of William Penn (the insured), of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and promises to pay at its home office, in the city of Philadelphia, unto his executors, administrators or assigns, the said sum insured, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, during the continuance in force of this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The right to change the beneficiary is reserved by the insured.

SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate annually in surplus earnings in accordance with its provisions.

CONDITIONS.—All the benefits, privileges and provisions stated on the second and third pages hereof form a part of this policy as fully as though recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia has caused this policy to be signed by its president, secretary, and actuary, attested by its registrar, at its home office in Philadelphia, Pa., the first day of January, 1916.

FROM THE DATE OF ISSUE THIS POLICY SHALL BE WITHOUT ANY RESTRICTIONS AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION.

I. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Philadelphia, or they may be paid to agents on or before the dates when due in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, or actuary and countersigned by agent. The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums payable in advance; but on any anniversary, upon written request, payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the premium rates therefor now in use by the company.

II. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in force, will be granted for the payment of premiums or regular instalments thereof, after the first. If the death of the insured occur during the days of grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy-year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

III. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties. The contract shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums; but in case of suicide, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the premium paid hereon. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid or be used in defense under the policy unless it is contained in the written and printed application and a copy of such application is attached to the policy when issued. Any error in stating the age of the insured shall be adjusted by the company paying at the maturity of this contract such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the table rate at the correct age.

IV. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Whenever the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved in the last designation of beneficiary recorded at the home office of the company, the insured, or his duly appointed guardian if he be not of legal age (subject to any previous assignment of the policy filed with the company as herein provided), shall be entitled, without the consent of the beneficiary, to any cash dividends declared on this policy and to the loan or cash value herein provided for, and shall have full power while this policy is in force to designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving the right of future designation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, and such change shall take place upon such filing and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided in this policy or in the written designation of beneficiary filed as above.

V. DIVIDENDS OF SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in surplus, and upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy-year, while the policy is in force by payment of premiums, the company will determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing thereto. These dividends, at the option of the insured, will be applied in any year to reduce the premium, to increase the amount of insurance, or to accumulate to the credit of the policy at three per cent compound interest per annum, this interest rate to be increased annually by such addition as may be awarded by the board of trustees, which accumulation will be payable at the maturity of the policy, or may be withdrawn at any premium anniversary. If no other option is selected, dividends shall be paid in cash.

VI. LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment and delivery of the policy and on the sole security thereof, and in accordance with Sections VIII and IX hereof, a sum which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy-year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than, the cash value at the end of the said year, which cash value shall be the full reserve on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent. The amount of such advance shall be reduced by any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid balance of the current policy-year's premium. Interest on the advance will be at the rate of six per cent per annum and shall be payable at the end of each policy year, and this interest, if not paid when due, shall be added to the existing indebtedness, provided the total indebtedness would not then exceed the cash value, and the indebtedness thus created shall bear interest at the same rate. The indebtedness or any part thereof may be repaid to the company at any time. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon with interest shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, in which case there shall be no liability under the policy; provided however, that no such termination shall be effective until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, of record at the home office of the company. All indebtedness on account of this policy, with accrued interest, shall be deducted from any settlement hereunder.

VII. NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse through non-payment of premium after three years' premiums have been paid, the company will secure to the owner thereof a form of insurance, the net value of which shall be equal to the full reserve on the policy and on any dividend additions thereto at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three per cent, less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy. At the end of the third and succeeding years the cash value is the full reserve, and the paid-up and extension values are the equivalents thereof. The stipulated values of this policy shall be correspondingly increased for any fractional portion of a year's premium which has been paid. This non-forfeiture value shall be secured to the owner of the policy through one of the following provisions: (First) The automatic extension without participation of the net amount insured by this policy for the number of years and days stated below, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease; or, (Second) the issue of paid-up participating insurance payable at death for the sum provided for below upon written application therefor by the owner of the policy and the legal surrender of all claims hereunder to the company at its home office within one month after lapse; or, (Third) the payment, in accordance with Sections VIII and IX hereof, of the cash surrender value provided for below on surrender of the policy and all claims hereunder to the company within one month from the date of lapse.

VIII. The company shall have the right to defer the payment of the surrender value of this policy, or the making of a loan hereon (unless for the purpose of paying premiums on policies in this company) for a period of not exceeding sixty (60) days from the date of the application therefor.

The loan values in the above table are the maximum amounts available at the end of each policy-year indicated. Loans may also be obtained during the policy-year asset forth in Sections VI and VIII hereof.

Should any indebtedness exist, it shall be deducted from the cash value of the policy; the paid-up value shall be reduced proportionately; or in case of lapse the extended insurance shall be for the face value of the policy less the indebtedness and for such a term as said reduced cash value will provide. The cash value of any paid-up or extension granted upon the lapse of this policy will be the full reserve at the time of surrender, less any indebtedness to the company under the policy, and will be paid to the owner thereof upon proper release.

X. REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in premium payments, unless the cash value has been duly paid, it is agreed that this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

XI. DEATH CLAIM.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement less any indebtedness on the policy, will be made upon receipt of due proof of death, and delivery of this policy to the company. When premiums are payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, any unpaid instalment of the premium for the policy-year during which death occurs will be deducted from the sum payable under this policy.

XII. INSTALMENT TABLES.—The net proceeds of this policy at maturity may be made payable, at the option of the beneficiary, in such number of instalments two to thirty, as may be chosen in accordance with table A of instalment values printed below. Similarly, the net proceeds at maturity may be made payable in annual instalments for twenty years guaranteed and as much longer thereafter as the beneficiary may live, in accordance with table B of instalment values printed below. These options can only be exercised in cases where the beneficiary is an individual. They are not available when an association, firm or corporation is named as beneficiary or assignee.

These tables are based upon a policy, the net proceeds of which are one thousand dollars, and apply pro rata to this policy.

The instalments under table A, or the instalments certain under table B, after the first year, will be increased annually by such surplus as may be awarded by the board of trustees

The commuted value of any unpaid instalments under table A, or the commuted value of any unpaid instalments certain under table B, will be calculated by the company at any time upon the same basis (three per cent compound interest) as the instalments were granted, and will be paid to the owner of the policy upon proper release.

XIII. INTEREST PRIVILEGE.—The net proceeds of this policy or any designated fraction thereof may at maturity be allowed to remain with the company until the death of the beneficiary, during which period the company will pay to the beneficiary yearly, three per cent on the amount so held, the first payment being made one year after the maturity of this policy and the last payment to be pro-rated to the date of the death of the beneficiary. The interest rate will be improved annually by such addition as may be awarded by the board of trustees. Unless otherwise directed by the insured in writing filed with the company, the balance remaining unpaid may be withdrawn at any interest period.

XIV ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy shall be furnished to the company and a duplicate thereof attached hereto. No assignment shall impose any obligation on this company until the original thereof has been filed at the home office of the company, nor does the company guarantee the sufficiency or validity of any assignment.

XV. PREMIUM LIENS.—After the third year if any premium or premiums on this policy, annual, semi-annual or quarterly, be not paid when due or within the period of grace, the company will upon request charge against the loan value of this policy such premium or premiums, with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum, provided that such loan value is sufficient. The balance of value, if any, not thus used shall be applied in accordance with the non-forfeiture provision, and any premium liens so made shall be subject to the terms of Section VI hereof. This method of premium settlement will be applicable when request for such premium liens is filed by the owner of the policy at the home office after the policy has acquired a loan value and while there is no default in the payment of any premium, and such request is revocable as to any future premium.

XVI. NO ALTERATION OF THIS POLICY, or waiver of any of its conditions, shall be valid unless endorsed hereon and signed by an officer of the company. No agent is authorized to modify, alter or enlarge this contract or to bind the company by any promise or undertaking as to distribution of surplus or any future award of interest.

XVII. DISABILITY BENEFITS—WAIVER OF PREMIUM—ANNUITY PAYMENT.

A. WAIVER OF PREMIUM—ANNUITY PAYMENT—(Disability before age sixty.) If after one year's premium shall have been paid on this policy and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium the insured shall furnish to the company due proof that, before attaining the age of sixty, he has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and thereby will be permanently and continuously unable to engage in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, and that such disability has existed continuously for not less than sixty days prior to the furnishing of proof, the company, by endorsement hereon, shall waive the payment of the premiums which thereafter may become due under this policy during the continuance of the said total disability of the insured. Furthermore, the said company will pay to the insured a monthly sum equal to one one-hundred-and-twentieth of the face of this policy, the first monthly payment to be made six months after receipt of due proof of the said total disability accompanied by this policy for endorsement, and subsequent payments shall be made monthly thereafter during the continuance of the said total disability of the insured prior to the maturity of this policy. The company will admit the age of the insured when furnished with satisfactory evidence of the date of birth and reserves the right to require such proof of date of birth at the time proof of disability is furnished. The amount of this policy payable at maturity either as an endowment or as a death claim shall not be reduced by any payments made under this disability provision, nor shall the company deduct any part of the premium which may have been waived under this provision. The non-forfeiture values of this policy shall increase from year to year in the same manner as though any premium waived under this provision had been paid in cash.

B. WAIVER OF PREMIUM. (Disability after age sixty.)—If the insured shall furnish, as required in paragraph A of Section XVII, due proof that permanent total disability has occurred after attaining the age of sixty and that such disability has existed continuously for not less than sixty days prior to the furnishing of proof, the company, by endorsement hereon, shall waive the payment of premiums which may thereafter become due under this policy during the continuance of the said total disability of the insured. Each premium so waived shall reduce by its amount the sum insured, and subsequent premiums shall correspond thereto; and all values under this policy shall be reduced to correspond to the reduced sum insured and as though the premium for the reduced sum had been paid when due. If the loan value of this policy is reduced in accordance with this provision so as to equal or become less than the outstanding indebtedness on this policy, the company's liability under this policy shall terminate.

C. RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Should the company accept proofs of permanent disability under this policy, it may nevertheless, at any time thereafter, but not oftener than once a year subsequent to the first payment of the disability annuity, demand of the insured due proof of the continuance of such total disability; and upon failure to furnish such proof, or if it be established that the insured has engaged or has become able to engage in any occupation whatever for remuneration or profit, all disability benefits under this policy shall thereupon cease. If the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced under the provision as to waiver of premium of paragraph B of Section XVII, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the sum insured under this policy, and the premiums payable thereafter and all values under this policy shall be reduced to correspond to the reduced sum insured.

D. RECOGNIZED DISABILITIES.—Without prejudice to any other cause of total disability the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability.

E. DISCONTINUANCE.—While any non-forfeiture provision set forth in Section VII is in effect, no disability benefits shall accrue, nor shall any disability benefit apply in case the insured engage in military or naval service in time of war. Upon written request by the insured, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, the provision for disability benefits may be discontinued. If so discontinued, premiums thereafter will be reduced by eighteen and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars yearly, being the additional premium for such benefits. Non-payment of the said additional premium will void the provisions respecting disability and the benefits secured thereby.

TEN-YEAR OPTIONAL TERM—CONVERTIBLE, NON-RENEWABLE.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $131.90. AGE, 35.

In consideration of the payment in advance to the company at its home office of the sum of one hundred, thirty-one and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars at the date hereof, and upon condition that the annual premium of one hundred, thirty-one and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars is paid at or before three o'clock p. m., on the first day of January in every year for the period of ten years, the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company insures the life of William Penn, the insured, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, state of Pennsylvania, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, for the period of ten years from January first, 1915, and promises to pay at its home office, in the city of Philadelphia, unto his executors, administrators or assigns, the said sum insured, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, during the continuance in force of this policy.

The privilege is hereby given to the owner of this policy to surrender and exchange the same at any time, while it is in force by the payment of premiums thereon in cash, provided the insuring age does not then exceed 65, for a Life or Endowment Policy of not greater amount, the new policy to run from the date of surrender of this policy and at the rate of premium then chargeable on policies of such class for the age attained. When the change is made the company will allow the net value of this policy, computed in accordance with the American Table of Mortality, with 3 per cent. interest, together with all dividends then standing to its credit, toward payment of premium upon the new policy; or any part of this policy (in multiples of $1000) may be proportionately so changed according to this method. If such change be not made within seven years from the issue of this policy, evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be furnished. Or, while this policy is in force by the payment of premiums in cash, it may be exchanged upon proper surrender and the payment of the back differences in premiums, with interest thereon, for a life or endowment policy of an equal amount of insurance on any plan now issued; and said new policy shall be of the same force and effect as though issued at the same premium date as this policy, and at the rates of premium now in use. If such change be not made within seven years from the issue of this policy, evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be furnished. If it is desired to have the permanent total disability provision incorporated in the new life or endowment policy, evidence of eligibility satisfactory to the company must be furnished. The right to change the beneficiary is reserved by the insured. This policy shall participate annually in surplus earnings in accordance with its provisions. All the benefits, privileges and provisions stated on the second, third and fourth pages hereof form a part of this policy as fully as though recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

FROM THE DATE OF ISSUE THIS POLICY SHALL BE WITHOUT ANY RESTRICTIONS AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION

I. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company in the city of Philadelphia, or they may be paid to agents on or before the dates when due in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, or actuary and countersigned by agent. The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums payable in advance; but on any anniversary, upon written request, payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the premium rates therefor now in use by the company.

II. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in force, will be granted for the payment of premiums or regular instalments thereof, after the first. If the death of the insured occur during the days of grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy-year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

III. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties. The contract shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums; but in case of suicide, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of the premium paid hereon. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid or be used in defense under the policy unless it is contained in the written and printed application and a copy of such application is attached to the policy when issued. Any error in stating the age of the insured shall be adjusted by the company paying at the maturity of this contract such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the table rate at the correct age.

IV. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Whenever the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved in the last designation of beneficiary recorded at the home office of the company, the insured, or his duly appointed guardian if he be not of legal age (subject to any previous assignment of the policy filed with the company as herein provided), shall be entitled, without the consent of the beneficiary, to any cash dividends declared on this policy and to the cash value herein provided for, and shall have full power while this policy is in force to designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving the right of future designation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company and such change shall take place upon such filing and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided in this policy or in the written designation of beneficiary filed as above.

V. DIVIDENDS OF SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in surplus, and upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy-year, while the policy is in force by payment of premiums, the company will determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing thereto. These dividends, at the option of the insured, will be applied in any year to reduce the premium, or to accumulate to the credit of the policy at 3 per cent. compound interest per annum, this interest rate to be increased annually by such addition as may be awarded by the board of trustees, which accumulation will be payable at the maturity of the policy, or may be withdrawn at any premium anniversary. If no other option is selected, dividends shall be paid in cash.

VI. NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse through non-payment of premium after three years' premiums have been paid in cash, the company, subject to the other conditions of the policy, guarantees at the end of successive policy-years the following options of settlement:

First.—Paid-up non-participating term insurance, payable at death occurring within ten years of the date of issue of this policy, upon written application therefor and the legal surrender of all claims hereunder to the company at its home office within one month after lapse. The amount of such paid-up term insurance is provided for in the table on page four hereof. No paid-up value will be allowed for an amount less than $50, but the cash value will be paid as provided in the third option; or,

Second.—The automatic extension without participation of the net amount insured by this policy as non-participating term insurance for the number of years and days stated in the table on page four hereof, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease; or,

Third.—The payment, in accordance with Sections VII and VIII hereof, of the cash surrender value provided for in the table below, on surrender of the policy and all claims hereunder to the company within one month after the date of lapse.

The values provided for under this policy shall correspond to the age of the insured at the date of issue, the amount insured and the number of years which the policy shall be held in force by payment of premiums, the tables being based on an insurance of $1000.

VII. The company shall have the right to defer the payment of the surrender value of this policy, for a period of not exceeding sixty (60) days from the date of the application therefor.

If this policy be surrendered for cash within seven years from its date, which cash is thereupon applied to the purchase of other insurance, the cash value named will be increased twenty-five per cent.

Should any indebtedness exist, it shall be deducted from the cash value of the policy; the amount of the paid-up insurance shall be reduced in the same proportion as the cash value is reduced; or in case of lapse the extended insurance shall be for the face value of the policy less the indebtedness and for such a term as said reduced cash value will provide.

IX. REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in premium payments, unless the cash value has been duly paid, it is agreed that this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding 6 per cent. per annum.

X. DEATH CLAIM.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement less any indebtedness on the policy, will be made upon receipt of due proof of death, and delivery of this policy to the company. When premiums are payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, any unpaid instalment of the premium for the policy-year during which death occurs will be deducted from the sum payable under this policy.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Peoples Life Insurance Company, Illinois.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $362.20. AGE, 35.

The Peoples Life Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill., hereby insures the life of Richard Roe, hereinafter called the insured, and on receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured, provided this policy is then in force, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at its office in Chicago, Ill., to Margaret Roe, his wife, if living, if not, then to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary, and subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the second and third pages hereof, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is attached hereto, and which is hereby made a part of this contract; and in further consideration of the payment of premiums as provided in the within policy; the insurance covered by the first year's premium being term insurance for the period terminating on the eighth day of December, 1909.

Chicago, Ill., December 8, 1908.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

I. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable, after one year from its date of issue, for the amount due, provided premiums have been duly paid, except, as herein provided, for military and naval service in time of war.

II. OCCUPATION, RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—There are no restrictions under this policy upon travel, residence, occupation, military or naval service, excepting for one year from its date of issue, during which time travel or residence in Mexico or the Torrid Zone, or engagement, occupation or employment in blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon railroad trains, or in switching or coupling cars, or on any steamboat or vessel, will render this policy void, and excepting military or naval service in war, which is at all times subject to and permitted only in accordance with the provisions of Section VIII on this page.

III. GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—For the payment of any premiums due under this policy, excepting the first premium, a grace of one month or not less than thirty days will be allowed, subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum during which time the policy will remain in force. If the insured shall die within the month of grace, then the unpaid premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

IV. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by reason of the non-payment of any premium, it may be reinstated at any time upon the insured's furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all arrears of premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company under this contract existing at the date of lapse, with interest thereon at five per cent per annum.

V. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY—ASSIGNMENT.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by filing with the company a written request duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, provided this policy is not then assigned. No assignment shall take effect until a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office, and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

VI. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred sixty-two and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance for the period terminating on the eighth day of December, 1909, and in further consideration of the payment in advance of a like amount on the eighth day of December, in each and every year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums for twenty full years from the date of this policy shall have been paid, after which no further payments of premiums will be required. In case of failure to pay, when due, any premium or any part thereof, or any indebtedness on account of this policy or the interest thereon, this policy shall cease and determine, except as herein otherwise provided.

VII. FACILITY IN MAKING PAYMENTS.—All renewal premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., or to an agent of the company, upon the delivery of the company's receipt, signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, assistant secretary or treasurer of the company, and countersigned by the agent authorized to receive the same. This contract is based upon the receipt of premiums annually in advance, but premiums may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, in which case any instalments necessary to complete the full year's premium shall be deducted, in case of death, from the amount of the claim.

VIII. SERVICE IN WAR.—Military or naval service in war are not risks assumed by the company under this contract, unless the insured shall cause to be sent to the head office of the company at Chicago, Ill., in advance by registered mail, a written notice of his desire to be classed for one year as a member of the company yearly war class, in which class no extra premium will be required in advance, but the actual losses to the company by war will be annually apportioned among the members of the said class on the basis of the amounts insured under their contracts. This apportionment (which it is expected will not exceed ten per cent of the amount insured in any one year) may then either be paid in cash, or charged by the company as a lien, with interest, against any moneys payable under each contract, respectively. Pending such apportionment, a sum equal to ten per cent of its face will be withheld by the company in the settlement of each maturing contract. Such mailing of notice shall be the sole and essential requisite for entrance in to this war class and in acceptance of its conditions of membership, and shall act as a waiver of all restrictions against military or naval service in war. In the event of the death of the insured through service in war without membership in the yearly war class as thus defined, and without first obtaining a special permit for such service, the reserve under the policy only will be due.

IX. SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of the issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

X. ADMISSION OF AGE.—The age of the insured will be admitted during lifetime by the company on due proof, but if not so admitted, if the age is shown to have been misstated, the amount of insurance due under the policy at its maturity shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the company's rates in use at the register date of the policy for the insured's true age.

XI. INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured at any time during the continuance of this policy, or in the absence of action by the insured, the beneficiary or beneficiaries, if living at the time when the policy becomes a claim, may elect, by giving written notice to the company at its home office, that the mode of payment of the proceeds of the policy be changed from payment in one sum, as hereinbefore provided, to payment in equal annual instalments, as specified below; such change of payment to take effect upon its endorsement on the policy by the company at its home office; provided, however, that no such change shall be valid if the proceeds of the policy shall amount to less than $1000, or if the policy or any interest therein shall have been assigned. In case the proceeds of the policy be made payable in instalments, the first instalment shall be payable on the date of proof of claim, and the subsequent instalments on the anniversary of said day. The proceeds of the policy may be made payable in any specified number of annual instalments from five to twenty-five, the amount of each instalment being determined by the number to be paid, according to the following table:

NUMBER OF ANNUAL INSTALMENTS AND AMOUNT OF EACH INSTALMENT PER $1000 DUE.

XII. LOANS AND SURRENDER VALUES.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, will loan, on the execution of a proper note or loan agreement by the insured, and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, with interest at five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, and thereafter annually in advance, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the insured, less than the loan value hereon at the end of the current policy year, in the table of loan values, and all dividend additions thereto, if any, less any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan, or the interest thereon, shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. The amount of any such indebtedness shall be deducted, in case of death, from the amount payable under this policy.

The guaranteed values in the above table are equivalent to the reserves at the end of the respective policy years, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. Cash or loan values for later years will be equal to the full reserve, according to the above standard. If this policy be continued in force, tables of values will be furnished on application to the home office. If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid in addition to the full number of years' premiums. Any unpaid dividends will operate to increase the above values. Any indebtedness will reduce the benefits as provided in the respective paragraphs relating theret.

XIII. NON-FORFEITING OPTIONS.—Upon default in the payment of any premium, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, upon surrender of this policy to the company, within the month of grace, by the insured and the legal holder hereof, the company will grant one of the following options, viz.: (1), A cash sum equal to the cash value specified in the above table, such cash value being not less than the value of either of the following options; or (2), A non-participating paid-up whole life policy for the amount specified in the above table; or, (3), A non-participating paid-up term policy for the face amount of this policy, but with no further premiums required, continued for the term specified in the above table under the heading "extended term insurance" (such term including the month of grace). If the policy be not surrendered for either of the foregoing options, it will be continued as paid-up life insurance for a reduced amount under Option (2), above mentioned. In computing benefits under the foregoing options, due allowance will be made for any portion of a year's premium paid in addition to the full number of years' premiums, as provided in the foot note to the above table. The options above specified are upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on or secured by this policy. Should there be any indebtedness, the available value for the purposes of these options shall be the cash value stated above, less the amount of such indebtedness, which available value will be paid in cash or will be applied to secure a proportionately reduced amount of paid-up life insurance under Option (2).

XIV. DIVIDEND.—If the insured be living, and this policy is in force on the eighth day of December, 1918, the company will pay to the insured or assigns a cash dividend consisting of this policy's full share of surplus legally distributable as determined by the officers of the company, and subsequent payments of surplus will be made as follows: On the eighth of December in each and every year during the continuance in full force and effect of this policy.

XV. POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied except in writing by one of the following executive officers of the company, at its home office in Chicago, Ill.—viz., the president, vice-president or secretary. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and statements not contained in the application and in the copy thereof hereto attached shall not avoid this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application, the medical examination and the policy applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, that all the statements and answers herein are warranted to be true; that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. I have not been declined or postponed by any life company or received a policy different in form from the one originally applied for, nor have I been intemperate, or had any serious illness or disease, except diseases incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity in my family, i.e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts, other than stated below.

Peoples Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $304.

AGE, 35.

The Peoples Life Insurance Company, home office Frankfort, Ind., hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Frankfort, county of Clinton, State of Indiana, hereinafter called the insured, and agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife, if living, otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, at the home office of said company within thirty days after the receipt of due proofs of death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant, this policy being then in force, subject to the privileges and conditions upon the second and third pages hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract.

This contract is made in consideration of the answers, statements and agreements made in the application therefor, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy of which is hereto attached, and in consideration of the payment of three hundred and four dollars in advance, on the delivery of this policy, and of the annual payment of a like amount to the company at its home office on or before the first day of August of each and every year until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

Should the insured become permanently and totally disabled from any cause, and so request in writing while this policy is yet in force, there shall be paid to him or her, upon satisfactory proofs of such disability, and upon the surrender of this policy duly receipted, the sum of one-half the face value hereof, which shall be in full of all liabilities of said company hereunder, or, if after the policy has been in force one year and the second premium paid thereon, the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof to the company that he or she, prior to attaining the age of sixty, has become permanently and totally disabled from pursuing any gainful occupation; the company agrees to pay all premiums for the insured thereafter, but should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, then the obligation on the part of the insured shall be resumed to pay all future premiums, but prior to this time the cash loans and cash surrender values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Provided that no proof of disability shall be deemed satisfactory until four months after the disability has occurred.

In witness whereof, the said Peoples Life Insurance Company, at its office in the city of Frankfort, Ind., has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, and affixed its seal this first day of August, 1910.

PRIVILEGES, CONDITIONS AND BENEFITS.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due in exchange for the company's official receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such authorized agent of the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, after it has been in force one full year, a grace of thirty days will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid the company will loan, within six months of date of written application therefor and while this policy is in force, upon the sole security hereof any sum not in excess of that stated in the table of options to be loaned at the end of the current policy year plus the reserve on any additions hereto; provided that there shall first be deducted from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of the current year's premium, and that interest at the rate of five per cent per annum on the total amount of the loan be paid in advance to the end of the current policy year and that this policy be assigned to the company. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay the interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company hereunder shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

NON-FORFEITABLE EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In event of default in the payment of any premium when due, after premiums have been paid for three full years, the company will without any action on the part of the insured, continue this policy in force as paid-up, non-participating term insurance, without the right to loans, for the term shown in the table of options for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums have been paid; provided that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy the amount of such extended insurance shall be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such extended insurance.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Or, in event of default as above stated this policy may be surrendered to the company within one month from date of such default, whereupon the company will pay therefor its cash value as shown in the table of options, which shall be at least equal to the sum available for the purchase of extended insurance as aforesaid; provided that such cash value shall be subject to any existing indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Or, in event of default as above stated, this policy may be surrendered to the company within one month from date of such default, whereupon the company will issue to the insured a paid-up, non-participating life policy for the amount stated in the table of options; provided that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy the amount of such paid-up insurance shall be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such paid-up insurance.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date if all premiums have been paid when due.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of any premium, it will be revived at any time upon written application and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided, evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished.

ASSIGNMENT.—If this policy shall be assigned, the assignment must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its office in the city of Frankfort, Ind., change the beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy, such change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease; provided, however, that no such change of beneficiary shall be valid if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim the amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than $1,000, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon so long as the said amount or said portion thereof remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest. The trust fund privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1,000.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract which cannot be changed or modified except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president or secretary. No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representation or information. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

(2) If within one year from date hereof the insured shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of his or her own criminal action the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premiums paid on this policy. (3) If the age of the insured be understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount of insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. (4) Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including any of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement under this policy. (5) The benefits stated in the following table apply to the original sum insured only. If the sum insured be increased the benefits will be increased, but any indebtedness to the company on the policy will operate to reduce the benefits. If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, tables of cash loans and surrender values will be furnished upon application to the home office.

Values for years subsequent to those covered by the above table shall be equivalent to the full reserve hereunder.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana, and said reserve shall be invested in interest bearing securities which shall be deposited with the auditor of the State of Indiana, for the benefit of this policy, as provided by the laws of the State of Indiana.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured at any time, this policy being in force, may elect by written request on the company's form that each $1000 of insurance due upon maturity of this policy by death shall be paid to the beneficiary in accordance with either of the following instalment options; the first instalment being due in each case upon receipt and approval of proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force: (Option 1.) In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting to $1138. (Option 2.) In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amounting to $1219.50. (Option 3.) In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting to $1305. (Option 4.) In annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be determined by the schedule below for this option, in accordance with the age of the beneficiary, nearest birthday, at the date of the death of the insured. In case of the death of the beneficiary before twenty annual instalments have been paid, the company will pay the balance of said twenty instalments to the estate of the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that I am in good health, of sober and temperate habits and will not use intoxicating liquors to excess nor practice any pernicious habits that obviously tend to shorten life; and that all the statements and answers in Parts I. and II. of this application are complete and true and shall become a part of the contract for insurance hereby applied for. I hereby agree that active service in the army or navy in time of war shall invalidate this insurance unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted by the company. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained; and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued by the said company and the first premium be paid thereon in full. That any policy issued upon this application shall at all times, and places, be held to be a contract made at Frankfort, Ind., and shall in all respects be determined in accordance with the laws of said State. I hereby waive any and all statutes that prohibit any physician from testifying in any court regarding my health, habits or any communications I may have made to him regarding same.

Peoria Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $364.50. AGE, 35.

The Peoria Life Insurance Company promises to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe, the insured, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured and beneficiary, subject to the provisions of this policy.

This policy shares in the profits of the company as follows: Upon the payment of the premium or premiums hereon for the second policy year, and at the end of the second and of each subsequent policy year, this policy while in full force will be credited with a dividend from the surplus then apportioned by the company to policies of the same age and kind. Each such annual dividend shall be payable in cash, but upon the insured's written request to the home office within one month from the date when credited, any dividend may be converted into a paid-up insurance addition to this policy, at net single premium rates by the standard herein named; provided that all dividends not drawn in cash nor converted as aforesaid will, subject at all times to the written demand of the insured, remain on deposit with the company to accumulate at such rate of interest, in no event less than three per cent per annum, as the company shall from time to time determine and allow.

Dividend deposits may be applied by the insured to shorten the premium-paying period of the insurance or to mature this policy as an endowment, as follows: The insured may exchange this policy for a profit-sharing paid-up life policy for the face amount hereof when the accumulated dividend deposits, together with the reserve on this policy and on any paid up insurance additions thereto, equal or exceed the net single premium then required for such a paid-up life policy by the standard herein named; or the insured may surrender this policy for a cash value equal to its face amount when the accumulated dividend deposits, together with the reserve on this policy and on any paid-up insurance additions thereto, equal or exceed said face amount.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred sixty-four and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the first day of July 1914. After the first policy year the insurance will be continued as whole life insurance upon the payment of the annual premium of three hundred sixty-four and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of July in every year during the continuance of this policy, until premiums for twenty policy years, including the first, have been paid.

This policy is issued and accepted by all parties in interest with the express understanding that the contents of all of its pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, The Peoria Life Insurance Company has, by its president, or vice-president and secretary, executed this policy at Peoria, Illinois, this first day of July, 1913.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—The company will pay for the insured all premiums becoming due hereon after the date of receipt by the company of satisfactory proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as hereinafter defined, if all prior premiums have been duly paid by insured. The values in the tables herein will increase and progress from year to year, and this policy will be credited with dividends from the surplus, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The premiums paid by the company in conformity with this provision will not be an indebtedness on this policy if such proof is received by the company before the insured has attained the age of sixty years; if such proof is received after the insured has attained the aforesaid age, the premiums paid by the company will be charged as an indebtedness on this policy without interest, and will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit hereunder. The total and permanent disability of the insured must be due to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from performing any work or conducting any business for compensation or profit; provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if such proof is not furnished, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work, or to conduct any business for compensation or profit, the insured shall immediately resume the payment of premiums hereon. The company will extend the privileges and benefits for total and permanent disability hereunder to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot.

ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in accordance with the company's rates endorsed on the back hereof, and the company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment upon the insured's written request therefor on the company's form; should the insured not survive to complete premium payments for the then current policy year, the amount necessary for such completion shall be considered an indebtedness hereon to the company. All premiums are payable in advance, either at the home office of the company in Peoria, Ill., or to an agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the authorized agent. If any premium is not paid on the date when due, this policy shall cease and determine, except as herein-after provided.

THIS POLICY IS NON-FORFEITABLE FROM DATE OF ISSUE, as follows:

GRACE AND AUTOMATIC CONTINUED INSURANCE.—If any premium after the first is not paid on the date when due, this policy will continue in full force from said due date for the term of one month, which is the month of grace allowed hereunder, without interest charge, in the payment of any such premium. In case of death of the insured during the month of grace, the unpaid premium or premiums for the then current policy year shall be considered an indebtedness hereon to the company. After completion of premium payments for the first two policy years, if any subsequent premium is not paid on the date when due, and remains unpaid during the month of grace, the insurance will automatically continue as term insurance for the face amount hereof for a further term, the total term of continued insurance, including the period of grace, granted at completion of any policy year being specified in column 1 of the table below. In lieu of such automatic term insurance, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within one month from said due date, either:

1.—PAID-UP POLICY. A paid-up policy will be issued, as specified in column 2 of the table below: or

2.—CASH VALUE. The cash value of this policy will be paid, as specified in column 3 of the table below.

The aforesaid automatic term insurance shall be without participation in profits, cash or loan values or further payment of premiums. The aforesaid paid-up life policy shall be without participation in profits.

The cash value of this policy at the completion of the second policy year and thereafter is the full reserve hereon and is at any time equal to or exceeding the net value of the corresponding non-forfeiture benefits hereunder. An extension of this table covering later policy years will be furnished on application to the home office.

All non-forfeiture values hereunder are in excess of any legal requirements.

SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PAYMENTS AND ADDITIONS INCREASE VALUES.—After the second policy year semi-annual or quarterly premiums paid in addition to payments for entire years will cause an increase in the tabular cash value and paid-up life policy proportionate to the increase therein effected by the payment of an annual premium. The tabular cash value will also be increased by the reserve; and the paid-up life policy by the amount, of any paid-up insurance additions. Any such increase will involve a change of the term of continued insurance, which will be such as the increased cash value will purchase at the single premium term rates of the company for the attained age of the insured, counting each completed quarter of a year in arriving at such age; the amount of continued insurance will not be increased by paid-up insurance additions. The foregoing table and provisions pertaining thereto are based upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness to the company on this policy. If there is such indebtedness, the cash value will be diminished thereby, the amount of paid-up life policy reduced in the ratio of the indebtedness to the cash value, and the term of continued insurance changed, without endorsement hereon, to that term for which the cash value less the indebtedness will carry the face amount hereof at the single premium term rates of the company for the attained age of the insured; but the insurance shall, in any event, continue in force for the period of grace herein above provided.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the first policy year, and while this policy is in full force, the insured can borrow from the company on the sole security of this policy, properly assigned to and deposited with the company, any sum within the loan value specified in the adjoined table, from which loan value any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid premiums for the current policy year will first be deducted. The company shall furnish the form for the assignment required hereunder and upon completion of the loan will issue its official certificate of deposit of the policy. Interest, at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the current policy year and thereafter be payable annually in advance. The tabular loan value will be increased by the net value of any paid-up insurance additions hereto. Failure to repay any loan granted hereon by the company, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

Loan values for subsequent policy years, being the full end year reserve hereon, will be furnished on application to the home office.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If a written request from the insured on the company's form has been received at the home office while this policy is in full force, each premium becoming due hereon and not paid in cash or otherwise settled on the last day of the month of grace, will be paid by being charged as a loan on this policy, provided the cash value of this policy at the end of the period covered by such premium, less any outstanding indebtedness hereon to the company, shall be sufficient for such payment with interest in advance to the end of the current policy year. Premium loans shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan granted hereon by the company under the cash loan privilege stated above. While this policy is carried in force by a premium loan, the payment of premiums in cash may be resumed by the insured without medical examination.

REINSTATEMENT.—If any premium is not paid on the date when due, or within the month of grace, and this policy has not been surrendered, the company will reinstate the policy as of said due date at any time thereafter upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest, together with the payment, or reinstatement of any indebtedness on this policy on said due date with interest.

This policy is unrestricted from date of issue as to travel, residence or occupation, in time of peace or war, and covers death from any cause, but in case of death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, one-tenth of the face amount hereof, and no more, shall be paid. This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, if the premiums are duly paid.

AGE.—If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments, as provided on the fourth page hereof; such instalments will be increased by dividends, as provided on said page.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—The insured may place the proceeds of this policy as a death claim in trust with the company to secure a guaranteed annual cash income with dividends in addition thereto, as provided on the fourth page hereof.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, with the consent of the company, provided the policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries herein by filing at the home office a written request on the company's form therefor, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment of this policy, and shall not be held to have notice of any such assignment until the original assignment or a copy thereof is received at its home office.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is hereto attached) taken together constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The non-forfeiture values hereunder are based on the reserve at date of default in the payment of premium, and the loan values are based on the reserve at the end of the current policy year. The deduction from such reserve in determining such values is in no case in excess of two and one-half per cent of the sum insured hereunder.

DIVIDEND DEPOSITS.—Dividend deposits may remain with the company at interest while this policy remains in force, becoming payable in cash in any event upon the discontinuance of this policy—to the beneficiary if this policy matures as a death claim, otherwise to the insured. Provided, that no premium shall be construed as paid either wholly or in part, nor any insurance hereunder extended or continued in force, by reason of any dividend deposits remaining with the company.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Peoria, Ill., and proof of interest of claimant will be required; any indebtedness hereon to the company will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. Only the president, vice-president or secretary has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of said officers.

CONTROL OF POLICY.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum.

No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment in instalments is directed.

The following tables are based upon a policy the net proceeds of which are $1,000, and will apply pro rata to the net proceeds of this policy.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below. Any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by twenty instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $68 for each $1,000 of insurance.

Each instalment, except the first, will be increased by such annual dividend from interest earnings as may be apportioned by the company.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Twenty-five annual instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during entire life-time of beneficiary. Payment by continuous instalments cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, or if the beneficiary is a corporation or a firm.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be 30 years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $47 for each $1,000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the 25 instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the 25 instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

Each of the twenty-four instalments next following the first will be increased by such annual dividend from interest earnings as may be apportioned by the company.

TRUST FUND.—By written agreement between the insured and the company made while this policy is in force and not assigned, the proceeds of this policy as a death claim, if not less than $1000 or any part of such proceeds not less than said amount, may be placed in trust with the company for the purpose of paying the beneficiary, as annuitant, a guaranteed income thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, together with such annual dividends from interest earnings as the company may apportion, until the termination of the trust or until the death of the annuitant, whereupon the amount thus placed in trust may be withdrawn by the beneficiary, if living, or, if not living, by the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns. The first payment of income shall be made one year after receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, and subsequent payments shall be made annually thereafter. The insured may subsequently revoke the trust, thereby making this policy again payable as provided on the first page hereof. The beneficiary cannot withdraw the amount placed in trust, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary upon creation of the trust.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I. I have answered the above questions and make them the basis of this application, and the warranties therein contained are made for the purpose of obtaining this insurance.

PART II.—I hereby warrant and declare that I have read and understand all the above questions put to me by the Medical Examiner and the answers thereto, and that the same are true and that there is not, and there has not been any concealment of facts regarding my past and present state of health and habits of life, or my personal or family history. If any of my said answers are not full, true and complete, then the policy to be issued hereon shall be null and void. I expressly waive on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information acquired while attending me in a professional capacity.

Philadelphia Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $355.80. AGE, 35.

Philadelphia Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., in consideration of the application for this policy, and of the payment of three hundred fifty-five and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars in advance, hereby insures the life of John Doe, hereinafter called the insured, for one year.

Upon the payment of an annual premium of three hundred fifty-five and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, on or before the twenty-third day of August, 1912, this policy will become a limited payment life policy, and the insurance will be continued by the payment of a like sum on or before the twenty-third day of August, in each year thereafter during the life of the insured for eighteen years or until prior death of the insured.

Upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, provided this policy is in force, the company will pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of Philadelphia, to Jane Doe, wife of the insured if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

The insured may, while this policy is in force and unassigned, change the beneficiary. Written request must be made and the change will take effect when endorsement is made by the company upon the policy. The right is reserved to the insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy.

DIVIDENDS.—The surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually, and at the option of the insured may then be allowed to remain with the company with interest at a rate not less than three and one-half per centum; used to purchase paid-up additions; or withdrawn in cash, but if so withdrawn the value of the following provisions would thereby be reduced. If no other option is selected, dividends may be withdrawn in cash.

REDUCING PREMIUM-PAYING PERIOD.—Whenever, at the end of any policy year, the accumulations of surplus shall be sufficient to prepay future premiums hereon, no further premiums shall be required; but at the option of the insured the payment of premiums may be continued in order to increase accumulations.

MATURING THE POLICY AS AN ENDOWMENT.—Whenever, at the end of any policy year, the accumulated surplus and reserve together shall equal or exceed the amount insured hereunder, this policy shall mature as an endowment, and shall be payable at once to the insured during his lifetime.

SURPLUS PAYABLE WITH SUM INSURED.—If this policy becomes a claim by death, the sum insured hereunder, together with any surplus withdrawable at the end of the previous policy year, shall be paid the beneficiary.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date. From date of issue this policy shall be without any restrictions as to travel, residence or occupation. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such a sum as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age. Self-destruction while sane or insane, within one year of the date hereof, is a risk not assumed by the company under this policy. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by an executive officer of the company—the president, a vice-president, secretary, treasurer, actuary or comptroller—and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occurs within the days of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable, and failure to pay any premium or note when due will forfeit the policy and all payments made thereon. Any unpaid portion of the current year's premium and all indebtedness will be deducted from any settlement of this policy.

PREMIUM LOANS.—In lieu of automatic extended insurance and on satisfactory request from the insured prior to default in the payment of any premium hereon, the company shall first apply any withdrawable surplus to pay the same; and the remainder due, if any, shall be charged against this policy as a loan at five per cent interest, if the respective loan value specified below be sufficient to cover such advance, in addition to existing liens and accrued interest; provided that if the credits be not sufficient to cover the entire premium then due, the company shall apply the same, if sufficient, to pay the premium for a shorter period, but not less than one month's premium. At any time while the policy is thus sustained in force, the payment of premiums with interest may be resumed. When advances can no longer be made, any balance then remaining shall be used to purchase term insurance, as stated below. No grace will be accorded under this provision.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than five per cent per annum, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than, the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—In event of default in the payment of premiums after premiums have been paid for three years, the insured will be entitled, as provided in the table of surrender values, to any one of the following options: (1) To automatic non-participating paid-up term insurance for the amount insured by this policy, for such time as the surrender value will purchase. The surrender value will be the entire reserve on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent, less a sum not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. (2) To a non-participating paid-up life insurance policy, for an amount not less than may be purchased by the surrender value aforesaid upon surrender within one month after default. (3) To a cash value not less than the surrender value aforesaid upon surrender within one month after default. The surrender values stated will be increased correspondingly for any fractional portion of a year's premium which shall have been paid. Figures for later years will be furnished upon request.

THE CONTRACT.—A copy of the written and printed application for this contract is attached hereto. This policy and application therefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract. No person, except an executive officer of the company as aforesaid, has power to modify or in event of lapse to reinstate this policy, to extend the time for paying a premium, or to accept any note in payment thereof.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this contract shall be attached hereto, and a duplicate thereof shall be furnished the company at its home office. Any claim against the company arising under any assignment of this contract shall be subject to proof of interest. No assignment shall impose any obligation on this company until it has received the original or a duplicate thereof, nor does the company guarantee the legality of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest thereon not exceeding five per centum per annum.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-quarter per cent per annum payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum.

Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the above table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3), except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and all parties who may have an interest herein that all the foregoing statements and answers and those made to the medical examiner are true and complete, and are offered to the company as a consideration for the contract which I hereby agree to accept; that no other information, statement or answer than is therein contained, whether known to, made by, or given to any person, shall be considered as a part of the contract; that should this policy become a claim during its first year nothing herein contained shall prevent the company from introducing any information as evidence of fraud; that the policy granted herefor shall not take effect until issued, delivered and the premium paid thereon to the company or to an agent holding the premium receipt from the company during my lifetime and while in good health.

Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company.

ANNUAL PREMIUM LIFE POLICY (MATURING AS ENDOWMENT AT AGE 85). ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $275.40.

AGE, 35.

The Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this policy, and of the payment of premiums to be made as described below, promises to pay the amount insured as defined herein at its home office in Hartford, Conn., to the original or substituted beneficiary as herein described and provided for, if living, (but subject to the provisions of the beneficiary clauses on the second page of this contract), on receipt of this policy duly discharged, together with due proofs of the death of the insured hereunder while this policy is in force.

Insured, John A. Phoenix; original beneficiary, Mary A. Phoenix, wife of insured.

The insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided.

Amount insured ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, including any portion of the current year's premium unpaid at the time of the death of the insured.

Premium, two hundred seventy-five and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, payable on the fifth day of each January until the anniversary of this policy nearest the eighty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the insured, or until the death of the insured if prior thereto.

The benefits and provisions on the second, third and fourth pages hereof are a part of this policy.

No modification of this printed policy can be made except over the signature of an executive officer of the company, to wit: the president, a vice-president, the secretary or an assistant secretary.

In witness whereof, the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary signed, and by its registrar, or an executive officer, countersigned, this policy in the city of Hartford, Conn., this fifth day of January, 1915.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, in Hartford, Conn., but will be accepted if paid to an agent of the company in exchange for a receipt, separate from the policy, and signed by an executive officer. Premiums paid one month or more prior to date when due will be discounted at a rate not less than three per cent per annum.

31 DAYS' GRACE.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is so paid, and if any subsequent premium be not paid when due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, during which time this policy shall remain in force, then this policy shall immediately cease and become void, and all premiums previously paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse and shall not be surrendered to the company, the company will reinstate it at any time upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of insurability and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company existing against this policy at the time of lapse, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest, at the option of the insured or assigns, if any, shall be repaid in cash or, to the extent allowed by the loan value, remain as an indebtedness against this policy.

ANNUAL APPORTIONMENT OF SURPLUS.—At the end of the first and each succeeding policy year, this policy, while in force, will be credited with its share of the divisible surplus which the company will annually determine and account for in a general distribution of surplus. Such apportionment of surplus will not be conditioned on the payment of any premium due during any succeeding policy year, and will be applied in any one of the following methods which may be requested in the application, and such method may be changed by the insured or assigns at the end of any policy year; if no choice is made the first method will be employed.

1. CASH.—To be paid in cash (without interest) to the insured or assigns.
2. REDUCE PREMIUMS.—To reduce the premiums due hereunder during the succeeding year.

3. PARTICIPATING PAID-UP ADDITIONS.—To purchase, at net rates by the American three per cent table, participating paid-up insurance additions, payable with this policy, which additions, on satisfactory release to the company, may be surrendered at any time for their cash value, computed as described in the cash value option, or used to accelerate as described in the following paragraph.

4. CASH DIVIDEND FUND FOR ACCELERATION OF PREMIUMS OR ENDOWMENT IS PAYABLE AT DEATH OR ON DEMAND.—To accumulate at compound interest as a dividend fund, the company annually crediting interest at such rate as may be assumed to have been earned by the company in the declaration of dividends for that year, which rate is guaranteed to be at least three per cent per annum. When such dividend fund, or the reserve under any insurance additions then credited to this policy, or both, together with the reserve under this policy, shall equal or exceed the reserve under a fully paid policy of the same kind and amount, the company will make this a fully paid participating policy; or when such dividend fund and reserves as described above, equal or exceed the amount insured as defined on the first page hereof, the company will mature and pay this policy as an endowment: provided, in either case, a satisfactory request is made and this policy is duly released. Any such dividend fund then credited to this policy will be paid with any death claim arising hereunder, or, on satisfactory release, in whole or any part of it will be paid in cash.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, with the application herefor, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium as stipulated, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and shall not be held to have notice of any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a copy thereof, is received at the home office of the company while this policy, or any insurance guaranteed hereunder, is in force according to the company's records; all assignments shall be subject to any interest the company may have in this policy.

VALUE AT AGE EIGHTY-FIVE.—This policy provides for a cash value of the amount insured as defined on the first page hereof on its anniversary nearest the eighty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the insured, and if it is not then surrendered, so long as it remains in force the company will, at the end of each year thereafter, pay to the insured an interest on such amount at the rate assumed to have been earned by the company in the declaration of dividends for that year (guaranteed to be at least three per cent per annum.)

BENEFICIARY CLAUSES.—Upon the death, during the lifetime of the insured, of any original or substituted beneficiary nominated in accordance with the provisions of this policy, any interest of such beneficiary and his or her assigns shall thereupon revert to the insured or assigns unless otherwise specifically provided herein.

If in the application for this policy the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary, and such fact is indicated on the first page hereof, the insured, if of legal age, may, whenever and as often as he desires, but subject to the rights of any party under any outstanding assignment made in accordance with the provisions hereof, change the beneficiary then last named hereunder and designate a new beneficiary by filing at the home office of the company a written notice of such change, substantially in the form indorsed hereon. Such change shall not take effect until such written notice, if executed by the insured, together with this policy shall be received at the home office of the company for record during the lifetime of the insured and while any insurance hereunder is in force according to the company's records, and a copy of such notice has been attached to or indorsed hereon. In the same manner the insured may at any time renounce the said right to change the beneficiary, and thereafter no change shall be made in the interest of any beneficiary hereunder except on satisfactory request and release by all parties in interest.

If the said right to change the beneficiary has been reserved to and has not been renounced by the insured, the insured may assign this policy or any interest therein without the consent of any beneficiary and the interest of all beneficiaries hereunder shall be subject to such assignment; provided, however, that when this policy becomes payable as a death claim any interest therein not covered by an assignment by the insured then in force shall be payable to the beneficiary or beneficiaries who shall then be the first designated.

If the said right to change the beneficiary has been reserved to and has not been renounced by the insured, the insured and his assigns, if any, may release or assign this policy or any dividend additions or dividend fund credited thereto, to this company for any cash, loan or other value, which may be granted in consideration therefor and the interest of any beneficiaries hereunder or assigns of the same shall be bound thereby.

LOANS AND CHANGES ON SIGNATURE OF INSURED AND ASSIGNS.—The insured and his assigns, if any, may change the payment of premium from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, and may change the manner of applying the surplus, and may borrow, under the conditions described in the policy loans provision, for the sole purpose of paying the premium or interest on any indebtedness to the company under this policy, both, and all interest of any beneficiary or assigns of the same shall be bound thereby.

CHANGE AGREEMENT.—At any time while it is in force, and provided the insured has not passed his sixtieth birthday, this policy may be changed without medical examination of the insured to one of equivalent amount on any plan of higher premium whole life or endowment insurance (except income insurance), then issued by the company, which new policy to bear the date and rated age of this contract, provided this policy shall be satisfactorily released therefor at the company's home office, and that the difference between the premiums that have been paid and those that would have been paid under the new policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum accumulated annually, shall be paid to the company. In calculating such difference in premiums, the dividends that would have been apportioned under the new plan will be applied in the same manner as they were applied under this policy, and the cash value of any insurance additions credited at the time of change, shall be used in settlement of the difference in premiums.

COPY OF APPLICATION.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under this policy, unless it is contained in the written application and a copy of the application is attached hereto when issued.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

The Reserves and Premiums on which these values are based are computed on the three per cent American Experience Table.

CASH VALUE.—At any time after the premiums for two years have been paid the company will purchase this policy for its cash value on satisfactory release and surrender at the home office while it is in force, or within the thirty-one days of grace hereinafter provided. Such cash value at the end of a fully paid policy year is the then terminal reserve for each $1000 of insurance under this policy and under any additions credited to it, together with any cash dividends credited thereto, less any indebtedness to the company against this policy, and, if surrendered before the tenth policy year, less a surrender charge of one per cent of the amount of such insurance and additions; if surrendered subsequently no surrender charge will be made. At any time during a fully paid policy year such cash value is the terminal value at the end of such year discounted for the unexpired portion thereof at the rate of three per cent per annum.

PARTICIPATING PAID-UP POLICY WITH CASH AND LOAN VALUE. EXCHANGEABLE FOR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Or, in lieu of such cash value, upon satisfactory request by the insured and his assigns, if any, the company will issue a participating paid-up policy payable when this insurance is payable, for such amount as said cash value will purchase when used as a net single premium, and such paid-up policy will contain cash and loan values to the amount of its entire reserve. On receipt of satisfactory evidence of insurability and proper release of said paid-up policy the company will place in force an extended term insurance which would then be in force under the automatic extended insurance provision had this policy not been surrendered for said paid-up policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy shall lapse and shall not have been surrendered to the company, the insurance without any action by the owner will be automatically extended from date of lapse, if such lapse occurs two years or more from its date of issue, by applying the cash value at such time as a net single premium to purchase non-participating term insurance for the amount insured as defined on the first page hereof, increased by any dividends credited to it and decreased by any indebtedness to the company against it at date of lapse.

DIVIDEND USED TO PURCHASE EXTENDED INSURANCE END OF FIRST YEAR.—If such lapse occurs before the end of the second year from its date of issue, any cash dividend or the cash value of any additions credited to this policy will be automatically applied to purchase term insurance in manner as above described, and such term insurance, on satisfactory release and surrender of this policy at the home office, may be surrendered for its full reserve at the time of such surrender.

CASH, LOAN AND PAID-UP VALUES UNDER EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy is satisfactorily released and surrendered at the home office while insurance is in force under the automatic extended insurance provision, the company will purchase it for its cash value at the date of surrender as though no lapse had occurred, charging against such value all the unpaid gross premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum accumulated annually; but no value in excess of the reserve under the extended insurance at date of surrender will be paid. Or in lieu thereof the company, on receipt of satisfactory request, will apply such value to the purchase of participating paid-up insurance, computed as described in the participating paid-up policy provision. The company will loan on security of such extended insurance subject to the terms of the following policy loans provision.

POLICY LOANS.—At any time while this policy is in force, upon its proper assignment and on its sole security, the company will loan, at the rate of six per cent per annum, any amount up to the limit secured by any cash value guaranteed hereunder. After indorsement of the loan on the policy it will be returned to the party from whom it has been received. Any interest not paid in cash will be charged against this policy so long as the total indebtedness against it does not exceed the cash value hereunder. The loan may be repaid at any time while this policy is in force, but non-payment of loan or interest will not void this policy until the indebtedness to the company against this policy, with interest, shall equal or exceed the cash value hereunder, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void; but such termination shall not take effect until at least thirty-one days after the company has mailed notice of the same to the insured and assignee of record, if any, at their last known post office addresses.

PREMIUM LIENS.—In lieu of the automatic extended insurance, on receipt of a satisfactory request in the application herefor or from the insured and his assigns, if any, at any time while this policy is in force, the company will charge up annually thereafter against this policy each premium and interest payment as it becomes due (if it be not paid in cash) until such accumulated indebtedness, with interest, equals or exceeds the cash value hereunder, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void, subject, however, to the notice of termination as described in the preceding provision. Such charging up of premiums will be discontinued at any time on receipt of a satisfactory request therefor from the insured and his assigns, if any. While this policy is thus carried in force, all its non-forfeiture provisions remain operative and any party in interest may, without furnishing evidence of the good health of the insured, resume payment of premiums and continue this policy in force.

INTERMEDIATE VALUES FOR PARTIALLY PAID YEARS.—The payment of a premium for a fraction of any policy year after the second will make a proportionate increase in the non-forfeiture values of that year.

MINIMUM NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.—Guaranteed under "non-forfeiture" provisions (after deduction of required surrender charge) provided all premiums due prior to the period designated are paid, and no indebtedness exists. Each of these values will be increased by the value of any dividends standing to the credit of this policy, and decreased, as herein provided, by the value of any indebtedness to the company existing against it. While the insured or any beneficiary (except when the right to change the beneficiary is reserved to the insured) or any assignee under this policy is a minor no loan can be made by the company (except for purpose of paying current premiums) and a cash value will require a release by a duly appointed legal guardian of such minor.

* Per $1000 of insurance. † The term of extended insurance begins from date when defaulted premium was due and includes the days of grace.

NOTE.—Loan values are available at any time. The second year loan may be secured towards payment of second year's premium.

OPTIONS AT SETTLEMENT.—Unless otherwise provided by special indorsement, the payee of any sum payable in accordance with the provisions of this policy, may elect to have the net sum payable applied in any method described in the following options, or divided among any two or more, provided each option selected shall equal or exceed $500 in value.

1. CASH.—The payment in cash.
2. GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest (guaranteed to be at least three and one-half per cent per annum) on the amount left with the company as a principal sum, at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and the payment of said principal sum, with any accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the death of the said payee, to his or her executors, administrators or assigns.
3. REGULAR INSTALMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments, whether the payee lives or dies, (the first instalment payable immediately,) the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the accompanying table.
4. CONTINUOUS INSTALMENT.—The payment of equal annual instalments, (the first instalment payable immediately,) for ten, twenty or thirty years, and as many years hereafter as the payee shall live, such selected ten, twenty or thirty instalments certain being paid whether the payee lives or dies, the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the accompanying table.
5. LIFE ANNUITY.—The payment of an annuity during the lifetime of the annuitant, the first payment payable immediately,) the amount of each payment to be in conformity with the accompanying table.

SEMI-ANNUAL, QUARTERLY OR MONTHLY.—At the option of the owner any yearly payments may be changed to semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. Multiply the annual payment by .5042 to find the semi-annual payment; by .2532 to find the quarterly payment; and by .0846 to find the monthly payment.

INCREASE OF INCOME AND INSTALMENT.—In addition to the guaranteed income under Option No. 2, or to the instalments payable under Option No. 3, or to the certain instalments payable under Option No. 4, the company will apportion as a dividend, payable at the end of each year, such interest in excess of three and one-half per cent per annum on such principal sum or on the reserve under such certain instalments respectively as may be assumed to have been earned by the company in the declaration of dividends for that year.

At any time while this policy is in force, upon the written request of the insured, and assigns if any, the company will by indorsement limit the payment of any claim by death to any one of the above described "options at settlement." Revocation of such limitation may be similarly secured. Unless otherwise provided by special indorsement, this policy is settled under the second option the payees may secure the payment of the principal sum in cash at any time upon giving satisfactory release therefor; or if it is settled under the third or fourth options the payees may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments under option 3 or any of the unpaid instalments certain under option 4, subsequent payments under such options being in no wise affected by any such commutation.

TWENTY-YEAR TERM POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $162.10. AGE, 35.

The Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this policy, and of the payment of premiums to be made as described below, promises to pay the amount insured as defined herein at its home office, in Hartford, Connecticut, to the original or substituted beneficiary as herein described and provided for, if living, (but subject to the provisions of the beneficiary clauses on the second page of this contract), on receipt of this policy duly discharged, together with due proofs of the death of the insured hereunder, provided such death occurs within twenty years from noon of the date hereof and while this policy is in force.

INSURED.—John A. Phoenix.

ORIGINAL BENEFICIARY.—Mary A. Phoenix, wife of insured. The insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided.

AMOUNT INSURED.—Ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, including any portion of the current year's premium unpaid at the time of the death of the insured.

PREMIUM.—One hundred, sixty-two and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, payable on the fifth day of each January until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, if prior thereto.

The benefits and provisions on the second, third and fourth pages hereof are a part of this policy.

No modification of this printed policy can be made except over the signature of an executive officer of the company, to wit: the president, a vice president, the secretary or an assistant secretary.

In witness whereof, the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary signed, and by its registrar or an executive officer, countersigned, this policy in the city of Hartford, Connecticut, this fifth day of January, 1915.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

For clauses relating to payment of premiums, 31 days' grace, incontestability, assignments, beneficiary clauses and copy of application see preceding policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse and shall not be surrendered to the company, the company will reinstate it at any time upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of insurability and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of 6% per annum.

ANNUAL APPORTIONMENT OF SURPLUS.—At the end of the first and each succeeding policy year, this policy, while in force, will be credited with its share of the divisible surplus which the company will annually determine and account for in a general distribution of surplus. Such apportionment of surplus will not be conditioned on the payment of any premium due during any succeeding policy year, and will be applied in any one of the following methods which may be requested in the application, and such method may be changed by the insured or assigns at the end of any policy year; if no choice is made the first method will be employed.

1. CASH.—To be paid in cash (without interest) to the insured or assigns.

2. REDUCE PREMIUMS.—To reduce the premiums due hereunder during the succeeding year.

3. CASH DIVIDEND FUND FOR ACCELERATION OF PREMIUMS IS PAYABLE AT DEATH OR ON DEMAND.—To accumulate at compound interest as a dividend fund, the company annually crediting interest at such rate as may be assumed to have been earned by the company in the declaration of dividends for that year, which rate is guaranteed to be at least 3% per annum. When such dividend fund, together with the reserve under this policy, shall equal or exceed the reserve under a fully paid policy of the same kind and amount, the company will make this a fully paid participating policy: provided a satisfactory request is made and this policy is duly released. Any such dividend fund then credited to this policy will be paid with any death claim arising hereunder, or, on satisfactory release, the whole or any part of it will be paid in cash.

CHANGES ON SIGNATURE OF INSURED AND ASSIGNS.—The insured and his assigns, if any, may change the payment of premium from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, and may change the manner of applying the surplus and all interest of any beneficiary or assigns of the same shall be bound thereby.

CHANGE AGREEMENT.—At any time during the first fifteen years and while it is in force, provided the insured has not passed his sixtieth birthday, this policy may be changed without medical examination of the insured to one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance (except income insurance) then issued by the company, such new policy to bear the date and rated age of this contract, provided that this policy shall be satisfactorily released therefor at the company's home office, and that the difference between the premiums that have been paid and those that would have been paid under the new policy, with interest at the rate of 6% per annum accumulated annually, shall be paid to the company. In calculating such difference in premiums the dividends that would have been apportioned under the new plan will be applied in the same manner as the dividends were applied under this policy.

EXCHANGE FOR NEW POLICY.—At any time during the first fifteen years of this policy and while it is in force the owner may exchange it, without medical examination, on its satisfactory release and surrender at the home office, for another policy on the same life, of equivalent amount, on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, provided the insured has not passed his sixty-fifth birthday, the new policy to bear date of such exchange and to be written at the rated age of the insured at such time; or if the insured has not passed his sixtieth birthday, such change may be to another 20 year term policy containing similar privileges of exchange. The owner has a similar exchange privilege during the last five years of this policy provided satisfactory evidence of the insurability of the insured is furnished with the surrender of the policy. If this policy is so exchanged at any time during its term, the company will apply its full reserve at time of exchange by the 3% American Experience Table, together with any surplus which may then be credited to it, in permanent uniform reduction of the premiums under the new policy.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—The reserves and premiums on which these values are based are computed on the "3 per cent. American Experience Table."

CASH VALUE.—At any time after the premiums for two years have been paid the company will purchase this policy for its cash value on satisfactory release and surrender at the home office while it is in force or within the thirty-one days of grace hereinbefore provided. Such cash value at the end of a fully paid policy year is the then terminal reserve for each $1,000 of insurance under this policy together with any cash dividends credited thereto, and, if surrendered before the tenth policy year, less a surrender charge of 1% of the amount of such insurance; if surrendered subsequently no surrender charge will be made. At any time during a fully paid policy year such cash value is the terminal value at the end of such year discounted for the unexpired portion thereof at the rate of 3% per annum.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy shall lapse and shall not have been surrendered, the insurance without any action by the owner will be automatically extended from date of lapse, if such lapse occurs two years or more from date of issue, by applying the cash value at such time as a net single premium to purchase non-participating term insurance (but not extending beyond the term of this policy) for the amount insured as defined on the first page hereof increased by any dividends credited hereto. If such cash value exceeds the amount required to purchase such term insurance, the excess value will be applied to purchase a pure endowment payable at the expiration of the term of this policy if the insured is then living.

DIVIDEND USED TO PURCHASE EXTENDED INSURANCE END OF FIRST YEAR.—If such lapse occurs before the end of the second year from date of issue, any cash dividend credited to this policy will be automatically applied to purchase term insurance in manner as above described, and such term insurance, on satisfactory release and surrender of this policy at the home office may be surrendered for its full reserve at time of such surrender.

CASH VALUES UNDER EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy is satisfactorily released and surrendered at the home office while insurance is in force under the automatic extended insurance provision, the company will purchase it for its cash value at the date of surrender as though no lapse had occurred, charging against cash value all the unpaid gross premiums, with interest at the rate of 6% per annum accumulated annually; but no value in excess of the reserve under the extended insurance at date of surrender will be paid.

INTERMEDIATE VALUES FOR PARTIALLY PAID YEARS.—The payment of a premium for a fraction of any policy year after the second will make a proportionate increase in the non-forfeiture values for that year.

MINIMUM NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.—Guaranteed under "non-forfeiture" provisions (after deduction of required surrender charge) provided all premiums due prior to the period designated are paid and no indebtedness exists. Each of these values will be increased by the value of any dividends standing to the credit of this policy, and decreased as herein provided, by the value of any indebtedness to the company existing against it. While the insured or any beneficiary (except when the right to change the beneficiary is reserved to the insured) or any assignee under this policy is a minor, a cash value will require a release by a duly appointed legal guardian of such minor.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

"I hereby declare and agree that the foregoing statements and those appearing in Part II hereof are full, complete and true, and that the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the issuance of a policy therefor, and the payment of the first premium thereon; and I furthermore agree that my death from suicide, while sane or insane, within one year from date of any policy issued hereon, shall reduce the company's liability thereunder to the amount of the cash premiums paid thereon.

* Adopted January 1, 1912.

Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company,

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $327.80. AGE, 35.

In consideration of three hundred twenty-seven dollars and eighty cents, Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company will pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa., to Elizabeth Pitt, wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, upon receipt of due proof of the death of William Pitt, the insured, provided death occurs within one year from the date hereof and all premiums have been paid.

This insurance will be renewed by the payment of three hundred twenty-seven dollars and eighty cents on the sixteenth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and sixteen, as an annual dividend whole life policy paid up by limited premiums, from that date, with like terms, upon which the payment of premiums of a like amount will be required on each sixteenth day of January thereafter until but not including the sixteenth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-five, after which no further premium will be required.

THIS POLICY PARTICIPATES IN THE PROFITS OF THE COMPANY.—Dividends will be apportioned at the end of the first year and annually thereafter, and may be applied by the insured in any one of the following ways: (1) In reduction of the premium for the succeeding year. (2) Withdrawn in cash. (3) Permitted to accumulate at three and one-half per cent interest per annum, the interest to be compounded annually. Accumulations may be withdrawn on any anniversary of this policy, or will be paid, in case of death or surrender, in addition to the amount provided in the policy. (4) In purchasing a non-participating paid-up addition to the sum insured, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the principal sum insured under this policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition. If this policy becomes a claim by death, a proportionate part of the current year's dividend will be paid with the claim.

PREMIUM LOAN.—At any time while this policy has a loan value or an accumulation of cash dividends, there shall be no default in the payment of premiums, the company will first apply the accumulation of cash dividends, if any, including the dividend then due, to the payment of premiums. If there be no accumulation of dividends, or if such is insufficient to pay a full premium, the company will forthwith advance the remainder of the premium as a loan against this policy, provided the then loan value, over and above all previous advances and loans then outstanding, plus accrued interest thereon, shall be sufficient to enable such advance, or, if insufficient to advance the entire premium then due, the remainder of an instalment thereof for a shorter period, but not less than a monthly instalment shall be advanced, and notice of such advance will be mailed to the insured. All options under this policy will remain in full force and effect, subject to any indebtedness. When the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value, this policy shall not be void until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. Premium loan is granted, at the request of the insured, in his application for this insurance, but may be revoked at any time upon written notice to the company.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company will advance, at any time while the policy is in force, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, a sum less than the amount specified in the table of loan values below and the cash value of any dividend additions. Interest will be charged at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum payable on the anniversary of the policy, but the interest will be discounted and paid in advance, which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct from such loan value any indebtedness and failure to repay any loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. For the protection of the interests of all policyholders, the company reserves the right to require ninety days' written notice before making any cash loan.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—While this policy is in force by the payment of premiums, or within thirty-one days from the date of default, the insured may elect one of the methods of surrender settlement shown in the table of loan and surrender values below, namely: (1) To surrender the policy for cash, provided it has been in force three full years; or (2) to purchase non-participating, paid-up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or (3) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default for its face value and for a limited period, without participation in profits and without the right to loans. If no election is made within thirty-one days from date of default, then this policy shall be automatically continued as provided in the third option. For the protection of the interests of all policyholders, the company reserves the right to defer payment of the cash value for six months after written application is made therefor.

* No cash value until end of third year. The loan values in this table are available during policy year. Values for later years will be computed on the same basis and be furnished upon request.

If the premiums on this policy be paid quarterly or semi-annually, a proportionate value will be allowed, under option 1 or 2, for that part of the years' premium over and above the full years paid.

If there be any indebtedness against this policy, the cash surrender value shall be reduced thereby, the paid-up insurance shall be reduced proportionately and the paid-up extended insurance shall be for the face value of the policy, less the indebtedness, and for such period as the reduced cash value will purchase.

If this policy is surrendered for cash any accumulation of dividends and the reserve on any dividend additions will be added, or if either of the other options is selected, the accumulations, at the option of the insured, may be taken in cash, or be applied to increase (a) the paid-up life insurance or (b) the term of the extension. If the insured makes no election, any accumulation of dividends and the reserve on any dividend additions shall be paid in cash.

The loan or value of any non-forfeiture provision will be based on the reserve at the date of default on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto.

INCOME SETTLEMENTS. ON SURRENDER.—The insured may elect to receive the cash surrender value, as guaranteed on page two hereof, in equal annual or monthly payments for a limited period or for twenty years certain, and as long thereafter as the insured shall survive. The amount of each payment is to be based on the tables found on the fourth page and on the age of the insured at the time of such surrender.

AT DEATH.—If this policy is not assigned, the insured, upon written request, or the beneficiary, upon making claim, may elect either to have the net sum payable under this policy paid as an income in equal, annual or monthly payments for a specified number of years, or in equal, annual or monthly payments for a fixed period of twenty years and for so long thereafter as the beneficiary shall survive. If there is more than one beneficiary hereunder, or if the beneficiary is the estate of the insured, the principal sum insured hereunder will be paid in one sum. Any indebtedness to the company will be deducted from the principal sum and all payments will be proportionately diminished. Any payments hereunder which shall not have been made prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be commuted and paid to the executor, administrator or assigns of the said beneficiary. Tables for life or limited income will be found on the fourth page hereof.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION.—At the end of any policy year the insured may convert this policy to a life policy for the same amount and as of the same age and dates, applying the excess of the reserve required on this policy, over the reserve required on the life policy, equally, to reduce subsequent premiums thereon, and such reduced premium will be as shown in the table below. The value of any dividend additions and accumulation of dividends may be withdrawn, or applied yet further to reduce the subsequent premiums thereon equally, but if the insured makes no election the dividends will be transferred to the life policy.

Premiums will remain level after change is made. If there is any indebtedness on this policy, it must be repaid before conversion will be granted.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted in payment of premiums after this policy shall have been in force three months, and interest shall be charged at the rate of five per cent per annum for the number of days during which the premium remains due and unpaid. During the period of grace, this policy remains in force and the unpaid premium and interest remain an indebtedness to the company, which shall be deducted from the amount payable under the policy, if the death of the insured shall occur during the said grace period.

RIGHT TO CHANGE BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time, and from time to time, by written request on blanks furnished by the company, provided the policy is not assigned, change the beneficiary. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company. The right is reserved to the insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege granted by this policy.

RIGHT TO ASSIGN POLICY.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and on blanks furnished by the company. Both copies must be sent to the home office, one to be filed and one to be returned to the assignee. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest, and the company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CONDITION FOR ONE YEAR ONLY.—For one year after date of application for issue of this policy, self-destruction, whether sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such case the company will return the premium actually received.

INCONTESTABLE.—After one year from its date of issue, this policy shall be incontestable, except for failure to pay premium. This policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

PREMIUMS WHEN AND WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable in advance, either at the home office of the company in the city of Pittsburgh, Pa., or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or vice-president and countersigned by the company's cashier or said agent. The unpaid portion of the current policy year's premium, if any, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy. Failure to pay any premium when due will render this policy void, except as herein provided. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

NOTICE TO THE HOLDER OF THIS POLICY.—No agent is authorized to alter this contract, to waive any forfeiture thereof or to extend the time for paying any premium.

In witness whereof, the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president (or vice-president) and secretary and countersigned by its registrar at Pittsburgh, Pa., this fourth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

To the best of my knowledge and belief, I am at present in good health, not being afflicted with any disease or disorder. The answers to the above questions are full, complete and true. I will accept and take up the policy hereby applied for, when issued. The actual payment of the first premium and the continuance of the same state of health are conditions of the insurance taking effect. No agent shall vary this agreement or waive its conditions.

I agree that the principles and methods adopted by the company in any apportionment of dividends and the determination of the amount allotted to any policy hereunder, shall be accepted by all parties. I hereby request that the policy provide that if any premium is not paid when due, same shall be advanced by the company as a loan until such premiums, together with all other indebtedness, equal the sum of the full loan value of the policy.

* Adopted Dec. 15, 1915.

Postal Life Insurance Company.

WHOLE LIFE POLICY, GUARANTEED ANNUAL DIVIDENDS DISABILITY BENEFITS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $241.90. AGE, 35.

The Postal Life Insurance Company by the issuance of this policy contract accepts Samuel Postman of Buffalo, New York, as a policyholder of the company insured under the laws of the state of New York, and in the event of the death of said policyholder, all due premiums having been deposited with the company, agrees to pay at the home office of the company to Mary Postman, wife, beneficiary of the policyholder, the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any amount due the company, upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the policyholder's death.

The consideration for this policy-contract is the monthly premium in advance and the deposit of additional premiums, in accordance with the premium-schedule herein set forth, until the death of the policyholder.

PREMIUM SCHEDULE.—Monthly, $22.20; semi-annually, $125.80; quarterly, $64.10; annually, $241.90.

OPTIONAL PREMIUM PRIVILEGE.—The policyholder may make deposits of premiums covering three months, six months, or one year, in advance, and take advantage at any time of the reductions shown in the premium schedule. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, on or before the first day of the month in which they fall due, which day shall be known as the premium due date of the policy, but a grace of thirty days, subject to an interest-charge at the rate of five per cent. per annum, shall be granted for the deposit of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current year, shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy participates in the profits of the company annually; its ascertained proportion, or dividends, shall at the option of the policyholder, be either (a) paid in cash; (b) applied toward the payment of a premium or premiums; (c) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy at not less than three per cent. per annum.

TABLE OF CASH LOANS.—(Available any time after three full years' premiums have been deposited. Paid-up insurance values (beginning at the end of third year.) Extended insurance (beginning at the end of third year.)

(The amounts of the guarantees for subsequent years will be computed upon the same basis and furnished upon request.)

THE COMPANY GUARANTEES.—(1) That in addition to the dividends to be ascertained and applied in the manner specified above, there shall be credited to this policy (a) the first year a Commission Dividend of \$3.00 and (b) each year for fourteen years thereafter a Renewal Commission Dividend of $7\frac{1}{2}\%$ of the annual premium, when the premium is paid; and that there shall be allotted as Preferred Dividends, out of the general profits of the company, (c) for the premium-paying years following the renewal-commission dividend period, a continuance of the amount of said dividend of $7\frac{1}{2}\%$, and (d) for every year after the first a minimum office-expense saving of 2% of the annual premium; said guaranteed dividends to be disposed of as set forth in the preceding paragraph (participation in surplus) for the disposal of dividends; (2) That in case the dividends are left in the custody of the company to accumulate: (a) when the dividends thus accumulated will prepay all future premiums, this policy shall, at the option of the policyholder, become fully paid up for \$10,000 and (b) when the dividends thus accumulated, together with the legal reserve, equal the face of the policy, the policy shall mature as an endowment for \$10,000 and then be paid to the policyholder in cash; (3) That this policy may be changed at any time to a limited-payment life, or endowment, for \$10,000, full credit being given for the entire legal reserve of the policy, together with the accumulated dividends, and with the advantage to the policyholder of the company's present schedule of premium rates; (4) That on any anniversary of this policy the policyholder may withdraw in cash, the unused accumulated dividends; (5) that on any anniversary of this policy the policyholder may also withdraw, as the policy's cash value, the amount of the loan value, less any indebtedness, upon the legal surrender of the policy.

EXPLANATION.—During any insurance year, after the second, in the life of this policy, upon written request and with the policy returned for endorsement, the policyholder may secure one of the three following benefits, subject to any indebtedness existing on the policy:

First—A CASH LOAN.—If the policyholder needs money for premiums or other purposes, column 1 (see above table) shows what the company will loan, provided premiums and interest at five per cent. per annum are paid to the next anniversary of the policy.

Second—PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If at any time the policyholder should find it necessary to discontinue premium-deposits, and would rather have paid-up insurance than to borrow the money which this policy permits, the company will grant a paid-up policy, payable to the beneficiary, at the death of the policyholder, for the amounts shown in column 2. Paid-up insurance is that which does not require the deposit of any more premiums.

Third—EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(The kind of insurance that protects the beneficiary even after the policyholder stops depositing premiums.) To understand column 3, take, for example, the figures opposite the tenth year. The company will continue the insurance for the full amount, $10,000, for twelve years and 11 months more, upon the request of the policyholder.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

LOANS.—The company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan upon the sole security of the policy at five per cent. interest per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy-year, a sum greater than eighty per cent. of the entire reserve of the insurance in force including dividend-additions, in the years specified in the table of loan values herein set forth, deducting therefrom all other indebtedness hereon to the company, including any unpaid balance of the current year's annual premium. The company also agrees to loan upon request of the owner of the policy a smaller sum or sums not aggregating more than the percentage specified.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—If the policyholder shall fail to deposit any premium when due, the company will charge the same as a cash-loan, if the cash-loan value, after deducting any existing indebtedness, is sufficient, and this policy shall be thereby continued in full force. The policyholder may, while the policy is continued in force in this manner, resume the deposit of premiums. At the end of any month, if the premium is not then deposited by the policyholder, and if the cash-loan value shall not be sufficient to enable the company to loan to the policyholder the amount of a full monthly premium, the insurance shall then cease.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, upon the production of evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, may be reinstated within three years from date of default in the payment of any premium, by payment of premiums accrued since default and the reinstatement of whatever indebtedness hereon to the company exists, with interest at five per cent. per annum; this privilege is granted even though the extended insurance, paid-up insurance, or the cash-loan value has been fully availed of by the policyholder.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY AND ASSIGNMENT.—The policyholder may, without the consent of the beneficiary, effect a loan against this policy, surrender it to the company, receive any loan, surrender-value, or maturity-value, assign it as provided herein, or change the beneficiary by written notice to the company, such change to take effect, however, only upon the endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company. If the last-nominated beneficiary shall not survive the policyholder, the sum insured shall be paid to the policyholder's executors, administrators, or assigns. No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless made in duplicate and both copies be sent with the policy to the offices of the company in New York for endorsement, one copy to be retained by the company and one to be returned, attached to the policy, and endorsed with an acknowledgment of notification. The company will assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the policyholder has been misstated, the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

CONTRACT TAKES EFFECT, ETC.—This contract takes effect at the time of the official acceptance of the applicant by the company, at the offices of the company, in the city of New York; it is made and is to be performed in the state of New York, and is to be governed, as to validity and effect, by the laws there in force, with reference to which it is made. No person whosoever is authorized to represent or act for the company in any manner outside of the state of New York. The policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties. This policy is predicated upon the deposit of premiums annually in advance, but the same may be deposited in monthly, quarterly, or semi-annual instalments. No such instalments shall have the effect to continue the insurance beyond the month, quarter, or half-year paid for. All unpaid instalments of an annual premium and any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

DIVIDENDS AND SURPLUS.—In the allotment of dividends and disposition of surplus, the principles and methods adopted in conformity with law by the board of trustees, from time to time, shall be binding, and its determination of the payments allotted to this policy shall be conclusive upon all parties.

CONDITIONS AND INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is free of conditions as to residence, occupation, travel, habits of life, and manner, time or place of death, except as here recited: If within two years from the date of this policy, the policyholder engages in military or naval service in time of war, without a permit from the company covering such service, and dies while engaged in such service, or in consequence of having been so engaged, the sum payable will be one-third the principal sum named herein; in event of the death of the policyholder within two years by his own act, whether sane or insane, the sum payable shall be one-tenth of the principal sum. This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from date of issue.

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—The proceeds under this policy, including the accumulated profits, instead of being payable in one sum, shall, upon written notice from the policyholder, be made payable to the beneficiary, in the form of annual income for a specified number of years, as herein set forth in the following table on a basis of $1,000. The first instalment payable immediately upon due proof of the death of the policyholder.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS IN CASE OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid, and prior to default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the policyholder, before attaining age sixty, shall furnish proof satisfactory to this company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease and is and will be permanently, wholly and continuously prevented from following any and all gainful occupations, the company by endorsement hereon will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due. In addition to all other causes of total disability and without prejudice thereunto, the following injuries will be considered permanent and total disability within the meaning of this provision: the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes; the severance of both hands above the wrists; the severance of both feet above the ankles; the severance of one entire hand and one entire foot. Notwithstanding proof of disability has been accepted by the company, the policyholder at the request of the company shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability. If the policyholder fails to furnish such proof, or if it appear to the company that he has recovered so far as to be able to follow any gainful occupation, all premiums thereafter becoming due must be paid in conformity with this contract. Premiums waived resulting from permanent disability shall not be deducted from the sum payable under this policy and the cash-loans and surrender-values shall be the same as if the premiums had been paid in cash.

POLICYHOLDER'S HEALTH BUREAU.—In addition to the educational benefits of the health bureau, conducted by the company's medical department, the policyholder under this policy is entitled to one free medical examination each policy year at such time and place as the company may designate, on written application to the home office within sixty days after the anniversary of the policy, provided the premium or instalment thereof for the current year shall have been paid, and further provided that the insured shall be entitled to not more than one examination each year if he has two or more policies. The purpose of such periodical examinations is to assist the policyholder in prolonging his life by detecting impairment or disease in its incipient or early stages, when he may take proper steps to check or cure it. This examination is not made obligatory by the company, but is optional with the policyholder.

In witness whereof the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of February, 1916.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

The foregoing answers are full, complete and true; I am temperate and to the best of my knowledge and belief am in sound physical condition and a proper subject for life insurance.

It is understood that I may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred by the policy to be issued.

It is understood that my insurance is to take effect in the city of New York at the instant of my official acceptance there by the company.

In order that the company may decide whether I am an acceptable risk, I request that you recommend to me a physician in my vicinity who has been professionally approved by the company, and who will ask the usual questions about my health, and forward such a report as it requires, all of which is to be without cost to me.

Protective League Life Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY BENEFIT

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $265.50. AGE, 35.

Protective League Life Insurance Company, Decatur, Ill., hereby insures the life of Percival Luther, hereinafter called the insured and agrees to pay at its home office in Decatur, Ill., ten thousand dollars to Patience Luther, beneficiary, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, provided this policy is then in force and is then surrendered properly released.

This policy of insurance is issued in consideration of the written and printed application heretofore, a copy of which is hereto attached or indorsed hereon, and is hereby made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of two hundred sixty-five and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars as the premium for a term insurance terminating on the first day of July, 1916, and in further consideration of the renewal of this policy for the whole life period from above date by the payment of two hundred, sixty-five and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars on the said first day of July, 1916 and of the payment of a like sum on the first day of each July thereafter, during the continuance of this policy.

There are no restrictions under this policy on travel, residence, occupation, or military or naval service.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, provided premiums have been duly paid.

This policy is subject to the privileges and conditions recited on the subsequent pages hereof.

In witness whereof, the Protective League Life Insurance Company has executed this policy at its home office in Decatur, Ill., this first day of July, 1915.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company, or to an agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent. Notice of every premium that may become due or payable hereunder is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further notice is expressly waived by the insured. This policy is based on the payment of premiums annually; but, premiums may be paid, subject to the company's written approval, in semi-annual, quarterly or monthly instalments at the company's adopted rates for fractional premiums, provided that in the event of the death of the insured any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from any amount payable hereunder.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which period the insurance hereunder shall continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace, the premium for the then current policy year or any unpaid instalments thereof shall be deducted from any amount payable hereunder. The payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or instalment thereof becomes payable, except as herein expressly provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse in consequence of any non-payment of premium when due, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums with interest at five per cent per annum, and upon the payment or reinstatement, with interest, of any indebtedness to the company secured by this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may at any time and from time to time during its continuance change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change is indorsed on this policy at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured. The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless in writing and until filed at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

AGE.—If the age has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this policy. In such an event the company will return the premiums actually received.

CONTRACT.—This policy, and the application therefor, a copy of which is indorsed hereon or attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless contained in the written application herefor and a copy of such application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, when issued. Agents are not authorized to modify, or in the event of lapse, to reinstate this policy, or to extend the time for payment of any premium or instalment thereof.

SPECIAL PROTECTION.—(If Insured Shall Be Wholly Disabled.) After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this contract and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured shall furnish the company with due proof that he has since such payment and before having attained the age of sixty, become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company will pay to him during such disability and in full settlement of this contract, twenty annual instalments—the first instalment to be paid six months after receipt of due proof of permanent total disability. The amount of each such annual instalment shall be six and eight-tenths per cent of the amount of insurance stated on the first page hereof after deducting therefrom any indebtedness under this contract. Any instalments remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be payable as they become due to the beneficiary or beneficiaries of this insurance, who shall have the right to commute such remaining payments into one sum on the basis of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The insured shall not have the right to commute any instalments becoming payable under this contract. If the insured shall furnish proof of like disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty, the company will allow all premiums falling due more than six months after receipt of such proof to accumulate without interest as an indebtedness on this contract and in such case the values in the table on page four shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. In addition to or independently of all other causes of permanent total disability the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot as permanent total disability within the meaning of this provision.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the distribution of the surplus profits of the company as ascertained and apportioned by it, at the end of the second year, and annually thereafter. Dividends, at the option of the insured, shall be either—(1) paid in cash; or (2) applied toward the payment of premiums; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additional insurance; or (4) left to accumulate at three and one-half per cent interest, compounded annually. If a higher average annual rate is earned this may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the company. This deposit will be payable upon the maturity of this policy or on any anniversary of its date. Unless the insured shall elect one of the foregoing options within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividend shall be paid in cash.

ACCELERATIVE PAID-UP POLICY UNDER OPTION 4.—Should the insured continually elect dividends under Option 4, this policy may be converted into a fully paid-up policy for its face amount, whenever the reserve on the original policy together with the value of such accumulated dividends, shall equal the net single premium therefor.

ACCELERATIVE ENDOWMENT UNDER OPTION 4.—Should the insured continually elect dividends under Option 4, this policy may be converted and matured as an endowment for its face amount, whenever the reserve on the original policy together with the value of such accumulated dividends, shall equal the said face amount.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the end of the second year while this policy is in force, the company will loan on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than, the amount shown in the table of loan values indorsed hereon, interest to be payable in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, less any indebtedness hereon, and provided that all premiums or instalments thereof have been fully paid to the end of the current policy year in which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal the total loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the insured to his address last known to the company. The loan value may be increased by the cash value of dividend additions credited to this policy, if any.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE—OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full year's premiums have been paid hereon, upon any subsequent default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, and within three months after such default, this policy may be surrendered by the insured (or assignee (if any) who may elect one of the following options: First—To receive the cash surrender value of this policy as given in the table of cash values indorsed hereon; or Second—To receive a paid-up, non-participating policy, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amount given in the table of paid-up values indorsed hereon. Third—To continue the insurance for its face amount (and any existing dividend additions) as paid-up term insurance for the period shown in the table of extended values indorsed hereon, or for such further period, if so elected, as the reserve on the dividend additions (if any) will purchase.

This insurance will be automatically continued as provided by option three, if the insured (or assignee, if any) does not select one of the foregoing options within three months after such default.

If there be any indebtedness on this policy, the cash surrender value shall be reduced thereby, the paid-up insurance value shall be reduced proportionately, and the periods of extended term value shall be such as the reduced cash value will purchase.

BASIS OF COMPUTATIONS.—The values given in the tables of values indorsed hereon, are equivalents, and each is equal to the full reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality (preliminary term) with interest at three and one half per cent, with not more than one and one half per cent of the amount insured being deducted therefrom.

The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual income.

The insured (or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election) by written notice to the company at its home office, may elect to have the net sum due under this policy upon the death of the insured either paid in cash; or

OPTION 1. TRUST FUND.—Left on deposit with the company during the lifetime of the beneficiary, to be paid upon the death of the beneficiary, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. The company guarantees to pay interest on this deposit during its continuance at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If a higher average annual rate shall be earned by the company, the amount may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the company.

OPTION 2. LIMITED INCOME.—Paid in a fixed number of annual incomes as set forth in the following table of limited incomes. These guaranteed amounts are based upon an assumed rate of interest of three and one-half per cent. If a higher average annual rate shall be earned by the company, the amount may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the company.

OPTION 3. LIFE INCOME.—Converted into a fixed income to the beneficiary for life, by the payment of a fixed income annually for twenty-five years certain, said payments to be continued thereafter during said life as shown by the following table of life incomes. Under this option the company will require satisfactory evidence of the age of the annuitant. These guaranteed amounts are based upon an assumed rate of interest of three and one-half per cent. If a higher average annual rate shall be earned by the company the amounts of the first twenty-five incomes may be increased by an interest dividend as determined and apportioned by the company. If one of the foregoing options be selected this policy must be surrendered upon maturity, and a supplementary contract will be issued for the purpose of carrying out said option; under Options 2 and 3 the supplementary contract is non-commutable, unless so conditioned by the insured in his selection.

LIMITED INCOME.—Annual income limited to one of the numbers stated below; any number from five to thirty may be selected.

* If the annuitant is thirty years of age, last birthday, when the proceeds of the policy are payable, the amount of each annual income will be $43.00 for each $1000 of the proceeds of the contract payable during the entire lifetime of the annuitant; but if the annuitant should die before at least twenty-five annual incomes shall have been paid, the remainder of such twenty-five annual incomes will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant.

TABLES OF LOAN, SURRENDER, PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE VALUES TO POLICIES FREE FROM INDEBTEDNESS.

Loan values are given at the end of each year, to be available at any time during the following year, providing the full premium for the latter year is paid in advance.

Loan and surrender values will be increased, if there are any dividend additions or accumulations to the credit of this policy. Surrender values at semi-annual and quarterly periods will be in proportion.

Values for later years will be on the same basis, and will be furnished on request.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application, as follows: 1. That in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from date of the policy issued, the limit of recovery thereunder shall be the premiums paid. 2. That every declaration herein above contained, is true; and that the policy issued hereupon shall not take effect unless the first premium shall be actually paid while I am in good health.

PROTECTIVE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

In consideration of the application for this policy by the person whose life is hereby insured, called "the Insured" in the schedule on the first page hereof, which Schedule is hereby declared to be a part of this policy, and of the payment of the Premium on the dates and during the period set forth in said schedule, promises to pay at the Home Office of the Company in the city of Birmingham, Alabama, upon receipt at said Home Office of due proof of the happening of the event or contingency described in said schedule, along with this policy duly discharged, to the beneficiary named in the said schedule, or to such other beneficiary as the Insured may nominate as hereinafter provided, the amount of the Insurance mentioned in said schedule, less any indebtedness hereon to the Company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

PROVISIONS, REQUIREMENTS AND BENEFITS.

ENTIRE CONTRACT CONTAINED IN THIS POLICY.—This policy (together with the application, copy of which is endorsed hereon) constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used as a defense to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the application for the policy. No statements, promises, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking the said application, or any other person shall be binding on the company, nor can any modification of this contract be valid, unless reduced to writing and signed by the duly authorized officers at the home office.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

COMMENCEMENT OF RISK.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy delivered during the good health of the insured. It shall then relate back to the date of the policy and take effect as of that date. But if the premium is paid in advance, the insurance shall take effect in accordance with the authorized written or printed receipt, delivered at the time of payment, signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by the agent.

RESTRICTIONS.—This policy is free of conditions as to residence, travel and occupation.

INCONTESTABLE.—After one year from date this policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premium and misstatement of age, provided, however, that death by the insured's own act, whether he was at the time sane or insane, within two years from the date hereof will render the company liable only for the amount of premiums paid.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance, but if premiums be made payable in quarterly or semi-annual installments, any installments of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the maturity of the policy shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—A grace of one month without interest shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first during which time the insurance shall continue in force, subject to deduction of the premium.

REVIVAL OF POLICY.—No person except an executive officer of the company as aforesaid has power in event of lapse to reinstate this policy or to extend the time of paying premium. If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium, it may be revived any time after the date of the lapse upon written application and the payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum; provided, however, that evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished to the company. In the event of the revival of this policy, the loan value hereon will be the same as if it had never lapsed, and the full amount of such loan value, less any indebtedness, will be available as a loan in the payment of arrears.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured. Without the consent of the beneficiary the insured may exercise any rights and receive any benefit under this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will advance, on the execution of a proper loan agreement and upon proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than the cash value at the end of the said year as shown in the table of loan values herein set forth plus the full legal reserve on all existing dividend additions; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premiums due or to become due during the said policy year and interest on the said loan to the end of the said year shall be paid out of such advance. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of not less than five nor greater than six per cent per annum, payable yearly in advance, and this interest if not paid, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured or of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

So long as there shall be such a loan or other indebtedness hereon the sum insured and every benefit under this policy shall be subject to and liable for repayment of the loan or indebtedness and interest thereon, and the loan and cash surrender values shown in the table on the first page hereof shall be reducible by the amount of the total indebtedness and interest thereon and the amount of paid up insurance and the term of continued insurance shall be reducible to the equivalent of the net cash surrender value after deduction of the amount of the indebtedness and interest thereon.

NOTICE REQUIRED.—The company reserves the right to require ninety days' notice before granting the loan or cash surrender value shown on the first page hereof.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After the policy shall have been in force three (3) full years, it may be surrendered by the owner at any time prior to any default, or within three months after any default in the payment of premium or otherwise. Thereupon, if there be no indebtedness hereon to the company, the owner may elect either to purchase non-participating paid up life insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, or to continue the insurance in force for a limited period for its face amount and any outstanding dividend additions, but without future participation, and without the right to loans. The amount of the cash surrender value, the amount of paid up life insurance which will be allowed, exclusive of application of dividend additions, and the period, including the days of grace, for which the insurance will be continued, if there be no indebtedness, are shown in the table on the first page hereof.

If within three months from any default in the payment of the fourth or any subsequent premium or otherwise the owner shall not have exercised, either of the said options, the cash surrender value or any balance of such value, if there be any indebtedness, shall be applied to purchase non-participating paid up life insurance payable at same time and on the same conditions as the original policy.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of five years from the date of this policy and not prior thereto, if this policy is then in full force, it will be credited with a dividend from the surplus apportioned by the company to policies of the same class, and thereafter annually. In addition to the values shown in the table on the first page hereof the policy holder is entitled to the full legal reserve on all dividend accumulations upon surrender of this policy.

The options at settlement endorsed hereon are hereby referred to and made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of July, 1916.

OPTIONS AT SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the owner, or, in case the insured shall have made no election, beneficiary after the insured's death may by written notice to the company at its Home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows:

(1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three per centum of such net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns.

(2) By the payment of equal annual installments for a specified number of years, the first installment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

(3) By the payment of equal annual installments, payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

Any installments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns.

When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected.

Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the beneficiary may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of installments, for the commutation value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (3) except after the death of the beneficiary occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I HEREBY DECLARE that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and I agree that the foregoing, and answers to be made in Part II of this application, together with this declaration, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application. I hereby reserve the right of changing the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time provided the policy or any interest therein be not then assigned.

PART II.—I hereby warrant and agree (1) that all the aforesaid statements and answers, and all those contained in Part I of this application, are true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for policy, which I hereby agree shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during my life and good health, and a receipt given therefor, signed by an executive officer of said company; (2) I expressly waive on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have or claim an interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he may thereby acquire.

Provident Life and Trust Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT FORTY-YEAR ENDOWM'T—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $338.50. AGE, 35.

The Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia in consideration of the representations made in the application for this policy, which are hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of three hundred and thirty-eight and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and payment of the yearly premium of three hundred and thirty-eight and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars on or before the twentieth day of first month in every year hereafter until twenty yearly premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay at its office in the city of Philadelphia, the sum of ten thousand dollars to John Doe of Philadelphia, Philadelphia county, Pennsylvania, herein called the insured, or to his assigns, upon the twentieth day of first month, 1951, provided the insured be then living; or in the event of the death of the insured before that date, to pay at its office aforesaid the said sum, upon receipt of due written proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, to his wife Sarah Doe if living; otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, with right reserved to the insured to change the beneficiary. In either case, any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall first be deducted.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved to the insured, he or she may, if of full age, at any time during the continuance of this policy, change and successively change the beneficiary hereunder, whether original or substituted, without the consent of the beneficiary, provided that the interest of any beneficiary shall be subject to the right of any assignee of said policy. The insured may, however, declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable. During the lifetime of any irrevocably designated beneficiary the insured shall not have the right to revoke or change the designation of that beneficiary without the written consent of said beneficiary filed with the company. If any beneficiary, revocable or irrevocable, dies before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise specifically provided. Every change of beneficiary or change from revocable to irrevocable designation must be made by written direction of the insured and filed with the company at its home office accompanied by this policy, and will take effect only when endorsed on this policy by the company. The beneficiary is the person named in or endorsed on this policy as the person to whom the policy is payable if it should become a claim by the death of the insured. An assignee is the person to whom this policy may have been lawfully transferred by an instrument other than a designation or change of beneficiary as aforesaid.

OCCUPATION, TRAVEL, SUICIDE, ETC.—If the insured shall within one year after the issue of this policy and without the written consent of the company previously obtained travel or reside South of the Tropic of Cancer or shall within that time be personally engaged in blasting, mining, submarine operations or in the production of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or as an engineer, fireman, brakeman, motorman or conductor upon any steam or electric railroad or railway, or shall be engaged in any capacity upon any steam or other vessel, this policy shall cease to be in force. If the insured shall within one year after the issue of this policy die by his or her own hand or act, unless proof of insanity shall have been furnished, this policy shall be valid only for an amount equal to the reserve hereon, and not for the amount insured.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy whereof is attached to this policy and made a part thereof, constitutes the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased of the same kind of insurance at the correct age. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defence to a claim unless it is contained in the application and a copy of such application is attached to this policy when issued.

DIVIDENDS.—The proportion of the surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually and not otherwise. At the option of the insured, dividends will be (a) payable in cash; (b) or applicable to the payment of any premium or premiums upon this policy; (c) or used to purchase paid-up additions to this policy; (d) or left to accumulate to the credit of this policy with interest at three per cent per annum, payable when the policy becomes a claim, or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of this policy on demand. The insured may make election of one of the aforesaid options not later than thirty-one days after any anniversary of this policy, and any option so elected shall remain in effect until superseded by another of the aforesaid options. If no election is in effect, the dividend apportioned will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition as provided in option (c). Such paid-up addition may be surrendered at any time for a cash value calculated on the basis for cash values hereinafter stated in this policy, provided the cash value in any case shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be of any force or effect unless made in writing and recorded by the company on its books at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGES OF CONTRACT, ETC.—No receipt for renewal premium, nor permit, nor any alteration or discharge of the contract nor waiver of forfeiture under the same shall be valid unless signed by the president, vice-president, actuary, secretary, treasurer or assistant treasurer of the company.

PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days is hereby granted for the payment of every premium after the first, subject to interest at six per cent per annum on the deferred payment. The insurance shall continue in force during said period, and if the insured shall die during said period the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium shall be due. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office of the company, or to any agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt therefor signed by the president, vice-president, actuary, secretary, treasurer or assistant treasurer of the company and countersigned by its agent.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within three years from date of default in the payment of any premium, provided it has not been surrendered to the company for its cash value, or its extension period expired, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premium with interest, at six per cent per annum and also upon the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company under this policy with interest at six per cent per annum.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy shall be in force and not assigned or pledged to any other person or party or continued as extended term insurance, will lend on the proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, a sum equal to or at the option of the insured less than the loan value at the end of the then current policy year as stated in the table of loan values incorporated in this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the then current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; provided that the grant of such loan may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to pay said loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, according to the table incorporated in this policy, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and any assignee of record at the home office of the company. No loan will be made hereon if this policy is running as extended term insurance.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, upon default in the payment of any premium at the end of the thirty-one days' grace allowed, this policy will without any action on the part of the insured be binding upon the company for participating paid-up insurance for a reduced amount payable at the same time and on the same conditions as herein originally provided. But at any time within thirty days from the date of such default the insured, by a writing filed with the company at its home office in which writing the assignee and the beneficiary if designated irrevocably shall join (but without requiring the joinder of any beneficiary not designated irrevocably), may elect in lieu of such paid-up insurance for a reduced amount (a) to surrender this policy and receive in cash its value at time of default; (b) or, without the right to a loan, to have the insurance continued in force as non-participating extended term insurance from the due date of the premium in default for its original amount and any outstanding paid-up additions; and if the sum to be applied to the purchase of extended term insurance shall be more than sufficient to extend the insurance to the end of the endowment term, the excess shall be applied to the purchase of pure endowment insurance payable at the end of the term if the insured be then living. If this policy should automatically become paid-up insurance for a reduced amount or if extended term insurance should be taken hereunder, such paid-up or extended term insurance will, upon legal surrender of the policy, be entitled to a cash value equal to the reserve thereon at time of said surrender, computed upon the basis hereinafter stated, less any indebtedness to the company. For the protection of the interests of all policyholders and to provide against any emergency, the company reserves to itself the right to require six months written notice for the withdrawal of the cash value of this policy, or of the cash value of the paid-up or extended term insurance granted in lieu hereof. The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash value for the end of the tenth year and each subsequent fifth year is the full reserve computed as aforesaid, less any indebtedness to the company hereon; at other times, the full reserve at date of default computed as aforesaid, less one per cent of the amount insured and less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The paid-up values are not less than the amount purchasable at net single premium rates according to attained age of insured by the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum by the full reserve at date of default computed as aforesaid, less two and one-half per cent of the amount insured and less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The period of the extended term insurance will be such as the reserve at date of default on this policy and on any outstanding paid up additions, computed as aforesaid, less one per cent of the amount insured and less any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, will purchase at net single premium rates according to the attained age of the insured by the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum; but no provision contained herein shall operate to continue this policy in force beyond the term for which it was originally written. The pure endowment, if any, shall be calculated on the same basis as the extended term insurance.

The loan value for each year is not less than the reserve computed as aforesaid, less two and one-half per cent of the amount insured and less any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy.

OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.—The provisions printed on the third page hereof entitled "optional methods of settlement" are hereby made a part of this policy.

Paid-up, cash, extended term insurance, pure endowment and loan values for each succeeding year after the twenty-second, and for all paid-up additions (upon which additions the insured will be entitled to such values), will be calculated upon the same bases as for this table. The loan values provided for in the columns headed "loan value" in this table for the end of policy years can be obtained (less interest to the end of the policy year) at any time during such policy years as provided in the above clause entitled "loans."

In witness whereof, the said The Provident Life and Trust Company of Philadelphia has, under its corporate seal, delivered this contract, signed by its president or vice-president and attested by its actuary, secretary, treasurer or assistant treasurer, this twentieth day of first month 1913.

OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.

DEFINITION OF TERMS.

THE INSURED is the person upon whose life the policy is issued.

THE POLICY BENEFICIARY is the person named in or endorsed on the policy as the person to whom the policy is payable if it should become a claim by the death of the insured.

AN ASSIGNEE is a person to whom the policy may have been lawfully transferred by an instrument other than a designation or change of Beneficiary as provided for in the policy.

THE ELECTED BENEFICIARY is the person designated by an election under Option C to receive upon the death of the insured after the maturity of the endowment, such of the full limited number of yearly instalments of income chosen by said election as may not have been already paid during the lifetime of the insured, and, upon surviving the insured, to receive further after said full limited number of instalments of income shall have been paid, the same yearly sum as a continuous income during the remaining lifetime of said person so designated.

THE PAYEE is (a) the person entitled to receive the full limited number of yearly instalments of income chosen by an election under the table entitled Option A; and (b) the person entitled to receive the full limited number of yearly instalments of income chosen by an election under the table entitled Option B, and further to receive yearly thereafter the same yearly sum as a continuous income during the remaining lifetime of said person.

THE MATURITY OF THE ENDOWMENT is the date named in the policy for payment of the proceeds thereof if the insured shall be then living.

THE ELECTED INSTALMENTS OF INCOME are the full number of yearly instalments of income chosen and limited in number by an election under any option.

ELECTION OF OPTIONS.

1. ELECTION BY THE INSURED.—At the maturity of the endowment in the policy or at any time prior thereto, if no right shall inhere in any person or party other than a revocably or irrevocably designated policy beneficiary, the insured may, without the joinder of such revocably or irrevocably designated policy beneficiary, elect to require the proceeds of the policy to be paid when the same shall become payable, not in one cash sum as set out in the policy, but in equal yearly instalments of income, according to any of the following options respectively entitled Option A, Option B and Option C.

2. REVOCATION OF ELECTION BY THE INSURED.—At the maturity of the endowment or at any time prior thereto but not thereafter, if no right shall inhere in any person or party other than a revocably or irrevocably designated policy beneficiary, the insured may in like manner revoke said election and make a new election.

3. ELECTION AND REVOCATION BY POLICY BENEFICIARY OR ASSIGNEE.—(a) If the insured fails to make an election as aforesaid, the policy beneficiary or assignee may make such election at the time the proceeds of the policy may become payable to the policy beneficiary or assignee. (b) If the proceeds of the policy shall be lawfully payable absolutely to the policy beneficiary or assignee in any event whatsoever either at the maturity of the endowment or by reason of the death of the insured prior thereto, without right of any other person or party in or to the policy or the proceeds thereof either expressed or implied, then and in such case all rights of the insured to elect and revoke an election as aforesaid shall be exercisable at the maturity of the endowment or at any time prior thereto but not thereafter, by the policy beneficiary or assignee without the joinder of any other person or party. (c) If there shall be more than one policy beneficiary or assignee, all must unite in any act which the policy beneficiary or assignee may exercise.

4. INTERESTED PARTIES WHO MUST UNITE IN ELECTION.—(a) An election shall not be made or revoked by the insured while the policy may stand payable either wholly or partly to an assignee thereof or while a right therein may inhere in any other person or party not a revocably or irrevocably designated policy beneficiary, without the joinder of such assignee or such other person or party, nor (b) shall an election be made or revoked either by the policy beneficiary or assignee while any person or party other than the policy beneficiary or assignee may have any express or implied right in or to the policy or the proceeds thereof, without the joinder of such person or party, but (c) any election or revocation thereof which the insured may duly make, shall be valid without the assent of any revocably or irrevocably designated policy beneficiary.

5. ELECTION OF ALTERNATIVE OPTIONS.—If the insured shall elect Option C, then the insured may also elect either Option A or Option B as an alternative option to take effect only in case the insured should die prior to the maturity of the endowment.

6. RIGHT OF COMMUTATION MAY BE WITHHELD.—Any person entitled to exercise an election may therein direct that the person entitled to receive all or any of the instalments of income which may become payable under said election shall not have the right to commute the same for cash.

7. HOW ELECTION AND REVOCATION MADE.—Every election or revocation of election must be made in writing and filed with the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only when endorsed on the policy by the company.

1. APPLICABLE TO MATURED ENDOWMENT OR DEATH CLAIM.—If this option shall be elected, the proceeds of the policy, either at the maturity of the endowment or upon the death of the insured prior thereto, shall be paid in any limited number of equal yearly instalments of income chosen by said election, from two to thirty in number, according to the table entitled Option A.

2. COMMUTATION BY PAYEE.—At the time when any one of the elected instalments of income shall become payable, the payee may take in one cash sum the commuted value of the then unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table, unless the person entitled to designate such payee shall have deprived such payee of such right of commutation.

3. COMMUTATION BY PAYEE'S EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS OR ASSIGNS.—(a) If a payee who has not been deprived of the right of commutation aforesaid shall die without having exercised such right and before all the elected instalments of income shall have been paid to such payee, or (b) if a payee who has been deprived of such right of commutation shall die before all the elected instalments of income shall have been paid to such payee, then and in either such case the executors, administrators or assigns of such payee may take in one cash sum the commuted value of the remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table.

OPTION B.

OPTION B. CONTINUOUS INCOME.—Yearly instalments of income guaranteed for either 10, 15, 20 or 25 years certain (called elected instalments) and yearly thereafter during the lifetime of the payee, in lieu of each $1000 due under the policy when the proceeds thereof become payable.

1. APPLICABLE TO MATURED ENDOWMENT OR DEATH CLAIM.—If this option shall be elected, the proceeds of the policy, either at the maturity of the endowment or upon the death of the insured prior thereto, shall be paid in either ten or fifteen or twenty or twenty-five equal yearly instalments of income, as may be chosen by said election under the table entitled Option B.

2. AMOUNT OF YEARLY INSTALMENTS OF INCOME, HOW DETERMINED.—The amount of each of the elected instalments of income shall be determined (a) by the number of elected instalments of income and (b) by the age of the payee at the payee's birthday nearest to the time when the proceeds of the policy may become payable, according to the table entitled Option B.

3. CONTINUOUS PAYMENT OF INCOME TO PAYEE FOR LIFE.—After all the elected instalments of income shall have been paid to the payee, the same yearly sum or income shall continue to be paid yearly to said payee during the remaining lifetime of said payee.

4. COMMUTATION BY PAYEE.—At the time when any one of the elected instalments of income under the table entitled Option B shall become payable, the payee may take in one cash sum the commuted value of the then unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table, unless the person entitled to designate such payee shall have deprived such payee of such right of commutation.

1. APPLICABLE ONLY AT THE MATURITY OF THE ENDOWMENT.—This option is applicable to disposition of the proceeds of the policy only if said proceeds shall become payable at the maturity of the endowment. If this option shall be elected, the proceeds of the policy shall be paid in either ten or fifteen or twenty or twenty-five equal yearly instalments of income, as may be chosen by said election under the table entitled Option C.

2. AMOUNT OF YEARLY INSTALMENTS OF INCOME, HOW DETERMINED.—The amount of each yearly instalment of income shall be determined (a) by the number of yearly instalments of income so chosen and (b) by the age of the insured at the insured's birthday nearest to the maturity of the endowment and (c) by the age of the elected beneficiary at the elected beneficiary's birthday nearest to the maturity of the endowment, according to the table entitled Option C.

3. CONTINUOUS PAYMENT OF INCOME TO INSURED FOR LIFE.—After all the elected instalments of income shall have been paid to the insured, the same yearly sum or income shall continue to be paid to the insured during the remaining lifetime of the insured.

4. PAYMENTS TO ELECTED BENEFICIARY AFTER DEATH OF INSURED.—(a) If the insured shall die while the elected beneficiary may be living and before all the elected instalments of income shall have been paid to the insured, the remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income shall be paid to the elected beneficiary when and as they shall become due and payable, and, after all said remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income shall have been so paid to said elected beneficiary, the same yearly sum or income shall continue to be paid to said elected beneficiary during the remaining lifetime of said elected beneficiary, or (b) if the insured shall die while the elected beneficiary may be living and after all the elected instalments of income shall have been paid to the insured, the same yearly sum or income shall continue to be paid to said elected beneficiary during the remaining lifetime of said elected beneficiary.

5. COMMUTATION BY THE INSURED.—If the insured shall have received one or more but less than the full number of elected instalments of income under the table entitled Option C, the insured may take in one cash sum at the time when any one of the remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income shall become due and payable, the commuted value of the then unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table.

6. COMMUTATION BY INSURED'S EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS OR ASSIGNS.—If the elected beneficiary shall die in the lifetime of the insured and if the insured shall die subsequently thereto but before all the elected instalments of income under the table entitled Option C shall have been paid to the insured, the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured may take in one cash sum the commuted value of the remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table.

7. COMMUTATION BY ELECTED BENEFICIARY.—If the insured shall have received one or more of the elected instalments of income under the table entitled Option C and then die while the elected beneficiary may be living, the elected beneficiary may take in one cash sum the commuted value of the remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table, unless the person entitled to designate the elected beneficiary shall have deprived the elected beneficiary of such right of commutation.

8. COMMUTATION BY ELECTED BENEFICIARY'S EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS OR ASSIGNS.—(a) If an elected beneficiary who has not been deprived of the right of commutation aforesaid shall die after the death of the insured without having exercised such right and before all the elected instalments of income under the table entitled Option C shall have been paid, or (b) if an elected beneficiary who has been deprived of such right of commutation shall die after the death of the insured and before all the elected instalments of income under the table entitled Option C shall have been paid, then and in either such case, the executors, administrators or assigns of the elected beneficiary may take in one cash sum the commuted value of the remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income, ascertained according to the commutation table.

9. COMMUTATION NOT TO DEPRIVE INSURED OR ELECTED BENEFICIARY OF RIGHT TO CONTINUOUS INCOME FOR LIFE.—Commutation of such remaining or unpaid elected instalments of income by any person entitled to such right of commutation, shall not deprive the insured or the elected beneficiary of the right to receive the yearly sum or income payable to the insured or to the elected beneficiary, as the case may be, according to the table entitled Option C, during the remaining lifetime of the survivor of the insured and the elected beneficiary, beginning upon the expiration of the term of years within which the full number of elected instalments of income would have been paid if the same had not been commuted.

10. NULLIFICATION OF ELECTION.—If Option C shall be elected, such election shall be automatically nullified by the death of the insured prior to the maturity of the endowment, whereupon the policy beneficiary or assignee shall have the right to elect either Option A or Option B unless the insured shall have otherwise directed.

COMMUTATION TABLE.—To ascertain the commuted value of unpaid elected instalments of income under either Option A or Option B or Option C, multiply the amount of one unpaid yearly instalment in the table under the option which is in effect, by the multiplier given below opposite the number of unpaid yearly instalments.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS DUE TO COMPANY.—If there shall be any indebtedness due to the company on account of this policy when the proceeds thereof shall become payable under the terms thereof either at the maturity of the endowment or upon the decease of the insured prior thereto, such indebtedness shall be first deducted from the proceeds of the policy, and the balance remaining payable under the policy will be the sum which may be required to be paid in yearly instalments of income according to such of the applicable tables entitled Option A, Option B and Option C as may be elected.

2. INSTALMENTS, WHEN PAYABLE.—(a) The first of the elected instalments of income chosen by an election under either table entitled Option A or Option B, shall be due and payable at the maturity of the endowment if the insured shall be then living, or, if the insured shall die before the maturity of the endowment, then upon receipt of due written proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of the policy. (b) The first of the elected instalments of income chosen by an election under the table entitled Option C, shall be due and payable at the maturity of the endowment if the insured shall be then living. (c) Such further yearly instalments of income as may be payable under any of said tables, shall be payable respectively at the expiration of successive periods of one year dating from the day when the first payment shall have become due and payable as aforesaid.

3. HALF-YEARLY, QUARTERLY OR MONTHLY PAYMENTS OF INCOME.—All instalments of income payable under the tables entitled Option A and Option B and Option C, shall be paid in proportionate equal half-yearly or quarterly or monthly parts of the yearly instalments according to said respective tables, if the person entitled to receive such yearly instalments of income shall so request by writing filed with the company at its home office. The first fractional payment of income as aforesaid shall be due and payable at the time when the first yearly instalment of income would be due and payable. Subsequent fractional payments of income as aforesaid shall be due and payable at the expiration of the proper fractional parts of each year until all shall have been paid.

4. POLICY PAYABLE TO MORE THAN ONE NATURAL PERSON.—If the policy beneficiary or any assignee shall be more than one individual (otherwise called natural person) at the time the proceeds of the policy shall become payable either at maturity of the endowment or upon the decease of the insured prior thereto, then and in such case neither Option B nor Option C may be elected and either of said options if previously elected shall be automatically nullified at the maturity of the endowment or upon the prior decease of the insured if the policy beneficiary or any assignee shall be then as above stated. If Option B and Option C shall be either inapplicable or nullified as aforesaid, then Option A may be elected.

5. SUBSTITUTION OF INSTALMENT INCOME AGREEMENT IN PLACE OF POLICY.—When the proceeds of the policy shall become payable under the terms thereof and either of the aforesaid options shall be elected, the company reserves the right to require the policy to be surrendered and delivered for cancellation and to issue in place thereof a non-participating instalment income agreement which shall express the terms of the option elected.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby declared and agreed by the undersigned, that the foregoing application and the several answers to the interrogatories therein propounded are true, and that if a policy of insurance shall be issued by said company under this application, the same and the questions and answers therein shall be deemed the basis of the contract expressed in said policy.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $131.

The Provident Life and Trust Company, of Philadelphia, in consideration of the representations made in the application for this policy, which are hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of one hundred and thirty-one dollars, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and payment of the yearly premium of one hundred and thirty-one dollars on or before the twenty-ninth day of first month in every year hereafter until ten yearly premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, does insure the life of John Doe, of Philadelphia, Philadelphia county, Pennsylvania, herein called the insured, in the amount of ten thousand dollars for the term of ten years, and upon receipt of due written proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy promises to pay at its office in the city of Philadelphia the amount of said insurance less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, to his wife, Sarah Doe, if living; otherwise to his executors, administrators or assigns, with right reserved to the insured to change the beneficiary.

For provisions as to change of beneficiary, occupation, travel, suicide, etc., incontestability, assignment, changes of contract and premium, see preceding policy.

DIVIDENDS.—The proportion of the surplus accruing upon this policy shall be ascertained and distributed annually and not otherwise. At the option of the insured, dividends will be (a) payable in cash; (b) or applicable to the payment of any premium or premiums upon this policy; (c) or left to accumulate to the credit of this policy with interest at three per cent per annum, payable with the policy, or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of this policy on demand. The insured may make election of one of the aforesaid options not later than thirty-one days after any anniversary of this policy and any option so elected shall remain in effect until superseded by another of the aforesaid options. If no election is in effect, the dividend apportioned will be payable in cash as provided in option (a).

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy shall lapse by non-payment of premium, the policy may be reinstated within three years from such default, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum if the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled.

CHANGE IN PLAN OF INSURANCE.—This policy while in force may be changed without medical examination at any time to a policy on the life or endowment plan to bear the date of the change and the premium for the new plan to be at the attained age of the insured; or within five years, to a policy with the same date and age as the original policy, on the payment of the difference in premium between the two plans for as many years as the policy had run with compound interest at six per cent per annum.

RENEWAL AT END OF TERM.—The privilege is given of continuing the insurance under this policy without medical examination for successive periods of ten years each, upon giving notice to the company on or before the expiration of each period. The premiums would be due and payable each year on the dates specified in this policy and would be increased at the beginning of each period in accordance with the advanced age of the insured as shown in the table of premium rates given below.

OPTIONAL METHODS OF SETTLEMENT.—Options A and B given under preceding contract are applicable to this form.

* Cash surrender value at end of 20 years equal to all premiums paid.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Providers Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $372.30. AGE, 35.

The Providers Life Assurance Company, Chicago, Ill. (hereinafter called the company) promises to pay immediately upon receipt at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., of due proof of the death, during the full continuance of this contract of John Doe of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, (herein called the assured) to Mary Doe, (wife) beneficiary, with right of revocation ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

This assurance is granted in consideration of the application therefor, copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof and of the payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred seventy-two and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, and of the further payment of a like amount on the twenty-sixth day of February in each year until twenty full years' premiums including the first shall have been paid or until the prior death of the assured. The first year's premium payable hereon is for term assurance and legal reserve in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel, or place of death. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the assured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon. Such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the assured and the assured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the assured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of the annual premiums stated above in semi-annual instalments of fifty-two per cent of the annual premium or in quarterly instalments of twenty-six and one-half per cent of the annual premium. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. If any premium or any part of a premium hereon, or any check, note or other obligation given in settlement of any premium or any part of a premium hereon be not paid when due, this contract and all rights based thereon, without action on the part of the company, shall immediately terminate, except as to the right to cash surrender value, paid-up or extended assurance as provided below. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest charge of six per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the assurance shall continue in force. If the assured shall die during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

CONDITIONS.—The assured is privileged to travel or reside in any part of the world, and may engage in any occupation. This policy does not assure against the death of the assured caused by self-destruction, while sane or insane, during the first year from the date hereof.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy, together with the application for this assurance, a copy of which application is attached hereto and made a part hereof, constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums. All statements made by the assured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and copy of such application be attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the assured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on the execution of a proper loan agreement and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the then current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than the cash value at the end of said year, as shown in the table below; any existing loan or other form of indebtedness hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be paid out of such loan. Said cash value shall be equal to the reserve under this policy at the end of said year, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge not exceeding two per cent of the face amount of this policy during the first nine years from the date hereof. Beginning with the end of the tenth year from the date hereof there shall be no surrender charge. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable at the beginning of each policy year, and this interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the assured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, within three months after any default in the payment of premiums, the owner shall, if there be no indebtedness hereon, be entitled to one of the following three options:

A. CASH VALUE.—To receive the cash of this policy as stated in Column (A) of the "table of loan and surrender values" shown below, upon legal surrender hereof to the company at its home office;

(B) PAID-UP LIFE ASSURANCE.—To have this policy reissued as non-participating paid-up life assurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy for an amount in accordance with column (B) of the "table of loan and surrender values" shown below. When the amount of such paid-up life assurance exceeds the face amount of this policy, the assured must furnish proof of his insurability satisfactory to the company;

C. EXTENDED ASSURANCE.—To have this policy continued in force from the due date of the premium on which the payment has not been made, without the right to loans for its face amount, for the period of time as stated in column (C) of the "table of loan and surrender values" shown below. In addition to the extended assurance under this option, when the value as herein set forth is sufficient, paid-up non-participating pure endowment, payable at end of twenty years from the date hereof, will be granted, as stated in column (C) of the "table of loan and surrender values." Value of each of said options shall be equal to the reserve on this policy at date of default computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest less a surrender charge not exceeding two per cent of the face value of the policy during the first nine years from the date hereof. Beginning with the end of the tenth year there shall be no surrender charge. Said cash value shall be at least equal to the sum which would be the purchase price of assurance under option (C). If the owner shall not, within three months from date of default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or paid-up life assurance as provided in options (A) and (B) the assurance will be automatically continued as provided in option (C). If there be any indebtedness hereon, the cash surrender value will be reduced by the amount of such indebtedness with interest to date of default; the amount of paid-up life assurance will be reduced in the same proportion as the indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default bears to the cash surrender value; and the term of extended assurance and pure endowment, if any, shall be equal in value to the cash surrender value less the indebtedness with interest to date of default, according to the American Experience Table with three and one-half per cent interest.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of any default in the payment of a premium, upon furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If this policy is in full force at the end of twenty years from its date by the payment of all premiums in cash, and there be no indebtedness hereon, the assured may select one of the following three options: (First) To surrender the policy for its cash value amounting to six thousand five hundred forty-six dollars, or (Second) to surrender the policy and receive in lieu thereof a paid-up life assurance policy for ten thousand dollars and a cash payment of eight hundred eighty-four and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars. (Third) To surrender the policy and receive in lieu thereof a paid-up life assurance policy for eleven thousand five hundred sixty-two and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars, provided evidence of assurability of the assured satisfactory to company is furnished. If the assured, at any time prior to seventeen years from the date hereof, notifies the company in writing at its home office of his selection of this option such evidence of assurability will not be required. If the assured does not, within three months after the expiration of the period ending twenty years from the date hereof, notify the company in writing at its home office, of the option he has selected, the second option will automatically go into effect.

The provisions under "guaranteed options at maturity" on the fourth page hereof are hereby made a part of the contract.

No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, the secretary, or the assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. No agent has power to make, alter or discharge this or any other contract in relation to the matter of this assurance, or to extend the time for payment of premiums, or to waive any forfeiture hereof, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by making or receiving any representation or information.

In witness whereof, The Providers Life Assurance Company, Chicago, Ill., has caused this policy to be executed this twenty-sixth day of February, A. D. 1916.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The assured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under Options 2 or 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the assured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the assured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the assured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Prudential Insurance Company of America.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $219. AGE, 35.

The Prudential Insurance Company of America, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made part of this contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto, and of the payment, in the manner specified, of the premium herein stated, hereby insures the life of the person herein designated as the insured, for the amount named herein, payable as specified, subject to the provisions on the second and third pages hereof, which are hereby made part of this contract. The insured, John Doe. Amount of insurance, ten thousand dollars, payable immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, at the home office of the company, in Newark, New Jersey. Payable to Mary Doe. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured the amount of insurance shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, unless otherwise provided in the policy. The right to change the beneficiary has been reserved by the insured. Annual premium, two hundred nineteen dollars, payable on the delivery of this policy, the receipt of which premium is hereby acknowledged, and a like amount payable thereafter annually at the home office of the company, or as provided under the heading "general provisions" on the second page hereof, in exchange for the company's receipt on or before the first day of January in every year during the continuance of the policy.

In witness whereof, the said The Prudential Insurance Company of America, at its office in the city of Newark, New Jersey, has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, and to be duly attested, this first day of January, 1916.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance, but if premiums be made payable in quarterly or semi-annual instalments any future instalments of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the maturity of the policy shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of thirty-one days without interest will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force, but if the policy shall become a claim within the grace period the unpaid premiums for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount of insurance payable.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved and if the insured shall have attained to majority according to the laws of the state in which the insured resides, the insured may at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy, such change to be subject to the rights of any previous assignee and to become effective only when a provision to that effect is endorsed on or attached to the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any assignment of this policy must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—If within one year from the date hereof the insured shall die by suicide—whether sane or insane—the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premiums paid on this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premium.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any payment or payments or in any settlement under the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium it will be reinstated any time after the date of lapse upon written application and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement of all indebtedness, provided such indebtedness be not greater than the loan value of this policy at the time of application for such reinstatement and provided evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, the secretary, one of the assistant secretaries, the actuary, the associate actuary or one of the assistant actuaries. No modification or change shall be made in this policy except such as is in accordance with the laws of the state in which the same is issued. No agent has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by making or receiving any representation or information.

BASIS OF RESERVE AND COMPUTATIONS.—The reserve upon this policy for which funds are to be held, exclusive of any reserve on account of disability insurance, shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum by the net level premium method. All computations in accordance with the terms of this policy involving net premiums or reserve values based on a mortality table and interest shall be made upon the basis here stated.

ENTIRE CONTRACT CONTAINED IN THIS POLICY.—This policy together with the application, a copy of which is attached hereto, contains and constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement shall avoid the policy or be used as a defense to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the application for the policy and unless a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued.

DIVIDEND PROVISIONS.

Annually during its continuance in force, if all premiums theretofore due have been paid, this policy will be credited with a dividend from the surplus earnings of the company as ascertained and apportioned by the board of directors. Such dividend shall be (1) paid in cash or (2) applied to the reduction of the premium then due, if any; or upon written request of the insured it may be (3) applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum plus such additional interest as the company may declare on such funds and payable on maturity of the policy or withdrawable in cash on any anniversary of the policy. Such paid-up addition may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve at the time of such surrender. If the insured shall select no other dividend option the dividend shall be paid in cash.

PROVISIONS AS TO PERMANENT DISABILITY—WAIVER OF PREMIUMS—PAYMENT OF INSURANCE.

If the insured, after the first premium on this policy has been paid, shall furnish due proof to the company, while this policy is in full force and effect and while there is no default in the payment of premium, that he, at any time after payment of such first premium, from any cause whatsoever shall have become permanently disabled or physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he by reason of such disability or incapacity is rendered wholly and permanently unable to engage in any occupation or perform any work for any kind of compensation of financial value, the company upon receipt of such proof will waive the payment of each premium that may become payable thereafter under this policy during such disability.

If such disability shall occur before the insured is sixty years of age the company will, in addition to such waiver, during such disability, pay to the insured the amount insured, less any indebtedness, in one hundred and twenty monthly instalments during ten years, each instalment of the amount of $9.74 per $1000 of insurance payable; the first instalment to become payable six months after the company shall have received such proof and subsequent instalments monthly thereafter. In lieu of monthly instalments the insured shall have the privilege of receiving the said amount in annual, semi-annual or quarterly instalments payable during ten years, each instalment of the amount, respectively, of $116.18, $58.25 or $29.16, per $1000 of insurance payable, the first instalment to be payable at the same time as provided for the first monthly instalment. The insured shall not have the right to commute any instalments. Endorsement to the effect that the amount of insurance has become payable as herein specified shall be made on the policy by the company before the first instalment shall become payable.

The total amount of insurance under this policy at any time after one or more of such instalments have been paid shall not exceed the commuted value of the unpaid instalments, and loan and non-forfeiture values correspondingly modified shall be available to the insured irrespective of said waiver of premiums. Any indebtedness incurred on account of the policy during the instalment period shall be deducted from the commuted value of the unpaid instalments at that time and the amount of each of such unpaid instalments shall be correspondingly reduced.

If such disability shall occur after the insured is sixty years of age the amount of insurance hereunder shall, by endorsement hereon by the company, be reduced by the amount of each premium so waived, and any loans and non-forfeiture values shall thereafter be based upon the amount of insurance thus reduced.

The insured, upon demand by the company at any time during such disability and before the company's liability hereunder has ceased, shall furnish due proof that he actually continues in a state of disability, as defined above, and in case of his failure so to do the insured shall be deemed to have recovered from such state of disability.

In the event that the insured recovers from such state of disability before the company's liability under the policy has been fully discharged, as specified above, no further instalments shall be paid by the company and no further premiums shall be waived, but thereafter the policy shall, by endorsement thereon by the company, be continued in force for the amount reduced as specified above, with any premium falling due thereafter and loan and non-forfeiture values correspondingly modified.

Any instalments remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be paid to the beneficiary designated in the policy, provided, however, that such unpaid instalments may, at the request of the beneficiary, be commuted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest and paid in one sum.

It is specially agreed that permanent loss of the sight of both eyes, or loss by severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one hand and one foot, shall be considered disability or incapacity within the meaning of this provision.

These provisions are granted without additional cost to the insured.

LOAN PROVISIONS.

If this policy be continued in force, the insured may borrow from the company, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable at the end of each policy year, on the sole security of this policy, an amount up to the limit of the cash surrender value hereinafter specified after deducting therefrom all other indebtedness on account of this policy, by making written application for the loan and assigning the policy to the company as security. Failure to repay any such indebtedness or to pay interest shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice to that effect shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, of the person to whom the loan was made, and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any. The company reserves the right to defer any loan other than to pay premiums on policies in the company, for a period not exceeding ninety days after application for such loan.

(NOTE.—At any time during the continuance of this policy a statement of any outstanding indebtedness on account of the policy will be furnished on request.)

Policy Non-Forfeitable After First Year's Premium Has Been Paid.

NON-FORFEITURE VALUES AT END OF FIRST AND SECOND POLICY YEARS.—If this policy after being in force one full year or two full years shall lapse for non-payment of premium, the company will continue in force the insurance under the policy for a period of sixty days or of one hundred and twenty days, respectively, from the due date of such premium, as specified on the first page hereof, as indicated in the following table; provided, however, that if the death of the insured shall occur during the period of continued insurance herein defined, there shall be deducted from the amount payable by the company any premium that would have become due on this policy up to the time of the death of the insured if the policy had been continued in force.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company within three months after the end of the third year from its date or of any year thereafter, and if all premiums to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor the sum indicated by the following table, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. The company reserves the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period not exceeding ninety days after application for such cash surrender value.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—If this policy, after being in force three full years, shall lapse or become forfeited for the non-payment of any premium on the date when due, as specified on the first page hereof, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash value, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up life policy as specified in the following table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within three months after the date to which premiums have been duly paid; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up life policy will be reduced by the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then tabular cash surrender value of this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy, having lapsed or become forfeited as specified in the clause, "paid-up life policy," above, be not surrendered for its cash value or for a paid-up life policy, the company will put in force in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a non-participating paid-up term policy for the full amount insured by this policy, such paid-up term policy to be dated on the day to which premiums have been duly paid, and to continue in force for the term indicated by the following table; provided, however, that the insured shall not have the right to borrow on such policy and that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up term policy shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of such indebtedness, and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE AND PAID-UP TERM POLICY.—If this policy shall lapse, as above, and a paid-up life policy be issued or a paid-up term policy be put in force in lieu thereof, such paid-up life or such paid-up term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

* The tabular loan value at the end of any year, discounted at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be available to the insured at any time after the entire premium for that year has been paid.

† See first paragraph of "non-forfeiture provisions," above.

The non-forfeiture values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum, and the net value of any such non-forfeiture value, from the third to the end of the fifteenth year, is at least equal to the entire reserve on this policy, according to the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by the policy; thereafter, such net value is the full reserve by said standard, less a surrender charge, if made, of not more than one-twentieth of one per cent of the amount insured by the policy.

If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, a table of cash surrender and loan values, paid-up life policy and automatic extended insurance, as above, after the twentieth year, will be furnished on application to the home office.

If the amount insured be increased by dividend additions the loan and cash surrender values will be increased by the full reserve on account of such additions and the other non-forfeiture values modified accordingly.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing values from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated; provided, however, that if more than one but less than three full years' premiums shall have been paid an allowance of fifteen days of continued insurance will be made for each quarter of a year for which the premium has been paid.

PROVISIONS AS TO MODES OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY.—The insured may at any time while this policy is in force, subject to the rights of any assignee and with the power of revocation, by written notice to the company, designate any one of the following options as the manner in which the amount of insurance shall be payable in lieu of being paid in one sum, and the company will then endorse on the policy that payment shall be made according to the option designated, but if the insured shall have made no such designation, the beneficiary shall have the right of designation; provided, however, that in no event shall Option 1 or 2 be available to an individual beneficiary if the amount of each instalment payable thereunder to such beneficiary would be less than $10, nor shall Option 3 be available if the amount of insurance payable be less than $1000 and none of said options shall be available if the beneficiary be a corporation or a firm.

OPTION 1. MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS FOR DEFINITE NUMBER OF YEARS.—The amount of insurance or a part thereof to be payable in equal monthly instalments, each instalment of the amount stated for the definite number of years selected, together with dividends, if any, according to the following table:

OPTION 2. MONTHLY INSTALMENTS FOR DEFINITE NUMBER OF YEARS AND CONTINUOUSLY THEREAFTER.—The amount of insurance or a part thereof to be payable in equal monthly instalments, each instalment of the amount stated for the age of the beneficiary at the death of the insured, together with dividends, if any, and payable during the definite number of years selected, and thereafter so long as the beneficiary shall live, as specified in the following table:

OPTION 3. TRUST FUND.—The amount of insurance or any portion thereof not less than $1000 to be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount or said portion thereof remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, together with dividends, if any. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary.

ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY INSTALMENTS, computed at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest, will be paid upon request in lieu of the monthly instalments provided under Options 1 and 2, unless the insured shall have otherwise directed in writing.

UNPAID INSTALMENTS AT DEATH OF BENEFICIARY.—If one or more instalments shall actually be paid in accordance with the provisions above and if the beneficiary shall die before all instalments payable shall have been paid, and if there be no contingent beneficiary designated by the insured or by the beneficiary after the death of the insured, the unpaid instalments will be commuted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest and paid in one sum to the executor or administrators of the beneficiary.

DIVIDENDS WITH INSTALMENTS OR INTEREST.—If the amount of insurance be payable in instalments, monthly or otherwise, or be left in trust with the company, any dividend from the surplus earnings as ascertained and apportioned by the board of directors on amounts so payable will effect an increase in the instalments or in the interest payable on account of the trust fund, but no dividend will be declared on instalments payable after the period fixed for instalments certain.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health, habits and occupation are the same as described in this application.

ORDINARY LIFE MONTHLY INCOME POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY.

MONTHLY INSTALMENT, $100. ANNUAL PREMIUM $384.10. AGE 35

The Prudential Insurance Company of America, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made part of this contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto, and of the payment, in the manner specified, of the premium herein stated, hereby insures the life of the person herein designated as the insured, for a series of monthly instalments, each of the amount named herein, payable as specified, subject to the provisions on the second and third pages hereof, which are hereby made part of this contract.

The insured John Doe. Amount of each monthly instalment one hundred dollars, payable at the Home Office of the company, in Newark, New Jersey. The first monthly instalment shall be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy, and subsequent monthly instalments shall become payable on the first day of each month thereafter until two hundred and forty monthly instalments, including the first, shall have been paid. Payable to Jane Doe, beneficiary. The right to change the beneficiary has been reserved by the insured.

Commuted value of the instalments payable hereunder, seventeen thousand five hundred forty dollars, payable to the beneficiary only with previous written consent of the insured, as specified in the clause headed "Trust Clause," on the second page hereof. Annual premium three hundred, eighty-four and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, payable on the delivery of this policy, the receipt of which premium is hereby acknowledged, and a like amount payable thereafter annually at the home office of the company, or as provided under the heading "General Provisions" on the second page hereof, in exchange for the company's receipt on or before the first day of February in every year during the continuance of this policy.

In witness whereof, the said The Prudential Insurance Company of America, at its office in the City of Newark, New Jersey, has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, and to be duly attested, this first day of February, 1916.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

For provisions as to payment of premiums, grace in payment of premiums, change of beneficiary, misstatement of age, suicide, incontestability, reinstatement, modifications, basis of reserve, entire contract see preceding policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any assignment of this policy must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Any instalment or instalments payable hereunder shall be unassignable after this policy shall become a claim.

COMMUTED VALUE.—The commuted value of the instalments payable hereunder is seventeen thousand five hundred and forty dollars ($17,540). If there be no beneficiary, original or substituted, when the policy becomes a claim, the company will pay the commuted value to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, in one sum, in lieu of the instalments. If the beneficiary, original or substituted, shall survive the insured but die before receiving all the instalments payable under this policy and if there be no contingent beneficiary at that time, the unpaid instalments will be commuted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of such beneficiary.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any payment or payments or in any settlement under the policy. If this policy become a claim by death and there shall be any indebtedness to the company on account of the policy at the time of such claim, and if such indebtedness be in excess of the instalment then payable and be not immediately paid to the company, the amount of each monthly instalment, payable as specified, shall be reduced by the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the commuted value of the instalments specified on the first page hereof provided, that if the amount of each of such instalments would be less than ten dollars, the insurance shall not be paid in instalments but the total indebtedness shall be deducted from the commuted value of the instalments specified on the first page hereof, and the balance, if any, shall be paid in one sum, except that the provision for commutation of the instalments, if each reduced instalment be less than ten dollars, shall not apply when the indebtedness under the policy is on account of any future instalments of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the maturity of the policy.

TRUST CLAUSE.—It is specially agreed that the company will not commute any of the instalments payable hereunder after the death of the insured without the previous written consent of the insured, or except as provided herein.

DIVIDEND PROVISIONS.—Annually during its continuance in force, if all premiums theretofore due have been paid, this policy will be credited with a dividend from the surplus earnings of the company as ascertained and apportioned by the board of directors. Such dividend shall be (1) paid in cash or (2) applied to the reduction of the premium then due, if any; or upon written request of the insured it may be (3) applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three and one-half percent per annum plus such additional interest as the company may declare on such funds and payable on maturity of the policy or withdrawable in cash on any anniversary of the policy. Such paid-up addition shall be payable in one sum at the maturity of the policy but may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve at the time of such surrender. If the insured shall select no other dividend option the dividend shall be paid in cash.

If the amount of insurance be payable in monthly instalments, as specified on the first page hereof, any dividend from the surplus earnings as ascertained and apportioned by the board of directors on account of amounts so payable will effect an increase in the instalments.

PROVISIONS AS TO PERMANENT DISABILITY—WAIVER OF PREMIUMS—PAYMENT OF INSURANCE.

If the insured, after the first premium on this policy has been paid, shall furnish due proof to the company, while this policy is in full force and effect and while there is no default in the payment of premium, that he, at any time after payment of such first premium, from any cause whatsoever shall have become permanently disabled or physically or mentally incapacitated to such an extent that he by reason of such disability or incapacity is rendered wholly and permanently unable to engage in any occupation or perform any work for any kind of compensation of financial value, the company upon receipt of such proof will waive the payment of each premium that may become payable thereafter under this policy during such disability.

If such disability shall occur before the insured is sixty years of age the company will, in addition to such waiver, during such disability, pay to the insured the commuted value specified on the first page of this policy, less any indebtedness, in one hundred and twenty monthly instalments during ten years, each instalment of the amount of $9.74 per $1,000 of commuted value payable; the first instalment to become payable six months after the company shall have received such proof and subsequent instalments monthly thereafter. In lieu of monthly instalments the insured shall have the privilege of receiving the said amount in annual, semi-annual or quarterly instalments payable during ten years, each instalment of the amount, respectively, of $116.18, $58.25 or $29.16, per $1,000 of commuted value payable, the first instalment to be payable at the same time as provided for the first monthly instalment. The insured shall not have the right to commute any instalments payable on account of disability. Endorsement to the effect that the said commuted value has become payable as herein specified shall be made on the policy by the company before the first instalment shall become payable.

The total amount of insurance under this policy at any time after one or more of such instalments have been paid shall not exceed the commuted value of such of said instalments as remain unpaid computed at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum compound interest, and loan and non-forfeiture values correspondingly modified shall be available to the insured irrespective of said waiver of premiums. Any indebtedness incurred on account of the policy during such instalment period shall be deducted from the commuted value of the unpaid instalments at that time and the amount of each of such unpaid instalments shall be correspondingly reduced.

The commuted value of any instalments payable on account of disability remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be paid to the beneficiary designated in the policy in instalments of the same number and subject to the same conditions as to payment as provided for the instalments on the first page hereof, except that the amount of each instalment payable shall be such proportionate part of the amount of the instalment originally payable as the said commuted value is of the commuted value of the instalments originally payable, provided, however, that if the amount of each of such instalments would be less than ten dollars, their commuted value shall be paid in one sum.

If such disability shall occur after the insured is sixty years of age the commuted value specified on the first page hereof shall, by endorsement hereon by the company, be reduced by the amount of each premium so waived and as a consequence the amount of each instalment shall be proportionately reduced, and any loans and non-forfeiture values thereafter shall be correspondingly modified.

The insured, upon demand by the company at any time during such disability and before the company's liability hereunder has ceased, shall furnish due proof that he actually continues in a state of disability, as defined above, and in case of his failure so to do the insured shall be deemed to have recovered from such state of disability.

In the event that the insured recovers from such state of disability before the company's liability under the policy has been fully discharged, as specified above, no further instalments on account of disability shall be paid by the company and no further premiums shall be waived, but thereafter the policy shall, by endorsement thereon by the company, be continued in force for the amount reduced as specified above, with any premium falling due thereafter and loan and non-forfeiture values correspondingly modified.

It is specially agreed that permanent loss of the sight of both eyes, or loss by severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one hand and one foot, shall be considered disability or incapacity within the meaning of this provision.

These provisions are granted without additional cost to the insured.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

POLICY NON-FORFEITABLE AFTER FIRST YEAR'S PREMIUM HAS BEEN PAID.—For non-forfeiture values at end of first and second policy years and cash surrender values, see preceding contract, also for paragraphs following table of loan and non-forfeiture values in explanation thereof.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—If this policy, after being in force three full years, shall lapse or become forfeited for the non-payment of any premium on the date when due, as specified on the first page hereof, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash value, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up life policy, payable in one sum, as specified in the following table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within three months after the date to which premiums have been duly paid; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up life policy will be reduced by the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then tabular cash surrender value of this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy, having lapsed or become forfeited as specified in the clause, "paid-up life policy," above, be not surrendered for its cash value or for a paid-up life policy, the company will put in force in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a non-participating paid-up term policy for the full series of monthly instalments insured by this policy, and payable in the same manner, such paid-up term policy to be dated on the day to which premiums have been duly paid, and to continue in force for the term indicated by the following table; provided, however, that the insured shall not have the right to borrow on such policy and that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of each monthly instalment payable shall be reduced by the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the commuted value of the instalments specified on the first page hereof (provided that if the amount of each of such instalments would be less than ten dollars, the insurance shall not be payable in instalments but the total indebtedness shall be deducted from the commuted value of the instalments specified on the first page hereof, and the balance, if any, shall be payable in one sum), and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE AND PAID-UP TERM POLICIES.—If this policy shall lapse, as above, and a paid-up life policy be issued or a paid-up term policy be put in force in lieu thereof, such paid-up life or such paid-up term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender, payable in one sum.
